

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2734

Chapter 2734

Aryadelle.

Hazel didn't know the news of Layla's accident until she came home from school at night.

When Avery and Elliot flew to Bregon at noon, they forgot to tell Hazel because they were in a hurry.

Not only didn't tell Hazel, but also didn't tell Robert.

Robert saw the news about the avalanche in Bregon from the Internet.

After seeing the news at that time, he immediately called Layla, but the call was not connected.

He sent a message to Layla again, but she didn't reply.

He was really disturbed, so he called Avery but her phone was turned off!

Robert couldn't sit still anymore, so he called Elliot immediately but he couldn't get through on the phone either.

Robert was scared and cried at that time.

This was the first time he had been unable to get through to his parents at the same time since he was a child.

If it wasn't for Layla's accident, he couldn't think of why his parents would shut down at the same time.

With tears in his eyes, Robert dialed Hayden's number. Fortunately, the phone was connected.

But when Hayden answered the phone, he also planned to turn off the phone. Because he was going to board the plane.

When Hazel returned home, Robert told her the news of Layla's accident with a sad face.

"Mom and Dad didn't tell me..." Hazel couldn't accept the news, so she lowered her head and took out her phone to see if she had missed any important news.

“Mom and Dad didn’t tell me either. After they got the news, they should have flown to Bregon as soon as possible. It will take us 18 hours to go to Bregon. They should still be on the plane now.” Robert’s eyes were red and his voice was also a little hoarse.

“Second brother, are you sure something happened to our sister?” Hazel felt dizzy, almost unable to stand still.

“It should be certain. Otherwise, mom, dad and elder brother won’t go to Bregon. I checked the flight, and there is a flight to Bregon tomorrow morning. Do you want to go with me?” Robert asked.

Hazel nodded without thinking, “Second brother, I’ll go with you.”

Robert hugged his sister: “Sister, I’m really sad.”

“Second brother, I am too.” Hazel hugged him tightly. Looking at the second brother, her heart was in a mess, “Why did the avalanche suddenly happen? Is there no treatment? I don’t want my sister to have an accident...”

Layla was not only Hazel’s sister, but also her best friend.

She could tell her sister anything, and her sister treated her without reservation.

If she was to miss her sister... Just thinking about it made her feel as if someone was pinching her neck, making it difficult to breathe.

“I checked and found that avalanches are natural disasters, and there are no preventive measures. The news said that such a serious avalanche has not happened over there for more than ten years.” Robert was distraught, “When I have money in the future, I will just like my brother, buy a private jet by yourself.”

Hazel let go of Robert, not understanding why he said this suddenly.

“Dad has a private jet, and he and mom went to Bregon today in the family’s private jet. My brother also bought a private jet in Bridgedale. My brother also went to Bregon in a private jet. A relatively remote country like Bregon. We do not have a flight whenever we want to go, if we have our own private jet, then we can leave now.” Robert was so anxious that he wished to fly to the Northland immediately.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2735

Chapter 2735

It’s a pity that the two private jets at home had flown away.

“Second brother, like you, I really want to go there immediately. But since there is only a flight tomorrow morning, let’s go tomorrow morning!” Hazel comforted.

“I can’t calm down.” Robert originally had classes in the evening, but he asked for leave.

After he came back, he started to pack his luggage. After packing his luggage, the maid called him to have dinner, but he was not in the mood to eat.

“Second brother, I know you have a very deep relationship with our sister. Let me talk to you!” Hazel said thoughtfully.

The maid stood by and reminded: “Hazel, come and have dinner with your second brother! You will have the energy to go to Bregon tomorrow when you are full.”

Hearing this, Hazel immediately held Robert’s hand and persuaded: “You two haven’t eaten yet, so let’s go get some food!”

Robert was unable to eat, as he had lost all appetite. As he was Hazel’s older brother, and now only he and his younger sister remained in the family, he must pick himself up a bit.

The brother and sister arrived at the dining room, and the maid brought the dinner to the table.

Hazel also had no appetite and couldn’t eat much.

She picked up the soup ladle, put a few spoonfuls of soup into the rice bowl, and ate the rice with the soup.

“Is this delicious?” Robert asked.

“It should be delicious! Second brother, do you want to try it?” Hazel asked while holding a spoon.

“Try it!” Robert couldn’t swallow. It hurt everywhere.

