

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 531 -

Chapter 531

This guy was extremely cautious!

Andrius narrowed his eyes.

If Kabreh released both of them, Andrius believed that he could easily escape and even take everyone here down!

However, if there was still one hostage, it would be a hindrance to him.

"Marcus, go back," Andrius looked at Marcus and said in an unquestionable tone.

This decision was made after careful consideration.

Marcus used to be an excellent soldier. When he returned, he would surely tell the Lycantroops what happened here. By that time, if Andrius had not escaped with Noelle, it would be easier for the Lycantroops to come to their aid.

Marcus quickly said, "No! Wolf King, I'm just a bag of old bones. It doesn't matter even if I die here, but you're different! Not only are you the Wolf King, but you're also the commander of the Lycantroops and Florence's War God. You can't..."

Marcus got more agitated the more he spoke.

However, Andrius interrupted him before he could finish, "Enough! I'm not the Wolf King anymore, so stop saying such things."

His tone was very heavy.

Marcus did not dare to mention it again and turned to Noelle. "How about this instead? Noelle, you go back. I'll stay with the Wolf King."

As a father, he had always felt guilty toward Noelle. This was the only thing he could do right now.

Bam!

“Enough nonsense.” Kabreh knocked Marcus unconscious with a punch and sent him to his subordinates.

Take him to a safe area in the west.”

“Yes!”

One of the men immediately dragged Marcus into the car.

“Wolf King...” Kabreh looked at Andrius with obvious intent.

Andrius held out his hands and let two killers handcuff him. He said, “Kabreh, I hope you keep your word “Don’t worry,” Kabreh sneered. “I’m not stupid enough to really kill the mayor of Sumeria. The cons outweigh the pros.”

Then, he shot Scarface a look.

Scarface immediately frisked Andrius.

Truck keys, silver needles....

Scarface found all those items and threw them aside

After completing the task...

Bang!

Bang!

Kabreh picked up the gun and shot Andrius’ limbs.

He did not directly kill Andrius but only made Andrius lose his ability to fight. He wanted to bring Andrius back to Arbral, then execute the Wolf King publicly

First, it was to avenge the elites who had died at the hands of the Wolf King and the Lycantroops

Second, it was to show the strength of Arbral. It was to show the world that they were able to kill the Wolf

King!

As four gunshots rang out, Andrius' four limbs were shot.

Noelle thrashed with each gunshot as if the bullets hitting Andrius also struck her heart!

“Scarface, I’ll leave this place to you.”

Kabreh tossed the gun at him and looked smugly at Andrius, who was sitting on the ground weakly. Then, he left with satisfaction.

“The Wolf King! Hahaha, I never thought that the fearsome Wolf King who is famous worldwide and made countless people tremble in fear would one day fall all into my hands! How satisfying.

Scarface inspected Andrius and confirmed that he was securely handcuffed, and his limbs were truly covered in blood with bullets lodged inside. Then, he left with a laugh, resembling a villain who had grown arrogant after succeeding.

After everyone left...

“Wolf King...” Noelle looked at the blood-soaked Andrius and choked, “I’m sorry. I ruined your plan...”

She helped Andrius sit on a nearby stone stool.

“I dragged you down. In the next life, even if I have to be reincarnated into a cow or a horse, I’ll definitely repay your kindness!”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 532 -

Chapter 532

At that moment, tears streamed down Noelle’s face. Her eyes were glassy and clear, reflecting Andrius’ figure with a hint of gentleness.

Andrius rolled his eyes. “No need. If you owe me any favors, then repay them in this lifetime. Don’t come bothering me in the next life.”

“1-L...”

Noelle almost got angry at his words.

She wanted to say something, but Andrius interrupted her, “Alright, that’s enough Rest for a while. If you need anything, we’ll discuss it later.”

Although Noelle felt guilty and sad, she could only listen to Andrius

As the night grew deeper, the laughter in the distance gradually dissipated. It was clear that Kabreh and the others fell asleep after celebrating.

There was only one henchman left watching the small hut that was holding Noelle and Andrius.

Clatter...

At that moment, Andrius opened his eyes and deliberately made some noise with his handcuffs.

Sure enough, the henchman outside heard the noise and immediately came to check.

Swoosh...

The instant the killer appeared, Andrius spat out a silver needle from his mouth, instantly knocking the killer out.

Scarface had not checked his mouth earlier, but that was his last needle.

Noelle was stunned, her face full of disbelief.

