Chapter 3533

Bang, bang, bang!

A fighter peeked outside the car window and shot at the Toyota Prado in front without hesitation.

Harvey's gaze turned cold when he heard the gunshots behind him. He intentionally slowed down the car.

The moment the leading G-Wagon charged forward, Harvey furiously turned the steering wheel and stepped on the brake.

His car drifted right into the G-Wagon, slamming right into it.

The G-Wagon let out a horrible sound as it spun in place.

Using the momentum of the car, Harvey steered the wheel right into the second G- Wagon.

The driver of the G-Wagon instinctively steered away out of fear, but it was still rammed to the side of the road.

Vincent, who was a little behind, revealed a horrible look on his face when he saw such driving skills.

He knew that Jeff's enemies were all extraordinary, but he didn't think that Harvey would be this insane.

"You think we're easy to deal with, you b*stard?!"

Seeing Harvey's arrogant attitude, a fighter in the third G-Wagon opened up the sunroof and pulled the trigger at Harvey.

Harvey cleanly snapped the wiper lever and threw it straight at the fighter's wrist.

The fighter screamed in pain. His firearm went off inside his car.

The G-Wagon immediately lost control. Gunshots could be heard, and the G-Wagon crashed into a tree on the side of the road.

The two remaining G-Wagons from behind instinctively braked.

Those who didn't have their seatbelts on flew right out the window and slammed into the ground.

It was a wretched sight.

Vincent, who had always led Jeff to countless victories, couldn't do a single thing. against Harvey.

He stumbled on the ground and wiped the blood off his face, his expression horrible.

"Open fire! Kill that man!" Vince yelled when he saw the Toyota Prado stop in its tracks.

He quickly ran back, trying to find a place to call for backup.

He had a feeling that he was going up against someone way stronger than him.

The fighters who could still fight crawled back up, trying to pull the trigger.

Harvey calmly picked up a firearm on the ground before they could.

Bang, bang, bang!

There were gunshots all around. The fighters held their shot arms and legs, lying in a pool of blood. Nobody knew whether they were still alive or not.

Both sides were going all out against each other. Since Jeff was behind this plot, Harvey naturally wouldn't hold back.

Bang!

After the last gunshot, Vincent felt a sharp pain on his wrist. He dropped his phone to the ground.

He instinctively turned around; he had no time to even let out a scream.

Before he could react, Harvey's firearm was already placed on his head.

"Jeff ordered you, didn't he?"

"Is he at Charity Garden?"

Vincent's eyes twitched. Facing the firearm, he could only grit his teeth and nod.

He knew he had lost-he lost without Harvey even breaking a sweat.

Chapter 3534

When the sun finally set, the bustling Charity Garden was lit up with bright lights.

Not just the hall, but even the courtyard and field were filled with people.

Prominent figures from all around Flutwell were gathered here. Together with the staff members, there were about a thousand people there.

This was an extremely grand charity event.

The people who came were donating their love to those in need.

The exquisite-looking long table was filled with all sorts of refreshments, pastry, and wine.

The guest would occasionally have some food while chatting up a storm, exchanging business cards in the process. It was quite the friendly sight.

The host of the charity event was none other than the head of the three Bauer family's young masters, Jeff Bauer.

The people who showed up here were considered to be extremely powerful or wealthy.

More importantly, they showed up to prove their loyalty to Jeff in his fight for the throne.

If Jeff were to rise to power, the people who showed up would be considered his most trusted allies.

Aside from that, two of Jeff's favorite mistresses came to attend the banquet as well.

Surprisingly, his fifth mistress, who had painstakingly come up with everything to help Jeff, didn't show up.

Accompanied by the two enchanting beauties, Jeff went around to have a toast with everyone there.

"Mr. Osborne, Ms. Osborne. It's a shame that Prince Osborne isn't here himself."

Jeff approached an eye-catching father-and-daughter pair who were in high spirits, with a smile on his face.

They were Langston and Clair Osborne.

They were only collateral relatives of the Osborne family, but the name alone was enough to scare anyone off.

Even so, they wouldn't dare go against the head of the Bauer family's young masters either.

The father and daughter raised their glasses, simpering fawningly over Jeff.

