Chapter 641 Thea got ten billion dollars from James.

She carefully made plans for the money.

She had been grateful for her family's upbringing, so now that she had money, she did not forget to give her parents 100 million dollars each. However, Benjamin's 100 million was taken by Gladys as soon as he got the money from her.

Thea was speechless after she found out.

Then, she secretly gave Benjamin one million dollars and told her to spend it.

Benjamin was an honest man with no status in the Callahans. Still, it did not stop him from having rich hobbies.

He had always loved antiques and studied them for a long time. Now that he had some money, he came to Antique Street to see if he could pick up some good deals.

Nothing had caught his eye after shopping for the whole day. Walking along Antique Street, he arrived at Sovereign Antique Shop's entrance before he knew

As a local of Cansington and an antique lover, it was impossible for him not to have heard of Sovereign Antique Shop. “Can I take a look at it?”

Benjamin stared at the crystal clear jade plate on the counter. He was really interested in the jade plate “Sure.” Jasmine retrieved the keys, opened the transparent counter, and said, “Have a look but please be careful. This thing is worth a fortune so if it breaks, you will have to compensate it according to its price.” “Yes, I understand.”

Benjamin nodded.

He looked at the jade plate and carefully picked it up. The pattern and the texture of it. He was deeply in love with the jade plate.

He held onto it and inspected it left and right. The more he looked, the more he liked it.

Chapter 642 Unfortunately, it was too expensive for him. Although Thea had given him one million dollars, the jade plate cost more than three million. He carefully placed it back. However, he was incredibly nervous and cautious that he accidentally touched the cabinet and did not have a firm grip on the jade plate, resulting in it falling directly to the ground. Bang! The jade plate shattered into pieces in an instant. “This...”

Benjamin was immediately dumbfounded and stood aside, staring at it blankly.

Seeing this, Jasmine’s face also darkened. She reprimanded him angrily, “Sir, I already reminded you to be careful. You will have to compensate us according to the selling price if you break it.”

“I-I’m sorry. I didn’t mean to drop it.”

Benjamin kept apologizing.

“Is apologizing going to help? It’s worth three million and eight hundred thousand dollars. You should compensate us according to the price. Otherwise, you won’t be able to leave our shop today!” Jasmine threatened him coldly and immediately took out her phone to call the Sovereign Antique Shop’s boss. “Sir, a guest had accidentally broken a jade plate from six hundred AD to nine hundred AD area. After making the call, she stood aside and stared coldly at Benjamin’s pale face. Benjamin was absent-minded, and he was completely lost.

After a beating, Yuri came over, stepped on him, and looked down at him. "We have rules at Sovereign Antique Shop. Since you don't have money to pay after breaking things in our shop, you should use parts of your body to pay for it! This is a rule everyone knows about! Tell me, do you want to keep your hands or legs? This scene attracted the attention of many people passing by. "Who is this person? How could he be so careless and break something in Sovereign Antique Shop?" "Who gave him the courage to go inside without money?" "I remember the last time someone broke an antique in there, he got his legs broken and had to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair."

The onlookers pointed and discussed the commotion.

James stood aside and watched. He did not want to interfere since he had nothing to do with Thea anymore. The life and death of the Callahans was none of his business.

Yet, seeing Benjamin's black and blue face as he constantly begged for mercy, James simply could not bear it.

He walked over and stopped them. "What are you guys doing?" Yuri saw that it was James and immediately stopped. He turned toward James and said with a smile, "He broke an antique and a shop but has no money to pay. According to our rules..." Seeing that the person being beaten was Thea's father, Cynthia also stepped forward and said, "How much is it? I'll pay for it."

Chapter 643 Cynthia walked over and helped Benjamin up from the ground. "Uncle, are you alright?" she asked with concern. Benjamin was beaten until his face was black and blue, with blood flowing from the corner of his mouth. "No, I'm fine," Benjamin shook his head and replied. Yuri smiled. "Since Ms. Dawn is willing to pay for him, everything is resolved." Then, he turned to Benjamin and said, "Get lost."