“Stop spacing out.” Andrius ordered in a low voice, “Do you remember where my needles were thrown? Hurry up and find them for me.”

“Oh, right!”

Noelle carefully went out.

After about five minutes, she returned with the silver needles.

“Now, listen carefully to what I tell you, and don’t make any mistakes.”

Andrius had his limbs crippled and could not administer the needles to himself, so he had to guide Noelle to do it for him.

“Okay!”

“First, roll up my sleeves and pant legs!”

Noelle blushed. Her shy demeanor looked quite charming under the moonlight.

However, she knew that now was not the time for such thoughts. She immediately lifted all of Andrius' sleeves and pant legs to reveal the position of the wounds.

When she did...

She saw all kinds of scars.

Chapter 532

There were also the gunshot wounds that had begun to scab. However, they still looked shocking.

Noelle's hand that was holding the silver needle trembled slightly.

“Don't let your hands shake in the slightest!” Andrius said in exasperation, “It'll be even more troublesome if you pierce the wrong place. We don't have time for trial and error”

Noelle stammered, “O—oh, right!”

Then, she took a deep breath and forced herself to calm down. As the captain of the police department, she had good composure, thus she quickly regained her calmness.

Next, under Andrius' guidance, she carefully and gently treated his wounds and removed all the bullets embedded in his limbs.

Afterward, she prepared to rip off part of her own clothes to dress his wounds.

Andrius quickly stopped her. "There's no need for that."

"Huh?" Noelle was confused.

However, when she looked at his wounds, she was shocked!

The wounds were rapidly healing at a rate visible to the naked eye. It would probably only take two to three days for them to recover completely.

"Stop gaping."

Andrius stood up and stretched his muscles.

"It's said that the Wolf King's medical skills are unparalleled. Today, I witnessed it firsthand..." Noelle was full of praise.

Andrius did not respond and instead pushed open the door.

"Wolf King..." Noelle peeked out and asked obediently.

"What should we do next?"

"We fight our way out."

Andrius's tone was decisive.

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 533 -

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 53

Chapter 533

Noelle was startled and hesitated. "There are so many people. Can we..."

She wanted to say, "Can we defeat them?"

However, after thinking about it, she shut her mouth. Andrius was the Wolf King.

Andrius charged forward and killed anyone who crossed his path!

"Oh, no! The Wolf King has escaped!"

"Quick, report this to Marshal Kabreh!"

“Oh, hell...”

After Andrius killed several henchmen, the commotion immediately alerted all the others. They all rushed over and surrounded Andrius and Noelle.

However, these lackeys were no match for him. Andrius easily dealt with them with a punch each

When he killed all the guards and killers, a group of fully armed soldiers appeared outside, surrounding Andrius and Noelle. The dark barrels of their guns were aimed at the two.

“Wolf King, surrender quickly!”

“Wolf King, don’t force us to shoot!”

“Wolf King...”

The soldiers tried to appear brave and looked at Andrius warily.

Noelle was very nervous. Her palms were full of sweat.

“Hah...”

Andrius’ lips spread into an arc like the smile of the Grim Reaper.

The next second, flashes of silver flickered in the dark night, and all the soldiers dropped.

Then, Andrius quickly fled with Noelle, disappearing into the night.

Bam!

In the command room, Kabreh flew into a rage when he got the news. He smashed the table on the spot and shouted, “Go, relay my orders! Have all the soldiers from the nations mobilize and surround the mountains nearby.

“Not even a stray dog can be allowed to pass! In addition to that, contact the experts from various countries immediately and go up the mountain to surround the Wolf King!”

The wolf hunt had begun!

The night was dark and windy, and the solitary moon shone above. Even the moonlight seemed to carry sense of coldness, making people feel a burst of gloom.

Andrius sat on a large rock, his expression calm.

Noelle hid in the shadows of the woods with an unpleasant expression.

They intended to escape swiftly and leave Camelback Mountain before Kabreh could react.

Chappe 573

2/2

However, they were still a step behind.

Just as they were about to arrive at the intersection, Kabreh sent the order, and countless soldiers blocked the path. Not even a fly would be able to get past, let alone a person.

“Wolf King, what should we do now?”

Noelle already regarded Andrius as her center. She was no longer the usual Captain Freely from the police department who was swift and resolute.

Now, she was just the Wolf King’s follower. She had witnessed his glory for herself.

Every road leading down Camelback Mountain was heavily guarded by countless soldiers.