"You're too kind, Young Master Bauer. There are things Prince Osborne needs to attend to, hence he sent us here to cheer you on instead. Please forgive us."

Clair put on a sweet smile, flashing Jeff a flirty look.

"We're all family here. There's no need for formality!"

"I did so much just to attend your charity event."

"Oh my! I wouldn't anger your mistresses by saying this, would I?"

"I didn't mean it, Young Master Bauer. I said this only because I admire you!"

"Oh my! I'm so embarrassed!"

Clare acted all shy, but she was actually quite calculating. Anyone would think that she was just Jeff's innocent little sister.

The mistresses were both smart; they could clearly tell what Clare was up to.

That said, Jeff already had seventy-two mistresses. It didn't matter if he had another one.

The mistresses only smiled without saying a word.

After seeing that the mistresses weren't furious, Clare then got a little closer to Jeff.

Her beautiful face and slender body, together with her faint fragrance, were enough to delight Jeff.

For Jeff, only people with absolute authority had the right to own someone like her.

Chapter 3535

Jeff didn't hold back from looking at Clare. He flashed her a faint smile.

"If you don't mind, why don't you join me in my place later?"

"Let's have some fun drinking together."

Langston pretended not to hear what his daughter was planning, and held his glass

1.

After having a few sips, he then said with a smile, "I heard something happened on your end recently, Young Master Bauer."

"Rumors have been spreading about an ignorant outsider demanding money from you!"

"I heard he even shot one of your bulls!"

"How could this happen in a place like Flutwell? Does the law not matter to him?"

"If you don't mind, I'll deal with that man for you."

"I'll teach him to respect his elders!"

"I'll do everything it takes to help you!"

There were many people like Langston within the Osborne family.

Collateral relatives like him were destined to be doomed for the rest of their lives.

Thus, he desperately found a way to attend the charity event.

Even if it meant selling out his own daughter and becoming someone else's lackey, he would do anything in his power to cling to a powerful man like Jeff.

If Jeff managed to rise to power and Langston's daughter became his woman...

He believed his status within the family would rise exponentially. Maybe he would have control over the family as well.

He put on a serious look, as if he was someone wise, just for a chance to perform in front of Jeff.

Jeff flashed him a profound look, and then smiled.

"There was a man who crossed me and killed one of my bulls..."

"But I can handle it. Don't worry."

"I know what you're hinting at."

"You'll have a lot of opportunities to work for me soon enough."

For Jeff, Langston's status and identity weren't much to boast about.

But since Langstone was still from the Osborne family, it would be quite significant for Jeff if the former stood by his side.

As such, Jeff didn't decline Langston's goodwill.

Langston chuckled upon hearing Jeff's words.

"I spoke too much. I'll surely fight for you if there's an opportunity!"

"Right. If you need it, I'll definitely recommend you to Prince Osborne."

Jeff smiled, but said nothing.

People in their class would naturally know each other at this point. What mattered was how close they actually were.

For Jeff, this was only just the beginning.

Vincent sent him a text, saying that he was going to stop Harvey from causing trouble at the charity event.

Jeff was exhilarated; he wanted to see how everyone would react when Harvey's body was thrown into Charity Garden like a dead dog.

He wanted to see the look on Elanor's face after she talked so highly about that man.

He wanted Joseph to feel grateful toward him after trampling on the man who had caused Joseph a great deal of trouble.

Right at that moment, the sound of an engine roaring could be heard from outside.

There was a loud bang, and something rammed through the gate.

Chapter 3536

The banquet, which was filled with cheer and laughter, immediately went silent. Everyone instinctively looked toward the entrance.

"What on earth?"

"What's wrong?"

"Did someone ram Charity Garden's gate?"

"Are you kidding me?! Doesn't that guy know that Jeff Bauer is hosting the event?"

"It doesn't matter if the event gets trashed, but ruining Young Master Bauer's mood isn't going to be pretty!"

As the crowd was wrapped in utter shock...

Jeff glanced at the gate curiously.

A loud sound could be heard from the entrance once again.

The gate that was barely hanging on was rammed once more.

Several bodyguards of the Bauer family were sent flying as well.

The Toyota Prado, which was responsible for ruining the gate, drove steadily into Charity Garden, dominant and fearless.