"James..." Benjamin looked at James and was hesitant to speak.

He wanted to say something but swallowed the words.

James was no longer his son-in-law since he had already divorced Thea.

James glanced at him and turned to Cynthia. "Why are you paying for him? Do you have a lot of money? The Callahans have money and don't need your few million dollars," said James. "James, isn't he your..." Cynthia paused as she suddenly remembered that James had divorced Thea, and she stopped speaking. "Seeing that we used to be a family, I've already helped you. However, I'm not obliged to help you pay for it. You should call Thea and ask her for the money," James said as he glanced at Benjamin.

After speaking, James turned around and left.

Cynthia did not say much and simply followed James into Sovereign Antique Shop again.

Yuri glanced at the muscular men beside him.

She was unsure of the reason for her actions.

However, seeing James with another woman made her uncomfortable.

Perhaps, it was jealousy.

She was jealous that James was getting along with Cynthia and would inherit Zane's wealth and assets.

James was dissatisfied with her behavior. "Thea, did she provoke or offend you?"

“What’s the matter? Are you trying to protect her? I only said a few words, and you’re so eager to speak for her?” Thea sneered,

Chapter 644 “You’re causing trouble without reason. I’m too lazy to bother speaking with you.” James lit a cigarette and ignored Thea. At this moment, Yuri brought Benjamin over to them.

“Thea, your father broke a jade plate from six hundred AD to nine hundred AD worth three million eight hundred thousand dollars. I’ll give you a discount. It’ll only be three million and five hundred thousand dollars for it. Then, you can take your father.”

Thea was furious when she saw Benjamin’s bruised appearance as several muscular men dragged him. She turned around and blamed, “What are you doing, James? Since you’re here, why did you let my dad get beaten?” Thea knew James’ skills. These muscular men were no match for James at all. James was present in Sovereign Antique Shop but allowed her father to get beaten black and blue.

“I’ve already taken action to stop it. He would’ve been hurt even worse if I didn’t stop them,” James said indifferently. “You took action? Would my dad get beaten up to this point if you took action? You’re purposely taking revenge on me, right? You’re trying to take revenge for divorcing you, right?!!”

“Thea, stop it. He really did help me. I would’ve been beaten to death if it wasn’t for him,” Benjamin explained.

Yuri said coldly, “Thea, whatever conflicts you have should be dealt with outside of my shop. Are you going to pay or not?” Thea glanced at Benjamin and asked, “Dad, did you really break an antique in the shop?”

“I—I didn’t do it on purpose,” Benjamin explained.

Thea glared at Yuri and said coldly, “I’ll pay for the thing he broke. However, you hurt my dad, so how will we settle this?”

“Dad, when will you ever change? Do you want to stay so useless for the rest of your life?”

Benjamin whispered, “Thea, don’t tell your mother about this. She’ll definitely scold me again if she finds out.”

“Alright. I know. I won’t tell her about it. Go back yourself. I still have some business to settle.”

Thea left a few words and turned to leave.

Chapter 645 Sovereign Antique Shop, lounge area. James was still playing with Plants Vs. Zombies, but Thea’s appearance kept popping up in his mind.

Maybe Cynthia was right about him. He did not let her pay because and wanted them to get Thea to come so he could see her.

He had a lot of things he wanted to say to Thea, but he could not say a word after seeing her again.

It all felt unnecessary.

His heart felt contradictory and complicated. It was an unprecedented feeling.

Cynthia was also very sensible and did not disturb him.

Time passed by slowly. Ten minutes later, a few muscular men dressed in black suits approached him. One of them was carrying a black safe in his hands. “Sir, we’ve brought it.” Yuri nodded. “Alright.” He glanced at James and said, “Mr. Caden, let’s head up to my office to open it.” James stood up. “This way, please,” Yuri gestured to him upstairs and immediately walked in front to lead the way. Yuri led James and Cynthia to an office on the second floor. Then, he entered a password on the black safe and opened it. Inside the safe was a small chest. It was a bronze and rusty square chest with a diameter of about ten centimeters. "This is the chest that was unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain." Yuri took out the small bronze chest and handed it to James.