Torches were brightly lit, illuminating the intersection like it was daytime and making it impossible to slip unnoticed.

The number of people surrounding Camelback Mountain might amount to a hundred thousand!

Furthermore, all of them were well-trained troops. They were not just regular people playing dress-up.

Noelle had lost her composure and was worried.

“The troops won’t come up for the time being.” Andrius was very calm.

Noelle was stunned and asked, “Why not?”

“Because it’s wolf-hunting time now!”

Before Andrius could speak, someone answered for him.

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 534 -

Chapter 534

Noelle instinctively turned around and looked in the direction of the voice.

Under the pale moonlight, five burly men were slowly approaching. The men walked imposingly and had sharp gazes. Looking at them was like looking at ferocious beasts ready to devour their prey.

“Wolf King, run!”

Noelle was frightened. She rushed forward and grabbed Andrius’ arm, trying to escape.

However, Andrius did not move.

Noelle was confused before suddenly noticing that another five men had appeared in front of them, blocking their path.

At the same time, five more people approached from the left and right sides.

20 assassins!

They surrounded Andrius and Noelle.

“Wolf King, what do we...” Noelle stumbled over her words in her panic.

“Step back.”

Andrius remained calm. He pulled her behind him and faced the assassins, saying faintly. “Will you guys be coming one at a time or all at once?”

Wow.

The assassins were so angry that smoke seemed to come out of their heads.

Although Andrius was the Wolf King, he could not be this arrogant!

Did he really not regard them as people?

“Wolf King!”

“Wolf King!”

“Wolf King!”

Three of the first five men stepped forward at the same time. Upon closer inspection, the trio looked very similar.

“I’m Eins.”

“I’m Zwei.”

“I’m Drei.”

The three men said in unison,

“We have long heard that the Wolf King is an unparalleled master in Florence. As brothers, we have long wanted to kill you and prove ourselves!

“We grew up together and shared our lives together. We’ve been through thick and thin together and share the same heart.

“No matter if we’re facing one person, a hundred people, or a thousand people, w e’ll fight together. Today, the three of us will fight you at the same time. Do you have any objections?”

Three against one!

Chapter 53

Before Andrius could speak, Noelle said indignantly, “You share the same heart? What bullsh*t! You three are ganging up on him, but you’re speaking so self-righteously. Do you have no shame?”

Eins glanced at Noelle coldly. “We’ll allow the Wolf King to have a backup, but he has none in this wilderness. How about this...”

Zwei glanced at Noelle and said seriously, “Considering your strength, you’re just a hindrance. You’re like a negative one. Even if you join us, it’ll be like bringing down our numbers to two versus one. That way, it’ll be two against one. What do you think?”

What?

She was considered a hindrance?

Noelle was so angry that she almost exploded.

“Enough” Andrius interrupted their conversation and said faintly. “You three can come at me together I’ll send you all to the afterlife together to save you the trouble.”

He spoke casually as if Eins, Zwei, and Drei were nothing to him.

“Arrogant fool!”

“Wolf King, you’re so arrogant!”

“Wolf King, today is the day you die!”

The three men instantly exploded with rage and took a triangle formation, rushing at Andrius.

Eins was in front. He shot straight toward Andrius like an arrow.

Zwei and Drei were behind like cavalry charging from the flanks.

Swoosh!

In just the blink of an eye, Eins was in front of Andrius. He smirked and threw a heavy punch, aiming at Andrius’ chest.

This move forced Andrius to defend and diverted his attention, creating an opening for Zwei and Drei behind.

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 535 -

Chapter 535

However...

While Andrius was expressionless, his punch was extremely fast.

Bam!

His punch landed on Eins' fist, causing all the knuckles in Eins' right hand to shatter instantly. However, the residual force of Andrius' punch did not dissipate. It continued to act on Eins's entire right arm, which snapped with a crack.

"Ahhhh..." Eins screamed and stepped back.

With just one exchange, his hand was crippled!

Zwei and Drei were shocked.

In that instant, their momentum weakened slightly.

However, Andrius' aura remained strong. After crippling Eins' right arm, he jumped in the air and delivered two flying kicks.

Zwei and Drei quickly defended themselves.

However, their arms were no match for Andrius' iron-like legs. The immense power forced them five to six steps back before they stopped.

The moment they retreated, Andrius had already closed in and shot out a punch as fast as lightning.

Although the two managed to block his attack, their arms were broken. Then, the punches struck their chests, caving them in.

