

Chapter 251

This was not too bad either.

“Honey, you have to believe me.”

“I believe you.”

James looked Thea in the eye and said, “It’s my honor to have married you. Whatever the outcome is, I won’t blame you.”

“Sigh.” Thea sighed deeply.

Soon, Newton arrived. He arrived at the Callahan residence in just half an hour. Knock! Knock! Knock! just as they were in a heated argument, knocks sounded from the other side of the door. A Callahan answered the door. Newton entered alongside Serena. Upon seeing the visitors, Lex immediately stood up without much thought

The rest of the Callahans followed suit.

With a puzzled look, Lex walked toward them with his cane. “W-Who are you?”

Newton was unrecognizable.

Wearing a black suit, he exuded an air of elegance. On the other hand, Serena was glamorous in her attire.

They saw James.

However, following James’ instructions, they said nothing. Newton spoke, “I’m from Majestic Corporation.”

Upon hearing this, their hearts skipped a beat.

They had just been discussing Majestic Corporation, and now someone from there stood at their door.

Lex invited them to sit.

After taking his seat, Newton spoke, "I'm here on behalf of our chairman. The person who sent the gift made a blunder. Though the chairman instructed him to send it to Ms. Thea's residence, he sent it to the Callahans' villa."

He pointed at the betrothal gifts in the living room and said, "These are the betrothal gifts our chairman wishes to give Ms. Thea." Upon hearing this, Thea quivered. She approached him and asked, "I- Is your chairman a Caden? Is he the Caden from ten years ago? The one I saved from the fire?" Newton nodded with a smile. "Yes, it's him."

"W-What's his name?" Thea stammered.

Newton smiled and glanced at James. He remained silent.

"I-I would like to meet him." At that moment, Thea could feel her heart thumping. She knew of this man. Yet, she did not know his name. She had been dreaming all this while. She kept having dreams of the one she saved. She desperately wanted to know his identity. Thea's behavior did not go unnoticed by James. He knew Thea had fallen in love with his other identity. Otherwise, she would not have lost control of her emotions. Thea treated him with respect throughout their entire marriage. However, they lacked passion and love. She showed affection, not love. "Whew!"

James took a deep breath. Newton laughed. "You'll meet him soon. He's announced he'll hold a romantic wedding ceremony and promised he'll make you the most blissful woman in all of Cansington." Newton did not say anything else. After saying those words, he stood up and turned to leave.

After Newton had left, Gladys burst into a peal of laughter. "I told you these were for Thea. How could Megan have received such a huge blessing?"

"Haha, my luxury car. My villa." David cackled. Meanwhile, Howard and his family wore surly expressions. They remained silent. Knock, knock, knock Knocks sounded from the door once again immediately after Newton's departure. The door opened, and a few policemen walked in. They were headed by Wyatt Jeremiah from the Organized Crime Division. Wyatt presented an arrest warrant and shouted, "Howard and Tommy Callahan, you're under suspicion of committing a professional crime. Please come with us to assist in the investigation."