The beautiful women screamed in fear. They couldn't bear to see such a bloody sight.

Clare's warm smile immediately vanished.

"How dare someone cause trouble in Young Master Bauer's place!"

"Who is it?!"

"Show yourself already!"

A few of Jeff's trusted subordinates walked forward fiercely, firearms in hand.

Bang, bang, bang!

Before the crowd was done talking, a firearm popped out of the driver's seat. The trigger was pulled instantly.

The subordinates fell in a puddle of blood.

"Aaah!"

"I know what you're hinting at."

"You'll have a lot of opportunities to work for me soon enough."

Bang, bang, bang!

Before the crowd was done talking, a firearm popped out of the driver's seat. The trigger was pulled instantly.

The subordinates fell in a puddle of blood.

"Aaah!"

"They got killed!"

The guests watching the show froze. Once they came to their senses, they scurried around the place, searching for places to hide. In the chaos, they had completely disregarded their image.

Screams could be heard all over Charity Garden.

People were losing their shoes and hats, but they didn't have time to care for such things.

Langston and Clare slackened from fear and shock; they didn't think that someone would actually have the guts to barge into Jeff's charity event and open fire.

The trusted subordinates came to their senses. They hurriedly stumbled back while dragging the injured away.

The place was in utter chaos.

"You b*stard!"

Jeff's expression changed slightly; he threw his glass away and quickly stepped back.

Before he could, the firearm from the driver's seat was already pointed right at him.

Bang!

The trigger was pulled in an instant; the bullet flew right next to Jeff.

His head would've been blown off in an instant if the bullet was just a little bit closer.

Even Jeff was frightened silly.

Vroom!

Someone jumped out of the car, pointing his firearm at Jeff.

"Good evening, Young Master Bauer."

"I'm giving you one chance: give Mandy back."

"If not, I'm sure you can imagine what'll happen next."

Harvey's calm tone felt like a blizzard that froze everyone in the place.

The bodyguards wouldn't dare step forward as they didn't want to get the innocents involved.

The wealthy ladies had gone completely pale. They had forgotten about manners and etiquette at that moment.

Only Jeff was able to remain calm.

He glared at Harvey, a cold and distant smile hanging on his lips.

Chapter 3537

As he smiled at Harvey, Jeff quietly made a gesture.

Dozens of the Bauer family bodyguards swarmed the entire place. They looked frighteningly ferocious.

Jeff was an experienced man; he knew Harvey would probably kill his way here. That was why Jeff was prepared for this occasion.

Bang, bang, bang!

Without giving Harvey a chance to speak, the bodyguards instantly pulled the trigger. Bullets flew all over the place like fireworks.

Harvey calmly took a step back and dodged every single bullet in the nick of time. He twirled the firearm in his hand before pulling the trigger.

"Aaagh!"

Pfft!

Screams rang all over the place. In just a single minute, the bodyguards were all lying in puddles of blood, paralyzed. Their bodies were twitching, and they couldn't do anything.

A few snipers, who were already on high ground, were easily spotted by Harvey.

Before they could take the shot, they were completely suppressed by Harvey's fire.

As the snipers fell, those who were carefully placed throughout the entire banquet were dealt with.

Nobody thought Harvey would be able to deal with this many people all by himself.

The bodyguards of the Osborne family wanted to perform, but Langston immediately stopped them.

It would be horrible if they charged thoughtlessly before figuring out who was causing trouble at Jeff's place.

Thus, Langston decided to sit back and watch.

"Oh my god!"

"He's invincible!"

The crowd all scurried to the back of the Charity Garden.

Harvey's bravery and prowess were enough to scare them; they didn't want to get involved in a battle between gods.

That said, they were still staying at the banquet.

On the one hand, they wanted to see who was arrogant enough to face Jeff...

On the other hand, they would be disrespecting Jeff if they were to leave then and there.

Nobody wanted to bear the consequences of doing such a thing.

Bang!

After pulling the trigger one more time at a bodyguard who rushed at him with explosives in hand, Harvey calmly stepped forward.

"Nobody move."

"I'll kill Jeff if anyone does!"

Harvey stopped right in front of Jeff before placing the muzzle of his gun on Jeff's head.

Clare and the other women who were acting all high and mighty seconds ago couldn't help but tremble.

