

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2694

Chapter 2694

Lucas's face naturally appeared in Hazel's mind. She should like him! Otherwise, she wouldn't have gone to Eozambiulle, or his school. Even she couldn't meet him, but she would still feel satisfied to see his school environment.

"Sister...I..." Of course Hazel would not say this to Layla, after all, she and Lucas might never see each other again.

"Why are you still blushing? I'm sorry? Is it because you haven't met a boy you like? Or a boy who has a crush, are you embarrassed to tell me?" Layla asked, and looked at Hazel with an expression of someone who had experienced it, "It's okay, from now on you will meet better ones. There should be many excellent boys in your university, right?"

Hazel nodded: "There should be, but I don't know them. I don't want to know them either. I just want to study hard now."

"Do you really enjoy studying?" Layla asked.

Hazel nodded again: "I like it very much. And I have many shortcomings. I want to make myself better."

As for Layla, she grew up, no matter what she liked, there were professional people who taught her one-on-one, so she learned everything very quickly. She didn't feel that she had many shortcomings like Hazel.

Even in the face of things that Layla didn't know, she just had the idea of 'I will learn it soon'.

Hazel: "Sister, every time I enter your room and see so many trophies and certificates of honor in the display cabinet in your room, I admire you so much!"

"Hahaha! That's meaningless. I like that crystal display case, so I bought it back. I didn't know what to put in the cabinet after I bought it, so I put those things in it." Layla said. After finished talking she turned around, and said, "Do you like that cabinet? Do you want me to give you one?"

Hazel scratched her head: "That cabinet is very nice, but I don't need it. I don't have a trophy in it."

Layla: "It doesn't have to be a trophy, you can also put your trinkets! Anyway, you can put it in the room for you to see, and you can put it in whatever you want. If you like, you can put it in underwear or socks, hahaha!"

Layla's words made Hazel burst into laughter.

"Then I'll order one for you! Didn't you find that our sisters have the same preferences? I'll buy you one for whatever I buy in the future." Layla's words made Hazel's cheeks dry.

The next day, Layla took a flight to Bridgedale.

She went to Bridgedale this time, but she didn't tell her family.

Only Mike and Chad knew.

She told them both not to tell anyone about her whereabouts.

Because this trip was relatively short, she will return to Aryadelle within a few days.

After arriving in Bridgedale, Layla lived in Mike's house.

This made it easier for her to communicate with Chad about the decoration of her sister's house.

"Layla, do you have other things to do when you come to Bridgedale?" Mike prepared a sumptuous lunch for Layla.

"Is it so easy to see?" Layla raised her eyebrows.

"Because you didn't tell your parents. You usually tell your parents what you do." Mike held the red wine glass and shook it lightly, "tell me, what do you want to do when you come here this time. Can I help you?"

Chad interjected: "Don't worry about the soft furnishings, since you have no objection to the renderings, then I will customize according to the renderings."

Layla naturally had no doubts about the abilities of the two of them, but she was still a little embarrassed to tell her private affairs.

"Since you are embarrassed to speak, let me guess." Mike took a sip of red wine and looked at Chad, "Does that Eric's girlfriend work in Bridgedale?"

Chad held back his smile and replied: "Yes! As far as I know, she has been in Bridgedale all this time!"

Layla covered her face with her hands, but they guessed it all at once.

Chapter 2695

“Okay, don’t be embarrassed. If you want to find Maggie, go find her! What’s the matter? you won’t tell your parents.” Mike laughed, “Eric didn’t know you came to Bridgedale, did he?”

“I don’t need to tell Eric about my own itinerary.” Layla took the knife and wanted to cut the beef, “Do you know where Maggie works?”

“You can find the details of her working place online. How about I accompany you there?” Mike picked up his phone and helped her look it up.

“No need. I’ll go there by myself.”

“Okay, take a good rest today, and go to her tomorrow!” Mike looked at Layla face and joked, “you’ve been on the plane for so long, you’re ashamed.”

Layla: “I want to figure it out and go back quickly. If my parents find out the real reason for my running here, they will definitely be very disappointed.”

“It’s not disappointing. It’s just going to make trouble!” Mike held a fork and put the beef in his mouth, he chewed it, “Your father hates Eric, just like he hated me at the beginning. Your dad doesn’t treat me much better now than Eric did when I didn’t get along with Chad. Your dad can hold grudges.”

Layla: “Uncle Mike, don’t say that about my dad.”

