

Chapter 81 I Don't Need Anyone to Raise Me

Su Huixian's face turned deathly pale. Now she realized that everything was just Su Bei's trick.

Su Bei didn't do anything. She just said a few words, and it already pushed Su Huixian into such an unfavorable situation.

Su Huixian shook her head anxiously. "No, Dad, Du Luo. Please believe me. How can I sacrifice my future just to frame Su Bei? It's just that I really thought she drugged me..."

"But the truth is, she didn't!" Su Xingfu interrupted angrily.

Xu Zhiqin hurriedly spoke for her daughter, "Hubby, although Su Bei didn't drug her, Huixian did have a relapse at that time. Besides, Su Bei touched Huixian's glass. It's only normal for Huixian to suspect her."

Su Bei said in a calm voice, "Su Huixian looked uncomfortable at that time, so I poured her a glass of water. I just tried to help her, as a sister. But anyway, forget it. I shouldn't have meddled in other people's business. I just humiliated myself."

Su Xingfu had always preferred a gentle and obedient daughter. So upon hearing Su Bei's words, he said, "Huixian, you're in the wrong this time. Apologize to Su Bei."

"Hubby, Huixian just had a relapse. She's not in good health yet. Don't make her condition worse," Xu Zhiqin pleaded while wiping her tears.

When Su Bei saw that Su Xingfu was being fair, the coldness in her eyes faded away.

However, the next second, Su Xingfu's words made her realize that nothing could be changed.

The Su family would never be her family.

Su Xingfu would always be Su Huixian's father only, not hers.

Su Xingfu said, "Then Su Bei, I apologize to you on behalf of Huixian. Let's just forget what happened tonight. We don't want to release the investigation result to the public. We will tell them that everything was only a misunderstanding. What do you think?"

Such a suggestion was not so much to defend Su Huixian but added salt to Su Bei's wound.

Before the investigation result came out, he allowed Su Huixian to attack her on the Internet. At that time, why didn't he stop Su Huixian from making this matter public?

But now that he found out that Su Huixian might be ruined, he made such a request from her.

Su Bei looked at Su Xingfu indifferently. "What do you think people will think of me if we don't announce this to the public? Right now, everyone believes that I really drugged Su Huixian, and I stole her part in Orisa Fashion Show. How can I prove that I'm innocent?"

"I've already told you that I can raise you after you go home," Su Xingfu replied.

“You can raise me? I’m a normal person who needs to work and realize my self-worth. I’m not a pet of the Su family nor a puppet that can be controlled by others. I don’t need anyone to raise me.”

Seeing that Su Bei refused to listen to him, Su Xingfu turned to the policeman and said, “We can discuss this matter on our own. Besides, it’s just a misunderstanding among our family members. Why not just let us deal with this investigation report by ourselves?”

Actually, his suggestion was favorable to the police.

After all, it was difficult for outsiders like them to get involved in family matters. As long as there was no major incident, they usually allowed family members to deal with their own family matters.

But today, they couldn’t.

So the policeman said, “I’m sorry, Mr. Su. We will announce the investigation result according to the procedure.”

The expression on Su Xingfu’s face changed drastically.

Xu Zhiqin and Su Huixian were also on the verge of collapsing. Their legs were feeble after what the policeman said.

The police would make their final conclusion. Once this report came out on the news, Su Huixian would definitely receive countless ridicules and humiliation.

Brands like Orisa would definitely not cooperate with her anymore.

Chapter 82 Give Her a Dose of Her Own Medicine

However, Su Bei’s career would reach a new level.

Du Luo hurriedly supported Su Huixian.

Lu Heting, who had been standing aside, smiled. His assistant did a good job and the result came out in advance.

The result was undoubtedly the most beneficial to Su Bei.

Of course, his woman must not suffer any injustice.

The police worked until the middle of the night and were all dead tired, so one of them said to Su Xingfu, “You can go home now. We have to get off work and rest.”

Although Su Xingfu was angry, he was completely helpless.

He just waved his hand and left. Xu Zhiqin hurriedly followed behind him.

There was a hint of coldness in Du Luo’s eyes. No one knew if it was because of Su Huixian or Su Bei.

“Du Luo, Minxuan, you go out first. I will apologize to Su Bei,” Su Huixian said gently.

She had already figured out everything.

