

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2685

Chapter 2685

Hazel: [Okay.]

“Who are you sending messages to?” Avery asked Hazel with a smile, “Here comes your favorite cold preserved egg.”

Hazel liked to eat preserved eggs, as well as coriander.

So when ordering just now, Avery told the waiter to put coriander in the preserved egg.

Hazel: “Send a message to my sister. My sister said she would give me a drone.”

“Oh, yes! I will teach you how to use it later.” Avery took the initiative.

“Hmm!”

In the blink of an eye, half a month passed.

Hazel had fully adapted to university life during the half month.

At 2:30 this afternoon, she went to an elective class with her classmates.

Her elective course, she chose music.

It's not that she liked music so much, but that she liked music more than art.

After entering the music classroom, she opened the music textbooks casually.

Not long after, the class bell rang.

The door of the music classroom was pushed open, and a tall man walked in.

“Ahhh!” There was a burst of exclamation in the classroom, “Eric!”

Hazel stretched out her hands to cover her ears, and looked forward at the same time.

Why was Eric there?

Hazel knew Eric, but this was the first time seeing a real person.

Eric was a very famous artist. Hazel had heard his songs and watched the TV series he acted in.

She saw that Eric stood still on the podium in front of him, and raised his hand to the audience: "Hello, everyone, because your music teacher is sick and asked for leave, so today's class is for you. Come on."

There was another burst of exclamation from the audience!

"Eric! I like you so much! I am your fan!"

"I am also your fan! Can I take a photo with you after class? It would be even better if I can get your autograph!"

.. ..

Eric: "We'll talk about it after class is over. Now let's go to class first."

Eric's eyes swept across the audience.

Because 99% of the students showed abnormal excitement, Hazel, who was relatively calm, was highlighted.

Eric's gaze stayed on Hazel's face for two seconds.

The more he looked at her, the more familiar she looked.

Originally, he wasn't going to roll the roll, but he picked up the roll reflexively.

On the roster, he suddenly saw a name that was not unfamiliar... Hazel Foster!

——Hazel Foster!

If his memory hadn't been confused, Avery and Elliot had a missing daughter named Hazel Foster.

The calmness on Eric's face was broken. He stared at the roster for a few seconds, and at the same time, it sounded in his mind that Layla had told him a few days ago that a major event had happened at home.

Could it be that this big event was...Hazel Foster's back?!

Eric originally wanted to roll the roll to confirm whether the girl in the audience was Hazel Foster.

But he took the lead in stepping down and came to Hazel.

He picked up the music textbook on Hazel's desk and opened it.

Her name was impressively written on the title page – Hazel Foster.

Chapter 2686

In the classroom, everyone was looking at Eric.

Because Eric was standing in front of Hazel, everyone's eyes fell on Hazel.

Why did Eric suddenly stop in front of Hazel?

Why did he pick up Hazel's book?

Could it be, did they know each other?

Eric quickly came back to his senses, and realized that his behavior was a little abrupt, he immediately held up the book and explained to the students: "I forgot to bring the textbook." Then he lowered his eyes and asked Hazel: "Can I borrow it?" Do I use your book?"

Hazel nodded.

After speaking, he took Hazel's book and strode towards the podium.

"Teacher, my book can also be used by you!" A female student said.

Eric: "One book is enough. Alright, let's start class."

The students sitting next to Hazel whispered to her: "I thought you knew Eric!"

Hazel smiled, shook her head.

"But my textbook is also taken out, why didn't he ask me to borrow it?" The female student sighed regretfully.

Hazel: "Maybe he just saw mine!"

"Oh... you are so lucky. There is a faint fragrance on Eric's body... your books will change in a moment...It's become fragrant."

Hazel: "..."

When Eric was lecturing on the stage, many students below secretly took out their mobile phones and secretly took pictures.

Hazel thought it was quite interesting, but she resisted the idea of secretly taking pictures with her mobile phone.

