Chapter 631

Thea gently shook her head. She never thought about it. "What do you mean by shaking your head? Tell me," Gladys said anxiously. "Ten billion is a lot of money. You won't be able to finish it even if you spend lavishly. How about you give me a bit first for safekeeping?" Gladys tried to cheat Thea of the money.

She wanted to keep it in her pocket to be safe.

"Mom, what about James?"

Thea's mind was a mess, and she was unsure of what to do.

Cansington, a bar.

It was afternoon.

Bars in the afternoon were relatively deserted. Apart from the staff, there were only a few customers.

Chapter 633 Before returning to Cansington, James had told himself that he would never go against Thea's wishes. He would agree to anything Thea wanted. Now that she wanted a divorce, he was not going to refuse. James knew he had done everything he could and had completely repaid her for saving his life. The two went to the Civil Affairs Department together. The divorce procedures were completed. Thea glanced at James and said, "We should part on good terms. I hope you find a woman that understands you and likes you for who you are in the future. As for the ten billion dollars you gave me, I will transfer a few hundred million to you later so that you don't have to worry about money for the rest of your life.

James waved his hand and interrupted Thea.

"No need. I gave it to you, so it's yours. I already told you I don't care about money. Some things can't be bought with money."

After speaking, James turned around and left. Thea stood there and watched James leave.

She finally got a divorce. She felt a sense of relief at that moment. At the same time, she felt like she had lost something important and felt a little empty in her heart.

However, she did not think much about it since losing a toy she had bought and kept for a while would probably give her the same sense of loss.

She turned in the opposite direction and left.

James left, but tears rolled down his face.

He had been in the army, constantly fighting on the battlefield for ten years. He shed blood but not once did he shed a tear.

After a brief hesitation, he replied, "Let her come in."

"Alright."

Thea had changed her outfit.

The dress she was wearing was very different than the one when they were getting a divorce. It was a sexy and revealing dress. "Mr. Caden..." She walked to James and smiled brightly.

"I hope you're not angry about my sudden visit."

James glanced at her and was stunned. After a few seconds, he returned to his senses and pointed to the sofa nearby. "Have a seat.

Chapter 634 James walked over and sat down on the sofa. "Serena, serve some tea." "Understood."

Serena hurried off to make tea.

After Thea sat down, she glanced at James and stroked her hair. "Mr. Caden, I've got a divorce."

"Hmm?"

James glanced at her.

He was curious about what she was trying to do.

Seeing that James did not reply to her, Thea continued. "I'm single now. Although I married another man before, I'm still a virgin. I've never slept with that other James before."

"Ms. Callahan, I have a girlfriend. She's your best friend, Quincy. By telling me all these, are you asking me to betray Quincy?" James smiled playfully.

Thea put on a serious face. "I know, but you're not married yet, so I still have a chance. It's my freedom to like you and my right to pursue my happiness. As for whether you like me or not, that's up to you. I don't want to regret it in the future, so even if your girlfriend is Quincy, I'm going to take my chances." "Ha." James laughed lightly. "I'll treat this as a joke. You should leave. I'm a loyal man. Since I've decided on a woman, I won't have second thoughts. No matter what, I'm not going to betray her." James smiled brightly, but his heart was in pain. "But, you promised me that you would marry me if I got a divorce!" Thea panicked. She stood up and said anxiously, "Now that I'm divorced, you're telling me you're a loyal man? If so, why did you tempt me in the first place?!" "I wanted to repay you for saving my life. I've constantly been helping you and have completely paid off what I owed you in the past. Thus, I don't owe you anything anymore," James said indifferently.

Newton walked in and greeted respectfully, "Mr. Caden."

James instructed, "Sell off all the properties of Majestic Corporation and completely shut down the company. From now on, there is no Majestic Corporation in Cansington."

"What?"

Newton was taken aback

"Mr. Caden, Majestic Corporation's current market value is thirty billion. We would only be able to recover two billion at most in cash if we sell it off and shut it down. How about selling the company's shares? Even if we sell it at a low price, we can get at least twenty billion dollars."

James glanced at Newton and repeated, "Didn't you hear what I just said? I said sell it and shut it down."

"Understood."

Newton did not dare to disobey.