She called the police and made a post on Weibo to ruin Su Bei. But she didn't know that she actually walked into Su Bei's trap.

When the others walked out of the police station, she pointed at Su Bei and said, "Su Bei, you set me up. You did everything on purpose!"

A gentle smile appeared on Su Bei's beautiful face. "I just used the same trick you used on me five years ago to give you a dose of your own medicine."

Su Huixian suddenly remembered what happened five years ago. She played the same trick on Su Bei so that Su Xingfu and Du Luo would totally lose their trust in Su Bei.

At that time, she also pretended that she drugged Su Bei, and Su Bei believed that it was true.

This time, Su Bei completely copied her previous trick.

Su Bei was not able to prove her innocence back then. Right now, it was even more difficult for Su Huixian to prove her innocence.

Su Huixian looked at Su Bei. She realized that the Su Bei in front of her right now was no longer the arrogant princess who would never play dirty tricks to fight back no matter how many times she and Xu Zhiqin had bullied her in secret.

Su Bei had changed. And she must have come back to take revenge.

For the first time, Su Huixian had known how horrible Su Bei was.

She turned around and walked towards Du Luo.

Du Luo looked somewhat cold. She walked towards him and said between sobs, "Du Luo, I'm really sorry. I didn't expect this to happen. I was so scared at that time, so I thought that Su Bei had really drugged me. But I've already apologized to her."

Du Luo didn't say anything.

She held his hand and continued, "I've also suffered a lot this time. Don't blame me for my honest mistake, okay?"

Du Luo lowered his head and looked at her. She was crying bitterly, and what she said was enough to convince him.

So he said, "Forget it. It's not all your fault. Just be careful from now on."

"Du Luo, I knew you would believe me. I will try my best to make it up to Su Bei, and I won't let her get hurt again." Su Huixian took the initiative to kiss Du Luo, thinking that such intimacy could mend fences with him.

When she came back home later, she would also convince Su Xingfu that what happened was just an honest mistake.

Qiu Minxuan quickly went back and deleted all the posts that she and Su Huixian made on Weibo. It was as if nothing had happened.

As for the investigation result that was released by the police, she believed that only very few fans would see it.

The fans usually gave all their attention to their idols. Who would read the investigation result released by the police?

Even Su Huixian thought the same. So she focused her attention on Du Luo and Su Xingfu without thinking about her previous post on Weibo.

Chapter83 Go Home

Su Huixian thought to herself, 'Although the police have released their investigation report, the public was already convinced that Su Bei was only able to appear on the stage of Orisa Fashion Show because she drugged me.

She would carry this dirt on her for the rest of her life.'

However, both Su Huixian and Qiu Minxuan were wrong.

Lu Heting made some arrangements so that the news about the police's investigation report that cleared up Su Bei's name would be on the top of the trending topics.

The doctor's medical report was also posted on the Internet.

These things, together with Su Bei's and Su Huixian's names, occupied the top spots.

The Orisa Fashion Show had just ended, so everyone was still paying close attention to this matter. Naturally, many people wanted to know the truth.

Even Orisa itself was also concerned. Since Su Bei walked on their stage, they were worried that her scandal would affect the reputation of their brand.

So when they saw the news about the result of the police's investigation, they quickly shared it online to help clear Su Bei's name.

As for Su Huixian, her false accusation had become a huge stain on her.

But since she didn't walk on their stage, they could say that their company had nothing to do with her.

Under the impetus of many people, the news became trending for a long time.

All the fans were having heated discussions about it.

Su Bei's fans were exhilarated, so they kept on posting their own comments.

"Su Bei poured Su Huixian a glass of water out of kindness, but she ended up being framed. Who would dare to do such a good deed in the future?"

"Police officers, thank you for your hard work. You've worked until the middle of the night just to clear up Bei Bei's name."

"Bei Bei, be brave. We are always here for you."

"How can Su Huixian have such a name? Is she smart? Is she demure? What a fucking name!"

“She had a relapse because she was nervous. But she was afraid of being blamed, so she passed the buck. What a good trick!”

Even some of Su Huixian’s own fans felt embarrassed and quickly turned their backs on her. “Forget it. I can’t like such an idol.”

“It’s really disappointing. I regret that I felt sorry for her when she wasn’t able to appear on the stage. If only I knew that it was her own fault.”