Mike: “What I mean is that your Dad will go crazy if you really want to be with Eric.”

Layla: “...”

After lunch, Layla drove Mike’s car to the research institute where Maggie worked.

When she arrived at the institute, it was already 4 o’clock in the afternoon.

The receptionist asked her if she had an appointment, she said no.

Seeing her extraordinary temperament, the receptionist felt that she was not an ordinary person, so she contacted Maggie’s assistant for her.

“Miss, what’s your name?” The receptionist asked Layla, holding the receiver.

“Layla.” After Layla said her name, her heart began to beat faster.

She was not familiar with Maggie, but they both know each other’s existence.

Maggie wanted to meet Layla as soon as she heard her name.

Sure enough, after the receptionist gave Layla's name, within ten minutes, Maggie came out in casual clothes.

"Hi! Layla, why are you here?" Maggie greeted her with a smile.

Layla smiled: "I'm here for something. I heard you work here, so I stopped by to visit."

"Haha! I'm quite surprised that you came to see me. Let me treat you to dinner!" Maggie took Layla out.

Layla: "I'm not hungry."

"How about coffee?" Maggie asked.

Layla: "Alright."

"There is a coffee shop near our research institute. I go there for coffee almost every day." Maggie took Layla over, "You came to see me, what is the matter?"

Maggie noticed that Layla's heart wanted to say some things even if she doesn't say it.

Maggie was also older than Layla, and her mind was clearer and more sensitive than hers.

"Have you always been this direct?" Layla asked jokingly.

"Yes. Does my way of speaking make you feel uncomfortable?" Maggie tilted her head and looked at Layla.

Layla shook her head: "Miss Maggie, I'm here... Actually, I came here on a special trip to find you. After you and Eric made it public, you have been working in Bridgedale and he has been in Aryadelle. Are you two really in love?"

"Hahaha! Does Eric know that you are looking for me?" Maggie asked without answering.

"I don't know. I couldn't find an answer from him, so I came to ask you. I always feel that the two of you are not in love." Layla said in her heart, "Miss Maggie, I hope you don't lie to me."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2696

Maggie curiously asked: "You asked Eric, how did he answer you?"

"He told me I shouldn't worry about his business." Layla felt that Eric didn't answer directly because he didn't want to tell the truth and didn't want to lie.

"Oh. What do you think about the relationship between me and him?" Maggie wanted to hear Layla's thoughts. She felt that Layla probably guessed it, so she made this special trip.

"I don't think you two are in a relationship. If you two are really in a relationship, it's impossible for him not to tell me before he made an official announcement. Miss Maggie, before I confessed to him, I asked him if he had a girlfriend. I-I only confessed to him on the premise of confirming that he has no dating partner." Layla said her analysis.

"Oh...that's indeed a bit of a flaw!" Maggie laughed.

"Miss Maggie, what do you mean?" Layla was confused, "Are you admitting that the two of you are not really talking? He asked you to help play his girlfriend?"

"Layla, if you got an affirmative answer, what do you want to do?" Maggie asked curiously, "As far as I know, your parents probably won't accept Eric. If you insist on doing what you want, you will make Eric very uncomfortable."

"I will solve the problem by myself, and I will not let Eric face my parents alone." Layla said firmly, "Miss Maggie, can you answer my question first?"

Maggie's face turned pale for a while.

It's too late to call or send a message to Eric to ask what to do now.

Layla came here specially to block her answer.

Maggie: "It's exactly what you think. I like Eric very much, but he doesn't like me. To be more precise, he regards me as a good friend. So he asked me to do this."

Layla got this answer, and it didn't take long. Unexpectedly, but with reproach: "Isn't he afraid of delaying your search for a partner? He came up with such a bad idea."

"I'm not in a hurry to get married." Maggie smiled, "At my age, I'm not in a hurry anymore. If I can meet the right person, I will get married. If I can't meet the right person, I will live on my own."

Layla: "Then you two are a bit similar. I don't think he is in a hurry."

Maggie: "Because he doesn't want to settle down."

“Miss Maggie, thank you for telling me so frankly.” Layla said gratefully, “Will he blame you if he knows?”

Maggie shook her head: “No way. Even if I didn’t tell you, wouldn’t you have guessed it?”

Layla: “Well. I guessed it a long time ago. He can’t hide it from me.”

Soon, the two walked to the coffee shop.

“Miss Maggie, let me buy coffee!”

