Chapter 2950

“Does this belong to your child?” Shaun continued abruptly.

Chester nodded.

The more the child resembled him, the more afraid he was.

He would rather the child be more like Charity.

Shaun glanced at Chester, who was restless in his eyes, and couldn't help laughing, “It is said that the authorities are obsessed, but the bystanders are clear. This sentence is really not wrong at all. Even Chase can see it after a careful look.

What do you think? Charity is such a smart person, wouldn't she notice it at all?”

Chester was taken aback, and a thought flashed in his mind. He was a little dazed, but he didn't dare to think deeply. “You mean...”

“Maybe she knew about it a long time ago, but she didn't tell the truth.” Shaun said lightly, “Even, I doubt that my wife is such a smart person, could she not have guessed that Charity used your sperm to conceive?”

Chester's face turned pale. Strangely, with a little luck, he said, "Maybe I really can't guess it; they didn't expect me to be so brave."

Shaun said flatly, "Please, I introduced that hospital; manipulate it through acquaintances; that is easy to arrange. Anyway, if it were me, at least I would doubt it, but Charity still chose to do it in that hospital. Maybe it's because she thinks it doesn't matter if the child's father is you. Even, based on her understanding of you, she probably knows that you won't let her conceive another man's child."

Chester's heart beat violently.

He couldn't help but look up at Charity, who was chatting with Catherine and the others not far away. If she had known that she was pregnant with her own child, wouldn't that mean she would not have rejected him so long ago?

It even meant she was willing to conceive her own child. If this were true...

Chester's handsome face turned slightly red with excitement. "Shaun, when we arrive in the Maldives, remember to arrange Charity and me in the same room."

Shaun rolled his eyes at him and said, "So what if it's arranged in the same room, Charity treats you as a eunuch."

“Cough, can’t I sleep with someone in my arms first and then slowly figure it out?” Chester snorted, “After three or four years, I’ll tell her that my health has improved; let her get used to sleeping with me first.”

“Shameless.” Shaun cursed with a smile, and said in a low voice, “I arranged it with the hotel gang. You two, don’t say I’m not brotherly enough, if my wife finds out, I will definitely be cleaned up by her.”

“Your wife is busy with the wedding now, so she can’t take care of the guests.” Chester said.

He was looking forward to the next few days of his day trip to the Maldives.

All in all, this was the first time for Chester and Charity to travel abroad.

When compared to people in their thirties, he and Charity missed out on a lot.

After the plane arrived in the Maldives, the hotel sent a special car to pick up a group of people and bring them to the hotel.

Charity went with Catherine and Freya to try on the wedding dress after they got to the hotel.

She was busy until after 10 o’clock at night before returning to the room.

Once inside, she threw herself on the sofa.

There was the sound of a baby in the room, and Charity said without raising her head: “Mom, you can bring Levi over, my breasts are a little swollen, let her help me suck it up.”

There was the sound of slippers approaching, tight. Then Levi was placed in her arms.

Charity opened her eyes, first she saw Levi, and then she saw the hand holding Levi, which didn't seem to be Mrs. Robbins.

She looked back sharply, Chester was wearing gray home trousers and a white T-shirt, looking at her gently and smilingly.

“Chester, why are you in my room?” Charity said and she was in a bad mood.