“Does it feel good to accuse others? Shame on you!”

Seeing that more and more people were talking about the issue, Su Bei posted on Weibo again, “Everyone, I’m so sorry for dragging you all into this trouble. I didn’t mean to cause a sensation.

From now on, I will try my best to be more cautious to avoid causing inconvenience to others.

But no matter what, I will continue to do good things to be worthy of your love and support.

Good night, everyone!”

People all posted their comments to comfort her, hoping to ease her worry and make her feel that she had their support.

Just overnight, Su Huixian lost as many followers as Su Bei gained on Weibo, which was one million.

Su Bei put away her phone and looked at Lu Heting seriously. Although everything was under control tonight, things were still different having him around.

With his presence, she didn’t feel helpless and lonely anymore. She was not fighting alone.

This kind of feeling brought warmth to her heart.

“Let’s go home,” Lu Heting said softly.

Su Bei followed him. And when she heard the word “home,” a strange feeling surged up in her heart.

Yes, the Su family’s villa was not her home.

The house where she lived now was her home. There, she had Gun Gun. And Da Bao would come soon.

She could take Da Bao home tomorrow.

This would be her surprise to Lu Heting.

Judging from his attitude towards Gun Gun, she could say that he liked children very much. In the past few years, he had been raising Gun Gun alone, which could also prove that he was a very responsible man.

Chapter 84 I Hope You Can Call Me...

Therefore, placing Da Bao under Lu Heting’s care was the best choice.

With this thought, Su Bei couldn’t help smiling as she looked outside the car window.

They were not in a hurry this time, so Lu Heting didn't use his motorcycle. Instead, he asked someone to send a car to the police station.

As he drove steadily, he found that she had been happily smiling all the time.

He knew that it wasn't because of Su Huixian but something else.

So he tilted his head and asked, "Why do you look so happy?"

"It's a secret. You'll know it tomorrow," Su Bei replied happily.

"Okay. I'll wait for you to tell me tomorrow then." Of course, Lu Heting was always very patient when it came to Su Bei.

Su Bei lowered her head, thinking about something. She had to tell Da Bao about it first. After all, she didn't expect that Lu Heting would have a son already.

At home, Gun Gun sat on the sofa in the living room, waiting for Lu Heting and Su Bei to come back. He almost couldn't open his heavy eyelids.

As soon as he heard the sound of the door opening, he sat up excitedly and ran towards Su Bei. "My lovely Bei Bei!"

Aunt Chen smiled apologetically and said, "Miss Su, Mr. Gun Gun has taken a shower, but he refused to sleep. He insisted on waiting for you. I've tried to coax him to sleep, but he really didn't want to."

"It's okay. But thank you, Aunt Chen. I'll take him to the bed." Su Bei hugged and kissed Gun Gun on the cheek, feeling a little guilty. "Bei Bei is back. Gun Gun can now close his eyes and sleep, okay?"

Gun Gun had long been so sleepy that his eyelids drooped. So when he heard her gentle voice, he closed his eyes comfortably and fell into a deep sleep.

Aunt Chen heard that Lu Heting and Su Bei hadn't eaten dinner yet, so she hurried back to the kitchen and prepared some egg noodles for them.

Su Bei carried Gun Gun to the bed, bent over, and whispered, "Gun Gun, from now on, you and Da Bao will be brothers. I hope that after you meet, you will love each other."

She hoped that the two children would protect each other in the future.

When Su Bei walked out of the room, she took the bowl of noodles from Aunt Chen's hands and said, "Aunt Chen, thank you so much for your help today. You can go home. I'll do the rest."

Aunt Chen glanced at Lu Heting. When he nodded in agreement, she picked up her handbag and left.

Su Bei took a hair tie and tied her long curly hair into a bun. She then lowered her head and started eating her noodles.

Lu Heting used to see her with her beautiful long hair draping over her shoulders. Now that he saw her new hairstyle, she looked lovelier and fairer in his eyes. No wonder Gun Gun said Su Bei was cute.

"Mr. Lu, aren't you going to eat?" Su Bei raised her eyes and smiled at him brightly.

“Su Bei, while we are still married, I hope you can call me...”

“Heting,” Su Bei interrupted at once. “I’ll call you Heting. It doesn’t sound too intimate but also not alienated.”

She would never call him hubby anymore.

