

Chapter 258

In a lavish office on the topmost floor of Majestic Corporation, James had changed into a brand-new suit worth millions of dollars.

Serena was adjusting his necktie.

Wearing the suit, James exuded a completely different aura.

He was a house-husband just a moment ago. Now, he was a man who succeeded in life.

“J- James...”

After adjusting his necktie, Serena lifted her head and looked at James puzzledly.

“Why are you concealing your identity?” James smiled. He did not explain. He did not know the answer to her question.

Perhaps he wanted to live an ordinary life.

At that moment, Newton walked in.

“James, Ms. Thea is here alongside a woman called Quincy Xyla, who’s here to apply for the position of vice-president. She requests to see you.”

“Q-Quincy Xyla?” James froze.

<https://novelebook.com/the-almighty-dragon-general-bd2376.html>

A figure sprang into his mind. He had just graduated from high school ten years ago He got to know a girl from school. Her name was Quincy, and they were in a relationship for around half a year.

Though teenage relationships were awkward, they were the most unforgettable. James scratched his head and muttered, "There's no way such a coincidence is possible." Newton asked, "James, both of them wish to see you. Since they came together, do you plan to see them together or alone?"

James contemplated before saying, "Let Thea in first."

"Yes."

Newton walked out of the office.

Serena followed suit.

Newton approached the two, who were waiting at a sitting area outside the chairman's office, and smiled. "Ms. Thea, the chairman has asked for you." Though Quincy was here to apply for the position of vice-president, she was also here to see the chairman of Majestic Corporation. She wanted to know if he was her first love.

"I wish to see the chairman."

"Ms. Quincy, the chairman has only called for Ms. Thea. Please go for your interview. If you pass, you might be able to meet him."

Saying that, he turned to look at Serena and said, "Serena, bring Ms. Thea to the chairman."

"Yes."

Serena glanced at Thea. She was mesmerized by her beauty. Recollecting herself, she gestured.

"Follow me."

Thea took a deep breath and tried to calm herself down.

Following Serena's lead, she entered the chairman's office. A clean-limbed man in a white suit stood before the glass windows in the spacious office. He was standing in front of the glass windows, watching the city landscape. "Chairman, Ms. Thea is here."

James, who had his back to Serena, waved his hand.

"Got it. You may leave."

"Understood."

Serena turned to leave.

Thea stood in the office and stared at the man before her.

The man was approximately one meter and eighty centimeters in height, short-haired, and was wearing a white suit. She could not see his face. However, looking at him from the back, she imagined he would have a handsome face. At that moment, Thea was a little nervous.

"Greetings..."

She stammered.

