

Chapter 5323

Suddenly hearing her own voice in the headlines of an internet celebrity's parking spot,

The impact on Horiyah is no different from that of a netizen,

Downloading a video from an unhealthy website and seeing her own face trembling after opening it.

Her inner defenses were breached almost instantly,

And she slid directly into the bathtub because of excessive nervousness,

Taking a sip of the milk-salt-smelling bath water.

Immediately, she sat up in a panic and looked at the phone again in shock.

This time, her eyes were as wide as a pair of copper bells,

And her heartbeat seemed to suddenly double as fast!

The self in the picture is bossing around and teaching the Willson family a lesson.

Isn't this what happened less than an hour ago?!

Looking at this angle, it was a sneak shot from a small gap in the balcony curtain. Who did it?!

What's more, what she couldn't understand was that the doors and windows,

The villa was all laminated and had hollow system doors and windows.

It is said that in order to ensure sound and heat insulation,

The glass interlayer should be filled with inert gas.

With the doors and windows closed, even if the fireworks are set off outside,

She can barely hear the sound of the explosion.

This video was clearly shot from outside, so why is the sound recorded so clearly?

It's as if people are talking right in front of her eyes.

Horiyah is indeed smarter than Elaine in general,

But in this kind of cleverness, she is not as good as Elaine.

Elaine lives in the same villa type as her,

And she already knew that candid shots from outside can only capture video,

Not sound, so she used Gina and others and gave them a reasonable division of labor,

And one person took a video outside.

And one tried to secretly record the sound inside.

Although the sound insulation of the doors and windows of the villa has been achieved to the extreme,

It is only for the outside,

And the interior doors are not particularly strengthened, so Elaine caught the loophole.

At this time, Horiyah knew very well that since these videos were exposed,

Her road to getting rich with live broadcasts and goods had come to an end!

Thinking that after this video was exposed,

It would affect her potential income of hundreds of millions or even billions!

Taking people's money is like killing their parents.

This old saying is an eternal truth at any time.

At this moment, Horiyah's heart was full of hatred,

Wishing to find the person who exposed her right away, and then tear her into pieces!

Immediately afterward, she swiped down on her phone,

Skipped the video, and started reading the text of the report.

In the content of the text, the script of her live broadcast was fully revealed,

As well as her approximate data and income since the live broadcast.

And when she saw one of the lines, she was even angrier and jumped out of the bathtub!

This line reads: "According to a short video platform user named 'Elaine, a counterfeit fighter'..."
