

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2448

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2448-So, for sentimental reasons, he should visit them.

Celeste and Nova could not stay idle. Since David was going to visit his old friends, they would travel around Earth to see what was special about this planet that could give birth to an elite like David.

David aside, Lorraine and Selena were also rare talents in Star Kingdom.

The first people David visited were, of course, his Aunt Sally and Aunt Diana and their families.

The two families were extremely surprised by David's sudden appearance.

It had been so long since they saw each other, Sally and Diana had become slightly older.

However, they were still basically the same and did not change much.

Since David had brought back a lot of advanced technology and genetic drugs from the Milky Way, Earth developed very quickly during this period.

A normal person's average lifespan had reached 200 to 300 years old.

They would have never dared to hope for this in the past.

Sally and Diana's ages were only about one-third of the average lifespan, so they still had a lot of time left.

Plus, they were very wealthy now. They focused a lot on their skincare and had a lot of grandchildren. Therefore, they looked much better than when David left.

As the Earth developed faster and faster, one could predict that an ordinary person's average lifespan might keep increasing.

After saying goodbye to the two families, David appeared in Capital City in the next second.

Now, Somerland's actual person in charge was still Mason.

After taking the genetic drug, Mason's strength greatly improved so his lifespan also increased by a lot.

Under his leadership, Somerland became the leader of Earth.

Of course, it was mainly because Savior David was born in Somerland.

His statue had always towered over the most prosperous plaza in Capital City. So, this place became a sacred place on Earth.

Many came from all around the world to worship the statue every year.

At this moment, Mason was in his study, taking care of trivial matters all around the world.

Yes, around the world. Not just Somerland.

Whenever there were contradictions or disputes between countries on Earth, they would come to Mason for help.

Mason would not say no and he would settle the dispute from the fairest angle. After he got the recognition of all the forces on Earth, no one dared against him anymore.

Now, Mason looked completely different from the old man that was on the brink of death.

He looked much younger now.

"Old Master Stefani, you are still so cautious and conscientious," a voice said next to Mason's ear.

As he looked over to the source of the voice, he saw a young man sitting on the chair opposite him.

Who would it be, if not David?

David's arrival did not surprise Mason.

Julia was back so he had gotten the news of David coming back to Earth from his granddaughter.

Since David was back, he would come to him sooner or later.

“David, long time no see. You haven’t changed at all. You’re still so young and handsome,” Mason said with a smile.

In his heart, he felt very thankful for this young man.

David was his savior and he saved him more than once.

If he had not met David back then, he would have already died.

At that time, the Tuffin family from the Milky Way had invaded Earth. It was all thanks to David that Earth was saved from the crisis.

Moreover, David brought back genetic drugs to improve Mason’s strength by leaps and bounds so that his lifespan could increase.