Chapter 331 Before Bjorn and the others could say anything else, Gladys walked over to James while scolding him.

“You trash! What did you do? How did you offend these bigwigs?”

As she spoke, she raised her hand and swung it at James.

James instinctively dodged her hand,

Thea came over, pulled Gladys aside, and explained, “Mom, it’s not James’ fault. Bjorn wanted the King of Ginseng, but Christine gave it to me instead. I didn’t expect Bjorn to be such a bad tempered man.

“Haha!” Bjorn burst out laughing after hearing this. “So what if I’m a bad-tempered man? I’ll let this incident go after I break this brat’s legs, you hand over the king of Ginseng, and you stay with me for three months. Otherwise...”

Only Clinton stood up for the family with a displeased expression, “What are you guys trying to do? I’m the captain of a specialized police unit. Leave the Hills’ villa immediately, or else I’ll call the police!” Clinton was righteous since he was a captain and police officer. His mother immediately stepped forward, seeing her son

“Haha!”

Bjorn laughed while watching the scene. He had thoroughly investigated the Hills’ background and sought the Yoders and Kannon’s help to ensure nothing unexpected would happen. With these two people backing him up, the Hills would surely not dare to stand up for James. They would have to suffer the Yoders suppressing them if they dared to speak up for him. The captain of a specialized police unit was nothing. His career would be over if the Yoders pulled a few strings behind the scene.

“Thea, James. This is your problem, so solve it yourselves. Don’t drag our family down with you.”

“Mr. Truman, this has nothing to do with the Hills.” The elders of the Hills began to clear their relationship with the couple. The Callahans were highly solemn. Only James maintained a calm expression. “Woah, it’s so lively here!”

Suddenly, another voice sounded from outside the Hills’ villa

Chapter 332 Everyone’s attention turned toward the voice, and another group of people approached from the distance.

The leader was a middle-aged man dressed in a suit and looked like a very successful person.

This person was Bryson. Behind him was a long-haired man dressed in a black singlet and a dragon tattooed on his body. This man was Dylan Nell.

Another 20 subordinates followed behind him.

These men carried stretchers.

Many people were lying on these stretchers. They were bruised and groaning in pain

“Who are these people?”

The Hills were puzzled.

“Who are you guys?” “Where’s James?” Dylan ignored Jedidiah and demanded James. Everyone’s familiar to her, but she could

“What a coincidence, Bryson. Why are you here?” Kannon walked over immediately and greeted Bryson with a smile. Bryson glanced at the person greeting him and recognized Kannon. Both of them were from North Cansington’s underworld and naturally had met with each other before. “Isn’t this Mr. Stone? What brings you to the Hüls’ villa?” Kannon said with a smile, “There is a fool here that offended Mr. Truman. I’m here with some men to seek justice

The old lady stood up instantly, looked at the bigwigs, and hurriedly explained, “This has nothing to do with the Hills, James isn’t from the Hills.” “Is that so? James is the Callahans’ son-in law. Your daughter, Gladys, is Benjamin Callahan’s wife. Are you claiming that he has nothing to do with the Hills?” “O-Of course not.” The old lady was terrified. These were extremely vicious figures of the underworld. “I’ll expel Gladys from the family right now! From now on, Gladys has nothing to do with the Hills,” she hurriedly announced.

Gladys’ face darkened, and she immediately scolded, “You useless trash! What have you done. James? How did you manage to offend so many bigwigs in just one day in North Cansington?”

Thea was also confused.

She knew about the incident with Bjorn. However, what was the reason these other people were here?

She looked at James.

Chapter 333 James was nonchalant and did not seem afraid of these unexpected visitors.

Bjorn and Bryson glared at James,

Bjorn shouted, “Brat, get down now and let me break your legs. Your wife will come with me, and this will be over.”

Bryson pointed to his subordinates lying on the stretchers with broken legs and said indifferently. “How can I just let this go? You beat my men and have to pay me two billion dollars to resolve this matter. Since the Callahans don’t have money, the Hills will pay for it. If you don’t pay up, hmph. don’t blame me for the consequences.”

The Hills went silent.

These bigwigs were all after James, so they remained silent.

Jedidiah could not allow such suppression.

Jedidiah wore a furious expression Suddenly, Clinton received a call. After hearing the news from the phone call, he instantly fell to the ground. "It's over. I'm done for."

The Hills' member looked at Clinton "What's wrong, Clinton? Jedidiah was puzzled by his actions and asked, "Grandpa! Grandpa...1- I've been dismissed," Clinton was downcast as he replied weakly At the same time, many family members received notices following each other, saying they were suspended from work

The Hills were in complete panic.

"Haha.."

Dylan got up from the ground and laughed out loud.

"The Hills will cease to exist in North Cansington if we're not given a satisfactory answer."

Hearing this, the Hills panicked. "You trash! What have you done, James?" "You're bad luck, Thea!" "I already told you guys that Thea is jinxed! You guys didn't believe me!" "Look at how much trouble your daughter and son-in-law have brought to the Hills, Gladys!” The Hills members began to point fingers at Gladys. If one’s eyes could kill, then Benjamin, Thea, and James would have died countless times.

