

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1446

Chapter 1446

The distance between the Milky Way and Star Kingdom was huge.

This distance had completely exceeded the cognition of humans on Earth, and it could not even be measured by any known values on Earth.

If one relied on flying, even at the speed of light, they would only be able to measure the distance in units of hundreds of millions of years if they wanted to reach Star Kingdom from the Milky Way.

There was also another possibility.

Only Eternals who could tear apart space and walk in another space could cross endless distances and reach their destination in a short time.

Of course, this so-called short time was not just a day or two, or ten days, or even a half month.

It was just that compared to the hundreds of millions of years at the speed of light, it was indeed very short.

Judging from the speed of David and others in the enormous Eternal Realm tortoise, it would take nearly a year to reach Star Kingdom if there were no delays.

In the following period, with David's help, Celeste temporarily solved her physical problems.

Not only did she suppress the desire from her alluring body, but she also kicked out the mind seed left by the unknown powerful person in her body.

Celeste did not continue to retreat either.

Instead, she often came out to chat with the women.

They would talk about the basic situation in Star Kingdom and the rules and regulations of the Iridescent Sect.

She allowed them to have an understanding in advance and also to prepare themselves.

Star Kingdom was nothing compared to the Milky Way.

The gap between the two was huge.

In the Milky Way, David was the Master and what he said was the imperial decree, whilst no one dared to refute him.

Celia and the women were all closely related to David, and with David as their backer, they were naturally at the top of the Milky Way pyramid.

However, it was different in Star Kingdom.

This was a level 7 civilization.

Not to mention that David had just stepped into the Eternal Realm.

Even Celeste, an Eternal Realm Sovereign Ranker, had to be cautious when facing those big shots.

In Star Kingdom, only by breaking through Eternal Realm and becoming a person beyond Eternal Realm could one stand at the top of the pyramid, guide the country, and formulate rules.

Celia and the others could only start from the lowest level.

However, Celeste also said that they should not worry too much.

After arriving in Star Kingdom and joining the Iridescent Sect, they could be regarded as having a backer.

The Iridescent Sect still had a lot of prestige in Star Kingdom. Not only was it strong, but there were also several people beyond Eternal Realm in it.

At the same time, it was also associated with many powerful forces.

At least half of the ex-high priestesses trained by the Iridescent Sect had married into various wealthy forces.

Most of them were the first wives with right to speak within their respective sects.

There were also various personal disciples, core disciples, and ordinary disciples under the high priestesses who had married into forces of all sizes.

Although most of these people had their own families, the Iridescent Sect had still nurtured them.

If the Iridescent Sect was in trouble, they would not stand idly by.

All these people added together made up quite a huge force in Star Kingdom.

Therefore, in Star Kingdom, usually no one would cause trouble for the Iridescent Sect unless they were a sworn enemy of the sect.

Time slowly passed by.

As they traveled through space, it was impossible to use days to calculate time because there was neither day nor night here.

In the beginning, everyone would count the days silently in their hearts.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1447

Chapter 1447

Yet, as time passed, David and the others lost track of how many days had passed.

Therefore, they would sleep when they were sleepy, and sit and chat when they woke up.

Of all of them, only David was the most bored.

Everyone else needed to train, but he did not.

He only needed to think about how to spend his Star Dollars.

Moreover, David did not know how to train.

At this moment, everyone was sitting together and chatting about Star Kingdom and the Iridescent Sect.

Not only Celeste was there, on this rare occasion, even Amadi had come out for air.

After the events in the Beast Galaxy, Amadi found himself lacking in strength.

Recently, he had been practicing in seclusion.

Even though he was still powerful in Star Kingdom, there were many people stronger than him.

Over there, no one dared to attack him.

However, when he was besieged by dozens of Ruler Ranks in the Beast Galaxy, Amadi felt the threat of death.

If Celeste had not made a timely move, he and David would have been history.