In the future, he would marry another woman. His future wife would be the one to call him that. The current gap between them was the best way to show respect for each other.

Lu Heting’s deep-set black eyes looked at her. He couldn’t hide the trace of disappointment in there.

The next day, Su Bei called Lin Moli to inform her that she would be picking up Da Bao.

“I really can’t bear to see Da Bao leave,” Lin Moli said while looking at Da Bao affectionately. Su Bei hadn’t arrived yet, but she was already very reluctant to let him go.

She had learned to like the little boy so much after getting along with him for a few days.

Da Bao sighed helplessly. “Hey, I haven’t left yet.”

“Wow, I am so happy.” Lin Moli must admit that a four-year-old boy had made her so emotional with his comforting words.

Chapter85 Help Me Raise My Son

“Mommy Moli, if I stay with you a little longer, will you like it?” Da Bao asked.

“Of course, I will! That’s exactly what I want,” Lin Moli replied. “I like you so much.”

Da Bao gave a smile that was more dazzling than the sun hanging in the sky outside.

But Lin Moli suddenly got a little worried. “But Xiao Bei will be here soon to pick you up. Don’t you want to go with her?”

“It’s not that I don’t want to. It’s just that Xiao Bei has been taking care of me for five years. She has done so much for me. Other women of her age usually enjoy shopping and dating men.

Now that you’re here and helping her carry the burden, I want her to be more relaxed. Besides, that man is not bad. So I want them to date and get closer to each other.

Xiao Bei deserves a little bit of her own life.” As he spoke, Da Bao looked very serious. It was as if he was not a child anymore.

He was more like a worried father.

“Oh, Da Bao, that’s so considerate of you!” Lin Moli loved him more because of that.

When there was a knock on the door, Lin Moli hurriedly opened it and welcomed Su Bei in.

Then Da Bao stepped forward and gave her a big hug.

Su Bei sat down in front of them and said solemnly, “Da Bao, before I take you home, I just want you to know something in advance. Lu Heting also has a son.”

“What? He has a son? You said that he isn’t married, and there’s no woman in his life, right? Where did his son come from?” It was Lin Moli who bombarded her with questions.

So Su Bei repeated what Lu Heting had said to her.

Lin Moli held her hand and asked, “Do you believe him? Was there really a woman who was willing to make a test-tube baby, just so she could have his child?”

“Well... probably. Lu Heting is very handsome. You know that there are women who only care about men’s faces.” Su Bei didn’t know why that kind of woman would think that way, but she knew that there were quite a few of them.

Lin Moli nodded and said, “Will you have feelings for each other since you are now living together? You are so beautiful and an excellent woman. He can fall in love with you so easily.”

“Ha-ha! Don’t worry. He hasn’t fallen in love with me. I’ve asked him last time. He said that he doesn’t care who his wife is.

Are you thinking that he hasn’t signed the divorce agreement in the past five years because he has been waiting for me? Actually, no. The truth is, he doesn’t care who his wife is. It just happens to be me.

He has never been in a relationship for five years. It only means that he doesn’t need a woman in his life,” Su Bei said confidently.

This was precisely the reason why she felt comfortable to live with Lu Heting.

Maybe in the future, he would find a woman to love. But it would never be her.

She curled her red lips and added, “But he is very patient, serious, and responsible when it comes to children. He is a good father. And that’s what I like about him. Don’t you think he’s perfect?”

“Well, it sounds like he’s a perfect father. But still, you are at the disadvantage because you need to help him raise another son.” Lin Moli cared about Su Bei’s condition so much. “You also have to take good care of yourself. Don’t work too hard.”

“It’s not really a bad deal. Lu Heting will also help me raise my son, right?” Su Bei smiled. “Besides, his son is very cute.”

Da Bao rolled his eyes and said, “Xiao Bei, I want to live with Mommy Moli for a little while longer.”

A hint of disappointment flashed across Su Bei’s eyes when she heard Da Bao’s words. And what she worried the most was that he might mind Gun Gun’s existence.

Chapter86 Will Never Work with You Again

This was also one of the reasons why it took Su Bei a long time to decide to take Da Bao home.

It turned out he indeed didn’t want Gun Gun in his life.

“Da Bao...” Su Bei felt that it was too much for him to bear.

