

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2830 –

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2830–Hazel was flattered, but she didn't expect her sister to really take action.

“Sister, you are staying with brother-in-law at home today. Is it because brother-in-law is not feeling well?” Hazel thought about this before hanging up the phone, so she asked.

Layla laughed softly: “He's fine. He just wants me to stay with him at home.”

“Brother-in-law has become so clingy now!” Hazel also laughed, “Sister, are you very happy?”

“It's not what you think. I'll tell you secretly, don't tell your parents.” Layla shared the matter with her sister, “I was rear-ended when I went back to his house last night. But I'm fine. He's afraid of me I have something to do, so let me stay with him at home today. Although he didn't say the reason clearly, I can guess.”

The smile on Hazel's face disappeared immediately: “Sister, are you really okay?”

“The rear-end collision is just a small traffic accident. In case of an accident, the car needs to be sent for repairs.” Layla explained to Hazel, “I'm really fine, don't tell mom and dad.”

Hazel: “Well, then you should rest at home today. Go to the hospital for a checkup in time.”

“Haha, I won't let anything happen to me. Eric always felt that he didn't live long, but I told him last night that I will definitely live well and collect his body when the time comes. He immediately doesn't worry about me.” Layla thought of this, almost laughing out of tears.

On the other side of the phone, Hazel couldn't help laughing either.

After finished talking with Layla on the phone, Hazel adjusted her mood, and then called Hector.

After Hazel told Hector about Layla buying work clothes for the TV station, Hector joked: “It happens that the clothes in the station are about to be replaced, but our application form has already been submitted, and the station will pay for it by itself.”

“Since my sister bought it, you can accept it! I can't refuse my sister's kindness.” Hazel was a little shy, “My sister loves me very much.”

“Okay, then I accept. But let's not make an example, let your family not spend money in the future.” Hector agreed to Hazel, and at the same time, asked, “Would you like to come to the stage today? Studio 6 is empty now, if you want to come for practicing, you can come here now.”

“Can I really go for practicing now?” Hazel was very surprised.

“Of course. Even if it’s not you, but other interns, that’s fine too.” Hector said.

Hazel: “Then I’ll go over now.”

Hector: “Okay.”

In the blink of an eye, it’s Hazel’s official internship day.

After lunch, Avery urged Hazel to go to rest.

Because Hazel had to go to work at the TV station at 10pm.

Avery knew that if she didn’t get enough rest during the day, she would be exhausted at night.

After Hazel returned to her room, Avery began to prepare things for Hazel to bring to work.

Elliot was looking at how busy Avery was.

“Isn’t this unnecessary?” Elliot picked up the portable medicine bag, thinking it would be troublesome to carry this.

“Why isn’t it necessary?” Avery took the medicine bag and put it in a large satchel, “If my daughter gets injured by accident, can’t she use it?”

“Our daughter is going to work, not to get injured.” Elliot didn’t think it was necessary to curse Hazel for getting hurt because he believed she was fine.

“I didn’t say that my daughter was injured. In case her fingers are pinched, or she is accidentally scratched by a sharp object, she can use it! I usually carry a portable medical bag in my bag. It doesn’t take up much space.” After Avery put the medical bag in her bag, she began to pack snacks for her daughter.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2831–“Why don’t you let the bodyguard accompany your daughter to work?” Elliot frowned slightly, still worried.

“Do you think my daughter will agree? She is living as an ordinary person now, so there shouldn’t be any danger.” Avery mainly packed some bagged cakes and some preserved fruit snacks for her daughter.

Elliot didn’t know why he couldn’t do anything about his daughter. Since he promised his daughter not to reveal her identity to the outside world, he was doomed to face many such problems in the future.

“Do you want to prepare some refreshing drinks for her?” Elliot also wanted to help his daughter. This internship was very important to his daughter. His daughter would be devastated if there was an accident during the broadcast.

Avery: “I’m really going to buy some refreshing drinks for my daughter.” Avery also considered this, “We’ll go together later.”

“Well. When we come back from buying drinks, let’s sleep for a while too! I have to stay up late tonight.” Elliot’s staying up late was fine, but he was a little worried about Avery’s health, “Actually, you can watch the video tomorrow. Hector said that he will send me Hazel’s broadcast video tomorrow.”

“I still want to accompany my daughter.” Avery said without hesitation, “This is the first time my daughter goes to work, and she’s still on the night shift. I want to accompany her. After she’s off the air, I’ll call her to praise her.”

Elliot: “You’re such a good mother.”

Avery: “You’re also a good father!”

Hazel couldn’t fall asleep after sleeping for about two hours.

