

“Damn it, James! How did Grandpa get tricked by him? Why would he believe in James? Did Granpa really delusionally think he could celebrate his birthday in the House of Royals?” Megan complained

Lex’s face blushed bright red in embarrassment.

‘How can this be? James had assured me that I’d be able to hold my birthday celebration at the House of Royals and would even be able to access the venue in advance.’ “Are you sure what you guys are talking about? Do you know who permitted me to hold my birthday in the House of Royals?” He straightened up his back and scolded the guards. “Get lost, old man!”

The security guards began to chase him away. “Well, what do we have here?”

A man dressed in a suit and tie walked over with his hands around the waist of a sexy woman.

The security guards bowed their heads respectfully,

The person who showed up was the manager of Goodview Villa District and the security guards ‘immediate boss. He had an excellent background and was from the Xenos.

“Mr. Xenos, this guy is Lex from the Callahans. He said he would hold his birthday in the House of Royals. I almost burst out laughing when I heard him. I was just about to chase him away.”

“Oh? The Callahans?”

Goodview Villa District’s manager, Zack Xenos, glanced at Lex and sneered, “You want to hold your birthday in the House of Royals? Who gave you the right to hold your birthday in the House of Royals?” “I-I...” Lex’s face flushed red.

“Grandpa, let’s just go. Stop embarrassing yourself.” Tommy got out of the car and wanted to drag Lex into the car. The other family members also got out of the car.

“Yo, Tommy. Is that you?” A condescending voice suddenly sounded.

The voice came from the sexy woman in Zack’s arms. She was dressed in a glamorous dress and held a branded bag in her arms.

Tommy’s expression changed upon seeing the woman.

‘Isn’t this my ex-girlfriend, Lucy Quinn?’

Lucy found it funny to see Tommy.

“I would’ve never expected the Callahans to love faking wealth to show off. By the way, this is my husband. He is from the Xenoses. You’ve heard of them, right? The Xenos is under the Five Provinces Business Alliance, which constructed the Goodview Villa District. The villas here cost at least hundreds of millions of dollars. It’s not a place where you can purchase just because you’ve got money.”

Lucy raised her head and wrapped her arms around Zack

“Only those on the level of the Great Four of Cansington are qualified to purchase a villa here. The people who live here are all bigwigs from all over the country. The Xenoses own two villas here. How dare the Callahans boast about celebrating a birthday in the most luxurious villa in Goodview Villa District?»

Lucy glanced at Tommy with contempt. In the past, Tommy dumped her because she was poor and did not have a great family background.

Now, she had married into a wealthy family and bumped into someone who looked down on her. It was finally her chance to avenge herself.

“Thanks for your grace of not marrying me back then, Tommy. It’s because of you that I married into the Xenoses. Any subsidiary of Xenos is better than the entire Callahans’ business combined.”

Tommy’s face darkened.

He was belittled, looked down upon, and ridiculed, but he was not infuriated. At that moment, he only felt embarrassment, and he desperately wanted to find a hole to hide

This was because he knew the Xenoses.

As a member of the Five Provinces Business Alliance, the Xenos family business was much superior to the Great Four of Cansington.

The Great Four had significant influence but only within Cansington and were not eligible to enter the Five Provinces Business Alliance.

“I didn’t expect it to meet Mr. Xenos here.” Brody stood up with a smile and reached out his hand. “Hello, Mr. Xenos. I’m from the Colemans and am currently the deputy captain of the specialized police unit in North Cansington. “Who are you? Do I know you? Who are the Colemans?” Zack glanced at Brody and replied indifferently.

Brody withdrew his hand in embarrassment.

The Colemans were considered a massive household in North Cansington, with assets of more than 30 billion dollars, yet he was being looked down upon by a core member of the Five Provinces Business Alliance. However, he could not be angry because of the other party’s identity.

“Isn’t this your job? Don’t you know what place this is? How could you allow unauthorized people into the area?” Zack glared at the security guards and scolded them. “Would you be able to take responsibility if a big shot inside gets angry? Beat them and throw them out!”

“Understood!”

The security guards suddenly grew aggressive after being scolded.

They clenched their fists.

“Argh...” Screams of pain sounded outside the Goodview Villa District. The Callahans were punched and kicked by dozens of security guards,

Even Wendy’s husband, Brody, was not spared.

Brody, the deputy captain of a specialized police unit, was kicked and stepped on by security guards, leaving footprints on his face.