After escaping from danger, Amadi also learned from the painful experience.

It was necessary to work hard to improve his strength first.

He did not want to be a flower in a greenhouse that needed protection from Star Mansion.

Sooner or later, he would have to come out and take charge of his own life.

That was why Amadi's parents asked him to come out with Celeste.

They could not stay by their son's side forever.

As the younger head of Star Mansion, Amadi had to learn to grow and be independent.

If he wanted to grow, feeling the threat of death would be the fastest way.

At that time, Celeste probably thought of this reason, so she did not make a move in advance, but chose to make a move at the most critical moment.

"Amadi, you haven't shown up for a long time. Have you been in seclusion recently?" David asked casually.

"David, you have no idea. I've been working hard recently, and I've been cultivating my strength desperately. After what happened in the Beast Galaxy, I've thought it through. We could not even compete in a level 5 civilization like the Beast Galaxy with this level of strength, let alone in Star Kingdom. If I weren't the younger head of Star Mansion, I would probably not be able to survive until now. Thus, we still have to work hard! We can only relax and enjoy life after we break past Eternal Realm and become a powerhouse that can set rules in Star Kingdom," Amadi sighed.

"Have you reached enlightenment, Amadi?" David said with a smile.

"Yes, I have, and it's great. Looking back, I was always completing my father's tasks, and I never set goals for myself. I thought that with my parents and Star Mansion, I could be a bully and no one would dare to touch me. Now, I understand that sometimes, I might be beyond their reach, just like this time in the Beast Galaxy. If it weren't for Ms. Celeste, we would have already become ashes."

1/2

"It seems that you have indeed grown up. This is a good thing, and it will be of great help to your future path."

“David, it’s the same for you. Although you are the number one person in the Milky Way and no one dares to oppose you, you have to restrain yourself when you come to Star Kingdom so as not to provoke those big shots who can easily kill you with just a flick of their finger,” Amadi reminded.

“Thank you for reminding me. I also climbed up from the bottom step by step, so I know what I should do,” David said.

He was not like Amadi who was of noble birth.

He came from Earth, an indigenous living planet, and got to where he was step by step. He then not only managed to leave Earth, but also left the Milky Way.

Even though the system helped him greatly in getting to where he was, he also knew that his vigilance and low-profile personality accounted for a large part of his success.

After all, having a system did not mean invincibility.

He also needed to spend a lot of money to get a lot of lavish points.

If David were that kind of arrogant and ignorant character, he would probably already have been killed by someone stronger than him, or captured and sliced up for research.

1

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1448

Chapter 1448

“It’s good that you understand! Why don’t we have a game? David, since you could grow to your present level in a low-level civilization like the Milky Way, I believe your talent will definitely usher in a big boom when you arrive at Star Kingdom. Let’s see who gets to Sovereign Rank first, while whoever loses will have to call the winner daddy. How about that?” Amadi suddenly suggested.

He also wanted to have a good relationship with David.

At the end of the day, they had faced death together.

David had a good personality and suited Amadi’s preferences.

He was not weak and was even immune to the Star Observation Skill.

David was born on a small living planet the size of a pellet but was able to grow into the number one in the Milky Way.

This was not something everyone can do.

David's achievements in the future might not be inferior to Amadi's.

As long as David agreed, it would not matter who won or lost in this game.

Either way, the brotherhood of the two would be solidified.

If David could beat Amadi, Amadi was also willing to call him daddy.

"Okay! Motivation comes only when there is a goal. Let's compare and see who can reach Sovereign Rank first."

David thought about it and felt that there was nothing to lose, so he agreed.

The main reason was that he also felt that Amadi was a good person.

Although he was born with a silver spoon and had some minor problems, he had good ideals and values.

He was not an unreasonable troublemaker.

Therefore, he was still a worthy friend.

David had never been afraid of anyone when it came to comparing cultivation speed.

How many years did it take him to start from scratch and reach the present Eternal Realm?