However, the terrifying power did not stop there.

Both of them were sent flying like kites with broken lines and fell off the cliff, dead as doornails.

Seeing this, Eins, who regained his footing, instantly widened his eyes and dashed out from behind.

Andrius seemed to have eyes on his back. The moment Eins launched his attack, Andrius spun around and delivered a flying kick, sending Eins off the cliff as well.

The three assassins were all killed by Andrius in less than thirty seconds. They did not even manage to brush the hem of his shirt.

No one would believe it unless they witnessed the scene firsthand.

Noelle was completely stunned. Although she knew about the Wolf King's strength, the shock and impact of seeing it with her own eyes made her unable to calm down for a long time.

The remaining dozen or so assassins became extremely wary.

At first, they stood with folded arms and watched with interest.

Now, the looks in their eyes changed, and their auras were heavy.

Then, many assassins exchanged glances as if silently coming to an agreement, and nodded secretly.

The next moment, all of them rushed forward together. They had lost their individual arrogance when facing the overwhelmingly powerful Wolf King.

Now, all they thought about was joining forces to kill the Wolf King. It did not matter what method they used or how honorable or dishonorable their actions were!

It was not disgraceful to join forces against the Wolf King!

“Heh...”

It was 17 against one!

A battle of this scale had not been seen in a long time,

Andrius stood in place, looking at the assassins with burning eyes.

What surprised the assassins was that it even seemed like he was excited!

Yes!

It was excitement in his eyes!

It was as if the Wolf King was delighted that they were ganging up on him!

At that thought, many assassins trembled in fear and immediately shook their heads, casting aside that ridiculous thought.

Bam!

The clash began.

Andrius initially took a defensive stance while facing the attacks from the group.

The assassins aimed precisely, but Andrius defended accurately too.

Whether it was from the front, back, or even above, he was able to respond perfectly at the right moment!

The process was impeccable and even pleasing to look at!

Of course, that was how a bystander like Noelle felt.

The 17 assassins did not feel the same way.

Although they joined forces, they were still unable to defeat the Wolf King. This made them anxious, and their attacks became faster and more vicious.

As a result, they used up more energy and became prone to openings.

In a few minutes

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 536 -

....

Chapter 536

Andrius seized an opening and punched one of them hard in the chest, almost knocking him out instantly

After the first came the second, and then the third...

People were constantly getting injured.

With each person injured, the pressure on Andrius was greatly reduced, and he had a better chance of subduing the remaining people.

Ten minutes passed

The scene was extremely brutal with bodies lying everywhere. Some were heavily injured and coughing out blood

The situation underwent a shocking reversal.

Andrius completely wiped the floor with the remaining assassins.

Severed flesh, fresh blood, and broken limbs flew around, impacting the nerves of all the assassins.

Twenty minutes passed.

All the remaining assassins were killed, and only Andrius was left standing on the field. Although he was covered in blood, it was all the blood of those assassins. Not a single one was his own.

Noelle was so shocked that she could not speak.

Her pouty lips were wide open enough to fit a fist, and her eyes were blank and dazed. She was completely lost in the moment.

Crack!

Crack!

Crack!

Clear cracking sounds kept continuing.

It turned out that Andrius was twisting the heads of those people one by one and hanging them on the nearby trees.

“Let’s go.”

Andrius patted Noelle’s shoulder and took the lead in walking toward the depths of the forest.

“Ah...”

Noelle suddenly snapped back to her senses and immediately caught up with Andrius.

There were a hundred thousand soldiers at the foot of the mountain. No matter how invincible he was, it was impossible to kill a hundred thousand people.

After all, even if all they did was lie down motionlessly, Andrius would have to take a long time to kill them.

What he needed to do now was keep stalling.

As soon as reinforcements from the Lycantroops arrived, these hundred thousand soldiers would be wiped out in an instant in a snap of a finger

“What did you say?”

At the command center, Kabreh stared at the soldier in front of him, his eyes about to burst in anger Andrius killed all 20 of the assassins? He even twisted all their heads off?

“Ahhhh... Goddammit! Motherf*cker!

“Wolf King, Andrius Moonshade, you’ve gone too far. Too far!”

Bang!

Bang!

Bang!

In a rage, Kabreh took out his pistol and vented his anger at the soldier in front of him. He watched the soldier’s body convulse at the impact of the bullets and felt much better.