Chapter 334 In just a few moments, all the employed Hill family members were suspended from work. The Hills members panicked.

They shouted and scolded the Callahans with offensive words.

Thea also wore a serious expression. How could so many things happen at a birthday party?

She kept thinking of a solution.

The idea of calling the mysterious Mr. Caden popped into her mind, but she did not have his contact number.

“Drag that brat to me,” said Bjorn.

The Hills members quickly backed away in fear.

Benjamin and David also hid far away.

Gladys pulled Thea away.

A dozen men dressed in black stepped forward and surrounded James.

James glanced at the guests that appeared at the Hills’ villa and said calmly. “It’s not too late for you to leave now. Otherwise, you won’t be able to leave as you please later. Don’t you know the mysterious Mr. Caden who has a great influence in Cansington? He is an existence that is feared by many.”

Cooper could not endure the pressure and fell to his knees.

“G-General Nolan, this has nothing to do with me. Bjorn forced me to come here with him. It’s none of my business.”

Bjorn was dumbfounded.

This was the heir of the Yoders. He had a pivotal role in North Cansington. How could he fall to his knees so easily?

It was because the man before them was General Nolan. Who was General Nolan?

James hurriedly stepped forward and said, “General, he’s the one who threatened the Hills, saying that he’ll make the Hills bankrupt in minutes.”

“Very good.”

Chase’s expression darkened, and he immediately took out his phone. He dialed a series of numbers and ordered, “Notify the relevant departments to investigate the Yoders thoroughly. Check if there are any problems that need to be rectified or their operations to be stopped.” Cooper sweated profusely from fear. The Yoders had a net worth of tens of billions, but to obtain their success, they had used some more or less unclean methods in their business.

The Yoders would be over if the authorities thoroughly investigated them.

He knelt on the ground and bowed his head.

“General, it’s none of my business. This had nothing to do with the Yoders. It’s all that old man Bjorn’s idea.”

Chapter 335

However, no matter how Cooper knelt and bowed, Chase remained indifferent.

He glanced at Kannon.

“General, this man seems to be running some kind of security company. He said that there are more than thirty thousand employees in his company, and they will constantly harass the Hills family until they don’t dare even to leave their houses,” said James. “Oh?”

Chase’s expression darkened, and he said, “I never expected a security company like this to still exist in North Cansington. How dare you do as you please? It seems this company isn’t clean. I’ll have to look into it.” Hearing this, Kannon’s face went pale, and his legs went rubbery. Immediately, he fell to the ground on his knees with a thump.

“General, it’s none of my business...”

Chase instructed the man beside him, “Call the relevant departments and arrest all these people causing trouble at the Hills’ villa.”

“Understood.”

The Hills were utterly stunned to watch the scene unfold.

members.” Then, he pointed at Cyrus and said, “Come here quickly and greet the general.” Cyrus was still in shock. It was impossible for him not to recognize General Nolan since he was a specialized police unit captain. However, this was someone he had only seen on television in the past, He never expected that the greatest authority of the North Cansington Military Region would come to the Hills’ villa in person. He recollected himself after hearing James call out for him. He walked over quickly, straightened up, and saluted as he greeted loudly, “General Nolan, I’m Cyrus Hills, captain of the east district special police unit of North Cansington.” 1 “Stop putting feathers in your cap. You’ve just been dismissed from your position.” “That...” Cyrus looked

The uninvited guests who came looking for trouble continued kneeling on the ground and did not even dare to breathe.

At this moment, David's spirits were up again, and he started to boast to the other youngsters in the family

"See, that's my sister! She's really influential!"

Everyone looked at Thea in awe.

James simply sat aside, smoking a cigarette.

Meanwhile, Xara glanced at James occasionally.

Everyone thought Chase was here to curry favor with Thea, but who would have thought that he was here because of James?

Chapter 336 Chase did not leave immediately. Instead, he stayed at the Hills' villa for a while and chatted with Jedidiah about some everyday stuff.

Meanwhile, the youngsters of the Hills surrounded Thea and constantly ingratiated themselves.

BRUAH

Half an hour later, hundreds of military vehicles appeared outside the Hills' villa. Some fully armed soldiers entered the courtyard. The leading officer approached, straightened up, and saluted.

"General Nolan."

His voice was loud and clear. Chase waved his hand and pointed at the hundreds of people kneeling on the ground. "Detain them, investigate them, and punish them severely for their crimes," he instructed.

"Understood."

"Take them away." The fully armed soldiers stepped forward and took away everyone kneeling on the ground. After the people were taken away, Chase instructed his subordinate to present the prepared

Out of the entire Hill family, not many stood up to speak for them. Jedidiah and Cyrus were the only two exceptions, Although Cyrus' mother pulled him back, he did not shy away from those bigwigs. James returned to the courtyard, Thea immediately came to him and asked, "What did General Nolan want from you?" "It's nothing. He simply wanted to know your relationship with the Blithe King," said James. "Huh? The Blithe King?"