Some of Eric's music knowledge could be understood by Hazel, and some Hazel couldn't understand, but no matter whether she understood it or not, she listened very seriously.

After Eric talked for a while, he sat down in front of the piano next to him. The slender fingers danced on the keys, and pleasant notes fluttered out.

Some female students couldn't help but let out a low cry of excitement.

Eric's every move was extremely elegant.

Hazel quietly watched him playing the piano.

After the song was over, Eric invited students to play the piano.

Hazel didn't know how to play the piano, so she didn't raise her hand.

Eric invited a male student and a female student to come on stage.

The classroom atmosphere was relatively relaxed throughout, and soon, the bell rang for the end of get out of class.

"Mr. Eric! Can we take a group photo? A group photo is also fine!" The female student was afraid that Eric would leave, so she immediately asked.

The other students followed suit.

Eric took Hazel's textbook and walked up to Hazel's seat: "Thank you."

Hazel: "You're welcome."

Hazel took the book and really smelled a faint fragrance.

The scent was not overly fragrant, but it was also impossible to ignore.

This scent was a bit like the smell of sunshine.

She wanted to describe it, but she couldn't.

"Mr. Eric, please! Take a photo with us! I really like you so much!" A girl chased after Eric and begged.

Eric smiled at Hazel, then turned to take pictures with other students.

Hazel didn't go over to take pictures.

Because the podium was already full of people.

Hazel put the textbooks into her schoolbag and left the classroom.

It was strange to say that Eric's gentle smile still appeared in her mind even though she had already walked out of the classroom.

Did Mr. Eric treat everyone like this? No wonder so many people liked him.

In the evening, the driver came to the school to pick up Hazel.

After Hazel got into the car, he chatted with the driver.

"A big star came to our school today."

The driver asked, "Which big star?"

"Eric, you must have heard of it, right?"

The driver laughed when he heard Eric's name: "I've heard his name, and I've seen him before! He and your mother are friends!"

Chapter 2687

The smile on Hazel's face froze suddenly.

Eric and his mother are friends.

Then Eric asked her to borrow books today, was it possible that he recognized her?

Hazel immediately opened her schoolbag, took out her music textbook, and opened it—she patted herself on the head!

On the title page of the textbook, Eric left her a message.

Eric said he wanted to meet her privately, and he left a number on it.

This should be Eric's number.

"Please stop the car." Hazel immediately said to the driver.

The car had just been driven, not far away.

Hazel got off the car and dialed the number on the textbook.

Soon, the phone was connected, and Eric's voice came: "Hello."

"Mr. Eric, I'm sorry, I just saw what you wrote in my book." Hazel said blushing.

"Are you still in school?" Eric said with a smile.

"Well, I'm at the school gate now."

"Okay, I'll go find you. I'll be there in about ten minutes." Eric said to Hazel after checking the time.

"Okay."

After talking on the phone, Hazel saw the driver walking towards him.

"Uncle, I'll go back later."

"Oh, what's the matter?" the driver asked.

"Eric asked me to meet." Hazel couldn't hide it, so she said directly, "Don't tell my parents first. I'll see what he wants to do with me."

The driver nodded with a smile: "Okay. I won't tell anyone."

Because The driver knew that Eric was a good person, he wasn't worried that something unpleasant would happen when Hazel and Eric met.

Ten minutes later, a black car stopped in front of Hazel.

The car window fell, and Eric's face appeared in front of Hazel.

"Hazel, I'll treat you to dinner." Eric said.

This point was dinner time, and there were students everywhere outside.

In order to avoid unnecessary trouble, Eric didn't get out of the car.

After he sent out the dinner invitation, Hazel readily agreed.

Hazel opened the door of the passenger seat and got into the car.

After the car drove out, The driver immediately drove to keep up.

"The car behind is my driver." Hazel explained to Eric.

Eric smiled and said, "I've seen him."

"Oh...I didn't know you and my mother were friends!"

"I see. I only saw you after seeing that my guess was your parents brought you back." Eric was in a good mood, "Your parents didn't tell me about it."

