

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2706

Chapter 2706

Layla watched the message edited by Hazel beside her, and couldn't laugh or cry.

"I'm choked up after reading your message, you male classmate is probably going to be scared to death."

Hazel: "He always said that his family is rich, and he also said that his family requires a good family, so the way to make him give up is to pretend to be poor."

Layla gave a thumbs up: "You have a good idea. But will he spread it in the school then?"

"It's better to let everyone know! This will save a lot of unnecessary social interaction and trouble." After Hazel sent the message, she saw that the other party had been typing, but no message came.

The other party must be very entangled at the moment.

Hazel put her phone in her pocket, took Layla's hand and walked towards the gate of the community.

"Sister, let's go shopping for a while!" Hazel hadn't been shopping since she went to school.

"Walking around?" Layla said, "if you want to go shopping, you have to go back to pick up the car."

"If we want to go to the city center, we can take a taxi." Hazel said, "There is also a small commercial center near our community, and you can go there for a stroll."

Layla: "Okay! Then let's walk! I didn't have much energy at home, but I felt better after going out for a walk."

Hazel: "When I'm bored at home, I always think about unhappy things, so I tend to be listless. Go outside and get more fresh air Exercising more in the air and meeting new friends can improve your mood."

Layla: "Little sister, you are my little padded jacket."

Hazel: "Sister, I hope you are happy every day."

Layla: "I will."

Two days later.

Layla went home for dinner and told her family about her upcoming business trip.

“The Northland is so far away, and I remember the temperature over there is very cold.” Avery heard that her daughter was going on a business trip to the Northland, and she frowned, “It’s probably snowing over there this season.”

Elliot had already taken out his phone and take a look at the weather in the Northland.

“It’s snowing indeed.” Elliot said, “Just let the people below go.”

Layla: “I’ve decided to go by myself. I stay at the company every day, and I’m a little bored.”

Avery understood that her daughter mood wasn’t good, so she wanted to go to a distant place to relax.

“Since you’ve made up your mind, let’s go! It’s cold over there, so you have to bring thicker clothes.” Avery said, “The temperature over there is not as cold as usual. I’ll go shopping with you after dinner to get some clothes!”

“There is heating in the room over there. I’ll just get off the plane and go to the clothing store over there to buy clothes.” Layla has already planned everything, “Mom, I’m not a child anymore. I can handle it well. Don’t worry.”

“Well, I’m just worried that you’ll be frozen. How uncomfortable it would be if you get sick outside! The medical conditions there are not as good as in Aryadelle.” Avery expressed her worries.

“I didn’t go alone. I have three companions with me! We go out together and look out for one another.” Layla said.

“Sister, you went over there and took pictures of the snow scene for me!” Hazel said, “I like snow very much.”

“Haha! I like it too. If I think it’s fun to go this time, then I’ll wait until you have a holiday next time, I’ll take you there to play again.” Layla said with a smile.

“Okay!” Hazel happily responded.

Robert sighed: “Sister, do you still remember my younger brother?”

Layla raised her eyes and glared at Robert: “You want to go too?”

"I'll go if you call me! Where am I to go if you don't call?" Robert said sadly, "When the time comes, you can take my little sister, and I can go together and take pictures for you two!"

Robert's proposal made Hazel nod her head.

Seeing her sister nodding, Layla said kindly to Robert, "We'll see how you behave then."

"Sister, did you sell the drone to the Northern Country?" After eating, Hazel went to her sister's side, ask.

"Yes! In actuality, the market in Bregon City is sizable. Therefore, I value our cooperation greatly. I'll visit Bregon in person even if there isn't any snow." Layla explained to Hazel.

Hazel: "I saw the reaction of my parents just now, and thought you wanted to go out to relax because you were in a bad mood!"

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2707

Chapter 2707

Layla: "Before, I hardly ever went on business trips. My parents did not want me to be overly worn out. I previously gave them a lot of attention. But as I sit here and reflect, how can I possibly be afraid of difficulty and exhaustion at work? Life for me cannot be like this, not just at work. I need to step outside of the safe haven my parents have provided for me if I want to improve."

Hazel nodded fiercely, expressing her agreement with what Layla said.

At night, before going to bed, Layla posted a circle of friends.

She sent a picture of the snow scene in the Northland, and a ticket to the Northland, with the attached text: Looking forward to this trip to the Northland.

After posting to Moments, Layla fell asleep.

Because there was only one flight to the Northland a day.

