Chapter 321

Thea was still in a daze.

Everything that just happened was unbelievable.

The Hills formed a circle around her.

Cyrus asked puzzledly, "What's going on, Thea? That was Richard Xenos we're talking about, the patriarch of the family. He's someone with assets worth hundreds of billions! Why was he kneeling before you?"

"That's right, Thea. How influential are you exactly?"

"Who's the one helping you out behind the scenes?"

"Why did Richard Xenos seem so afraid of you?"

The Hills chimed in.

Thea was puzzled too.

However, she assumed it was the mysterious Mr. Caden working his magic in the shadows,

She did not know he would be so influential that even Richard Xenos of North Cansington would be fearful of him.

Whew!

Thea took a deep breath.

Her head was spinning. She did not want to think about this anymore.

"I – It's nothing. By the way, a word of caution here. Don't tell anyone about what happened today. He's the patriarch of the Xenoses worth hundreds of billions, after all. If word spreads, his reputation will be ruined. With the power and influence of the Xenoses, crushing us is just child's play."

Aster warning them, she stood up to leave.

Her head started spinning with just a few steps. James caught her in time. With James carrying her, she left the room. The Hills glanced at each other. "Cyrus, is Thea really that influential?"

"That was Richard, the man capable of shaking the heavens and the earth, and he was kneeling on the floor like an obedient dog. It's unbelievable."

Cyrus sat on a chair and lit a cigarette.

Though he had met countless bigwigs throughout his life as a businessman, he had never seen Richard before. That was because he was not yet qualified to do so with the number of assets in his possession

He did not expect Richard to keel on the floor and obediently fork over two billion dollars.

A hundred million per glass? Truly terrifying At that moment, he had a clear understanding of how terrifying Thea was. No, it was not Thea who was terrifying. It was the one behind the scenes.

He had heard of her affairs.

It was a Caden, a mysterious Caden, behind her back "Tell no one about today's incident. If word gets out... Hmph!" "Understood."

"I won't tell a soul, Cyrus."

At the same time, Thea got in a car,

She was drunk, and her head was spinning. She did not want to think of anything.

“Honey, do we return to the Hill residence or somewhere else?” In her seat, Thea opened her eyes and said, “F-Forget it. Let’s not go home. Just get a room at a hotel. We’ll go home tomorrow.” “Got it,” James replied.

Then, he pulled out his phone and searched for a nearby hotel. He drove toward the location.

Soon, they arrived at a five-star hotel. After parking the car, he got off the driver’s seat and opened the passenger’s door. Then, he helped Thea down. Thea was drunk. Her cheeks were flushed, and there was not a single ounce of strength left in her.

She collapsed into James’ arms the moment she got off the car. The alluring fragrance tickled James’ nostrils and greatly stimulated him.

His arm wrapped around her slim waist, and his heart was pounding.

With his arms around Thea, he made his way to the hotel’s entrance. Not far away, a group of drunk, young men were walking over. They were bellowing tunes.

“D-Dylan, look. Over there.” Upon seeing James helping Thea toward the hotel entrance, one of the young men quickly regained his senses and exclaimed while pointing at Thea.

Hearing this, the rest of the group turned to look. They were stunned.

Exquisite! What a fine woman!

They had never seen such a stunning beauty.

“Dylan, It seems like the beautiful lady has had too much to drink. And look at that guy in ordinary clothes. There’s no way he’s a rich guy. He must have picked her up on the streets and planned to get a room at the hotel. We shouldn’t let him get away with it.”

Dylan Nell.

Thirty years of age and unemployed. He wandered through all sorts of bars and entertainment districts. Along with about fifty honchos, he conducted businesses like extortion and ransom that skirted the edges of the law.

Today, he and his honchos had just come out from a bar. Upon seeing Thea, their eyes were peeled to her. They were experienced at waiting outside of bars to pick up beautiful ladies who were drunk and then getting a room in a hotel somewhere.

After that, they would record the process and extort money out of their victims.

They knew what was going on when they saw James together with Thea. "This guy has quite some luck to get his hands on such a fine woman." With a greedy look, Dylan ordered his men, "Go get them. Beat the guy up and grab the woman."

