

Chapter 516 Good Cooperation

Ayden and Jeff were confused by the reprimand and had doubts that they couldn't follow the trend.

Was this popular this year?

Both men wanted to get some scars.

After some time, Ayden finally shook his head and said, "Forget it. We'll talk about it when Boaz comes."

At this other mention of Boaz, Trevor looked over, his eyebrows furrowed.

Was this the same Boaz he was thinking about?

If so, this man was really out of luck. He was going to teach him a good lesson once again after the incident the day before.

"Excuse me!" At this very moment, Boaz squeezed in from the crowd. "Who wants to team up with me?" he asked.

Boaz had just come in from the opposite direction of Trevor, so he didn't notice Trevor at first.

Upon hearing that familiar voice, Trevor and Luisa looked at each other and smiled.

That guy was really unlucky!

"Boaz, this way!" Ayden shouted, waving at Boaz.

Boaz squeezed his way over to Ayden. However, when he saw Trevor, his legs suddenly became weak.

Just last night, Damari gave him a hard time and then told him Trevor's true identity.

Boaz couldn't afford to annoy Trevor again as Damari would definitely break his legs and kick him out of the family!

He immediately turned around and wanted to run away. However, before he could, Trevor placed a hand on his shoulder, holding him back.

"What a coincidence! How are you doing buddy?" Trevor said with a smile. The whole thing was becoming more and more interesting.

Boaz was faced with two options, either helping his friends or avoiding offending Trevor. Of course he quickly chose the latter. Even if he were held at gunpoint today, he would help Mr. Sanderson win the competition.

However, Ayden had no idea what was going through the mind of the man they called for help.

When the beach volleyball match began, Ayden and Jeff discussed happily about how they would win the competition.

"That guy was injured. I'll spike to his position hard later. Let him suffer first!"

"Well, there's no written rule, so we can do whatever we want."

Ayden was the first to serve. After a few rounds, Jeff spiked the ball with all his might in the direction of Trevor's face.

Of course, Trevor had seen through their intentions and a sneer appeared on his face.

He had rarely played volleyball before, but thanks to the training Bradley had given him, his physical aptitudes had greatly improved. This game was therefore just a little exercise for him.

Trevor easily blocked the ball.

Getting the passing of Boaz, Trevor jumped high and struck the ball hard in the direction of Jeff's head.

Bang!

Jeff was hit hard on the head.

The blow was extremely violent, considering that Trevor was much stronger physically than Jeff.

Jeff was knocked to the ground at once.

Ayden hurried to help his friend up. Jeff shook his head, enduring the pain, and decided to continue the match.

The second ball was Boaz's serve.

Boaz was now like Trevor's henchman. He served the ball in the direction of Trevor and left it to Trevor to knock the other two out.

Trevor chose to hit Ayden with the ball. The ball came so quickly that Ayden didn't have the chance to dodge either.

After receiving a violent blow to the head, Ayden looked at Boaz gloomily. 'What's wrong with this guy today?' he wondered.

Jeff had been winking at Boaz, but Boaz pretended not to see it.

It was Jeff's turn to serve again. He thought what just happened was a fluke, so he decided to try to hit Trevor again.

This time, he struck the ball harder than the first time. However, Trevor still managed to block the attack.

The longer the competition went, the more Jeff and Ayden were hurt.

They had planned to embarrass Trevor, but they were the only ones to get hurt.

Worse still, Boaz was the one helping Trevor beat them.

Although Trevor was good at this game, Jeff and Ayden wouldn't be so humiliated if Boaz wasn't helping him.

What hurt them the most was seeing all the beautiful women around cheering everytime Trevor hit them.

However, anytime they made a serve, everyone was quiet.

Jeff and Ayden had thought that with their excellent skills and good game tactics, they would defeat Trevor.

Even if it was a little difficult, they could still win!

However, it was clear they had seriously underestimated Trevor.

After several rounds, Jeff and Ayden had been seriously hurt.

Their faces were badly bruised by the ball and they were in a lot of pain.

The game had not gone as they had expected.
Trevor had been punishing them all the time.

"Stop!"

After yet another blow to the face, Jeff couldn't take it anymore and stopped the game with a trembling voice.

Jeff and Ayden feared they would have permanent facial damage if they continued
the game.

Beyond the physical pain Trevor inflicted on them with each blow, there was the psychological torture of watching the beautiful girls cheer for Trevor each time.

Ayden picked up the ball and pulled Jeff up.

They didn't dare to stay here any longer, so they left with embarrassment.