Human life was feeble when faced with the barrel of a gun.

If Harvey pulled the trigger without hesitation, Jeff would surely suffer even if he didn't die.

The women there had seen quite a lot of so-called battles in movies...

But the sight of the battlefield covered in gunpowder was enough to terrify them.

Clare instinctively glanced at her father. After seeing Langston's horrible expression, her face darkened as well.

Nobody expected Harvey to actually dare do something like this in front of all these people in Charity Garden!

He was simply too fearless!

Chapter 3538

Seeing the well-laid snipers and bodyguards gunned down that easily, Jeff's smile froze instantly.

He knew he would get in trouble when he kidnapped Mandy.

Thus, he got the Skipjack Gang and all the firepower he had to aid him.

He wanted to let Harvey know who was the bigger man.

Based on what just happened, though, it seemed Harvey's abilities went beyond his imagination.

"Jeff Bauer."

Harvey calmly took off the safety of his gun.

"I'll ask you again: where's my wife?"

"You're Harvey, right?!"

"What are you trying to do?"

Clare was quite afraid when she saw Harvey's fierce look, but she still stepped up with gritted teeth.

"Do you know what this place is?"

"This is the Charity Garden!"

"Us from the upper social circle are doing charity work right now!"

"Country bumpkins aren't allowed here!"

"You can't just barge in here and do as you please!"

"Leave! Stop trying to show off!"

"If not, you won't be able to bear the responsibility for this!"

Slap!

Harvey swung the back of his palm across Clare's face.

"Enough yapping," he exclaimed coldly.

"This is between Jeff and me. Everyone else better stay out..."

"I don't want to cause a massacre, and I don't want to hurt the innocent. But that doesn't mean I won't."

Clare was shocked silly.

She was from the Osborne family; she had never been treated so violently before!

She wanted to grab one of the bodyguards' firearms and shoot Harvey down then and there , but she was immediately stopped by her father.

Naturally, Langston had thought of something.

Harvey glanced calmly at Jeff.

"Are you sure you want the innocent to die because of our grudge?"

"Grudge?"

"Why would he have a grudge against you?"

The mistress in a purple gown, who was standing behind Jeff, scoffed at Harvey.

"You're the one who shot Young Master Bauer's bull and demanded his money, right?"

"Let me ask you something: why would he even owe you money in the first place?!"

"How dare you slander my man without any solid proof? How dare you cause trouble here in the Charity Garden?!"

"Who gave you the courage?!"

"My man isn't useless like Joseph, nor is he an easy target like Frankie! You can't just do as you please here!"

"If it wasn't for Elder Torres, we can kill you with just a single phone call by now!"

The mistress with the purple gown glared at him fiercely.

Slap!

Only for Harvey to calmly send her flying with a hard slap.

The mistress didn't think that Harvey would be so arrogant as to hit her!

She was one of Jeff's seventy-two mistresses!

She was a well-known figure of Flutwell's upper social circle!

How dare an outsider even treat her this way?!

The mistress pulled out her firearm, ready to fight back at any time.

"Alright! Enough. Don't be reckless."

Jeff took a deep breath to calm himself down.

He waved his hand to stop his woman from doing anything rash.

"Only savages kill."

"We're civilized people. We should behave ourselves."

Chapter 3539

Jeff was confident—he took everything quite casually...

As if he had the situation under control.

The mistress calmly nodded before standing behind Jeff while covering her face.

Jeff slowly moved the firearm on his head away from his head with a finger. Then, he looked curiously at Harvey.

"Sir York."

"You come here causing all this trouble and hurting so many of my bodyguards. You even hit two of my women!"

"I have to admit, you're pretty impressive. You're quite cocky, aren't you?"

"If this was any other day, I would've fought you to the death."

"But this is a charity event. We have a lot of respectable guests here."

"I can't just let my guests be in danger because of my recklessness now, can I?"

Cheers could be heard from all over the place after Jeff spoke.

'As expected from the head of the Bauer family's young masters! Of course he'd protect the safety of his guests! No ordinary man would be able to do something like this!'

At the same time, they were all glaring hatefully at Harvey, as if they were about to rip him to shreds.

Jeff revealed a faint smile, as if he had control of the entire situation.