"Yes."

The honchos were thrilled.

Such an exquisite woman. After Dylan had a taste of her, it would be their turn. Just as James and Thea reached the hotel entrance, a few hooligans approached and stopped them in their tracks.

Fearful, Dylan took a few steps back. With Thea leaning onto him, James walked toward Dylan. Thea spoke in a feeble voice, "D-Don't fight, honey." James stopped and glared at Dylan. "Scram!" "I'll remember you. How dare you beat up my men?! Just wait! You're a dead man."

Seeing his men lying on the ground, Dylan left a threat and made his escape with his tail tucked.

He only returned after James had entered the hotel.

His honchos had already gotten up from the ground. "Trash!" He cursed. "It's not our fault, Dylan. We didn't expect him to be such a great fighter." Dylan reproached him, "Investigate him! I want to know who he is. I'll definitely kill him."

Dylan had been on the streets for many years and was acquainted with many powerful men. Getting his hands on James' hotel room booking record was a piece of cake. Soon, he learned of James' name. After that, they investigated further. He learned where James came from.

"Cansington..."

Dylan's face darkened.

Chapter 323

Then, he went to look for his boss.

In a room of an underground gambling den in North Cansington, Dylan bowed and spoke respectfully. "Bryson, this is a great opportunity to make money. I found out that the guy who beat my men up is called James. He's from Cansington and is here to celebrate the birthday of a Hill. The Hills have assets totaling a few billion." A forty-year-old-looking man sat on the sofa. His name was Bryson Cajazzo, He owned a few bars, KTV, and gambling dens. He was also a loan shark. "Have you looked into the Hills?" Bryson asked disinterestedly.

He had climbed his way up the social ladder by proceeding with the utmost caution. He would not target those he could not. However, he would utterly ruin those he could.

"I have. The patriarch of the family's a retired veteran. There are also a few government officials among the younger generation. But, since they've injured our men, they'll have to pay compensation. So what if they're officials? Will they be more influential than the one backing you?"

"Besides, I heard James' wife is called Thea Callahan. She's an exquisite woman and is considered the most beautiful woman in all of Cansington."

Dylan went on and on

She stood up.

As she stood, her curvaceous figure was completely exposed before James. James could feel blood gushing through his veins. He almost had a nosebleed.

Just as Thea was getting out of the bathtub, she missed her footing and fell. James reacted quickly and swiftly held on to her. He could feel her fair and smooth skin. Thea shivered, and her body was stiff. Even though the one embracing her was her husband, she felt uncomfortable and embarrassed. She tried to calm herself down.

Thea, this is your husband. It's normal for husband and wife to have skin contact.'

She tried convincing herself. Only then did she relax her tense body. She looked at James and smirked. She asked seductively, "Honey, do I look yummy?" Her words were alluring.

James could no longer resist.

Chapter 324 Thea thought that her relationship with James was too monotonous.

She started teasing James.

She was not aware of how powerful her words were.

The battle-hardened James was tamed just by a single sentence. James gulped. "Y-Yeah." Blushing, Thea said, "G-Get me out of here, then." James recollected himself and swiftly carried Thea out of the bathroom. He then placed her on the bed.

Meanwhile, Thea immediately covered her naked body with the blanket. With reddened cheeks, she smiled at James. "It's getting late now. We should get some sleep."

"Oh."

James got onto the bed.

"Yes?"

"Aren't you curious why the Xenoses gave me money?" James said with a smile, "It's the mysterious Mr. Caden behind this, of course. He must've gotten word that Augustus was forcing you to drink. Enraged, he ordered Richard to kneel before you and apologize." "Why aren't you mad, then?" James replied, "What's there to be mad about? With all these bigwigs falling head over heels for you, it can only mean that my wife's outstanding. I'm fortunate to have married you. Why would I be mad?"

"Hmph -" Thea pouted and said, "If you continue being so unambitious, I'll dump you and go to the mysterious Mr. Caden." "Please don't, honey. I'm doing my best. I even found a job. Oh yeah.. I haven't told you where I'm currently working at..."

