

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2520

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2520-Of course, it might be because David did not dare to offend the mayor.

After all, he had already offended two major families.

If he offended the mayor and the Birch family, he would be surrounded by enemies.

No matter what, the guards could not afford to offend someone like David.

“Oh, Master David! Please wait. We’ll inform the mayor right away,” one of the guards said courteously.

Then, he quickly entered the mayor’s residence to pass on the message.

David waited outside the door.

The remaining guard examined David carefully.

He was confused.

How could this harmless-looking young man be a bringer of bad luck who would not hesitate to kill?

He looked nothing like it.

He seemed easy to get along with and he did not have the airs of a big shot.

Not long after, an old man walked out from the mayor’s residence. Behind him was the guard who went in earlier.

The old man was Mayor Salem of Amber City.

On hearing that David had arrived and waiting outside the door, he immediately came out to welcome him.

There was such a huge incident in Amber City, so, of course, Salem reported this to his family too.

The seniors of the Birch family called for a meeting to analyze if David was just a reputation with no substance or if he was truly not scared of the collaboration between the Marche and Campbell families.

In addition to that, when David killed Perry and Fabiola, there was a powerhouse hiding in the dark that released a terrifying energy to intimidate everyone.

Yet, no one had discovered the mysterious powerhouse.

In the end, the seniors of the Campbell family deduced that it was more likely that David was not scared of the collaboration of the Campbell and Marche families.

If that were the case, the force behind David might be very excellent, even among the top forces in Leila. Their strength might at least be in the top five or even the top three.

Salem did not dare to be careless in facing the heir of a force who was cultivated in the dark.

Even though they all had a partial Overlord in their family and were on the same level, they were still very different in terms of strength.

“David, why did you come so suddenly and not tell me? If you did, I could come and welcome you.” When Salem saw David, he said with a grin.

“Mayor Salem, you’re too kind. I’m here with an ulterior motive. This time, I am here to discuss something with you.” David walked over when he saw Salem.

The two shook hands and exchanged pleasantries.

“David, who is this?” Salem looked at Pebbles in David’s arms.

“She’s my sister,” David replied.

“I see! David, come, let’s talk inside.”

“After you, Mayor Salem.”

David and Salem went into the mayor’s residence together, leaving the shocked guards and the Campbell family’s spies watching from afar.

Who was this kid? How could he make Mayor Salem welcome him at the door?

The news of David going to the mayor's residence and being welcomed by Mayor Salem was sent back to the Campbell family.

Salem and David sat opposite each other in the drawing room of the mayor's residence in Amber City.

Two beautiful maids with amazing figures poured tea for both of them.

After the tea was poured, Salem said, "You may leave now." "Yes, Mayor," the maids said at the same time.

Then, they left the drawing room.

"David, you just said that you have come to discuss something with me. What is it?" Salem took a sip from his teacup and asked curiously.

Could he not guess why David was here at this moment?

It was unlikely that he was here to ask Salem for help.

To tell the truth, if the Campbell and Marche families had joined forces, even the Birch family could only obediently admit defeat.

The overall strength of the Birch family might be slightly stronger than the Campbell family, but it was not as good as the Marche family.

After all, the Marche family had two partial Overlords, and among the dozens of top Leila forces, they were among the mid- or upper-class.