Chapter 110 You Are Mine

Willie waved his hand, gesturing for Fidelia to come closer. When she was close enough, he bent his body and whispered something

Fidelia's expression turned into a serious one as she blinked her beautiful eyes

After a series of nodding and questioning, she finally responded, "I got it." Fidelia then turned her body to leave, but Willie reminded her again, saying, "Remember, you must not have any inappropriate motive. Do you understand?" 2

Fidelia nodded her head obediently. "I know."

Hearing this, Willie was satisfied and showed a grin. "That's good." Soon, the evening came, and it was time for everyone to return home

After confirming that Isaac had arrived at the villa, Willie immediately called Fidelia and told her to carry out their plan

In the villa, Camila was reading a book on the sofa. From the corner of her eye, she could see Isaac entering. Despite his tiredness, Isaac could still maintain his amazing posture as he walked toward Camila. However, she pretended like she didn't care and just continued reading the books

Of course, her mind was somewhere else even though her eyes were fixed solely on the book

There was a whirl of thoughts inside her small head. How could Isaac tell that he loved her when he had another woman behind her back? And... he even had sex with her! @

Indeed, men were incapable of using their brains to solve things. Rather, they used their lower bodies like wild animals

He could have sex with any woman. It didn't matter if he loved the woman or not. As long as he was satisfied and had the woman he wanted, everything was fine

She had initially thought that Isaac lost his mind because he was so angry. However, it seemed that he was no different from any other man

Every man liked beautiful women with good body curves. Isaac was no exception and couldn't resist the temptation as well, no matter how much he claimed that he loved Camila

Isaac casually threw his coat on the sofa and made his way to the table

He stood right in front of Camila and looked down at her lovely face

"Don't you have anything to tell me?" said Isaac. Annoyance lingered in his voice even though it wasn't that obvious

Since Isaac took the initiative to talk, Camila had no choice but to open her mouth. She said, "No." She took her eyes away from the book and smiled. With her pretentious smile and nonchalant tone, she seemed sarcastic

Camila was trying her best to pretend like nothing mattered to her

Nothing he did would make her feel down; that was an act that she had to put on even if it was not true

She was afraid that she would suffer because of Isaac. She couldn't let that happen. @

If she cried and screamed, wouldn't it show that she cared about him very much?

Even if she really cared about him, she would not make it so obvious

Rather, she would act like she didn't care at all!

She knew Isaac was not worth her feelings. So, she might as well build a wall around her heart

Camila suppressed all those emotions and stared straight into his eyes, a smile still on her face. Isaac pressed his lips tightly and stared back at her

Why was this woman acting like this? Was she really so cold-hearted and indifferent?

They even had sex! But she was still so cold toward him. «

Annoyed, Isaac withdrew his gaze and undid his tie. He then threw it at Camila, who shrank her body to dodge. With his small frown and seemingly pouted lips, Camila found him so childish at that moment

"You heartless woman!" he huffed. Then, he stomped upstairs angrily

Camila was in a daze. Her expression was neutral, because she couldn't make up her mind if she should laugh or cry

Isaac seemed unhappy to hear her response. But why was he unhappy? It was for sure that he had many beautiful women around at his work

With just a nod, those women would crawl to him and even climb into his bed

That day earlier, she caught him holding a woman in his arms. What he had said about loving her was definitely nonsense. Was he trying to confess his love for her again?
