

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1587

Chapter 1587

On the merchant ship, Marlee and the others looked at everything in front of them.

It was as if they were dreaming.

A few minutes ago, the space pirates were arrogant and domineering, and they were ready to break open the merchant ship and share the spoils with other space pirates.

In a blink of an eye, they were all wiped out, and there was not a single one of them remained.

Immediately afterward, the joy of escaping a catastrophe filled everyone's heart.

They survived!

Enter title...

They managed to survive the attack of eight partial Eternals and hundreds of space pirates.

All of this was due to the golden giant above their heads.

Except for Marlee, everyone knelt on the top floor of the merchant ship and saluted David.

"Greetings, Master David! Thank you, Master David, for saving our lives. We will never forget your grace. If you need us in the future, just tell us and we will not say no even if we have to risk our lives!"

Marlee did not kneel.

At this moment, she was fighting fiercely in her heart.

'Should I kneel or not?

'Once I do, how will I face David in the future?'

Seeing that the people around were willing to kneel, Marlee sighed inwardly.

A man like David was destined not to have any relationship with her.

They were from different worlds.

It was possible that once they reached the Central Sacred Continent, the two would part ways and never have a chance to meet again.

Just now she was still judging David unfairly with her despicable mind.

She thought David would spare those demons who all had blood on their hands.

Unexpectedly, he just wanted to fight back with fire and let them experience a deeper fear after hope.

At this moment, Marlee still felt a trace of guilt in her heart.

Just when she was still considering whether to kneel or not, David retracted the Eternal Golden Body and appeared on the top floor of the merchant ship.

At the same time, with a wave of his hand, a force lifted all the people who were kneeling to their feet.

“Everyone, you’re too kind! This is just a slight effort on my part, not to mention these space pirates are too evil. Anyone who encountered them would have wiped them out without hesitation, so you don’t have to feel that you owe me anything,” David said casually.

Now he looked like the noble son of a big family.

He was completely different from the decisive Eternal just now.

“It may be nothing for you, Master David, but for us, it’s a chance at rebirth. I thought I was going to die just now.

Master David, I will always remember your kindness whether you accept it or not.”

“I will always remember Master David’s kindness in my heart!” Everyone said in unison.

David also looked a little helpless in front of their passion.

At this time Marlee stood forward and said, “Okay!

Everyone, go back to your positions and continue our journey! If you want to repay Master David, we should get to the Central Sacred Continent as soon as possible to save time for Master David. Master David is tired, so he needs rest.”

After Marlee said that, everyone left one after another.

Soon there were only David and Marlee left on the top floor of the merchant ship.

“It must be so hard to hide your secret, Master David,” Marlee looked at David and said meaningfully.

“Marlee, stop mocking me. Besides, I didn’t want to hide it, but you didn’t ask me. I can’t just say that I am an Eternal without any reason, right?” David replied.

“When we ran into space pirates, I came to you and tried my best to create any opportunity for you to leave with Peggy. Can’t you tell me then that you can defeat these space pirates and not make me worry?” Marlee asked with hidden bitterness.

“Would you believe me if I told you?” David asked.

“Of course, I will believe you! Even if I don’t, you can just make a move!”

“It wasn’t time yet. The other group of space pirates hasn’t arrived yet, and I think it’s easier to take care of all of them at one go lest they run away.”

“Do you think anyone can escape in the hands of you, an Eternal? No one will believe you if you say it.”

“Marlee, there will always be someone better than me. Eternal Realm is just the beginning. When you reach the Central Sacred Continent, you will know that Eternal Realm is actually nothing. Eternals are just ants in front of those real powerhouses.”

I’m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1588

Chapter 1588

David thought of Nek and the two Saint Realm reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect.

They were the ones who stood at the top of the Star Kingdom pyramid.

It was as easy for these powerhouses to kill an Eternal like him just as he killed those Universe Realm space pirates just now.

“Of course, I know! I’m not someone who has never seen the outside world, but to be honest, I have never seen an Eternal as young as you.”

“And now you have! This is it. Except for being a little younger, there is nothing special about me.”

“By the way, David, what are you going to do in the Central Sacred Continent? Are you taking over your family’s business there? Or are you going there to inspect things?”

