

Almighty DG 842

Chapter 842

"Understood."

Henry nodded. Then, he turned to his men.

"We're heading to the courthouse."

Rows of vehicles lined up neatly and were readied for departure at the military region.

A thousand Red Flame Army soldiers boarded and made their way to the courthouse.

The courthouse was a place where powerful figures in Sol were put on trial.

Not too long ago, James too was put on trial here.

At the moment of his return, James felt an uncomfortable sense of déjà vu.

However, he immediately shook off the feeling.

He stood in the middle of the courthouse and looked at the Blade of Justice glinting sharply before him.

Behind him was a middle-aged man. He was the chief justice who was in charge of the courthouse.

Upon being presented with the King's secret orders, he allowed James passage within.

He strode purposefully toward the sword which represented the highest authority in all of Sol, he whispered, Dragon King. The sword is in the hands of James. With a determined look, James looked at his convoy and barked, "To heard where James was headed to, the court justice felt a shiver go down on earth is going on?! Upon recalling the Red Flame Army sealing off the the Blade of Justice, James headed toward the Emperor's Mansion with his mansion was soon surrounded by 3000

Blade

was

gazebo in the Emperor's waited for the Emperor to make an results of our survey! We searched the place from hearing this, James' lips

"What?"

black jacket appeared seemingly out of thin air next and looked at

said, "The Emperor's no longer here. He has

"Huh?"

grew

one of the families of advance. Half an hour ago, he brought his men to the palace and intended to raise hell. However, soon after, the not expect that the Ancient Four would get themselves involved in this fiasco. He looked at Gloom and