“Xiao Bei, don’t worry. I can accept anyone that you accept. It’s just that I don’t want to go back so soon.” Da Bao’s voice was so calm, and his eyebrows were relaxed.

“Da Bao, I want you to be with your father as soon as possible so that you can be close to each other.”

Da Bao looked at her calmly and said, “It’s you who should be close to Lu Heting.”

Da Bao’s thoughtfulness made Su Bei’s eyes a little misty. She hadn’t told him about her illness, so he didn’t know that she could only entrust him to Lu Heting. She couldn’t stay with them for too long.

“Xiao Bei, promise me that you will test him again, and you won’t tell him my existence yet. You two have a limited time to spend with each other. But I still have so many years left to accompany you.”

Su Bei hugged him. “But I don’t want to leave you alone anymore. I want to live with you.”

“Don’t worry, I’ll go home with you when you are sure that Lu Heting is a good man. What if he is just pretending?” Da Bao said.

He thought that it would be better if Su Bei and Lu Heting spent more time together before he appeared in their lives.

He didn’t want to be the third wheel after all.

As for Gun Gun, it was none of his business whether he was a third wheel or not.

Su Bei knew that Da Bao had been very independent since he was born. He didn’t easily change his decision.

So, in the end, she had to agree to his request.

Lin Moli patted her on the shoulder. “Don’t worry. I will take good care of Da Bao for you.”

Da Bao then hugged Su Bei and saw her off.

“Xiao Bei, I love you. But you have to love yourself more,” he said softly.

These words filled her heart with warmth.

She smiled brightly and said, “Da Bao, this is my first time to be a mother. Please forgive me if I’ve done something wrong.”

“Xiao Bei, you’ve done a great job being a mother to me,” Da Bao said seriously and held Su Bei in his arms.

Mike, the director of Orisa Fashion Show, called Su Bei.

She answered it.

“Su Bei, I’ve seen how Su Huixian falsely accused you of drugging her. We will seek justice for you,” Mike solemnly said.

“Thank you, Mr. Mike.”

He said, “To protect you is also to protect our own interests. I hope you cherish your opportunities too.”

“I will,” Su Bei replied with a nod.

Next, Mike and Orisa Fashion Show both condemned Su Huixian seriously.

They blamed her for using the fame of the fashion show for her own personal gain.

They even sent her a lawyer's letter.

Su Huixian spent the whole night convincing Su Xingfu and keeping Du Luo company.

She didn't know about the news until she discovered that the condemnation against her overwhelmed the entire online community.

She was reading the news when Mike called and said, "Su Huixian, Orisa Fashion Show will never work with you again."

Su Huixian felt a sharp pang of pain in her heart, and her hand holding the phone trembled.

She immediately checked the Internet on her phone. It was only then that she found out that her scandal last night was still a trending topic.

She thought that no one would pay attention to the news about the police's investigation result. Never did she expect that it would go viral. Now, she finally lost her last fig leaf.

Chapter 87 More Convincing

Su Huixian immediately called Qiu Minxuan and scolded harshly, "Qiu Minxuan, are you all dead? Why can't you keep such a big issue under control?"

Qiu Minxuan replied innocently, "Huixian, I have tried many different ways, but it is still staying at the top of hot searches. The company can't do anything about it either. Besides, Orisa Fashion Show has also added fuel to the fire."

Su Huixian clutched her phone tightly and said, "Didn't Su Bei also go to the KTV ribbon-cutting ceremony? Post her photos there on Weibo."

Of course, Qiu Minxuan also thought of this. But since she didn't go with Su Bei at that time, she didn't have any photos of that event.

But then, she remembered that she had arranged for some people to go there to make trouble for Su Bei. And Su Bei's fans were also there. She could easily find some photos on the Internet.

Soon enough, Qiu Minxuan found some photos of Su Bei at the ribbon-cutting ceremony of that KTV. They weren't taken from a good angle, but they clearly showed Su Bei standing on the stage, holding a microphone and talking to the host.

Although Su Bei wasn't walking on the stage in the photos, she thought that they were enough to ruin her.

Qiu Minxuan edited the photos to make them look like Su Bei was with those models in skimpy dresses during the event. Then she sent them to the influencers she had worked with many times.

The headline, "Before Orisa Fashion Show, Su Bei shamelessly walked on a KTV stage with other low-end models" became sensational in an instant.

