I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2516-Although these small forces did not have many good things in hand, David was not interested in the small amount they had.

However, when the number increased to tens of thousands or even tens of millions, that would be a huge amount of lavish points.

Amber City is one of the eight main cities of The Spirit Cage and its floating population might be larger than the total population of Earth.

Even if only one-tenth of them wanted to sell their property, the total value would definitely surprise David.

One must know that the last time Elora took all the treasures of the eight main cities, she only took them from the major forces.

So those smaller forces did not lose much.

This time, everyone knew that something significant would happen in Amber City and it might affect everyone in the city.

So, everyone wanted to leave first to avoid it.

It was, of course, best if they could exchange their property for money.

Compared with life, everything else was not so important.

A lot of people were selling and only a few were buying.

So, naturally, prices fell rapidly.

David figured he could not let this happen.

The price was not what was falling, but his lavish points.

So, he hastily told Thor to announce that Jumbo Court would acquire all properties in Amber City at the original price.

Anyone who wanted to sell could come to Jumbo Court to cash out.

As soon as he announced this, it immediately caused a huge sensation in all of Amber City.

Everyone wanted to sell everything and escape temporarily, so it was no wonder that the price plummeted.

However, Jumbo Court was offering to buy at the normal price. Therefore, no one would want to miss this opportunity.

Countless people began to flock to Jumbo Court to sell their property.

David welcomed everyone and asked Thor to accept them all.

Since there were too many people, Beanie also took her people to Jumbo Court to help.

However, at this time, some well-informed people had different ideas.

David was one of the protagonists of this major incident.

So, if he dared to spend money to acquire properties in Amber City, it would be either because he was stupid and rich, or because he had enough confidence to resolve the matter peacefully.

Otherwise, Amber City would be in ruins when the battle started and the industries in the city would naturally become worthless.

Since the protagonist David dared to do this, why couldn't they bet on this?

If they won the bet, they would get huge benefits.

Then, someone spoke up again.

The battle in Amber City was about to break out, and it would be too late if everyone did not leave now.

They were thoroughly stirring the pot.

David was willing to buy all of the properties in Amber City.

However, he simply did not have enough manpower.

Even if they hired a group of people who were not afraid of death at a high price, it was still a drop in the bucket compared to the countless people who wanted to flee Amber City.

This gave others a chance.

Their purchase price was much lower than David's, but there were still many people who wanted to sell so that they could leave as soon as possible.

The entire Amber City was in a mess.

Salem, the mayor, was helpless at this moment.

Even he was not sure that Amber City could get through this safely. So, he also sent all the direct descendants of his family out of The Spirit Cage!