Maggie: “Okay! If you can convince your parents, I will still congratulate you.”

“It’s very difficult.” Layla didn’t dare to be 100% sure, “But I still want to try my best. I can’t give up.”

Maggie: “It seems really hard.”

Layla: “Isn’t there a saying that ‘nothing is difficult in this world, as long as you are willing to give up’”

“It makes sense. I also want to learn this spirit.” Maggie said.

“Miss Maggie, you are so good, there are many men chasing you, right?”

Maggie: “Yes! I fell in love with Eric at first sight. When we were on a blind date, because of some misunderstandings, he didn’t see me, but I saw him. He’s so dazzling! After I’ve seen him, it’s hard to catch my eye when I look at other men.”

Layla: “Yeah.”

“Have you ever been in love?” Maggie asked.

Layla shook her head.

“It’s really rare. It stands to reason that there should be more and better suitors around you, but you have never been in a relationship.” Maggie sighed.

Layla: “The reason is very simple. I like mature men, but the people around me are basically people of the same age.”

After drinking coffee, Layla and Maggie returned to Mike’s residence, and then began to buy air tickets back home.

Mike: "Can't you stay with me for one more day? It's hard to come here, and you're going to leave without sleeping?"

Mike wanted to stay with Layla.

Chapter 2697

But Layla's heart had already flown back to Aryadelle.

"I'll come to play for a few more days next time. I came secretly this time. Now that the matter is settled, I'd better go back." Layla said energetically.

Because she got a satisfactory answer from Maggie, she didn't feel sleepy at all.

After Maggie parted ways with Layla, she told Eric about the meeting.

Eric had a severe headache.

Layla was so impulsive!

Now that she knew the truth, what would she do?

Eric looked at the screen of his mobile phone, and his breathing gradually became short of breath.

Layla didn't look for him. Did Layla want to go back to Aryadelle and look for him again?

Now that Layla was in Bridgedale, there was nothing she could do if she was in a hurry.

They could only wait for Layla to return home.

It was evening when Layla came home from the airport.

The length of Layla's Journey was twenty hours and she was very sleepy now, but she didn't sleep well on the plane, so after returning home, she looked very haggard.

Seeing her daughter's appearance, Avery immediately pulled her back.

"Baby, what's wrong with you? You look so bad, did you not sleep?"

"Mom, I'm going to sleep more now... When I have sound sleep, I'll let you know." Layla said, and walked upstairs by herself.

After Layla went upstairs, Elliot and Robert walked over.

“My sister looks like a thief.” Robert said, “I haven’t seen her sleep like this before.”

Elliot asked Avery: “What did my daughter just say?”

“She said she will tell me after she sleeps.” Avery said, still worried, so she found her mobile phone and called the vice president of the company to ask if something happened to the company.

at upstairs.

After Layla went back to her room, she went to bed with her clothes on.

Shortly after she fell asleep, her phone screen lit up. Mike sent a message asking if she would return to Aryadelle. It’s a pity that Layla has fallen asleep and cannot reply.

Downstairs, Avery finished the phone call with the vice president, and said to Elliot: “The vice president said that everything in the company is normal. But Layla didn’t go to the company yesterday and today. The vice president told me secretly, and asked me not to tell Layla.”

Elliot frowned: “...So where has my daughter been these two days?”

Avery looked at Robert: “Do you know where your sister has been these two days?”

Robert shook his head: “Since my younger sister came back home, my older sister tells her everything, even though she used to not want to talk to me.”

Avery immediately went upstairs to find Hazel.

When Hazel heard that Layla was back, she immediately wanted to find her.

“Your sister is asleep. I just went to her room to take a look. She fell asleep without taking off her shoes. I guess he hasn’t slept in two days.” Avery sighed, “Did she tell you where she went these two days?”

Hazel wanted to keep a secret for her sister, but she didn’t dare to lie to her mother at all.

Seeing her daughter’s hesitation, Avery immediately smiled and said: “It seems that what Robert said is true, your sister will tell you everything now. Don’t worry and tell your mother! Your sister said to tell me when she woke up. now I’m too worried to ask you.”

“My sister went to find Mr.Eric’s girlfriend.” Hazel thought about it, and told the truth,
“Mom, don’t be angry with my sister, okay? I don’t want to see you quarreling.”

Avery smiled, but after hearing this, Elliot, who was behind Avery, had a gloomy expression on his face.