Chapter 635 "Latest news! "This afternoon, reporters have spotted the Cansington's new genius doctor, Thea, at the Civil Affairs Department with the live-in son-in-law of the Callahans. It is suspected that they have gone through a divorce.

“Rumors on the internet are that Thea is dating the Black Dragon, so she divorced her useless husband. No matter what the truth is, let’s bless Thea and the Black Dragon. We hope that Thea treats our hero, the Black Dragon well.” The news of James and Thea’s divorce had spread throughout Cansington. Soon, another shocking news made the headlines.

“Latest news is that Majestic Corporation has sold all its properties under market value and announced its dissolution.

“As we all know, the behind-the-scenes boss of Majestic Corporation is the Black Dragon, James. Why would James sell off the company’s properties and choose to announce his company’s dissolution at such a time?”

The news of Majestic Corporation’s dissolution spread rapidly throughout Cansington in a short period.

It attracted the public’s attention because of the special status of the Majestic Corporation’s owner.

At this moment, James returned to the House of Royals by himself.

He returned to the place where he spent ten days with Thea. Treating Thea in this place was the ten happiest days of his life. James sat on the sofa and stared blankly at the palace-like House of Royals.

Suddenly, his phone rang.

Zane also saw the news. He was slightly shocked after learning about these things.

Cynthia frowned and muttered, "What's the matter? Everything was fine at noon. How did so many things happen in one afternoon?" "Cynthia, aren't you interested in James?" asked Zane. Cynthia nodded and replied, "He's the Black Dragon, the Military God of Sol. Which woman isn't interested in him?"

The Black Dragon was Sol's Guardian and was every woman's idol.

Cynthia was no exception.

"Cynthia, it's your chance now since James is divorced. You should seize the opportunity. Haha, I'd be honored to have such a wonderful son-in-law," Zane laughed.

"There are plenty of women into the Black Dragon. How would I stand a chance?" Cynthia was very sensible. "Just go ahead and try. Dad won't intervene in your business." Cynthia fell into deep thought. James had a divorce, and this was indeed her chance.

After returning from Cansington, she could not concentrate on anything else.

She could not forget him. Suddenly, she saw the news being broadcasted on television.

"What?!" Tiara exclaimed.

"What's wrong, Tiara?" Zigmund walked out of the study and could not help asking. "Dad, the Black Dragon is divorced."

Tiara shouted excitedly and pointed to the news being broadcasted on the television,

"Look! Thea and James' divorce and the Majestic Corporation's disbandment are being broadcasted on the news right now!"

"Tiara, forget about him. You walk a different path from him."

"Dad! How can I forget him after everything that happened? Dad, give me some money. I want to buy a ticket to Cansington to pursue my happiness," Tiara said with teary eyes.

“Yes.”

The Emperor did not deny it and said, “With him around, I’m unable to move an inch in Sol, and my plans can’t be executed smoothly. I need to get rid of him to carry out my plans confidently and be in complete control. You can rest assured that when I establish a new country with new rules, you will be a veteran of a new era!” “Alright.”

Pablo could not reject him either. His position today was given by the Emperor. Without the Emperor, he was nothing and could never have climbed to his current position.

The Emperor left. In one night, he traveled to twenty-eight counties and found the twenty-eight county’s highest authorities.

He persuaded the twenty-eight counties with coercion and inducement to deploy troops three days later. The twenty-eight countries hurriedly gathered troops.

Each country dispatched an army of 100,000 troops, and an estimated 3 million troops were assembled. After three days, they would head to Mount Thunder Pass and launch a coordinated attack on Southern Plains City.

Chapter 637 Many things were happening outside, but James was completely unaware. He simply did not bother paying attention to them. He slept well in the House of Royals. When he woke up, it was already noon the next day.

It had not slept so much for a long time.

Moreover, he woke up because of hunger. He would have slept longer if not for being woken up from hunger. He got dressed and went out without even shaving his beard.

As soon as he walked out of the House of Royals, he saw someone waiting outside the door.

It was a tall woman with long black hair dressed in a short white dress. “Xara?”

James was slightly taken aback. He walked over and asked, “Why are you here?”

Xara came early in the morning and waited for a long time.

Hearing James' voice, she turned around and said with a smile, "The whole world is talking about your affairs. I knew you would be in the House of Royals." "What's the matter? Do you need something?"

