SORRY FOR THE MISSING CHAPTERS

Chapter 603 James asked, "What's going on?" Ronn explained, "Sir, Jake set up the underground intelligence network. It's complicated as it involves many different industries. The underbelly of Cansington knows that they can exchange information with money from Jake, hence the authorities have been onto him since a long time ago.

"Not only is the setup illegal, but the network has also been involved in many illegal deals.

"The authorities want to get rid of the network once and for all, so they've arranged for spies to blend in over the years. Now, I don't even know who the spies are, so I've captured all of Jake's remaining men to interrogate individually."

Ronn gave James a summary.

As he spoke, he pointed to a man who was tied up. The man was in his forties. Currently, he was being strung up. He was heavily injured with multiple wounds on his body, some of which were dripping blood.

He looked like he was an inch from death.

"One of our men discovered that he had leaked messages secretly to a police officer at the provincial police department." James walked up to him and released him. The man lay on the floor and glared at James. Coldly, he said, "Kill me if you want to. I'm not saying anything."

James turned to look at Ronn, barking, "Why are you still standing there? Release them!"

"Sir, what?" Ronn was stunned. James' expression darkened. "Did you forget who you are? Did you think you're part of a gang now?"

Ronn followed him. In a room in the underground basement. Ronn stood to the side, asking, "Sir, what are you doing? What we're doing now is illegal. Are we going to wait till the police arrive and let them arrest us?"

James glanced at Ronn. "Even if they are spies, we don't have to torture them. Don't forget that you're a soldier. We're countrymen. There's no need to torture a fellow countryman. As for the authorities, I'll give the Blithe King a call and get him to cover this up. Once everything in Cansington has cleared, I'll disband the network"

"Yes, sir."

James lit a cigarette and said, "However, we must still figure out who the spies are. Find out who they are and release them, but don't give them any more trouble. It's their job." "But sir, Jake's men have been with him for years. It won't be easy to suss out the spies." "Then let all of them go," James said casually.

"Smart, sir."

"Save it. I'm going to sleep. Keep your voice down." James got up and left. Ronn took care of matters immediately. He expelled all of Jake's remaining men.

The underground intelligence network was now fully staffed by James' Black Dragon army from the Southern Plains. He had gained total control. Jake heard about it in no time.

There was nothing he could do about it. His underground intelligence network that he had spent years building was now James'. From the day James took over, he had expected it, but he did not expect it to be so soon

Chapter 608 "The actor brought his A-game. The invitation card looks lavish." The invitation card was golden and shiny, looking like it had been plated in gold.

Megan picked it up. It felt heavy in her hand, As someone who came from wealth, she recognized quality. As soon as she picked the card up, she knew that the border was lined with real gold, "It's real?" She said in surprise. "It's real gold?" On the other hand, Gladys had taken her phone out.

She searched for Zane on the Internet.

Her search yielded plenty of results.

There was the Mining King, the richest man in the north... There were plenty of pictures as well.

"Ah..."

When she saw Zane's pictures, she yelled in surprise. "It's him! It's him! That was Zane Dawn, the richest man in the north! His daughter is Cynthia Dawn."

Thea was curious. She peeked.

"All of you only care about the money. I've made myself clear and I'm not taking my words back. Call him yourself if you want to."

Thea was angry. Was she just a tool to accumulate wealth and nothing more?

After James left the Callahans, he went to Transgenerational Group. At Transgenerational Tower, on the top floor, the chairman's office. James was smoking moodily. Wearing a professional suit, Quincy walked in and sat on the couch, crossing her legs. "What's going on? Why the long face?"

James glanced at Quincy.

"I took your advice and bought ninety-nine roses. Thea didn't even want them, and I was chased out of the house. Come up with something else." "I'm busy and don't have time for all this. How about I hire a few love experts and let them do the job for you?" "There are love experts?" James was stunned. Quincy smiled. "Of course."

"What are you waiting for then? Hurry up!" "Yes, sir. I'm on it." Quincy stood up and turned to leave. After she left the chairman's office, she made a call. "Have all the best love experts and analysts in the nation gather at Transgenerational within an hour." She shook her head helplessly after she hung up.

Chapter 609 James had relationship issues.

He had never really been in a relationship before. How was he to know what to do?

Quincy had a job and no time to waste with him.

She hired some love analysts for him instead. –

James waited in his office.

At the same time, Thea went to the Callahans' villa.

The whole family was there.

The three generations of the family were gathered.

Lex sat on the couch, puffing on his tobacco pipe. Looking at his family, he said, "Zane Dawn from the north has sent out some invitations for his daughter's birthday party. Have you heard of him? He represents true power. The families of the Five Provinces Business Alliance can't even begin to compare.

"What?"

Everyone was shocked.

“Half?”

“How much is half worth?” “At least five hundred billion dollars.”

“We’re rich. We’re rich!”

The Callahans were shocked. Then, they turned excited. Lex was overjoyed. He looked at Thea, asking, “Thea, where’s James?” “I don’t know.” Thea looked sullen.

Her family kept changing their tune. First, they encouraged her to go after the Black Dragon. Now, they wanted her to mend her relationship with James. Did they really see her as a tool for accumulating wealth and nothing more?

Getting half of the Dawns’ assets would be mightily impressive.

If all they said was true, the Callahans would rise and truly be an influential family. They might even be more powerful than the families of the Five Provinces Business Alliance. Lex asked, “Gladys, Thea, is this true? Did Zane say that he would give James half his assets?”

Before either one of them could say anything, Megan interrupted. “Grandfather, it’s true. I was there too. Zane said it himself, and he was very respectful toward James. At first, I even thought that James had hired an actor just to impress Thea.” Puffing on his pipe, Lex nodded. “If it’s true, we can’t lose James.”

Chapter 610

Lex looked at Thea and said, “Thea, don’t divorce James yet. Mend your relationship now. Wait till Zane transfers his assets to James. Once he gets the money, we’ll find a way to get our hands on it, and then we’ll get rid of him.” “Sounds like a plan!” Gladys smiled. “Dad, great minds think alike indeed. James is still useful now. We have to get the five hundred billion before Thea divorces him. Why would he deserve the five hundred billion anyway?”

“That’s right, Thea. We’re all depending on you now.”

“Thea, why don’t you call James now?” “Just pretend to be with him for now.” “Why pretend? James is part of our family anyway.”

Everyone in the family gave their opinions.

Thea had had enough.

“Even if I mend my relationship with James and he gets half of Zane’s assets, it’s all mine. It has nothing to do with you at all.”

Thea’s tone was icy.

She did not have the courage to call him. Instead, she went home and lay in bed. At the same time, Transgenerational Group.

There were more than twenty people in the office.

"Hello, sir, my name is Red Lady. I'm a love analyst from the TV station, and I can read women like a book."

"Sir, my name is Jonas Wall. People know me as 'The Lady Killer'. Over the past three years, I have helped more than three hundred single men get together with the girls of their dreams. I'm best at coming up with romantic surprises."

"Sir, I'm best at makeovers. I can transform a nobody into..."

As he said that, he seemed to realize that he might have slipped up. Quickly, he followed up with, "Of course, not that you need a transformation, sir, but with my guidance, you'll shine even more. No woman would be able to resist you." All the love experts and analysts Quincy had hired were busy introducing themselves. James sat on the couch, eyeing all of them. "All of you can stay. Help me save my marriage and you'll reap the benefits."

Everyone was overjoyed hearing that. "Thank you, sir."