"You come here and do as you please..."

"You disrespect me without any hesitation..."

"At least tell me what I did to you first!"

"You ruined the entire charity event as well! We were supposed to fund poor young ladies to get through university!"

"You should at least justify your actions, right?"

"Of course, if you can show me proof of what I did to deserve this..."

"You're allowed to leave without a scratch!"

"But if not, I'm afraid you'll have to give us a statement whether you like it or not!"

At Jeff's righteous words...

The people who thought of him as just an arrogant man were starting to admire his magnitude. They were starting to look at him as the true master of the Bauer family.

The insults hurled at Harvey grew louder and louder.

Everyone believed that Harvey was just taking advantage of other people, and that he had a death wish.

Harvey's icy expression returned, and he placed his firearm on Jeff's head once more.

"Enough talk already, Young Master Bauer."

"Hand over Mandy."

Jeff chuckled.

"Who's that? I don't know her."

"I've never seen that person my entire life."

"There must be some sort of misunderstanding."

"Of course, if you're talking about one of the women I slept with, I've been with almost a thousand women by now. I can't remember every single one of their names!"

"You can't find your woman here."

"Why don't I introduce you to a few venues so you can have some fun as well?"

"At least show some proof if you're looking for someone here!" the mistress shrieked while covering her face.

"So many women are dying to sleep with Young Master Bauer every single day! How can he just name every single one of them for you?!"

Clare scoffed.

"You look for Young Master Bauer when your wife disappeared? You talk as if he actually kidnapped your wife!"

"Right! He's been with us the entire time! Don't even try to slander him!"

Chapter 3540

"Even if Young Master Bauer played with your woman, it's still her own damn fault!"

"Right! You can't make him take responsibility for this!"

"How can you just murder everyone here for a woman like that?!"

The crowd fell in an uproar, acting as if Harvey was just looking for trouble.

Slap!

Harvey ignored them and swung the back of his palm across Jeff's face resolutely.

"Some rich playboy you are."

"You think you can do whatever you want? You're getting a little ahead of yourself."

"Can't you see who's in control here?"

"I decide if you live or die."

"Why should I give you proof?"

"You should think whether you're going to give me my woman quietly, or convince me that she isn't here."

Harvey slapped Jeff across the face once again.

"If not, don't blame me for slipping my finger."

"When that happens, I'll definitely compensate for your family's loss."

"Ngh!"

Jeff grunted as he stumbled, almost losing his footing in the process.

Two vivid palm prints appeared on his face, and blood was seeping out the corners of his mouth. He was a wretched sight.

The entire crowd was dead silent.

The mistresses, the guests, and the bodyguards grew weak when they saw what happened. They couldn't even say a single word.

Compared to Harvey killing his way into Charity Garden, the slaps he gave to Jeff's face were far more shocking.

Jeff's pride was being thrown out the window at that very moment.

Clare was infuriated.

'How could that b*stard treat my man like this?!'

'This is unforgivable!'

Jeff looked positively shocked.

He chuckled wretchedly before snarling, "Did you just hit me?"

"Twice?"

Slap!

Harvey slapped Jeff in the face again.

"Your life's in my hands now. So what if I slap you around like this?"

"Do you want more?"

"I'll give you three minutes!"

"If you don't do as I say until then, I'll send you off immediately right after!"

"Don't talk to me about fairness and the future..."

"I have the final say here!"

"Either you hand over Mandy, or you prove your innocence."

"If not, I wouldn't mind pulling the trigger."

Harvey was losing his patience, as he didn't know if Mandy was dead or alive.

He had no idea what Mandy was going through while his time was being wasted here.

The slaps across Jeff were so powerful that Jeff's body swayed around; the previously elegant look on his face turned into a wretched one.

Clare and the other women were boiling with anger. They were certain Harvey was just being unreasonable!

Everyone knew that power meant everything...

Usually, they were the ones taking advantage of people.

They were extremely angry now that they were the ones being taken advantage of!

Jeff's expression changed constantly before finally regaining his calm.

"I'm telling you this one more time: I don't know who Mandy is. If you want to fight, then come at me!" he snarled, glaring coldly at Harvey.

"I'd like to see if you can actually kill me or not!"