James pulled out his Transgenerational account executive business card and said, "Look. I'm working as the account executive at Transgenerational Group."

Thea rolled her eyes.

Account executive? She knew what the job actually entailed. However, he was capable enough to land a job at Transgenerational. "Transgenerational is a large corporation. You'll have to work hard."

"Understood, ma'am! I'll work hard. So, promise me you won't dump me, honey." Thea pouted. "That'll depend on your performance. I'm gonna put my make-up on now." She stood and headed to the dressing room, Meanwhile, James sat on the sofa and lit a cigarette. He was living the life. Soon, Thea finished applying her make-up. The two checked out and headed to the Hill residence. By the time they arrived, it was already nine o'clock in the morning. Today was Thea's grandmother's birthday. Although it was not a grand birthday celebration, the Hills were an influential family. Everyone with a connection to the Hills was present.

Chapter 325 Only a few close relatives of the Hills were here yesterday. Today, however, was different.

Everyone was present.

Jedidiah and his four sons and two daughters, as well as his nieces and nephews, were all present. The courtyard of the Hill residence resounded with laughter and joy. James and Thea became the subjects of discussion the moment they arrived. Everyone murmured about how Gladys' time had come and how she could finally lift her head high. Gladys headed toward them and reproached James, "What were you thinking, James? How dare you stay out all night with my daughter?!" Thea hurriedly explained, "Mom, it's not his fault. I drank a little last night. So, we decided to get a room at a hotel."

"Aunt Gladys, I treated Thea to a meal last night." Cyrus stepped forward and said with a smile, "Thea couldn't hold her liquor and was drunk only after a few glasses of wine. It's not her fault."

Only then did Gladys brighten up a little At that moment, a police car stopped in front of the courtyard.

"Clinton's here."

Everyone stood up to welcome him. "Hey, mom. Hey, dad. Long time no see, grandpa and grandma..." A twenty-five-year-old-looking man in uniform got off the car and greeted everyone. Thea stood behind James and whispered, "This is Clinton Hills. He's the captain of the specialized police unit and has great authority. He's the pride of the Hills."

The youngsters of the Hills wore an envious look

Meanwhile, Clinton continued in excitement, "I'll work hard and join the special forces team so that I may meet the Black Dragon in person. Rumors say his strength is unrivaled, and his medical skills are peerless." Everyone started discussing the Black Dragon

Only Xara cast a long glance at James in silence.

Chapter 326 Who could have thought the Black Dragon of their discussion was present at the scene?

However, Xara did not dare to reveal James' identity,

James had constantly kept a low profile and never brought up his identity. Soon, the family members of the Hills gradually gathered at the venue, and the villa became lively

At the same time, in the Xenoses' villa.

Richard Xenos anxiously paced up and down in the living room.

Last night, he had received news that the higher-ups were planning to suppress the Xenos when he returned home. The Xenoses were the number one household in Cansington, and they had plenty of family members in the military, police force, and even government departments. The person that notified Richard was a high-ranking military figure and an important core member of the Xenoses.

He was informed that this was because Washington attempted to bully customers at the Primary Pharmacy yesterday morning but had offended someone of significant influence,

Richard was about to die from panic, but the Xenoses were nonchalant about the Taniel had mentioned that his career would be over if Jaines blamed him for being late.

Although he was top ranked military personnel, lie only had a star badge on his shoulder

There were countless people who had a star badge on their shoulders.

Meanwhile, James had five star badges on his shoulders.

There were only five people in the entire country that reached such a rank. A five-star commander could easily dismiss a one-star general with just one word without having to notify the highest commander in writing, The Xenos and Chase were all preparing gifts to bring to the Hills' villa personally,

Bjorn and Bryson were not idle either.

James had snatched the thousand year-old King of Ginseng that belonged to him. Thus, Bjorn planned to take revenge on him.

Meanwhile, Bryson wanted to seize this opportunity to extort some money from the Hills and, even better, make their family bankrupt!

Chapter 327 Before taking action, Bryson had investigated the Hills' background. The Hills had a lot of students involved in various fields, with the most influential one being the City Police Department Chief. They also had many family members within the military, police force, and government departments. However, none of them had very high ranks in these fields.