“Go! Form teams of 501 Start a carpet search of all the nearby mountains. If you find them, then don’t hesitate to shoot and kill them on the spot!”

With that order, dozens of teams immediately went forward to search.

However...

In the vast darkness and in a forest like this, the soldiers could not catch Andrius and Noelle at all

On the contrary, Andrius used the terrain to pick off many teams.

It became even easier for him to kill them after getting guns and ammunition.

Throughout the process, he killed over a thousand of them, but they did not even touch a single hair on Andrius’ head.

“Go and send me armed helicopters immediately!” Kabreh received the news and immediately screamed in anger. “We’ll kill that f*cking Wolf King even if we have to bomb him with missiles! He must die today!”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 537 -

Chapter 537

At night, in the mountains, even the wind was silent.

Only the occasional shadows and footsteps proved that this forest was not as peaceful as it seemed on the surface.

Andrius suddenly stopped and perked up his ears.

Noelle saw his reaction and instinctively lightened her steps, asking in a low voice, “Is there something wrong?”

Andrius did not answer.

He maintained this posture for a few seconds, then his expression suddenly became serious. “A helicopter is coming.

“It should be... Arbral’s MiG-32 attack helicopter that’s best at searching the mountains! There are probably three to five of them.”

As the former Wolf King of the Lycantroops, Andrius was very familiar with the weapons and equipment of various countries. He could even discern their models by listening to the sounds.

“A-A helicopter?”

Noelle paled as her voice became rough.

They were in a mountain forest surrounded by a hundred thousand soldiers. It was already hard to escape, but now there were helicopters joining the fray.

In other words, once their whereabouts were exposed, the enemy would use those helicopters to unload a blanket of bombs.

That level of attack equaled certain death!

“Run!”

Just as Noelle was about to ask what to do, Andrius grabbed her wrist and ran wildly in a certain direction.

Under the trees, in the shadows, two figures constantly flitted past, then hid under a very dense tree.

Swoosh...

Just as they hid, a helicopter flew past where they had just been.

Noelle instantly broke into a cold sweat.

That was too close.

“Let’s go!”

Before she could recover, Andrius grabbed her again and quickly crossed a valley not far away.

Whoosh..

Swoosh...

Rumble...

The two kept changing their positions.

However, the sound of the helicopters became closer and closer. It was clear that the enemy had locked onto this area.

Furthermore, with the countless teams advancing, the encirclement was constantly shrinking, and the space for the two to hide was getting smaller and smaller.

Sooner or later, they would be discovered.

Then, they would be targeted by the attack helicopters.

“This won’t work.”

Andrius pressed Noelle’s head down. They hid under a boulder and avoided another sweep. Then, an idea came to mind, and he asked in a low voice, “Do you dare to take a risk with me?”

“What kind of risk?”

“We’ll get them first. We’ll go straight to the command center and kill their general!”

Noelle was instantly shocked at Andrius’ words. Her eyes widened in disbelief.

That was truly a shocking suggestion. Desperate times called for desperate measures.

To slip past a hundred thousand people to capture the opposing marshal....

Ordinary people would not even dare to think of such an idea.

However, the Wolf King dared!

Noelle thought about it and found it feasible.

Besides, they had no choice.

“Okay!”

The two immediately changed their route.

Andrius did not choose the shortest way there as it would easily expose their intentions.

He first fled with Noelle downhill, crossed a valley after a certain distance, and sneaked in the most dangerous way.

Fortunately, with Andrius' exceptional anti-surveillance skills, he repeatedly avoided the detection of both the soldiers' squads and the helicopters, and there were many close calls.

This made Noelle nervous and excited.

It was as if Andrius had a third eye and a 3D map in his brain.

It was incredible and unbelievable.

After more than an hour of twists and turns, the two had long since disappeared from the sight of the main forces and arrived outside the brightly lit command center.

“Now what?”

At that moment, Noelle was nervous, excited, and eager. She was unable to restrain herself after accomplishing such an amazing feat with the Wolf King!

“Take a deep breath and calm down.”

Andrius suddenly felt speechless when he saw Noelle's chest heaving up and down.

With her current state, just the movement of her chest would alert others of her presence. There was no way to make an ambush!

“Oh...”

Noelle did not notice Andrius' gaze and quickly took a few deep breaths, thinking that she was just too excited.

Half a minute later, after Noelle calmed down, Andrius began to instruct, "We're about 200 meters from the command post. There are six visible sentries and four hidden ones scattered all over the place.