“Second brother, tell me about you and our sister!” Hazel had never heard them talk about it in detail before. Now she was particularly interested in these past events.

Robert responded: “If my sister’s childhood memories are with her brother and Uncle Eric, then my childhood memories are more with my sister. In fact, my parents spend a lot of time with me, but my sister spends a little more time with me. I also prefer to play with my sister. Maybe because my sister is a little bit fierce to me.”

Hazel: “My sister did not intend to hit you?”

Robert: "I am a lot younger than her, and I often made mistakes. Sometimes I did things I didn't mean to. I made mistakes did so for no reason. For example, I used my sister's textbook to draw in, took her things to play with, and then didn't know where to put them when I was done..."

"No wonder my sister will hit you. If I have a naughty brother, I will also become very fierce." Hazel forced a smile.

"She always comes to comfort me after she makes me cry. I'll sometimes make her mad on purpose so she'll attempt to coax me out of it later." Robert remembered those things from his childhood clearly, "I didn't look at my sister when she spoke fiercely, but she was actually very kind. She takes good care of me."

But he didn't remember exactly how to treat her well.

"She sometimes made me mad, but if I held on to her, she'd still take me with her." Robert summed it up.

"Second brother, I really envy you." Hazel could feel the strong sister-brother friendship from Robert's words, "It would be great if I played with you at home when I was young."

"If you were at our house, I would want to play with you. We are the same age, so." Robert's mood improved a little bit, "Actually, we all think it is a miracle that you can come back."

"Sister will also Miraculous." Hazel said, "I believe my sister will be fine."

Robert: "Yes."

.....

Bregon.

After Elliot and Avery arrived, the person in charge of the search and rescue of the snow mountain gave them an overview of the situation in the snow mountain.

"These are some pictures taken from a search and rescue plane flying over. As you can see, there are basically no dead bodies... They are all covered by snow. This snow mountain is too large and the terrain is steep, so the search and rescue work is extremely difficult. Our manpower is completely insufficient. I have already responded to the above and asked for support."

"This is the picture we took yesterday afternoon. This is the cable car going to the snow mountain 1,000 meters away." The person in charge took out another picture and showed it to Elliot.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2736

Chapter 2736

The moment Elliot saw the picture, a layer of cold sweat broke out on his back.

“The cable car could only take up to eight people at a time, but there were at least 20 people crowded on the cable car on the return trip.” The person in charge said, “The cable car broke down due to being overweight and hovered in mid-air. Afterwards, the avalanche caused. The entire snow mountain area was cut off, and while waiting for the superior power company to come to repair the power, the engineering department located at the foot of the snow mountain was also affected by the avalanche, and the office was buried by the snow.”

Avery listened to what the person in charge said, then asked them in a serious way: “So those tourists in the cable car have been rescued now?!”

The person in charge shook his head: “The power has not been fully restored yet. It was restored for half an hour before, and then the power was cut off again. The department above them said they couldn’t solve it, so they had to go up to the next level and ask for instructions...”

“You ba*tards!” Elliot scolded coldly, “These tourists didn’t die under the avalanche in the end, but were squeezed to death in the cable car and froze to death!”

“Boss Foster, I also want to rescue the trapped tourists as soon as possible, but our human and material resources really cannot keep up with such a difficult rescue work.” The person in charge lowered his head and blamed himself very much, “I transferred the matter. Posted the number of tourists who entered the scenic spot that day, and then made a preliminary estimate of the number of tourists who suffered this time... at least 300 people are now buried under the snow mountain...”

“Can I find my daughter and Eric?!” Avery clenched her fingers excitedly.

“This... I’ll ask someone to check it now... There are too many things on my side, and I didn’t check the tourist list specifically... What’s your daughter’s name?” While the person in charge was speaking to them, the satellite phone rang several times.

He simply handed over the phone to his assistant and asked the assistant to answer the call.

About half an hour later, Hayden also arrived. He didn’t come alone. He brought the most experienced outdoor rescue team from Bridgedale, as well as technical personnel related to power and network engineering.

After he came over, he immediately brought the team together with the general manager of Snow Mountain Rescue.

“Dad, Mom, let me send you to the hotel to rest first!” Hayden felt very distressed when he saw his parents haggard because of this incident, “I will rescue Layla.”