"Maybe it's because I told my parents not to tell too much about it." Hazel tried to find love for Eric.

"It's better to keep a low profile. Otherwise, you won't be able to go to school well."

"Well, Mr. Eric, can I tell my parents about the dinner I had with you?" Hazel asked, "I'll be late when I go back later, Mom will ask me."

In fact, Hazel could choose to lie, saying that something happened at school, but Hazel didn't want to lie to her mother.

"Of course. I'll call your mother now." Eric said, put on the bluetooth headset, and dialed Avery.

The call got through quickly.

"Aery, I met Hazel today. I'll take her to dinner now, is that okay?" Eric confessed.

Avery was very surprised: "How did you meet?"

"I came to Nantah University today to help a friend take a class, and it happened that Hazel took this class. I saw her name, so I recognized her." Eric replied.

"That's such a coincidence." Avery also smiled, "As long as she agrees to have dinner with you, it's fine."

"Well. She's in my car now. After dinner, I'll take her back home."

"Okay."

After talking on the phone, Eric took off his earphones.

Chapter 2688

"I made an appointment with your mother.

“Mr. Eric, do you specialize in teaching now?”

Eric said with a smile: “I am retired now, and teaching is just a small hobby of mine. There are not many classes every week.”

“Oh, what a coincidence today!”

Eric didn't take music class, if the teacher didn't ask for leave, then she and Eric wouldn't be able to see each other.

“Indeed. Today is such a coincidence. When I saw your name in the textbook, I thought I was dreaming.” Having said that, Eric asked, “When did you return to Foster's house?”

Hazel: “Just this summer vacation.”

Eric: “How are you getting along with your family?”

Hazel: “Yes. They love me very much. They treat me very well.”

Eric asked again: “How are you getting along with your older brothers and sisters?”

“I stayed at home for a while! The second brother Robert and sister Layla are also very kind to me. Everyone is very kind to me.”

“That's good. Your parents must be very happy! They have found you. They never gave up on you.” Eric could almost imagine how happy Elliot and Avery would be.

“I'm so lucky to be their daughter. In the future, I must be filial to them.” Hazel said with emotion.

“You are very sensible. Why did you choose to study at Nantah University?”

“I liked a host very much before. I just didn't know what major to study, so I wanted to learn broadcasting and hosting. Nantah University is a better major, so I came here.”

Eric: “Quite assertive.”

Hazel: “The main reason is that my parents are more open-minded, and they respect my ideas.”

When Hazel talked about this, she was still very grateful, “At first they wanted me to go to the school of my second brother Robert, and to be in the same school as my second brother.”

Eric: “Well, if you go to school here alone, your parents will definitely be worried.”

Hazel: "I go home after school every day. They are not as worried as before."

"What do you want to eat?" Eric asked.

"Whatever! I'm not picky eaters. I can eat anything." Hazel looked at the scenery outside.

The car drove all the way from the suburbs to the bustling area, and Eric finally parked the car in front of a barbecue restaurant.

"How about eating barbecue?"

"Yes!" Hazel replied with a smile, "Mr. Eric, your skin is so good, I thought you usually eat very light!"

Eric blushed when she praised him.

After the two entered the barbecue restaurant, they asked for a private room.

Eric must have been here before, so he didn't even look at the menu and started ordering directly.

"Do you really have no taboos?" After Eric ordered the meal, he confirmed with Hazel again.

"I can eat anything. My sister is allergic to peanuts, but I don't seem to have any allergies..." Hazel thought it might have something to do with her rough life since she was a child.

"You also know that your sister is allergic to peanuts." Eric smiled.

"I know! My sister and I have a very good relationship." After Hazel finished speaking, the phone rang.

It's Layla.

Layla went home for dinner tonight. She had waited for Hazel to come back to eat together, but Hazel didn't come back.

When Layla asked Avery why Hazel hadn't come back, Avery hesitated and said nothing.