If people learned about this, it would definitely shock everyone, even in Star Kingdom.

When David thought about this, he felt that he still needed to find Lorraine.

He had already explained to Celia and others, so they would not tell his story to others.

However, Lorraine was different.

Fortunately, she did not know much.

"Since you agree, it's settled! By the way, David, you have to work harder. Now, I'm two small realms ahead of you, do you need me to wait for you?"

"No need! You should hurry up and train! Don't wait for me, I will catch up and surpass you in a short time."

"Then I will wait and see!"

The two chatted happily.

None of the women next to them interrupted them.

When they were done talking, Celeste said, “Amadi, the fact that you are thinking like this means that your mother’s attempt at handing you over to me was not in vain. You have gained something this trip.”

“Ms. Celeste, I used to be a bit of a jerk. As the younger head of the Star Mansion, I was arrogant and ignored everyone. Now, I have come to my senses. Thank you for bringing me out and letting me experience the fear of death,” Amadi thanked Celeste respectfully.

“You coming to your senses is a sign of growth, Amadi. You have to know that you are not the only direct disciple of Star Mansion, and you are not your father’s only son. Your current status as the younger head is due to your own great talent, and also because your mother is one of the last seven high priestesses of the Iridescent Sect. However, this position is not stable. If you want to keep your status as the younger head and inherit your father’s position as the head of the Star Mansion in the future, you still need to continue to work hard. If you fail, you should know what will happen to you and your mother.”

“I know, Ms. Celeste,” Amadi said in a deep voice.

He was now the younger head of Star Mansion.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1449

Chapter 1449

If he failed in the competition for the head of Star Manion, he would be caught up by other direct descendants of Star Mansion.

In order to prevent them from counterattacking, Amadi would definitely fight to the death and not give them any chance to make a comeback.

Many big forces were like this.

If you wanted to fight, you had to win, because if you lost, you would face hell.

If you feared this, you should not fight and just be satisfied with the life of an ordinary person. At the very least, it would be safer.

Celeste continued, “And as far as I know, someone in Star Mansion’s direct lineage is secretly plotting to take over your position as the younger head, and the power behind the other party is not weak. Your mother doesn’t want you to stay sheltered in Star Kingdom, so that’s why I paid a huge price to get you your identity as a Universe Enforcer. We were hoping that you’d grow after coming out with me.”

“Who?” Amadi narrowed his eyes and asked solemnly.

He knew Ms. Celeste would not joke about such things.

Since she said it, it must be true.

There were many direct descendants of Star Mansion, even his father had given birth to hundreds of sons during these thousands of years.

However, these guys were always respectful when they saw Amadi.

Who would be secretly plotting for his position as the younger head?

Amadi went through everyone he could think of and still could not figure out who Ms. Celeste was talking about.

“Your mother will tell you when you get to Immortal Rank. It won’t be good for you to know now. It will only affect your state of mind.”

“Ms. Celeste, don’t worry! I won’t let you and Mother down, I will definitely keep my status as younger head, and I will successfully inherit the position of the head of Star Mansion in the future so that you and Mother will no longer be afraid,” Amadi solemnly promised.

“That’s good! You must know that you are your mother’s only hope. She has put too much effort into you. If something happens to you, she probably won’t survive.”

“I understand.”

The current Amadi was not the rebellious, supercilious, and carefree Amadi David saw when they first met.

He was now more mature and steadier.

After the trial of life and death in the Beast Galaxy and what Celeste just said just now, it was evident that Amadi had grown up.

He was smart.

He knew his mother and Ms. Celeste’s intentions.

Everything they did was for his own good.

Amadi’s father had hundreds of sons, but his mother had only one, himself.

If he died, his father might be sad for a few days, and then everything would be the same.

However, his mother might choose to follow in his footsteps and disappear from this world together with him.

Therefore, Amadi did not have much affection for his father, the current head of the Star Mansion, but only admiration and a little fear.