Meanwhile, his boss was in a position of high authority and the second most powerful person in North Cansington,

The Hills' villa courtyard.

Most of the core family members had arrived.

Yitzchak and the old lady of the house sat in front.

The banquet had not begun yet.

According to the Hills' customs, the banquet would only begin after the younger generations presented their gifts.

Cyrus stepped forward and took out the gift he had prepared in advance.

"Grandma, I know you've been paying attention to your health recently. I specifically made a trip to Cansington and bought these health supplements at a sky-high price."

"Wow, is this a formula personally prescribed by Dr. Fallon? The old lady was dressed in a red festive dress. Although she was eighty years old, she lived a very healthy life and looked full of energy. She was surprised when she heard that the health supplements were from Dr. Fallon himself.

"Yeah, it cost me more than a hundred million dollars," Cyrus said with a smile.

The person that spoke was Clinton Hill, who was currently a captain of a police unit.

He knew that Thea's family had hit the jackpot. Thea had some money and even purchased a company

However, he knew that Herbal Biotech's King of Ginseng was invaluable.

It was not something that could be bought with money. Everyone glanced at Thea with doubt after hearing Clinton's suspicion. "Thea, did you really bring a counterfeit to deceive me?" "You shouldn't take us all for fools, Thea. You couldn't possibly afford a one to two hundred million dollar King of Ginseng. It's not something that can be bought even if you had money." "That's right. I heard your family likes to brag and show off about things you don't have."

Many people spoke up. They all felt that the king of Ginseng brought by Thea had to be fake. "Grandma, this is real. I bought it at the Herbal Biotech Auction House Herbal Biotech gave it to me. This is absolutely real!" Everyone laughed as soon as they heard Thea's explanation

"They gave it to you?"

“Who do you think you are, Thea? Don’t you know what kind of existence Herbal Biotech is? Why would they give it to you?”

Everyone glanced at her in disbelief.

They were unaware that Jay Fallon had stood up for Thea at Yuna’s birthday party, nor did they know that Thea was now a figure that no one dared to offend in Cansington’s upper-class circle.

They were not qualified to be upper-class. Thus, they did not have access to information about such things. Thea panicked as they questioned her. She glanced at James and said, “Honey, help me explain quickly. This King of Ginseng is the real thing!” James said indifferently, “The truth shall prevail, so why bother explaining? Since Grandma thinks it’s fake, we can take it back and use it ourselves.”

Chapter 328 James did not intend to explain anything.

There was nothing to explain,

Seeing that James was not explaining, the Hills were more convinced the King of Ginseng was fake.

The Hills’ members besieged Thea, and all kinds of nasty words were thrown at her.

Gladys was ashamed.

They could have gifted anything. Why did they have to present something fake? From her perspective, Thea definitely brought a counterfeit product because of James. She stood up and scolded, “What is your problem, James? Why did you make thea bring a counterfeit product?” Gladys swung her arm at James.

James instinctively dodged it and explained, “Mom, that’s nonsense. Even if the others don’t believe Thea, how can you not trust her?”

“Mom, stop it.” Thea promptly pulled Gladys away. Cyrus stepped forward. “Grandma, elders. This probably isn’t fake.” Last night, he had witnessed the head of the Xenoses kneeling to Thea. How could such an influential person present a counterfeit product? The youngsters that were present at the scene last night all began to speak up for Thea “You youngsters don’t understand anything. Why are you interrupting?” An elder reprimanded them, and they immediately stopped talking “Thea.”

Cyrus’ father, also Jedidiah’s youngest son, Rigoberto, stepped forward. He glanced at the ginseng placed on the table and said, “I’ve seen countless valuable medicinal materials. It’s obvious at first glance that this ginseng is not real. It’s synthetic. Where did you get this ginseng from, Thea? Have you been deceived?”

Since Rigoberto had spoken, everyone was sure that it was fake.

The old lady pushed the King of Ginseng from the table to the ground and scolded her with a displeased expression, "Thea, take your fake ginseng and get out of here. Also...Gladys, you better parent your daughter properly. Don't keep embarrassing yourselves."