James took it. Although the chest was small, it was relatively heavy and probably about 2 kilograms. He then inspected it.

There were mysterious patterns engraved on it that looked like pictographs. Unfortunately, James was unsure of what it meant. At the same time, he noticed a small keyhole in it. Yuri explained, "This small chest is extraordinary. It's made of special materials and is incredibly rigid. It was impossible to open it even if advanced technology and the contents inside are unknown,"

James opened the safe, took out the bronze-colored chest, and pulled out the key that Scarlett had passed to him some time ago.

The key was inserted easily.

At this moment, James became nervous.

'What the heck is in this bronze-colored chest?

'Are the contents related to the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge?

'Would I be able to unravel the secrets hidden in the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge?

thought James.

Chapter 646 James held his breath. Cynthia also watched attentively. She was also curious about the contents in the chest that James was willing to spend 100 million to purchase. At the same time, she was also suspicious of why James had the keys to open the chest.

Under Cynthia's gaze, James gently turned the key.

Click!

A crisp and loud sound resounded.

The bronze-colored chest slightly popped open.

James' eyes were glued on the chest. Inside the chest was a folded scroll. He carefully took it out. The ancient scroll was made of unique material, keeping it well preserved. At the same time, it was relatively heavy. James unfolded it and spread it out on the table. The ancient scroll was enormous, reaching a length of one meter when it was unfolded.

"W-What is this?"

Cynthia glanced at the drawings on the ancient scroll and was puzzled.

"Is this a scroll of meridians and acupuncture points?" she asked.

Cynthia followed closely behind James and asked curiously, "James, why did you suddenly want to come to the Capital? Who are you trying to look for in the Capital?"

"I'm going to see the Five Commanders' leader and the commander of the Red Flame Army, the Emperor," James replied sternly. "What?"

"Why do you need to see him?" Cynthia was startled by his answer and continued to ask.

"Ask him for the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge," James answered truthfully.

Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge was a family heirloom handed down in the Cadens. He firmly believed that the Emperor had the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge.

This time, he vowed to force the Emperor to hand over the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge no matter what.

Chapter 647 Sol's Capital, a courtyard house.

This was the Emperor's Mansion, the residence of the Emperor—the Five Commander's leader and the commander of the Red Flame army.

The Emperor had already returned to the Capital.

In the courtyard, under a gazebo. A middle-aged man dressed in a black suit was speaking to a young man in his twenties. "Brother Caden, I haven't seen you in several years. You were still in high school the last time I saw you. What brings you here today?"

The Emperor smiled and said again, "Despite that, he has a lot of authority right now. The Cadens have never been interested in the affairs of the outside world. However, killing James right now will cause public outrage. I've already received news that James has shown up in Capital. He must have already obtained the chest that was unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain and acquired the content capable of unraveling the secrets of the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge. I'm sure that's why

Chapter 648 The Emperor smiled and said nothing more.

Soon, a man and woman walked toward them. It was James and Cynthia.

The Emperor immediately stood up and opened his arms to hug James. "James, what a rare visitor!" James lifted his foot and kicked the Emperor as he said coldly, "Don't put on an act. You know why I'm here."

The Emperor quickly dodged his kick and took a few steps backward. "What do you mean, James? I've no idea why you've come to see me," the Emperor said with a puzzled expression.

"You're James?"

A voice sounded.

James heard the voice and turned toward the source. A young man in his twenties stood up. He was dressed in a white shirt, looking at him disdainfully. "Who are you?" James frowned. Bobby glanced at James and said calmly, "Bobby Caden." James' brows furrowed deeper. 'Who is this person?' The Emperor smiled and said, "James, let me introduce you. This is Bobby from the Cadens of the Ancient Four. His grandfather is your granduncle. Strictly speaking, he's your cousin." Bobby said coldly, "Thirty years ago, Thomas Caden stole our family treasure and was long expelled from the Cadens. He was a traitor to our family and deserved to die. Since you're his descendent, you should die too!"

