

Read Married At First Sight Chapter 2476

Married at First Sight Chapter 2476-Carrie's eyes flashed with hatred, and she said, "That's where bad habits can be corrected. Mrs. Janzen, you said you wanted to cooperate with me and let me get information for you. How to calculate the reward?"

Carrie didn't work. After entering, her things were returned to her parents. However, after her parents entered, her mobile phone, bank card, car keys, and other things were probably in Camryn's hands.

She could get those things back from Camryn, but she may not be able to make the final decision about the company's affairs for the time being. Firstly, she really didn't understand, and secondly, Camryn had Dalton's help, and Callum, the second young master of the York family, acted as a backer.

Camryn had been referring to the Newman family as her own for such a long time, and she held the family's financial sway.

When Carrie thought about asking for money from Camryn in the future, it was like eating a mouthful of flies, which made her feel uncomfortable and disgusting.

Mrs. Janzen said warmly, "Miss Newman, you only need to help me find out the news about Serenity and pass it on to me in time. Serenity is now the eldest mistress of the York family. Every move she makes can easily attract attention. This matter is very important to me. It shouldn't be difficult for you.

In addition to inquiring about Serenity, if you can find out about those people who are related to her, such as Zachary, the Stone family, and Liberty, If we want to take revenge, we must be clear about it and look for opportunities to hit it with one strike. As for the reward, Miss Newman, how much do you want?"

Carrie said, "Although it is necessary to inquire about information, It's not difficult, but if Zachary finds out, I will be very unlucky. This is a very dangerous thing, which means I risk my life to do this kind of thing. Mrs. Janzen, you can't treat me badly, right? Since we are cooperating, I also need sincerity. Mrs. Janzen, please give me $500,000 a month. After all, I have to ask a lot of people to help me do this kind of thing. If I ask others for help, I have to spend money."

Mrs. Janzen scolded Carrie in her heart: The lion opened her mouth and dared to ask for half a million dollars a month.

According to Mrs. Janzen's wish, she was only willing to give Carrie some pocket money—30,000 to 50,000 dollars per month.

She didn't want to give any more.

She didn't have to cooperate with Carrie; she just wanted to find a helper who could be her scapegoat in the charge.

However, she did not refuse explicitly; she just smiled and said, "$50,000 a month is not a small amount. Miss Newman, you always want me to see if you have the ability to earn half a million dollars a month. Let's do the work."

Mrs. Janzen picked up a cup of tea and took a sip. She felt that the tea in this restaurant was bitter and unpleasant. It was not freshly brewed. She didn't know when it was brewed.

There was disgust in her eyes, but it was fleeting.

"How do you want me to behave?"

Carrie also knew that half a million dollars a month was not a small amount for ordinary people.

She didn't know anything about Mrs. Janzen's family background, but the car she was riding in was only worth over a million dollars. It was not as luxurious as the car she drove before she entered. The people who followed Mrs. Janzen drove cars worth around 100,000 dollars—cheap cars.

Presumably, Mrs. Janzen's family was not very wealthy.

Mrs. Janzen smiled and said, "Miss Newman, have you ever thought about what you will do after you return to the Newman family?"

Carrie immediately said, with hatred on her face, "Of course I want to settle accounts with Camryn. I'm so miserable, and my parents have been so miserable because of her. Camryn controls the Newman family now; how can I let her control my family? I want to take everything back from the Newman family!"

Mrs. Janzen said, "Let's see if you have the ability. Miss Newman, if you have the ability to take back everything from the Newman family, then I can give you a reward of one million a month and we can cooperate."