

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2628

Chapter 2628

Lilly: "My father has never lied to anyone."

Siena: "You also think my mother is not Rebecca, but Avery?"

"Okay, don't trust my father, don't trust the testing result, you can take your own samples and Avery's samples to Thopiavelle for inspection." Lilly said. She thought this was the only way to make Siena feel at ease, "Dad, you can do this, is it?"

Wesley: "Of course."

Now it's Siena's turn to struggle.

Doing so would be too costly.

Moreover, wouldn't it be embarrassing if the result was still the same in Thopiavelle?

After a while, Layla came.

Siena came out of the room and met Layla for the first time.

"You are Siena, right?" Layla saw Siena, strode up to her, and stretched out a hand to her, "I'm Layla, nice to meet you."

Siena didn't know what to say, so reach out and shake hands with her.

Unexpectedly, after her hand was held by Layla, her body was pulled over directly.

"Let's go out and talk! I'll treat you to dinner." Layla led Siena to the door.

Siena was taken out like a marionette.

Coming out of Wesley's house, Layla and Siena walked aimlessly along the street.

"Did you come over to have fun?" Layla asked.

Siena: "Yeah."

"You don't remember much about what happened when you were young, right?"

"I still remember Lilly. I remember what happened in G-Temple." Siena didn't know what happened when she was a child, which ones specifically.

"Then you have a good memory!" Layla boasted, "I remember clearly from when you were born to when my parents looked for you."

Siena looked at Layla, hoping she could continue.

Because Siena was very curious about how she was born and how she lived outside.

"Did no one tell you about this?" Seeing Siena's curious face, Layla asked, "Didn't the person who raised you tell you that?"

Siena shook her head: "My mother-in-law didn't even know a lot."

"Actually, I only know the general idea. My parents can tell you more details." Layla said, "My father had an older brother in Yonroeville, whom he met when he was outside. This older brother was Rebecca Jobin's father, named Kyrie Jobin. Kyrie Jobin wanted my dad to marry his daughter Rebecca Jobin, and this Rebecca Jobin also liked my dad very much. Of course my mother couldn't let my dad marry someone else, so she went to Yonroeville and found my dad, and then she got pregnant with him. In the end, you were transferred to Rebecca Jobin's stomach, but my dad and my mom didn't know."

Siena was so shocked that she couldn't say a word.

"Do you think it's ridiculous?" Layla dragged Siena into a restaurant.

It was too hot outside.

"I was removed, how could your mother not know?" Siena raised her own puzzlement.

"My mother had a tumor in her brain. She asked a classmate to operate on her. My mother was injected with anesthesia. You were removed when my mother was unconscious. It was her classmate who removed you." Layla said, "Actually, that classmate was also kind. Because of my mother's body, she was unable to conceive and have children at that time. Logically speaking, you should be aborted."
