

Chapter 235

A restaurant could also be opened on the food street.

Any large enterprise was eligible to set up a store there and could enjoy countless benefits.

The one-time fee to secure a spot in Transgenerational New City, such as in the food street, was also terrifyingly high.

They had never dreamed about entering Transgenerational New City. “Are you serious, Ms. Callahan?” Quinton was excited. “We’ll give it a shot. It might or might not work” Honestly, Thea was not confident.

When she was in Eternity she had been preparing and worked to expand the business to increase the company’s qualifications and secure a spot in the Transgenerational New City. She was less sure about the chances since Pacific Group was much more inferior to Eternity.

However, it was her dream.

It was also the dream of every business.

Entering Transgenerational New City would mean gaining the protection of the Transgenerational Group, and there would be plenty of benefits.

On top of that, she felt like she could do it because of that man.

She could not help but think about the Cadens’ survivor, who was also the ghost-masked man that saved her.

For some reason, she sensed that this person was still alive and close to her, silently helping her from behind the scenes.

Although it was wishful thinking, she hoped it was true.

she blushed a little and silently peeped at James.

She was relieved to see him looking around.

“Thea, Thea! You have a husband now. How can you be thinking about another man?” she thought to herself.

She shook her head to get rid of the messy thoughts in her mind.

Thea’s words made Trevor and the others excited.

Handing the Pacific Group to Thea was a good choice.

The Pacific Group would have remained a manufacturing factory in their hands and never manage to become an enterprise in its whole lifetime. They would never be qualified to enter Transgenerational New City. It was no longer a dream with Thea in charge.

Moreover, they had 10% of the shares, so once the Pacific Group developed, it would increase in value and be worth more than its current 100%.

Thea left after touring around the factory.

A group of people suddenly approached as soon as she arrived at the factory group These people were the previous batch that went to the finance department to ask for their wages.

The finance department processed and issued their wages. They realized that the company had the money now.

“Ms. Callahan. Please give me another chance to come back to work.”

“Ms. Callahan, Quill deceived me. I will never trust him again. Please give me one more chance. I have elderly and young to take care of in my family. I can’t afford to lose my job.”

Many employees came and started to plead. Private workgroups began to spread the news that their salary had been increased by 20%, and the overtime pay had also been raised. It would be hard to find a new job if they left now.

Thea was not a ruthless person and understood the situation of those at the bottom. “I’ll welcome those who want to come back, but I hope everyone works hard in the future,” said Thea.

“Ms. Callahan...”

Quill stepped out of the crowd and stood in front of Thea. A bright smile spread out on his chubby face. “Ms. Callahan, I was only joking with you before. I’ll still come back to work. I am fine with a twenty percent raise like everyone else and not double.”

He was the factory’s deputy director and had a monthly salary of 38,000 dollars.

“Hmm?”

Thea glanced at Quill and called out for security. “Security guards, please kick this man out for me.”

Quinton stepped forward and shouted before the security guards arrived, “You’re a despicable man, Quill! You wanted to sell our factory’s equipment. The Pacific Group treated you well, but you wanted to betray us! Get lost!” “What’re you doing, Ms. Callahan? I’m the deputy director here. You’re chasing away someone who’s worked hard for you!”

The security guards approached and rebuked him. “Mr. Wright, do you want to leave on your own?”

“I didn’t like him for a very long time. He always abused his authority as the deputy director.” “Get lost...”

The security guards were not polite to him at all. They beat and kicked Quill as they chased him out.