Thea was taken aback

"General Nolan said that he came because the Blithe King called to inform him to be here. He wanted to ask me what your relationship with the Blithe king was," James whispered.

Thea's face gradually became serious.

"The Blithe king? 'What does the Blithe King have anything to do with me?"

'Could it be that the mysterious Mr. Caden has a good relationship with the Blithe King? Thea was utterly puzzled.

Chapter 337

"Darling, it seems the mysterious Mr. Caden has a really powerful background. He even managed to persuade the five-star commander, the Blithe King. Only five people in the world can persuade him the other four of the Five Commanders and the person from the Royal Dynasty in the Capital." ,

"I-I've no idea." Thea looked puzzled.

James smiled lightly.

Thea must have guessed the mysterious Mr. Caden's identity after he had said so much. "Why are you still over here, Thea? Come sit with us..." An elder of the Hills came and dragged Thea to a table to sit down in the courtyard. 1

A bunch of the Hill members surrounded her.

They asked about Thea's relationship with General Nolan,

At this moment, Gladys enjoyed the most remarkable and proudest moment ever of the Hills in the past few decades.

David also gathered with the youngsters of the Hills and bragged about the mysterious Mr. Caden.

James walked out of the courtyard and sat at the door threshold outside. He lit a cigarette and smoked while blankly staring into the distance.

Time passed quickly, and soon it was noon-the time for the birthday banquet.

Chapter 338 The birthday banquet became Thea's personal show. Even the old lady of the house kept praising Thea. "Huh?!"

While the family was enjoying their meals, Clinton answered a phone call, abruptly stood up, and exclaimed.

His shouts attracted attention.

However, she was also interested in the identity of Mr. Caden and wanted to know more about him. She could not help asking, "What is the name of the General Black Dragon of the Southern Plains? What's his given name?"

James hesitated slightly but eventually replied, "The general's name is also James Caden. We both have the same name and surname. This is the reason the general has taken good care of me."

"James Caden? Is it really James Caden?" Thea exclaimed.

"Yeah.

"What's wrong? Is something wrong with that?" James asked as he glanced at the surprised Thea. Thea took a deep breath and forced herself to calm down. "It's nothing." Ten years ago, the person she saved ten years ago was Quincy's boyfriend, James? 'I fell in love with my best friend's boyfriend?' thought Thea. Thinking of this, she shook her head and put away the jumbled thoughts in her mind. She suddenly remembered something and glanced at James. "Honey, you..." "Yeah? What's wrong?" "No, it's nothing." Thea gently shook her head.

Chapter 339

Thea wanted to ask whether he was the Black Dragon

However, she had encountered the mysterious Mr. Caden before. Although she could not see his face because of the mask, she could sense that the mysterious Mr. Caden had an extraordinary temperament, different from James.

Her husband could never be the mysterious Mr. Caden, the Black Dragon, nor the person secretly helping her behind the scenes. Although Thea did not say anything, James knew that Thea had suspicions about him. He chose not to say anything either.

Soon, it was evening. Clinton had returned.

The family members surrounded Clinton, asking him about his trip to the military region.

He wore a proud expression as he boasted, "My current status is exceptional. Not only am I in the special forces' combat training, but I've also been selected as a close associate of General Nolan. My position is only under one person, and I stand above more than ten thousand people!"

James hung up the phone, touched his nose, and muttered, "The Military God, the soldiers' inspiration..."

Others only knew his achievements and treated him as a legend, but none of them understood how much he went through in the past ten years.

Chapter 340

James hung up the phone and smoked a cigarette outside before returning to the house.

The Hills were still debating who would be attending the review.

Just then, Clinton's phone rang.

He answered the phone. "A-Alright, General Nolan. I understand." He hung up The Hills' eyes were fixated on him. "Clinton, did General Nolan call again?" asked Jedidiah.

"Yeah."

Clinton took a deep breath and said, "Grandpa, I have some good news. Tomorrow, the Black Dragon of the Southern Plains will be at the military region and give a lecture to those selected for the special training" He jumped excitedly after announcing the news. "The Black Dragon! I'm finally going to see the Military God!" The Hills members were stunned

The Black Dragon? The Black Dragon was coming to North Cansington? Thea was also slightly taken aback and thought to herself, 'Is the mysterious Mr. Caden also in North Cansington?'

Clinton calmed down, sat down, and continued, "However, General Chase called to inform me that family attendance has been canceled, and I won't be able to bring family members this time."

Hearing this, the Hills' youngsters were disappointed. However, they were still excited and surrounded Clinton knowing that he could meet the military god, the guardian of Sol, tomorrow

There were hundreds of soldiers gathered here.

They stood straight and upright.

These people were elites selected throughout the country as the special forces instructors, There were also plenty of soldiers surrounding the place, ranked from mere soldiers to generals.

More than 100,000 people gathered in the military region.

These people waited patiently for the arrival of one person.