Enter title...

Marlee asked suddenly.

She now wondered about David's purpose in going to the Central Sacred Continent.

She wanted to see if there was any possibility of further cooperation.

Most importantly, Marlee wanted to build up her relationship with David.

He definitely had a bright future since he could be an Eternal at such a young age.

Being able to have a good relationship with David would be of great benefit to her and the Jung family.

Naturally, Marlee would not let go of this opportunity.

Moreover, David was different from the Eternals she had seen before.

Those guys were so arrogant whenever they met people below Eternal Realm.

On the other hand, David was different.

He was young and powerful.

At the same time, he was not arrogant or prejudiced toward people whose strength was lower than his.

In addition, he had a good temper and a good personality.

These types of people were rare.

He could even be described as unique.

With him, Marlee did not feel oppressed as she was with other Eternals.

Even her daughter liked being with David.

"Neither! Marlee, I am going to the Central Sacred Continent to spend money. I heard that it is the most prosperous place in Star Kingdom, and people over there spend money like it's nothing. It happens that I have a lot of money, so I want to try and see if I can spend it all," David thought for a while and replied.

He was going to spend money and he was going to spend a lot of money.

'Since Marlee is a merchant, can I find a breakthrough through her?

'Why don't I buy everything from Marlee so she will work for me and help me spend money?'

David had not thought about it that way before.

However, David gradually developed this idea after Marlee tried to sacrifice herself to create an opening for him and Peggy to escape.

What he was looking for was not ability but character.

As long as her character passed the test, everything else was not a problem.

A mother who was willing to sacrifice for her daughter must have good character.

'S-Spend money?'

It was the first time Marlee heard someone complaining about having too much money, leading to them going to the Central Sacred Continent to spend it.

However, on second thought, she felt that David might be going there to buy some valuables.

"David, are you going to the Central Sacred Continent to buy something?"

"Yes, you can say that."

'Then what do you want to buy?'

"I haven't decided yet. I'll buy whatever is expensive. I'm not short of money anyway."

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1589

Chapter 1589

After the crisis, the merchant ship continued toward the entrance of the wormhole to the Central Sacred Continent.

After this incident with the space pirates, everyone's mood was completely different.

They used to look worried and frightened, but now they were all happy and without the slightest worry.

Even if they ran into space pirates again, they would not be afraid because there was David, the Eternal, on board.

Whoever came to them looking for trouble would be courting death.

Those who were hired by the Jung family with a lot of money were also in a state of excitement.

Enter title...

This time, not only could they get huge benefits and obtain the resources to continue to improve, but they could also observe the demeanor of an Eternal and the power of the Eternal Golden Body up close.

This was a worthwhile trip.

Although there were some ups and downs, it would be fine as long as the end result was good.

David and Marlee were still at the top of the merchant ship.

After the conversation just now, Marlee already had a rough idea of David's purpose in going to the Central Sacred Continent.

He was lying when he said he had too much money to spend and was going there just to spend it.

His real reason was to cultivate his power.

It might be the test given to David by his family.

It might also be because David felt that his force was too weak, so he needed to cultivate his own power and be his own boss.

After all, the struggle within the big forces was also very fierce.

She did not know how many times crueler it was compared with what happened in small forces.

The outcome of losing the competition would not be good.

It was indeed the correct choice for David to want to cultivate his own power in secret.

While he was still being valued, he should borrow some resources to train his own people and build up his trump cards for himself.

Taking a step back, even if he failed in the future, he would not be left with nothing.

Many direct descendants of many major forces would do this.

Marlee was convinced that David was an heir to a great power.

Moreover, David's performance was indeed in line with this personality.

He was an Eternal at a young age. If it were not for his strong background, not many people could achieve this.

No matter how talented a person was, they needed a healthy supply of resources in order to grow rapidly.

In Star Kingdom, more than 90% of the resources were in the hands of a few forces.

In addition, David said that he had too much money and wanted to spend it at the Central Sacred Continent.

This was even more in line with a direct descendant of a major force secretly cultivating his own power.

Marlee had no idea that David really just wanted to spend money.