Since Su Bei was currently a hot topic on the search list, Qiu Minxuan didn't need to make too much effort to promote the photos. Lots of netizens quickly saw them.

Many people usually hated the kind of shows held by KTVs.

So for them, Su Bei was simply ruining herself by standing on the stage of a low-level event like this.

Once again, the netizens were in an uproar.

And this time, Su Huixian's fans seemed to have found a battlefield. They swarmed over and scolded Su Bei for doing anything for money.

Only a few people knew that it was Su Bei who reported the KTV to the police, so most of her fans didn't know the truth. To defend her, they just kept on saying some weak words like "I believe her".

Thus, many people were now scolding Su Bei for doing such a thing.

Overnight, her fame went up and down several times, and she sparked many heated discussions.

The news also reached Su Bei. After knowing it, she rushed back home.

Lu Heting also saw the news, so he went home. When she arrived, he was already waiting for her in the living room.

"Heting, do you still have the phone numbers of those lawyers last night? Last night, they helped me take a video of the ribbon-cutting ceremony. But I was in a hurry, so I didn't have time to ask them for a copy."

Lu Heting nodded. "I've just called them and asked them to post the video on the Internet directly. It will be more convincing if they will be the ones to post it."

Su Bei thought about it for a while, then her eyes lit up. "You're right. It will be more convincing if the lawyers will directly post the video than I do it myself."

Then she checked her phone and saw the post of one of the lawyers' on Weibo.

"Miss Su Bei showed up in the event. But she didn't go there to attend the activity. At that time, she made a public statement in front of her fans that she would never take part in this kind of activity. As a matter of fact, she reported the KTV to the police. I can prove that my client, Su Bei, didn't participate in any illegal activities of this KTV, and she had successfully reported this illegal ribbon-cutting ceremony."

Together with this statement, the lawyer also attached the video of that night.

In the video, Su Bei firmly said, "I will never take part in any illegal and immoral activities!"

Chapter88 Authority and Fairness

The statement and the video posted by the lawyer were enough to prove that the people who posted the previous photos had made a deliberate misinterpretation totally out of context. With a few photos, they slandered Su Bei casually.

What was more, someone recognized the lawyers in the video. They were the lawyers of Di Xing Media, an entertainment company under Lu Group.

These lawyers were definitely not rookies. They were widely acknowledged in the legal industry.

The lawyers of Di Xing Media Company helped Su Bei clear her name. They even released a notarized statement for her.

What did it mean? Of course, it meant authority and fairness!

Both Su Huixian and Qiu Minxuan got a little scared when they finally realized it.

“Since when has Su Bei had a connection with Di Xing Media Company? Was she already taken by Di Xing Media Company?” Su Huixian asked with a pang of fear in her heart.

Qiu Minxuan analyzed the situation for her. “I don’t think so. If Di Xing Media Company has hired her, they should have helped her get into Orisa Fashion Show in the beginning. I guess Di Xing Media Company is only helping her now because they are currently working with Orisa Fashion Show. They don’t want to see any models on the stage being reproached as it will affect their revenue.”

Actually, the outside world also had the same view as Qiu Minxuan.

Otherwise, why would Di Xing Media Company speak for a small-time model?

Su Huixian was finally a little relieved. But she still couldn’t help feeling troubled. Despite all her efforts, she didn’t manage to punish Su Bei. In the end, she got herself into trouble.

Right now, she had no other choice but to keep a low profile and avoid making trouble. Only in this way could she survive the storm.

Su Bei looked at the result in front of her satisfyingly.

Now, everyone knew that she was wronged. They sympathized with her very much and were likely to have a good impression of her.

The number of her followers on Weibo increased by over a million just overnight.

She looked at Lu Heting. It seemed that he was already used to this kind of thing. He just scrolled up his phone casually and read the news indifferently.

His slender fingers were well-defined, making him look like a powerful man.

Lu Heting felt Su Bei’s gaze, so he raised his head and asked, “Didn’t you say you have a surprise for me today?”

“Oh, yes! I almost forgot. Give me a minute.” Su Bei picked up her handbag and took out a box. “I’ve already received my talent fee from Orisa Fashion Show, so I bought you a gift.”

Actually, her surprise for him was Da Bao. But since the little boy didn’t agree to come home with her yet, she had to respect his decision.