On the contrary, he did feel respect from the bottom of his heart for his mother.

Amadi would not hesitate to risk his life to defend his mother against whoever dared to disrespect her.

From this brief conversation between Celeste and Amadi.

David, Celia, and others understood how cruel the competition among big forces was.

Although people like Amadi came from prominent backgrounds and had noble status, at the same time, the competition they had to face was quite fierce.

If they did not pay attention, the consequences would be very serious.

Death was actually a better ending.

Many losers would be crippled and imprisoned for a lifetime.

For those who were once chosen, this would be a fate worse than death.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1450

Chapter 1450

The Iridescent Continent in Star Kingdom was where the top power of Star Kingdom, the Iridescent Sect, was located.

Today, the Iridescent Sect welcomed a distinguished Super Eternal guest.

This man was the grandmaster of the Simmons family, Nek.

In Star Kingdom, although Eternal Realm powerhouses were not everywhere, they were not considered rare.

There were quite a few powerhouses in Eternal Realm who were quite well-known.

However, most of them were Ruler Rankers.

There were not many who could reach Immortal Rank. Every Immortal Ranker was the mainstay of various forces.

As for Sovereign Rankers, they were even rarer. They were all the top combat power of their respective factions.

Celeste was a strong Sovereign Ranker,

Her status in the Iridescent Sect was not low.

If one wanted to become famous in Star Kingdom, stand at the top of the pyramid to become one of the few people who set the rules, and be worshiped and admired by countless people, one must first break through Eternal Realm and possess the strength of someone beyond Eternal Realm.

This kind of powerhouse was like a nuclear weapon on Earth. Although they were not easy to deploy, they had a strong deterrent effect.

A person beyond Eternal Realm was also a must-have for every major force.

If not, then no matter how many people you had or how much money you had, you could only be regarded as a medium-sized force.

A person beyond Eternal Realm was a dividing line to all forces.

Just like there were countries without nuclear weapons on Earth.

The Simmons family was a large force with a person beyond Eternal Realm, and they had more than one.

Before Nek, there was another grandmaster from the Simmons family who had also broken past Eternal Realm early.

However, this grandmaster of the Simmons family got seriously injured tens of thousands of years ago and had not recovered until now.

One must know that the body of a powerhouse of this level had the power to repair itself. Hence, it was evident that his injuries were so severe that he still could not heal after tens of thousands of years of recuperation.

The original Simmons family had begun to slowly decline.

Other forces had been targeting the Simmons Continent they occupied and they were about to take over it to make it their own.

Unexpectedly, more than a thousand years ago, Nek broke past Eternal Realm in one fell swoop and became the second person beyond Eternal Realm in the Simmons family.

He stabilized the shaky Simmons family in an instant.

Nek had become the new giant of Star Kingdom, and he had been very active in Star Kingdom for more than a thousand years.

First of all, he finally came out of seclusion after tens of thousands of years so he had to enjoy himself.

Secondly, it was only natural to re-establish the reputation of the Simmons family to let those forces who were eying on the Simmons Continent know that the current Simmons family was not easy to mess with. This was what every new giant would do

If someone in Star Kingdom broke past Eternal Realm, they would not hide unless there were special circumstances.

Everyone might not know everything about the background of all major forces, but they would know at least eighty to ninety percent of it.

Because the greater the strength shown, the more resources could be obtained in Star Kingdom, thereby attracting more talents to join.

With resources and outstanding disciples only could a force cultivate more powerful people.

It was a virtuous circle.

If one broke through and did not show off but instead hide it, no one from the outside world would know, so one would definitely not be able to get more benefits.

In any case, after Nek's breakthrough, he held a big banquet in the Simmons Continent, and countless forces came to congratulate him with valuable treasures.

This alone had made the Simmons family a lot of money.

Nek did not come to the Iridescent Continent today to catch up with the Iridescent Sect, instead, he was there to ask for an explanation.