He did not care if he was powerful or not.

He would be happy as long as he could spend the money in a low-key and safe manner without being noticed by other powerful people.

Even if he were to be noticed, it would only happen after he spent tens of billions of Star Dollars.

At that time, his strength would have already improved, so it would not matter if he was noticed as no one would dare to target him.

"Marlee, do you know where I can spend money the fastest in the Central Sacred Continent? If I can hide my identity, it'll be even better," David asked seriously.

Marlee looked at David's serious expression.

'It doesn't seem like he is joking.

'Spend money the fastest?

'That is to say, the items must be expensive and he needs to hide his identity.'

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1590

Chapter 1590

Soon Marlee thought of a place.

Thus, she said, "If you want to spend money quickly and hide your identity, there is a place you can go. To ordinary people, every item over there is at a sky-high price, and the organizer will also conceal the identity of the buyer."

David's eyes lit up when he heard that.

Wasn't this exactly what he needed?

Every item had a sky-high price? No matter what the sky-high price was, it was not a problem for him.

He could not wait to spend tens of billions of Star Dollars at a time to directly improve his strength to Saint Realm.

Enter title...

Furthermore, the organizer would also conceal the identity of the buyer?

That was exactly what David wanted.

Hence, he hastily asked excitedly, "Marlee, tell me, where is it?"

"An auction held by large trading companies," Marlee replied.

'Auctions?'

David was a little puzzled.

When he was on Earth, he participated in auctions, and they usually auctioned some antique calligraphy and paintings, but his gains were very limited.

The general objects range from a few million to tens of millions.

Even if he encountered a very rare antique, it would only cost a few hundred million.

Even if David bought everything in this auction, it would cost billions at most.

He could only get dozens of lavish points, which was not very useful for David.

It would be even better to just buy a few sets of courtyard houses in Capital City.

After David participated in an auction once, he was never interested again.

Although this was not Earth but Star Kingdom, the nature of the auction should be similar.

They would display a product, then everyone would bid for it together.

In the end, the highest bidder would win.

However, he had no idea what the auction items were and if they were valuable.

Every time David bought an item, the system would give a reasonable price.

Even if he purchased it at a price beyond the set price, he could only get the lavish points corresponding to the price given by the system.

“Marlee, are the items in the auction worth anything? I have participated in one before, but the results were not very good. The items are very ordinary and not worth much,”

David asked.

“You should have participated in an ordinary auction before, right? I’m not talking about the kind you participated in, but the auction held by large trading companies. The difference between the two is miles apart. It is no exaggeration to say that in this kind of large auction, the value of any one item will exceed the total sales of ordinary auctions,”

Marlee explained.

‘The value of any one item is equivalent to the total sales of ordinary auctions?’

David was instantly excited.

This kind of auction was tailor-made for him.

After an auction, the lavish points obtained might be able to directly increase his strength to Sovereign Rank.

“Marlee, when will such large auctions be held? I want to participate,” David said excitedly.

‘This kind of auction is hard to come by. I don’t know when it will be held. Generally, it will only happen when there is a celebration held by a trading company. After all, every item in the auction will be a treasure of heaven and earth. They are rare even in Star Kingdom so not everyone can participate. The company will send out invitations in advance. Only the invited forces can participate while others cannot enter.” “I see!”

David thought for a while and continued, “Marlee, let’s go to the Central Sacred Continent first! When we arrive, we will find out when there will be a large auction. If we don’t have an invitation, we can buy one. I believe that as long as I can offer a reasonable price, I can surely buy one.” “Okay! Then let’s wait until we get to the Central Sacred Continent. The most important thing right now is to carry on with our journey.”

“Let’s go down and see how Peggy is doing. Perhaps she is already awake.”

“It’s still early! She won’t wake up until she sleeps for at least a day and a night.”

“Marlee, what did you use on her? It won’t cause any harm to her, right? After all, she’s still so young.”

“Peggy is my daughter, so why are you more worried about her than I am?”

“Uh... I just think she is very cute.”

“Don’t worry! She is my daughter, so how could I harm her? I just made her fall asleep. It won’t do her any harm.”

“That’s good.”

The Novel will be updated daily. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!