"You and Thea..."

interrupted her. He said indifferently, "We're over. Don't bring it up anymore. Go back to work if you have James did not say much and left after saying a few words. Xara watched James leave and shook her head sympathetically. James left the House of Royals. He went to a random restaurant on the streets and ordered a few dishes.

During the meals, customers in the restaurant all gossiped about him. Although they were not loud, James still overheard some of their conversations. These people gossiped about him and his marriage to Thea. Hearing their conversations, James simply smiled. During the meal, Ronald sent him a message. The message informed him about successfully collecting evidence of Louisa's infidelity and had already sent them to Zion.

[Alright.]

After James replied to the message, he buried himself in the food. Then, he finished the meal, made the payment, and left. As soon as he walked out of the restaurant, he saw a Rolls-Royce parked outside.

In front of the car stood a middle-aged man and a slender woman.

It was Zane and Cynthia. James walked over, glanced at the two, and frowned. "Have you been following me?" Zane replied with a smile, "Of course not. I only had to ask around a bit and easily found your whereabouts."

Cynthia walked over and held James' arm affectionately. Then, she said with a smile, "James, we didn't follow you. You promised to completely cure my disease. That's why I came to you."

Chapter 638 James knew about Cynthia's disease. Strictly speaking, it was not a disease but a special physique.

She had a pure yin body type. She had too much yin energy and insufficient yang energy, resulting in an imbalance of yin and yang in the body.

Cynthia had been taking medicine that supplemented her yang energy to maintain the balance of her body. However, with increasing age, her body's structure started to mature, and the body would release more yin energy. Therefore, when the balance within the body had been completely tipped off, it would be her due date.

Her condition was difficult to treat.

She would have to constantly take medicine to prolong her life.

It was hard for even James to completely cure her.

"Cynthia, your disease is not going to be easy to cure. I'll prescribe a formula for you first. Bring it back home and take medicine accordingly to recuperate your body. It should prolong your life for another ten years. I'll need to study your disease for a while and see if there is a method to completely cure you."

Cynthia pouted.

She did not come to see James for her disease. What was more important was that James was divorced. She was afraid that James would feel disheartened. Thus, she specifically came to accompany him to see if there was a chance for her to capture James' heart.

Then, she held onto James' arms again and leaned her whole body into James, seemingly wanting to completely become one with him. James pushed Cynthia's hands away again.

"There are so many people looking. Don't behave like this. Girls should be more reserved." "There's no need to be reserved in front of you, James," Cynthia said with a smile. "You should go back if you're

James took a deep breath,

'The girls at this age are too bold,

"They act intimately with a man they've only met a few times. Wouldn't they sleep with a man if they Chapter 639 Cansington was an ancient cultural capital with a long history.

It used to be the capital of eight dynasties in the past.

Medical Street was the attraction of Cansington. Additionally, there was also Antique Street. :

Antique Street was also a lively area. There were hundreds of antique shops located on the street. Some were even century-old shops.

James and Cynthia arrived at Antique Street together.

The streets were full of stalls.

There were many antiques and paintings displayed on these stalls. Some customers squatted on the ground and carefully selected goods, hoping to get the best deals.

“James, do you know a lot about antiques?” Cynthia asked as she followed James and observed the streets.

The old man smiled embarrassedly. "It seems this young lady is also an expert and had heard of the news. Since she is an expert, I won't hide it from you either. She is not wrong. Nothing has been unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain. Only a chest was retrieved, which is currently at our shop."

James could not tell which parts of the old man's words were the truth or lies.

He simply came to have a look and never expected to obtain the chest unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain from the shop. "Let me have a look."

Chapter 640 "Young man, this chest isn't an ordinary one. We keep it in a bank safe. I will have to request approval from my boss if you want to see it. However, not everyone is allowed to take a look at it. How about you leave an identity for me so I can talk to my boss about it." Before James spoke, Cynthia interrupted, "I'm from the Dawns of the North. My father is Zane Dawn." "Alright. I'll inform my boss right away. The two of you can continue looking around the shop." Afterward, the old man left.

Cynthia pulled James and said, "Let's look around for a bit, James."

"Alright." James nodded lightly. The old man went to an office on the third floor and gently knocked on the door. "Come in."

A voice sounded from inside the office.

The old man pushed open the door and walked inside the office. He said respectfully, "Boss, there is someone here to ask about the chest unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain."
