

Chapter 651

“Willow, here you are.”

Although Old Madam Quinn did not stand up, she still greeted Willow.

Willow paused, looked at the Quinn family, who were with different expressions, and exhaled softly.

When she was a child, she regarded these people as her closest relatives.

However, now these relatives joined forces to push her down the path she did not want to take.

Moreover, Willow knew that what these people said to her was actually not really for her good, but was for their own benefit.

At this time, the eyes of these so-called relatives were gleaming with anticipation as they regarded her as a bargaining chip that could be exchanged for huge benefits.

This made Willow feel even more disappointed.

“Whew!”

Willow exhaled softly and removed the messy thoughts in her mind.

After all, her surname was Quinn.

As a member of the Quinn family, she had the obligation and responsibility to make the Quinn family better and better.

Compared with the future of the Quinn family, her happiness was nothing and no one would care.

“Willow, take a seat!”

Old Madam Quinn patted the chair beside her as she spoke to Willow.

This seat was reserved for special and important people.

Today, however, no one protested.

Kent Quinn showed a dirty look but he still sat aside with Willow.

“Willow, how are things going?”

Old Madam Quinn asked knowingly as soon as Willow sat down.

The rest of the Quinn family looked at Willow with an expectant look.

"Grandma, it has not been settled yet.

"But I think if there is more time, there may be turnaround."

Willow was silent for a few seconds, then raised her head and replied.

What she said was not to fight for herself, but the result she came to after thinking about it carefully last night.

Yesterday, although Willow was turned down when she went to Reach For Will Group to meet Harry Clarke, Harry did not have a tough attitude towards her.

This made Willow feel that there was still some room for maneuvering.

However, the Quinn family shook their heads and sneered as soon as she finished saying these words.

"Willow, can you stop being so naive all the time?"

Faye Quinn took a step forward, pointed at Willow, and spoke.

"Yeah! No matter how naive a person is, there must be a limit.

"Regarding the matter of Reach For Will Group, let alone two days, you won't be able to accomplish it even if you're given two years."

Everyone snorted coldly because they knew that there was absolutely no possibility of this thing being accomplished at all and it was also not a matter of time.

"Willow, do you think Reach For Will Group will give us time?"

"The Quinn family can't hold on any longer now."

Old Madam Quinn shook her head slightly, her tone was also a little displeased.

"Grandma, I met Mr. Clarke yesterday and he did not seem so antagonistic, so I think there is still a chance."

Willow thought about it for a while and still raised her head and said with gritted teeth.

"Hahaha! You're killing me! It's not like we haven't seen Mr. Clarke's attitude.

"Mr. Clarke has a good attitude towards you? Why don't you say that Mr. Clarke promised you that he would not harm the Quinn family anymore?"

Faye sneered again. No matter what Willow said, she could refute it.

"Grandma, I still want to try!"

Willow glanced at Faye and said very seriously.

"Willow, do you know that it's not that I don't want to give you more time.

"It's because the Quinn family can't hold on any longer!"

Old Madam Quinn let out a long sigh. If she had a way to solve it, she would definitely not come this far.

"Old Madam Quinn, otherwise, why not we try to seek help from Old Master Quinn's former friends."

Kent was silent for a long time and then brought up this matter.

"B*stard!"

However, Old Madam Quinn cursed when she heard those words.

"When Old Master Quinn was still alive, he had already made a will.

“As long as it's about the Quinn family's private affairs, we must not trouble his former friends.

“Every place has its own rules and we must not rely on relationships to break those rules.”

When Old Madam Quinn said this, everyone was a little silent.

Levi Quinn was a man of the highest integrity. He never took advantage of his position to seek benefits for himself.

His honest and stubborn character sometimes frustrated people, but no one dared to disobey his orders.

What was more, this was his will!

Moreover, Old Madam Quinn also agreed with the sayings - friendship faded when people were far apart.

Now that Levi Quinn had passed away, how could the Quinn family be qualified to ask others to help?

“Kent! You're too naive.

“Do you really think that Reach For Will Group can develop so rapidly without the support of some big shot?

“Even if we go to Old Master Quinn's former friends, maybe they will help with some trivial matters, but it's absolutely impossible for them to solve the problem with Reach For Will Group for us.”

Samuel Quinn snorted coldly and spoke with his mouth in a sneer.

“You're right...”

Old Madam Quinn nodded lightly.

“Old Master Quinn had made his stance known on this position.

“Has he ever thought about whether the Quinn family would suffer without him being in charge of the Quinn family?”

Simon Quinn’s father frowned and said.

Hearing this word, Old Madam Quinn moved her palm slightly and spoke softly after hesitating for long time.

“I once asked him that too.

“But he said that the marriage he arranged for Willow must be taken seriously by the Quinn family.

“As long as this marriage is achieved, the Quinn family will be prosperous for a hundred years, and no one will dare look down on us.”

It was the first time that Old Madam Quinn said these words to the crowd.

The Quinn family was stunned when they heard the words.

This marriage, naturally, was referring to Sean.

However, how could that cripple Sean have such great ability?