So on her way back home, she dropped by the mall and bought a watch as a surprise gift for Lu Heting.

Anyway, she was really planning to give him a small present to express her gratitude because he had helped her a lot these days.

The corners of his mouth slightly twitched, and inexplicable emotions surged up in his heart.

It was his first time receiving a gift from Su Bei, so he didn't know how to express this feeling. But it was like flowers blooming in spring.

Indeed, he was surprised.

He took the box and opened it. Then he saw a sapphire blue watch inside.

Su Bei wasn't sure if he liked it, so she said, "I don't know what you like. Is this okay with you? If not, I can take it back to the shop and change the color."

She noticed that the watch Lu Heting was wearing now was expensive. Perhaps Lu Group really treated its employees well. So she spent almost fifty thousand yuan on this watch.

Fifty thousand was nothing to her when she was still the daughter of Su Xingfu.

But for the current Su Bei, who had to raise money for Da Bao, it was already a big amount.

"It's actually very good. I like it so much." Lu Heting's obsidian-like eyes were dazzling. Obviously, he was overjoyed.

Su Bei felt relieved. "I'm glad you like it."

To prove that Lu Heting really liked the watch, he immediately took off the one he was wearing and put it away. Then he put on the one given by her.

Chapter 89 He Was Very Satisfied

"By the way, I want to ask you one more thing. Do you think I should invite those lawyers who have helped me to dinner? I just want to thank them," Su Bei said.

Lu Group was a very high-end company. She thought that if she invited those lawyers to dinner rashly, people might think that she was intentionally making friends with the powerful and fawning over them. That was why she wanted to ask for Lu Heting's advice.

Her question made Lu Heting feel like she was a wife asking her husband's opinion.

But wait! Wasn't he really her husband?

Therefore, he said, "You can invite them to dinner."

He could take her to meet them. After all, they should know their boss' wife sooner or later.

"All right. Then I will need to trouble you again. Please help me find the most suitable schedule and make an appointment with them," Su Bei said as she nodded with a smile.

"Okay."

Lu Heting still had something to do, so he went back to the company.

He wore the watch given by Su Bei. It had a cool and delicate touch on his skin. He felt like her fingers were around his wrist.

Lu Heting rolled up the sleeve of his shirt, and his watch became more visible. It was as if he was deliberately showing it off.

Well, he was very satisfied with it.

He was going to meet a client in the afternoon, so Lu Weijian and his assistant waited for him.

While Lu Heting was picking up some documents, Lu Weijian's eyes were fixed on his wrist, tossing back and forth.

He wanted to say something, but he obviously hesitated. So Lu Heting looked at him and said, "Say it!"

"Brother, did you change your watch?"

A smile that Lu Weijian couldn't decipher appeared on Lu Heting's face. He even looked a little proud and sweet. "Yes."

"But why? The value of this watch is way too low, right? As far as I can remember, you haven't worn a watch at this price since you were twelve. Don't you think our clients will have an impression that we are going bankrupt once they see this watch on your wrist?"

Lu Heting hit him hard on the head.

He shrank his neck and said, "Oh, I'm so wrong! As long as my brother stands here, no one dares to say that Lu Group will go bankrupt. Oh, my! Wait! Is this watch a gift from my sister-in-law?"

Lu Heting had already walked far away.

One day later, Lu Heting informed Su Bei that he had made a dinner appointment with the lawyers. He made a reservation at a restaurant on the top floor of a five-star hotel.

"Okay. Thank you very much," Su Bei replied with a nod. She then freshened up and went to the restaurant.

Since it was a private occasion, she dressed casually. She wore a white T-shirt and a half-length denim skirt. Her fluffy chestnut curly hair was tied into a bun, and she had a small bag in her hand.

Her whole being looked so fresh and beautiful yet fashionable.

When Su Bei entered the hotel, she unexpectedly ran into Su Huixian.

Su Huixian was arm in arm with Du Luo, and behind them were Su Xingfu and Xu Zhiqin.

What happened in the past two days made her very unhappy, but she could only pretend to be patient and kind in front of Du Luo and her parents.

Thus, Su Xingfu and the others still felt that it was Su Bei's fault.

Tonight, Su Huixian specially ordered the specialty of this restaurant and invited them to dinner.

But she didn't expect to meet Su Bei here.

