

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2643

Chapter 2643

“Then let’s come and take a look tomorrow. If you still think it looks good tomorrow, we will buy it.” Layla wanted to show her sister more collection, try some more, and chose the one she was most satisfied with.

Hazel nodded and changed the skirt.

Coming out of the shop, Layla took Hazel to have a barbecue.

“You haven’t eaten barbecue since you came back, have you?” Layla laughed, “At this age, my parents pay more attention to health preservation. My dad has never liked hot pot and barbecue fried food. He thinks it is unhygienic, and not nutritious. His taste has always been relatively bland. Mom is a little better. Mom can eat spicy food.”

Hazel was with her parents these days, and her food was more nutritious.

She thought it’s delicious, because even light food could be delicious.

But now smelling the aroma of barbecue, the appetite was instantly opened.

“Where’s elder brother?” Hazel asked.

“Just treat your elder brother as your father. They used to be like enemies, and my elder brother hated my father very much, but now my elder brother is very much like my father in every gesture. Even my appetite is the same.” Layla laughed, “Only me and Robert are normal. We often sneak out to eat barbecue and hot pot.”

Hazel thought it was quite interesting: “Should I call my elder brother out to eat together?”

“Let’s eat together, don’t call him.” After ordering with the menu, Layla asked, “Do you want to eat ice cream? This ice cream is not bad!”

Hazel nodded without thinking, “Eating hot and cold together, will it cause diarrhea?”

Layla: “I’ve eaten here a few times, but I didn’t have any diarrhea! But maybe my stomach is better. You can eat hot pot and ice cream later.”

Hazel: “Yes.”

After ordering food, Layla pointed out the scenery outside to Hazel. “Look at that building, there is a spherical building on it.”

Hazel looked far away and saw the building Layla mentioned.

“That’s the Tate Industries.” Layla explained, “The Tate Industries was first founded by our grandfather. Our grandfather is a very powerful person, but he is also a sc*mbag. When my grandmother was pregnant with my mom, my grandfather cheated. Fortunately, when I made my will, Later, the company was owned by my mom.”

Hazel listened very carefully as if listening to a story.

“Hey, Boss Tate!” Suddenly, someone came towards them, “Boss Tate, it’s really you. I thought I was wrong!”

It was an employee of the Tate Industries.

Layla looked at them: “Why are you guys only having dinner now?”

“Just got off work,” the employee scratched his head, glanced at Hazel, then looked back at Layla, “We won’t bother you having dinner with your friend, Boss Tate.”

Layla responded.

After the employees left, Layla summoned the waiter: “I’ll charge the bill for their table.”

The waiter wrote it down and walked away.

Hazel asked: “Sister, are you familiar with them?”

Layla shook her head: “There are too many employees in the company, but I am a little familiar with them. The technical department often works overtime. In fact, I don’t encourage employees to work overtime, but some people insist We can’t make people work overtime against their will.”

Hazel nodded.

“I’m going to buy a suite nearby.” Layla quickly changed the subject, “We’ll finish shopping for clothes tomorrow, so you can go and have a look with me.”

“Okay!” Hazel asked, “Do you want to tell your parents first?”

“I’ll talk about it after I buy it.” Layla said, “Sometimes it’s better to cut it first and play it later than to report it in advance.”