Layla thought it was too suspicious, so a video call was sent to Hazel.

"My sister is here to make a video call for me." Hazel picked up the phone, said to Eric, and then answered the video call, "Sister."

“Little sister, why haven’t you come back yet? Are you missing tonight? Class? I bought something nice to show you, when will you come back?” After finishing speaking, Layla saw that Hazel seemed to be outside, so she asked, “Where are you? A barbecue restaurant?”

Layla saw posters on the wall of the private room.

Hazel responded, and confessed honestly: “Sister, I have a music class today, and the teacher is Mr.Eric. I am with him now, and he treats me to dinner.”

Layla heard Eric’s name, her face was full of tears. The relaxed expression disappeared.

“He invited you to eat barbecue? Why didn’t he call me?” Layla said deliberately.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2689

Chapter 2689

Layla: “Send you the location.”

“Forget it! They didn’t call me.”

Eric heard Layla’s unhappy tone, so he reached out to Hazel for a cell phone.

Hazel didn’t think much, and immediately handed the phone to Eric.

“Hazel and I ate near her school, and you’re quite far. So I didn’t call you.” Eric patiently explained.

“Why are you inviting my sister to dinner?” Layla said with a needle in her voice, “My sister doesn’t know you at all and she doesn’t know about the two of us...”

Hazel heard her sister’s words.

After the sentence, She immediately had a melon-eating expression on her face.

Sister and Mr. Eric...had a story?

“I just invited your sister to dinner, I didn’t talk nonsense to her.” Eric blushed, a little embarrassed, so he changed the subject, “Have you eaten yet?”

“No! But I-I’m going to eat. Hang up.” Layla hung up the video call.

Eric returned the phone to Hazel.

Hazel took the phone and put it on the table, feeling uneasy.

Before knowing these things, Hazel was quite calm, but now she felt weird.

“Your sister and I... are not what you think... I watched her grow up, so I have a good relationship with her.” Eric bit the bullet and forcefully explained.

“Oh, you guys have a good relationship, but my sister didn’t tell you that I’m back at Foster’s house.” Hazel broke down.

Eric was even more embarrassed.

At this time, the waiter pushed the dining car in and put the dishes they ordered aside.

Eric picked up the juice jug and poured juice for Hazel.

At this time, the screen of Hazel’s phone lit up.

Layla sent a message: [What did he tell you? you can send me a live message to tell me.]

Hazel: [OK. He just said that you two have a good relationship.]

Layla: [Huh.]

Hazel: [Sis, do you like him?]

Layla: [Mmm. I confessed to him and he rejected me. In order to make me give up, he quickly found a girlfriend.]

Hazel: [That’s too bad.]

Layla: [Please help me and ask him and his girlfriend what’s going on.]

Hazel: [OK.]

Eric saw Hazel keep sending messages, but didn’t say anything.

He could guess who she was messaging.

“Mr. Eric, When do you and your girlfriend plan to get married?” Hazel put down her phone and asked obediently.

Eric: “Your sister asked you to ask?”

Hazel took a sip of juice from the juice cup: “hmm.”

“Hazel, go back and persuade your sister not to be too horny.” Eric didn’t answer the question, but said earnestly, “I’m too different from her, it’s not suitable.”

“What’s the difference?” Hazel could feel that her sister liked Eric very much, so she wanted to find out why thing.

“Age gap.”

“Oh...you can’t tell! You look quite young.” Hazel stared at Eric for a while, then said with a smile.

“Your parents won’t allow me to be with her. I don’t want to see her falling out with the family because of this.”

“Okay, I will persuade her when I go back.” Hazel said in a low voice, “I don’t think the age gap is a problem.”

“I don’t have a good relationship with your father.” Eric said the deeper reason, “Your mother saved my life. At that time, your father and your mother often quarreled. I don’t want to see your mother suffer, so I want to protect her. Maybe my way is too clumsy; your father regards me as a rival in love, and I also regard him as an enemy.”