“Hi, Su Bei! Are you here for dinner too?” she greeted kindly. It was as if everything that happened was nothing to her.

Su Bei just curled her lips lazily and said, “Yes.”

“Why don’t you join us then?” Su Huixian invited Su Bei, showing her generosity.

However, she kept her fingers crossed secretly, praying that Su Bei would refuse.

Of course, she would never want to see Su Bei be in the same place as Du Luo.

“Well, who am I to refuse such an invitation?” Su Bei smiled brightly. And with her outfit that looked so refreshing, she was like a new lotus that had just come out of the water, delicate and soft.

Chapter 90 No One Is Allowed to Enter Without a Pass

Su Bei’s reply made the expression on Su Huixian’s face change slightly. She thought to herself, ‘You’re really shameless! I just invited you to show that I’m being polite, and you took it seriously?’

Du Luo’s heart skipped a beat. He couldn’t help but wonder if Su Bei was here to see him.

When Su Xingfu saw that his two daughters were talking happily, he said, “Let’s all eat together then.”

Xu Zhiqin seemed to remember something suddenly and said, “We’ve made a reservation and ordered food only for four people. If Su Bei joins us, I’m afraid there won’t be enough food. We may disappoint her. Why not invite her next time?”

Su Bei smiled. “Actually, I also have a reservation here, so I can’t really join you guys.”

As she spoke, a waiter approached her and said, “Hello, Miss Su. Nice to see you!”

Learning her lesson, Su Huixian didn’t take the initiative to respond to the name “Miss Su” this time.

Sure enough, the waiter was not referring to her because Su Bei nodded at the waiter.

Then the waiter said respectfully, “Miss Su, your reservation on the top floor is ready. Please follow me.”

Hearing the waiter’s faint words, Su Huixian felt a little uncomfortable.

This hotel had excellent cuisines, so there were always many people making reservations. It was not easy to book a table here. In fact, Su Huixian called this hotel a few days in advance just to make a reservation, but she couldn’t get a table on the top floor.

So she had no other choice but to book a table on another floor.

How did Su Bei manage to book a table on the top floor?

She looked at Su Xingfu and said, “Dad, no wonder Su Bei doesn’t want to join us for dinner. It turns out that she has a reservation on the top floor. I think only VIPs can dine on the top floor, and the private rooms there have to be reserved a month in advance.”

Su Huixian’s words were clearly insinuating that Su Bei couldn’t possibly manage to make a reservation on the top floor by herself. It was very likely that she hooked up with a rich man.

This made Su Xingfu suspicious at once.

So he said, "You go to our table first. I'll just go to the restroom."

But the truth was, he followed Su Bei into the elevator.

He would never allow her to discredit him.

If she really hooked up with a rich man, the Su family would be disgraced by her.

Knowing that Su Xingfu followed Su Bei, Su Huixian smiled with relief. No matter who Su Bei was seeing upstairs, Su Xingfu would definitely do something to separate them.

She knew that he would be furious if he caught Su Bei flirting with a man.

Even if he couldn't catch Su Bei on the act, he would still scold Su Bei.

This was a good deal for her.

Su Xingfu knew Su Huixian's plan to embarrass Su Bei. But as the head of the Su family, he had to teach Su Bei a lesson.

Otherwise, what would people think of him if he let Su Bei make trouble?

Su Xingfu followed Su Bei all the way to the top floor. But he was stopped by the security guard. "Sir, please show me your pass."

"I have a reservation downstairs. I'm just here to see a friend," he said.

"I'm sorry, sir. But no one is allowed to enter without a pass." The security guard was not swayed.

Su Xingfu didn't expect that the top floor was guarded, and it was so difficult to enter. It turned out that he needed a pass to get in there. This had made him doubt Su Bei even more.

The security guard strongly asked him to leave, so he had no other choice but to leave sulkily.

The waiter led Su Bei into a private room.

Lu Heting and the two lawyers were already inside.

She found out that the two lawyers' surnames were Tian and Zhou, and they worked for Di Xing Media Company all year round. It was an entertainment company under Lu Group, so of course, they were experienced and well-known in the legal field. They were especially good at handling contract disputes.

The lawyers were big shots in their profession, but they rarely saw Lu Heting.

So when he asked them to do something for him, they felt so honored. However, being invited by him to dinner personally to thank them was something they had never imagined.