She usually slept up to half an hour during her lunch break, and basically didn’t take a lunch break when she was in university, so after sleeping for two hours now, she felt back pain and dizziness.

She went to the bathroom to wash her face, then went downstairs.

“Hazel, have you slept well? Why don’t you sleep more?” Avery saw her daughter coming, and immediately showed her the bag she had prepared, “You take this bag when you go to work at night.”

Hazel was astounded to see the large bulging satchel her mother had prepared for her as she walked to the sofa.

“Mom, what’s in here?” Hazel said, and she had already walked to the coffee table.

Avery opened the bag and explained to her everything inside.

There were food, water, paper towels, drinks and snacks, a medical bag, a spare mobile phone and a spare charger, and even a baby warmer...

“There is cash in this interlayer.” Avery gave Hazel the bag after opening the interlayer so she could take a look: “in case of emergencies.”

Hazel was moved and wanted to laugh: “Mom, why did you prepare so many things for me? My working time is only 5 hours. I don’t need so much food. I don’t want to drink so much. There is a direct drinking machine in the TV station, and I can drink water whenever I want.”

“Bottled water should be purer.” Avery reminded, “You still need to be more careful outside. Didn’t the social news report a lot recently? A girl was playing outside, and the drink was drugged in a mess... This water bottle is a safety cap, and it cannot be unscrewed by twisting it directly. It can only be unscrewed after pressing it down for 5 seconds. You drank it Hurry up and screw the lid on.”

Hazel: “...”

“Your dad prepared this for you.” Avery suggested with a smile, “You can take it with you!”

Hazel nodded: “Okay, I will use this water bottle to drink from now on outside.”

“You have only slept for 2 hours, you must not have enough sleep.” Avery looked at the time, “Why don’t you go lie down for a while? Otherwise, you’ll be very sleepy.”

Hazel: “Mom, I really can’t fall asleep. I may have to gradually adjust my schedule.”

“That’s right, you don’t usually have the habit of taking a nap.” Avery took Hazel and sat down on the sofa, “It will be New Year soon, I saw your work schedule, and you have to go on the night of New Year’s Eve. Is it too hard to go to work? Do you want to adjust it?”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2832—“No need. Teacher Joly discussed it with me. I decided to go to work in the first year of junior high school.” Hazel said calmly, “I am the youngest intern in our group. Seniority-wise, I should be in the first grade of junior high school.”

The first grade of junior high school had to leave home at 10pm on the 30th day of the new year.

It's like Hazel wanted to celebrate New Year's Eve on TV.

Even though Avery wasn't overly particular about details, she couldn't stand her daughter spending New Year's Eve alone in her first year back at Foster's house.

“Your elder brother doesn't like the idea of seniority ranking the most.” Avery knew that she couldn't change her daughter's mind, but she also wanted to talk to her, “Too honest is easy to be bullied. Sometimes a little stronger, a little more selfish, you'll get over it. It's more comfortable.”

Hazel nodded and listened to her mom's words.

“Mom, maybe I'm used to it.” Hazel was of the opinion that since she was able to secure this internship thanks to her relationship with Teacher Joly, she couldn't be fussy or exhausted unless she could demonstrate her resolve. She only had the courage to fight for alternative because of her ability, “And then I will not only go to work alone, but many behind-the-scenes staff will also go to work.”

“You can comfort yourself.” Avery had always felt that her daughter's mentality very stable, and good.

“It's not self-consolation, it's because I really feel that I am so happy. On New Year's Day, I'll at home during the day, but I'll work for a few hours at night, and rested for a few days after that!” Hazel coaxed her mother.

Avery: “Well, when the time comes, I'll let your elder brother come back to celebrate the New Year.”

“Of course the elder brother will come back for the New Year. It seems like a very long time since I last saw my elder brother.” Hazel missed her elder brother a little.

“If you want him, you can make a video for him!” Avery looked at his daughter's face, “Are you a little afraid of him?”

Hazel blushed, “I'm mainly afraid of disturbing my brother.”

“Hahaha! Your elder brother doesn’t dare to play videos for you, for fear of disturbing your study. Everyone knows that you study hard, and I’m afraid it will affect you.”

“How can it affect me? It’s not every day, every day.” Having said that, Hazel frankly acknowledged, “I’m afraid of disturbing my brother, and I don’t know what to say to him. Maybe it’s because my brother is older than me.”

“Actually, it’s not a matter of age, it’s because your brother has a boring personality.” Avery said, “He is so much like your dad. When your dad was young, he didn’t talk much.”

“It’s good to be like Dad. How nice Dad is!” Hazel said smoothly, “Of course, like Mom That’s fine. Both mom and dad are fine.”

Avery: “Small mouth is so sweet. But since you miss your elder brother, you can send him a message.”