"Dealing with them is not difficult, but after we do so, it's very likely that we'll be discovered by the sentry at the door of the command center."

"So, while I deal with those people, you'll have to reveal yourself at the right time and attract the attention of the sentries at the gates and buy me time to get closer.

"It won't take long. I just need three seconds."

In the command center, Kabreh was yelling into a satellite phone. "Are you all dirty rats from the sewer?"

"A hundred thousand soldiers and five attack helicopters of the latest model, plus all kinds of cutting-edge equipment, but you can't even catch two people? Useless!"

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 538 -

Chapter 538

"All useless!"

Kabreh felt embarrassed by himself.

Despite a hundred thousand elite soldiers and various experts from different countries, they were all slaughtered by the Wolf King using various means, and then he managed to escape...

It was simply a disgrace!

"Marshal Kabreh, we're up against the Wolf King. He's very cunning and difficult to catch."

“Marshal, it’s nighttime now, so it’s really difficult to search.”

“Marshal, the hundred thousand soldiers have already surrounded all the paths in Camelback Mountain. Not even a fly will get past. The Wolf King won’t be able to run away this time!”

The leaders of the various countries’ armies tried to console him.

Only then did Kabreh’s expression improve slightly.

“Run? Why would I run?”

Just then, a teasing voice resounded throughout the place.

Then, a ghostly figure appeared in the command center,

The person was covered in blood but had a relaxed expression. He looked at the military leaders of the various countries with a vague smile.

It was Andrius.

Kabreh’s eyes almost popped out when he saw Andrius. His body could not help but tremble. “W–Wolf King?”

The other leaders also had their expressions change drastically.

Swoosh...

“Guards! Where are the guards?”

“Someone! Quick! Come and capture the Wolf King!”

“Wolf King, how did you get in?”

“Wolf King...”

At that moment, the leaders all reacted differently. Some drew their guns, some called for help, and others were simply shocked.

Thwack...

Whistle...

Thud...

In just an instant, all of them were subdued by Andrius' silver needles. They stood frozen in their current positions with only their mouths and eyeballs able to move.

"F*ck!"

"Dammit!"

"Sh*t!"

"Ahhh-

The leaders were so furious that they cried and screamed.

Noelle rushed out. She held a long rope in her hand that she had found somewhere and tied up all the leaders one by one.

She was delighted and thrilled.

After all, how many people could freely come and go within the enemy's ranks and kill them.

indiscriminately?

Alexander the Great was one.

Spartacus was also one.

Julius Caesar could be considered one too.

Other than that, it was just her and Andrius.

Such an unparalleled feat was bound to shake the heavens.

'Sorry, First War God. I won't think of you anymore in the future, lest the Wolf King misunderstands.'

Various thoughts floated through Noelle's mind.

During this time, Andrius used a satellite phone to call Noir and informed him to notify the Lycantroops to send reinforcements.

At the western border, the eight generals were shocked when they received the news from Noir “What? The Wolf King is trapped in Camelback Mountain?”

“An army of a hundred thousand soldiers led by Kabreh?”

“Motherf*cker! What the hell? How dare they attack the Wolf King? Have they forgotten what pain feels like?”

“A mere hundred thousand soldiers dare to launch a sneak attack on the Wolf King? I’ll personally lead an army to wipe them out now!”

“Count me in!”

“Me too!”

The Wolf King was not just the supreme commander but also the soul of the Lycantroops.

Without Andrius, the unparalleled Wolf King, there would be no Lycantroops who were famous all over the world!

Their glory, their medals, and even their lives were all thanks to the Wolf King, but now, someone dared to hunt him down...

It was unforgivable!

It was unbearable!

It was unacceptable!

Absolutely unacceptable!

All the generals were furious when they heard that the Wolf King was trapped on Camelback Mountain. They immediately declared that they would mobilize the entire army to flatten that mountain.

“Sh*t!”

“Ahhh-

The leaders were so furious that they cried and screamed.

Noelle rushed out. She held a long rope in her hand that she had found some where and tied up all the leaders one by one.

She was delighted and thrilled.

After all, how many people could freely come and go within the enemy's ranks and kill them indiscriminately?

Alexander the Great was one.

Spartacus was also one.

Julius Caesar could be considered one too.

Other than that, it was just her and Andrius.

Such an unparalleled feat was bound to shake the heavens.

‘Sorry, First War God. I won't think of you anymore in the future, lest the Wolf King misunderstands.