The only flight left at 7 o'clock in the morning.

That meant Layla had to be at the airport by six tomorrow morning.

It was about an hour's drive from Foster's house to the airport.

So at 5 o'clock in the morning, she had to go out.

She had to get up at least 4:30 in the morning in order to leave at 5 o'clock.

That didn't include breakfast time.

She rarely got up so early, so she kept thinking about it.

She controlled herself not to play with her mobile phone, but her sleep was still poor.

She woke up a few times during the night, stayed awake for a while, and then went back to sleep. Last but not least, until the phone alarm clock went off.

She lifted the quilt as if relieved, sat up, and turned on the light in the room.

When turning off the alarm clock, she saw a message from Eric.

He asked her what she'd do when she moved to the Northland. And reminded her that the temperature in the Northland was very low now.

After Layla replied 'on business trip', she put down her phone and went to wash up.

At 6 o'clock, Layla arrived at the airport and met her colleagues who were on a business trip.

After completing all procedures, the four of them waited in the VIP waiting room.

"Boss, didn't your family send you here?"

"I didn't ask them to. I got up at 4:30, so it's unnecessary to ask them to wake up early." Layla bought coffee and steamed buns. She wasn't very hungry, but she knew that drinking coffee on an empty stomach can cause stomach pains, so she took a steamed bun and ate it one bite at a time.

The assistant was dumbfounded: "Boss, you eat like this, aren't you afraid of choking?"

Layla: "Don't you think this steamed bun is a bit small?"

The assistant couldn't help but laugh: "Boss, is there no one you care about here? You don't pay attention to your own image at all."

Layla: "I'm the only one who picks men, and it's not my turn to pick me."

So she could eat one steamed bun if she wanted, and if she wanted to eat two, it wouldn't hurt her.

“Boss, you are so domineering! I adore you more and more.”

“Stop flattering me. I didn’t sleep well last night, and I’m so sleepy now.” After finishing eating, Layla started to drink coffee.

With uncontrollable fingers, she took out the phone from the bag to see if Eric replied to the message.

After she sent ‘business trip’, Eric did not reply.

Yes, Eric probably hadn’t woken up yet; it’s only half past six.

She suddenly saw a news on the screen.

The title caught her attention — Can men and women who are unable to be lovers become friends again?

She clicked on the news and read it carefully —

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2708

Chapter 2708

— The heroine in the article deleted all the contact information of the man who could not be a lover, making him completely disappear in her own world.

The conclusion is that in this world, men and women, or women and men, are born with intentions. If you can’t be a lover, then you will say goodbye. Empty your heart, so that you can better meet the real Prince Charming.

After reading it, Layla was a little lost.

She was not the kind of person who would be led by the nose by other people’s ideas casually.

It’s the relationship between her and Eric, if it was not completely broken, it would be difficult for her to get out.

She knew herself too well!

How could she forget Eric and begin a new relationship when he was still in her address book and would still care about her as long as she continued to post on Moments?

But if she wanted to completely end her relationship with Eric, she had to make an agreement with Eric.

Otherwise, if she unilaterally deleted Eric, Eric would be able to contact her.

She knew that if she told Eric not to contact or meet again in the future, then she would never see Eric again in the rest of her life.

“Boss, we are going to board the plane!” The assistant’s reminder brought Layla’s thoughts back to reality.

It took 18 hours to fly from Aryadelle to Northland.

Layla had never been to the Northland because the flight there was too long.

She would feel extremely exhausted if she flew for more than 12 hours.

She visited Bridgedale several times a year and had travelled to numerous countries, the majority of which were close to Aryadelle.

This business trip to the Northland was the first time she strictly traveled by herself, because she didn’t let the bodyguards at home follow her.

Bodyguards had to be hired in Bregon, and they were to pick her up at the airport.

Nantah University.

Since Hazel told the male classmate with glasses last time that his family owed debts, the male classmate didn’t look for her for two days.

Because of the same major, they still took the same class occasionally.

This semester had already chosen a class time, and there was no way to change it, so Hazel had no choice but to avoid it.

But this male classmate didn’t contact Hazel these two days, so Hazel didn’t think about anything else.

After the afternoon classes, Hazel planned to go back to the house her parents bought for her.

Because there were classes in the evening.

At nine o’clock in the evening, the class for today would end. So it’s too late to go back.

While tidying up the books, a male classmate wearing glasses came over.

“Hazel, I have thought a lot these two days. I want to talk to you alone.”