Avery didn't even think about it, she said: “I-I'm not tired. It's daytime now, so hurry up and restore the power, otherwise there will be no rescue at night! Last night was the best time for rescue, but they were sleeping soundly! Because there was no power, they didn't do anything.”

When Avery said this, tears overflowed her eyes.

“Mom, I brought relevant technical personnel here. The power supply will definitely be restored before dark today!” Hayden wiped the tears off his mother's face with a tissue, “When the power is restored, the network will also be restored. As long as the network is restored, we can find the location of Layla's phone.”

Avery looked at the snow-capped mountains outside the window, her heart twisted into a ball.

Avery: “It's going to be night soon. How can I survive in such a cold temperature? If Layla isn't rescued as soon as possible, how can she survive?”

After a moment of silence, Elliot said, “The person in charge just now said that when the avalanche happened yesterday, there were at least 300 tourists on it... relying on the official rescue team of the Northland, I am afraid that there is no way to rescue those people quickly. I was thinking, how about hiring those outdoor adventure enthusiasts at a high price? Come to help. Many experienced outdoor adventurers may be more experienced than these official rescue teams.”

“Let me ask Mike!” Avery thought that Mike had joined some outdoor expedition organizations, and maybe he could help to contact them.

After Avery finished talking, she took out her phone, only to find that it had no network.

Hayden said: “He knows something happened to Layla. He and Uncle Chad should have rushed over too.”

Elliot: “There should be many local villagers who can help.”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2737

“Elliot, calm down. I don’t want any more innocent people to die in this accident. If the nearby residents take risks for money, the consequences will be disastrous.” Avery was afraid that things would get out of control.

Elliot: “I’m not asking everyone to climb the snow-capped mountains. It’s okay for them to go to the ground to help! There are so many casualties, and a lot of people will be needed to transfer the casualties. I’m afraid the medical treatment can’t keep up with this poor place!”

Despair!

Avery was dizzy for a while.

“Mom and Dad, let me send you back to the hotel first! I will implement all the plans you mentioned. I promise to tell you the clues of my sister before it gets dark today.” Hayden looked at his father when he said this, “Dad, you take mom to rest. Mom is very tired.”

Elliot agreed and supported Avery.

“You guys go live next door first. There is internet over there.” Hayden said, “When the power and internet are restored here, you can come and live here if you want.”

Avery and Elliot didn’t close their eyes almost all day and all night.

On the plane to Northland, the two of them didn’t sleep.

As long as Avery closed her eyes, various tragic pictures would appear in her mind.

As long as she thought of those pictures, she couldn’t stop crying.

After crying for a long time, the tears seemed to dry up.

After they arrived at the hotel, Elliot ordered a lunch.

Holding the phone, Avery saw the message from Robert: [Mom, did you and Dad arrive safely in the Northland? I plan to take my little sister to Northland tomorrow morning. If you see the message please call me back. I am very worried about you.]

Avery took the mobile phone, walked towards the balcony, and called Robert back.

Robert’s phone was turned off. He should have been on the plane.

Avery went back to the room with her mobile phone and sent a message to Robert: [Your father and I have already arrived in Bregon. Now at the hotel.]

After sending the message, Avery sent the location.

Let them meet at the hotel when they arrive.

Avery: "Elliot, Robert has brought Hazel over."

Elliot woke up like a dream: "When we came, we didn't say anything to the two children."

"They already know." Avery picked up the bag, Find the charging cable inside.

"After dinner, go to sleep!" Elliot looked at the bloodshot eyes of her tears, feeling very distressed.

"Aren't you going to sleep?" Avery was sore all over, feeling like her body was going to fall apart at any moment.

After all, it couldn't be compared with when she was young.

Even if she stayed up all night and continued to work the next day, she would not feel so uncomfortable.

"I can't sleep. Don't worry, I won't run around. I'll just stay in the room." Elliot believed in Hayden's ability.

Hayden said that he told them about Layla's clues before night, and she believed his son could do it.

"Lie down if you can't sleep!" Avery charged the phone, sat on the edge of the bed, and breathed a sigh of relief, "Don't be a burden to Hayden."

Elliot heard this, walked to her side, and sat beside her: "Do you feel that we are getting old?"

"Yes." Avery raised her chin slightly, "I can't keep up with my physical strength, my energy, or even my mind."

"Don't be so pessimistic." Elliot hugged her waist, "It's not time to be pessimistic yet."