Various thoughts floated through Noelle's mind.

During this time, Andrius used a satellite phone to call Noir and informed him to notify the Lycantroops to send reinforcements.

At the western border, the eight generals were shocked when they received the news from Noir. “What? The Wolf King is trapped in Camelback Mountain?”

“An army of a hundred thousand soldiers led by Kabreh?”

“Motherf*cker! What the hell? How dare they attack the Wolf King? Have they forgotten what pain feels like?”

“A mere hundred thousand soldiers dare to launch a sneak attack on the Wolf King? I’ll personally lead an army to wipe them out now!”

“Count me in!”

“Me too!”

The Wolf King was not just the supreme commander but also the soul of the Lycantroops

Without Andrius, the unparalleled Wolf King, there would be no Lycantroops who were famous all over the world!

Their glory, their medals, and even their lives were all thanks to the Wolf King, but now, someone dared to hunt him down...

It was unforgivable!

It was unbearable!

It was unacceptable!

Absolutely unacceptable!

All the generals were furious when they heard that the Wolf King was trapped on Camelback Mountain. They immediately declared that they would mobilize the entire army to flatten that mountain.

“Don’t be impulsive,” Noir’s voice spoke coldly over the phone. “It’s enough for four of the eight generals to go. The other four will guard the border as usual. There must not be any mistakes.”

As the Wolf King’s private guard captain, he always gave orders on behalf of Andrius

With his words, all the generals quieted down and followed his orders.

“Yes!”

Five minutes later, 400,000 Lycantroops soldiers assembled.

Under the command of the four generals, the army launched an attack. Armored vehicles cleared the way. They crossed mountains and rivers.

Wherever they went, everything was left barren.

Hundreds of various types of fighter planes swiftly advanced, including attack helicopters, Joint Strike Fighters, Airborne Early Warnings, fighter–bombers.

They filled and blotted out the sky. They roared continuously, moving like thunder

In addition, there were various types of modern equipment. They were truly armed to the teeth.

With such military strength and momentum, they could annihilate a small to medium–sized country within three hours!

Of course, the four generals did not disclose the operation and simply said that it was a top–secret mission.

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 539 -

Chapter 539

On Camelback Mountain, the hundred thousand soldiers who were searching outside found that communication with the command center was cut off. They immediately became alert and soon discovered that Andrius had already taken down the command center.

The troops immediately swarmed forward.

After a period of trekking and deployment, they surrounded the command center.

“Wolf King! Release them at once! Otherwise, with a command, my army will open fire, and you’ll be destroyed,” one of the leaders outside shouted through a loudspeaker.

“Wolf King, release them!”

“Wolf King, hand over the Marshal!”

“Wolf King, don’t force us, or...”

The leaders of the troops pressured Andrius.

“Release them?” Andrius walked out from the command center and said with a mocking tone, “You don’t have the qualifications to make me release anyone.”

“If you don’t obey...”

“You can open fire. Why don’t you try?”

At those words, many of the leaders turned pale and felt stifled in their hearts.

Yes.

All the highest commanders of the various countries in this operation had fallen into Andrius’ hands. They did not dare to act rashly.

It would cause an international conflict!

Whoosh...

Swoosh...

Whistle...

At that moment, a series of sharp noises sounded.

Countless missiles flew in with long trails of thick smoke. They targeted the helicopters first, and the rest struck the troops who were surrounding the command center.

Boom!

Rumble!

Boom, boom, boom!

In the distance, on the mountainside, artillery barrels appeared one by one, spitting out long tongues of flame that aimed at that place.

“Kill!”

“Kill!”

“Kill!”

At the same time, at the foot of Camelback Mountain, soldiers advance forward with loud warcries.

It was the Lycantroops.

In the blink of an eye, the place was blanketed by the firepower of the Lycantroops.

The heavens and earth trembled. The ground shook and mountains swayed.

It was amazing!

The ferocious Lycantroops were like the mighty wind!

It was tragic!

Soldiers died together, and their blood flowed in rivers.

The ferocious Lycantroops were imposing like wild tigers.

The hundred thousand soldiers were trapped like ducks in a barrel.

This was not a battle. It was a massacre.

The Lycantroops slaughtered their forces one-sidedly.

The commanders of the hundred thousand soldiers were captured, and the soldiers had long since lost their morale. Coupled with the volley of fighter jets and armored vehicles, they were instantly defeated

Furthermore, with the bravery of the Lycantroops, the troops could not make any dent in their armor and were completely annihilated.