The female classmate sitting next to Hazel immediately asked Hazel with a smile: “Do you have a problem with this classmate, Hazel?”

Without even thinking about it, Hazel replied: “I don’t know this male classmate. Last time he asked my number and chased me all the way. I was really annoyed, so I told him the number.”

The male classmate was embarrassed.

After the last chat, Hazel didn’t have anything to say to this male classmate, but unexpectedly he came again.

She also worries that if she didn’t make it clear to her female classmate, rumours about her chatting this male classmate would spread quickly.

“Hazel, I’m a little sad when you say that.” The male classmate looked aggrieved, “We added friends and chatted...”

“I have already removed your contact information. You should delete my contact information.” Hazel tidied up her books and started walking with her schoolbag on her back.

The male classmate was very uninterested and followed her out of the classroom.

Hazel took a deep breath, remembering what her sister said to herself last time.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2709

Chapter 2709

“Can you stop following me? If you follow me like last time again, I will tell the school security department.” Hazel said the ugly words first.

The male classmate was stunned for a moment, he didn’t expect Hazel’s attitude to be so indifferent this time.

“Then let’s talk here!” The male classmate pushed his glasses on the bridge of his nose, “Are you angry that I didn’t reply to your message last time? This is the first time I have encountered this situation, and I don’t know how to reply. I’ve made up my mind in two days, so I want to make it clear to you face to face.”

“Don’t act like we know each other very well, okay? I don’t want to be friends with you, nor do ordinary friends.” Hazel fully expressed her attitude Afterwards, the male classmate looked unacceptable.

“It seems that I did not reply to your message, so you are angry.” The male classmate seemed to be talking to himself, “I want to say that we can get along first, and the debts your family owes, and then slowly find a way to solve it.”

His words could be interpreted to mean that she should not worry about whether or not her family is in debt. They were the first to fall in love, but they did not get married.

After all, he’s still in college, so it’s too early to talk about marriage.

“If you are my girlfriend, I can pay for your college living expenses.” What The male classmate said made Hazel turn her face in anger.

Hazel: “You say one more word, and I’ll call the teacher right away to tell the teacher that you harassed me!”

After Hazel said this, the male classmate shut up.

Hazel’s attitude was already very obvious.

She didn’t want to see him anymore.

How could she not look down on the conditions he offered if it was the pursuit of the opposite s-e-x with better terms?

Living expenses at school cost at least three or two thousand a month, and he could spend four to five thousand a month for her.

Not far away, a middle-aged man secretly photographed the scene just now and sent it to Elliot.

The middle-aged man who took the photo was Mr. Cooper, the driver.

Mr. Cooper told Elliot about Hazel being pestered by a male classmate last time.

Although Hazel said at the time not to tell Elliot about this, but Mr. Cooper thought about it for a while. If something happened to Hazel at school, Elliot would blame him and he would not be able to bear the responsibility.

So Mr. Cooper quietly told Elliot about it.

After Elliot found out, he asked Mr. Cooper to come to the school every day to keep an eye on him.

Hazel didn’t go back to Foster’s house today, so she didn’t know that Mr. Cooper came to school.

Mr. Cooper followed Hazel all the way back to the community, and he was relieved when he saw her enter the unit building.

Foster family.

Elliot frowned because of the photo sent by Mr. Cooper.

He had expected that Hazel would be pursued by the opposite s-e-x at school.

After all, his daughter was beautiful and gentle, who wouldn't like it?

If it was an ordinary pursuit that was rejected without entanglement, of course he would not intervene.

Like the boy in the photo, Hazel has already rejected him, but he still continued to pester Hazel and make Hazel so angry, Elliot couldn't sit idly by!

He had sent someone to investigate the boy's family details.

This boy's family ran a cannery.

"I've never seen Hazel so angry." Avery saw the photo on Elliot's phone beside him.

"This boy must have said something too much, otherwise Hazel wouldn't be so angry. His family didn't educate him well, so his parents are also responsible." Elliot said this, which meant that he would take action.

Avery knew him too well.

"Elliot, don't go too far! Just teach that boy a little lesson, don't be serious. After all, he is Hazel's classmate, and they will meet again in the future. If you do too much, I'm afraid that boy will go to extremes." Avery expressed her worries, "Hazel didn't tell us about this, because she didn't want to make a big fuss."

"I know." Elliot took his phone and sent a message to his assistant to give orders.

He had a sense of proportion.