Hazel: “Well, mom, do you want to take a nap? Did dad go to sleep?”

“Yes! Then I’ll go to bed first. I’ll call you when you finish the show tonight.” Avery stood up from the sofa as she spoke.

Hazel really wanted her parents not to stay up late at night waiting for her show, but she stopped talking.

She put herself in another place and thought that if she were a mother, she would stay up late to watch her daughter host a show for the first time.

Robert sent Hazel to work at 10pm.

Elliot and Avery looked at each other.

“Why don’t you go to bed first? Set an alarm clock and get up at 2:20 a.m.” Elliot considered that Avery didn’t fall asleep in the afternoon, so he made a suggestion.

Avery nodded: “I’m really a little sleepy.”

Bridgedale.

It’s 2:30 in the afternoon.

Hayden found the live broadcast of TV station Aryadelle in his notebook.

After a while, it would be his little sister Hazel’s show.

A fellow intern anchor, caught Hayden's attention because she was dressed more maturely despite having facial features that suggested she was a young girl.

Hayden didn't know if his little sister would dress up in such a mature way later.

In the family group.

Robert sent a message: [This girl is my little sister's senior. Is this girl wearing a wig? This hairstyle is too old-fashioned. Will my little sister also wear this kind of hair cover later?]

Layla: [I told my little sister, just put it in a ponytail.]

Robert: [

] [Sister, why didn't you sleep?]

Layla: [Didn't you sleep too? What a shock!]

Robert: [I often stay up late! Are you waiting for my little sister's show with my brother-in-law?]

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2833–Layla: [I didn't tell him. He's not in good health and don't want him to stay up late.]

Robert: [Yes.]

When the siblings chatted up to this point, Hayden suddenly erupted: [Don't stay up late next time, you can wait for my little sister's program video.]

Layla: [Brother, you're cool, we don't have to stay up late to watch my little sister's show.]

Hayden: [Did you see that the official website of the TV station launched a selection activity for intern anchors?]

Layla: [What contest? Didn't see it! My sister didn't tell me either.]

Robert: [Little sister didn't tell me either!]

Hayden sent a screenshot of the interface to the group: [It hasn't started yet. It'll start tomorrow.]

Layla: [Oh, I guess it will start after the little girl finishes broadcasting tonight. As far as my little sister's show at this time, not many viewers can see it!]

Hayden: [There is a replay on the TV station's official app. The show slots for the other interns weren't good either.]

Layla: [Brother, do you want us to vote for the little girl?]

Hayden: [No need. At that time, let's see how the real popularity of the little girl is.]

Layla: [... Brother, are you still the brother I know?]

Hayden did not reply to Layla in the group, but sent a private message to Layla: [Don't talk about canvassing in the group. The little sister was not happy when she saw it.]

Layla:[.....]

Her straight brother had become so gentle and delicate!

Hayden: [Besides, you don't need to canvass for votes.]

Layla: [So what? We don't canvass for the little girl, other anchors will definitely canvass. I can't watch my little sister lose.]

Hayden: [I can directly change the number of backstage votes.]

Layla:[!!!]

This was indeed something that Hayden could do.

Layla: [Why don't you check the real votes of your sister first? What if she can win without our help?]

Hayden: [Let's talk tomorrow.]

At 3:00 a.m. local time in Aryadelle, the "Evening News" hosted by Hazel officially started.

Hazel was wearing a white suit with a blue silk shirt as the inner layer, her hair was combed into a ponytail, and her face was clean with plain makeup. On her wrist was the wrist watch that her sister had given her.

Her dress was young and fashionable, which was completely different from the mental outlook presented to the audience by her senior sister.

After the broadcast, Sloane didn't go home from get off work, but watched Hazel's program in the studio.

Sloane didn't have a choice about the suit on Hazel's body, because her skin was dark and she didn't usually wear white clothes.

Unexpectedly, in this white uniform, Hazel looked radiant and very beautiful.

"Sloane, don't you want to change clothes and get off work?" A staff member asked Sloane.

"Well, I'll go right away. I'll see how my junior is doing." Sloane replied in a low voice with a smile on her face.

"Although she is young, she has a good attitude. She came to the trial broadcast yesterday, which is much better than the first trial broadcast." The staff replied.

"She also came to the trial broadcast yesterday?" Sloane was surprised.

"That's right! Aren't you two from the same university? Don't you keep in touch in private?" The staff was also surprised.

Sloane immediately adjusted her facial expression: "Our university is very big. I am a sophomore and she is a fresher, so we don't usually meet each other. The watch she wears is quite eye-catching. Is it from the station?"

The staff: "No. It's her own watch."