"Yes, Morn."

Gladys did not dare to rebuke her. "Why are you still standing here? Haven't you been embarrassed enough? Hurry and go," Gladys glared at James and scolded him.

"Who said it's fake?"

Just then, a voice sounded.

Chapter 329

The crowd turned toward the voice.

A tall, slender woman in a white dress walked over.

“Who?”

Everyone was stunned.

Who was this woman?

Jedidiah, the head of the Hills, stood up and greeted her. “Young lady, who might you be?” he asked. The woman that appeared was Christine. She glanced at the King of Ginseng that was shoved to the floor, walked over, and picked it up. “I’m Christine, the granddaughter of Jay Fallon from Cansington, and also the person in charge of Herbal Biotech. This is indeed the King of Ginseng from Herbal Biotech. I’m the one who gave it to Ms. Thea. Are you all accusing this king of Ginseng that costs a hundred and fifty million dollars to be fake?”

She glanced at the crowd.

Dozens of people were present at the scene.

However, it was dead silent. Why would the person in charge of Herbal Biotech suddenly appear in the Hills’ villa? James was also slightly surprised to see Christine arrive so soon after he had just made the phone call.

She came incredibly fast.

The old lady was thrilled and could not stop smiling. Lastly, Christine took out a card and handed it over. “This is a Herbal Biotech VIP card. With this card, you won’t have to make an appointment to see my grandfather. My grandfather has only given out a dozen or so cards to others.

All the Hills’ members were excited to hear this.

A Herbal Biotech VIP card was an incredibly generous gift!

Christine smiled at Thea, exchanged a few words, and left.

There was no need for her to stay any longer after delivering the gifts.

After she left, the Hills were still surprised by Christine’s gifts.

“Wow, it’s so lively here.”

A strange voice sounded in the courtyard less than ten minutes after Christine left.

Everyone turned to the sound and saw an older man dressed in a suit outside the Hills’ villa with hundreds of people,

Chapter 330 The person who appeared was Bjorn.

James had ignored him and competed for the thousand-year-old King of Ginseng at the auction.

The thousand-year-old King of Ginseng was crucial for the medical conference in Cansington. He needed this thousand-year-old King of Ginseng to defeat Jay and win the title of genius doctor.

He reached out to a prominent family in North Cansington, the Yoders.

The Yoders’ status in North Cansington was only second to the Xenoses and was considered a big household.

Bjorn had once won the genius doctor title and was the savior of the head of the Yoders.

A day ago, he spoke about the incident of the King of Ginseng that had happened.

The Yoders immediately expressed their support to Bjorn to get back the King of Ginseng.

Cooper, the eldest son of the head of the Yoders, personally accompanied Bjorn to the Hills' villa. With them was a gangster boss that Biorn found from the underworld.

His name was Kannon Stone.

However, when she came near to them, she was immediately blocked by the accompanying bodyguards.

Bjorn's face darkened, and he mocked, "Celebrate your birthday? Old hag, you think too highly of yourself. I'm here today to resolve a conflict."

"Huh?"

The old lady's face froze. "Conflict? What conflict? What kind of conflict does the Hills have with you?"

Jedidiah could not help but ask

Rigoberto stepped forward and said with a smile, "Dr. Truman, Mr. Yoder, Mr. Stone. Nice to meet you three today. My name is Rigoberto. I'm the..."

Before he could finish speaking, an accompanying bodyguard kicked him away. The bodyguard's leg landed directly on Rigoberto, and he fell to the ground. At this moment, the Hills realized that these guests were not here to celebrate any birthdays but to cause trouble. They were all confused as to how anyone from the Hills had offended these bigwigs. Bjorn pointed at James and said indifferently, "Brat, come here and kneel. Admit your mistake immediately." Everyone turned their gazes toward James.

Now, everyone understood.

It was the ignorant James who had offended these bigwigs.

James approached them step-by-step under the crowd's gaze. With a nonchalant expression, he said, "It's you? Why are you here? I advise you better leave as soon as possible. Otherwise, you'll regret not being able to leave later."