"Since you have the treasure chest that was unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain, hand it over to me, and I'll let you die with your whole body intact."

Bobby was arrogant.

James retracted his fists and said indifferently, "Since the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge is with you, hand it over.

Bobby laughed coldly as if he had just heard the funniest joke of his life.

"What are you saying, James? How dare you ask me for the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge? The Cadens are the protectors of the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge painting. You're the descendant of the Cadens' traitor. You're just a remnant of a family that deserved to die. You also deserve to die!"

James' face darkened.

He slowly walked toward Bobby.

The Emperor quickly walked over and stood in front of James.

What are you trying to do, James? Do you know who he is? He is the direct descendant of the Cadens and the future head of the Cadens. You're just a descendant of the Cadens' traitor. It's already disrespectful enough that you didn't kneel to greet the future head of the family." "Get out of the way," James roared. His voice sounded like the rumble of thunder, making the Emperor stunned. The Emperor was only able to regain his senses after a few seconds. In fact, he simply came to put on a show and said a few words:

At this moment, he had grasped the Cadens' strength.

He arranged for several strong assassins to protect Thea in secret. Although he divorced Thea, he never withdrew them from watching her.

He was surprised that Thea was still kidnapped, even with several assassins protecting her.

Suddenly, James' phone rang. He answered the phone calmly. "James, I've got bad news! Something bad just happened! Thea got kidnapped!"

The call was from May.

"The people that caught Thea were powerful. Those who were secretly protecting Thea were all knocked out." "Alright."

James hung up the phone, He glanced at Bobby expressionless and said indifferently, "What do you want?"

"Kneel."

Chapter 650 Bobby said fearlessly, "James, you son of a b*tch, you're a sinner. You better kneel to me right now! Or else, Thea is going to die."

James glared at Bobby. "Never. A man never easily gets on his knees. How could I kneel to ab*stard like you?"

"Thea used to be my wife, but we're already married. You're a fool to use her to threaten me."

"Slash her."

Bobby ordered through the phone. Cansington, a construction site.

Thea was tied to a chair. The place was heavily guarded by men dressed in black. One of them held a sharp dagger against Thea's face. When he received the order, he immediately slashed the dagger across her face. A bloody wound instantly appeared on Thea's left cheek as the knife swiped across her face. Blood began to drip down her cheek, staining her white dress red. She felt severe pain in her face but could only whimper since her mouth was covered.

Thea struggled to free herself but was to no avail.

Bobby held the phone and shook it in front of James as he said with a smile, "Since I can't threaten you with her, then I'll just kill her. It's a pity for such a beautiful woman to die." James glanced at him indifferently. "What the hell do you want?"

"I want you to kneel," Bobby laughed. "You can kill her. However, I assure you that I'll kill you too."

The four sat down together, but no one spoke, making the atmosphere tense. The Emperor said smilingly, "James, I don't know about the Cadens' affairs back then, but I've heard a few rumors here and there. It was indeed your grandfather that betrayed the family. He stole the Moonlit Flowers on Cliffside's Edge and escaped from the Capital. The Ancient Four had rules stipulated ever since the generation that served the Prince of Orchid Mountain. Anyone that violated the rules was to die." James knew very little of the Ancient Four,

"What does the Ancient Four have to do with the Prince of Orchid Mountain, and how are the things unearthed from the ancient tomb of the Prince of Orchid Mountain have to do with the paintings handed down in the Cadens for a thousand years?"

"About that..." The Emperor was taken aback by his questions. Then, he explained, "I actually don't know much about this stuff. I only heard a little from the elders in my family. The Ancient Four used to be officials that served the Prince of Orchid Mountain a thousand years ago."
