Harvey York's Rise to Power

Chapter 3650

Chapter 3650

Out of the three young masters of the family, Jeff was a conceited man and Joseph had remained distant.

Even so, the two were prominent figures who enjoyed being the center of attention.

Harold was different; he had been loved by Grandma Bauer since he was a child. He had always been discreet and rarely showed himself to the public.

The world knew that there were three young masters, but not a lot of people knew what Harold looked like or what he was capable of.

After so many years, Harold quietly took control of everything Grandma Bauer handed to him.

He was an extremely patient man as well; other than sending a few people to test Joseph after his failure...

He didn't attack Flutwell's business alliance, nor did he try to take the properties all to himself.

He was a ghost without a shadow,

But when he showed up at this moment, everyone could tell just how powerful he was—his immense authority within the Bauer family was on clear display.

His presence and attention alone had already surpassed both Jeff and Joseph.

Jeff revealed an odd smile when he saw Harold.

“You’re finally here. It’s a shame you’re a little late!”

“Nonsense.”

Harold smiled back.

“You have strong support, with half of Longmen’s higher-ups supporting you.”

“I can’t just show up before making sure that you’re done for, can I?”

“Of course, I did come a bit late; a shame that I couldn’t see the look of you getting slapped aside!”

Harold couldn’t be bothered to look at Jeff, who was no different than a cripple.

“You must be Sir York, yes?” Harold said, looking curiously at Harvey.

“You painstakingly dealt with Joseph for me, and now Jeff.”

“We haven’t met before, but you did do quite a lot for my cause.”

“I’ll make sure to send you an invitation to witness my rise.”

“And?” Harvey said.

“I’d like you and your people to step aside. Leave this place to me.”

“You crippled my brother, but I can’t allow him to fall in your hands for the time being.”

“After all, he has a lot of secrets about the family.”

“If you give him to me, I promise I’ll hand you all of Flutwell’s business alliance’s properties he took from you. How does that sound?”

Harvey narrowed his eyes at Harold, and chuckled lightly.

“Interesting.”

“So you’re saying that while I did all of this…”

“You’re still going to reap the spoils before throwing me some sloppy seconds.”

Harold smiled.

“That’s just not true, Sir York.”

“I think this is a friendly cooperation between us.”

“Besides, I can help you clean up your mess to stop the family from going against you!”

“You’ll get your properties back intact! You’ll only be losing Jeff at this point.”

“What’s so bad about that?”