The whole battlefield was covered with blood and corpses.

“Wolf King!”

The four generals rushed in and saw Andrius resting in the command center. They immediately held their heads high, stood up straight, and saluted respectfully. Their eyes were fervent like they were serving a god.

That scene greatly shocked Noelle.

Andrius nodded slightly with a smile, then pointed to the long row of prisoners and said, “It was a good fight. I’ll leave the rest to you. These pigs have high statuses and will sell for a good price.”

Pigs...

Kabreh and the other military leaders immediately turned red when they heard those words.

What an insult.

What humiliation.

However, they did not dare to speak up in front of Andrius.

After all, the title of the Wolf King was extremely intimidating.

Andrius instructed, “Whether it’s giving up territory or paying compensation, you can talk about it slowly. There’s no rush. Just make sure to get a good price.”

“Yes, sir!”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 540 -

Chapter 540

The four generals responded in unison.

Andrius nodded and left with Noelle.

The Lycantroops were proficient in negotiations, so he did not have to get involved.

After the two came out, a soldier immediately approached him. “Wolf King, I’m a helicopter pilot. Please give me your orders!”

“Go to the hospital where Marcus Freely is as soon as possible.”

“Yes, sir!”

An hour later, the helicopter landed at a hospital in the west.

“Wolf King! Mr. Freely is in Ward 301!”

Andrius nodded and patted the soldier’s shoulder. “Good job. You can go back for the debriefing.”

The pilot was dumbfounded..

What merits did he have for the Wolf King to say he did a good job?

He stood there in shock for a long time before snapping back to his senses, and he shouted toward the sky, “I serve the people and Florence!”

Noelle was greatly shocked.

“Wolf King...”

She caught up with Andrius ahead and was just about to speak but was interrupted by him.

“Don’t call me Wolf King. Just call me Mr. Moonshade.” Andrius shook his head and could not help but smile when he thought of Noelle’s unyielding personality in the beginning.

Noelle paused for a moment before changing her words. “Mr. Moonshade, why does the entire Lycantroops respect and admire you so much?”

Andrius glanced at her and continued walking forward.

It was not until they reached the entrance of the ward that he said, "I earned it with my life."

Noelle stood still, greatly shocked.

Yes!

Although she had only spent a few hours with Andrius, the thrilling experiences were enough to boast about for a lifetime.

Andrius' decisiveness, bravery, cunningness...

Every aspect was top-notch.

Furthermore, he was willing to get injured to protect her and her father.

Who would not love a Wolf King like that?

Noelle could not help but feel infatuated for a moment when she looked at his slightly exhausted figure

In the ward, a doctor was examining Marcus.

Marcus lay on the bed with his back exposed, revealing a scar about the length of a finger that had already begun to scab over.

This was the result of him trying to escape when he was first captured on the mountain and being beaten after he was caught.

"Let me do it!" Andrius pushed the doctor aside and personally performed the surgery on Marcus

The surgery was straightforward.

He only needed to cut open the wound, clean out any foreign impurities inside, disinfect and sterilize it to prevent infection, and finally stitch it up again.

Andrius was meticulous and finished it in just over ten minutes.

Noelle assisted him during the process.

Even a tough guy like Marcus could not help but shed tears. His voice choked up. "Wolf King..."

"Enough." Andrius patted his shoulder, interrupting him, "How long has it been since you left the army, Marcus? When did you become so sentimental?"

L

Marcus was at a loss for words, not knowing whether to laugh or cry.

Andrius patted him twice, took off his gloves, and sat down on a nearby chair. He lit a cigarette, took a deep drag, and exhaled a long breath.

Tonight, Andrius had been shot in all four limbs, then engaged in multiple intense battles. It was indeed exhausting to the point where he was already starting to doze off even with the cigarette in his mouth.

"Mr. Moonshade..."

Noelle finished helping her father lie down and sat down beside Andrius. She saw how fatigued he looked and softly called out to him.

Andrius did not answer.

"Mr. Moonshade..."

Noelle moved closer.

Andrius seemed to hear something, and his lips moved. The cigarette fell to the ground.

This was her chance!

Noelle carefully approached him.

The next second, just as she was about to cover his lips with hers....

Andrius suddenly woke up when he felt someone approaching. He opened his eyes and saw Noelle acting suspiciously right in front of him, so he asked in a displeased tone, "What are you doing?"

Even in his sleep, he remained vigilant.

