

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1591

Chapter 1591

After this, the merchant ship did not encounter any accidents.

As it slowly approached the entrance of the wormhole, David and the others also began to encounter other merchant ships, as well as the patrol team sent by the Central Sacred Continent.

As they got closer, they saw more and more merchant ships gathered in various places around Star Kingdom.

There were even some giant merchant ships that were dozens or even hundreds of times larger than the merchant ship that David and the others were in.

One could only imagine how many goods they transported at one time.

This kind of giant merchant ship would bear the logo of the forces behind it.

Some were big families, and some were large sects.

However, the majority of them were trading houses

They were the main trade force of the Central Sacred Continent.

The small galaxy where Marlee was located would basically sell goods to this kind of merchant ship.

After they bought the goods at a low price, they would ship them to the Central Sacred Continent and sell them at a high price to pocket the difference.

One should not underestimate the price difference.

It would be several times or even dozens of times the cost of goods.

After all, no one would be willing to risk their lives to transport goods for such a long distance if the profit was not high.

If the two groups of space pirates that Marlee and the other encountered ran into merchant ships of this level, they would not even dare to touch them. Ultimately, they could only stay away obediently.

If ordinary space pirates wanted to take down these giant merchant ships, they would only end badly.

Soon, the merchant ship arrived at a bustling area. Many merchant ships and battleships were parked here in an orderly manner.

As soon as the merchant ship arrived, a small ship with the word 'Central' approached them immediately.

Marlee ordered the merchant ship's defenses to be disarmed, and then took Fraser and several Infinity Rankers to meet them on the roof of the merchant ship.

The small ship parked directly on the roof of the merchant ship.

Two men and one woman came down from above.

The one in lead was a middle-aged man.

Behind him were a young man and a young woman, both of whom had outstanding looks.

One could tell they were exceptional from just a glance.

All three of them were wearing white trench coats, with the word 'Central' printed on the chest and back area.

They were the staff of the Central Sacred Continent.

"Where are you from?" The middle-aged man asked as soon as he got off the ship.

"Sir, we are from Green Apollo," Marlee replied respectfully.

"Green Apollo?"

The middle-aged man looked at Marlee suspiciously.

Apparently, he had not heard of this place.

"Find out where Green Apollo is," the middle-aged man said to the two people behind him.

"Yes, Captain!"

The two young people immediately opened a three-dimensional image and quickly searched it.

After a while, the young woman was the first to say, "Sir, I found it. Green Apollo is a small galaxy 180000 cosmic kilometers away from here"

*180000 cosmic kilometers?"

The middle-aged man was taken aback

"They're from so far away?"

He looked at Marlee

"How would a peak Infinity Ranker dare to travel 180000 cosmic kilometers with a cargo of goods?"

"Is she not afraid of meeting star pirates?"

The main point is that they even arrived safely.

"How unbelievable.

They have such good luck.

"What a bunch of lunatics who value money but not their lives."

David was still in the room at this time and did not follow Marlee. This was why the middle-aged man was so surprised.

If David was here, he would be the Eternal escort, and traveling 180000 cosmic kilometers would be nothing

"You must have suffered a lot after coming from such a far away place," the middle-aged man shook his head and sighed

He understood the people from these small places very well.

They would not earn much selling to large trading companies that came to buy from them.

If others shipped the goods to the Central Sacred Continent and sold them, their profit would be dozens of times more

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1592

If they were to transport the goods themselves, they might encounter accidents at any time. In doing so, they would lose not only the goods but also their life.

It was a typical example of losing both one's wealth and life.

Therefore, most of them were still willing to sell to large trading companies.

It would be cheaper, but more importantly, there would be no risks!

However, there were still very few people who would personally deliver goods to the Central Sacred Continent to sell

Ignoring the failure where they would lose their lives and money and get nothing in return, in the event of success, the benefits they obtained would be enough to make up for the hardships and dangers faced along the way

"Sir, the journey is not important, what matters is the result and the fact that we succeeded," Marlee said with a smile

The middle-aged man was also infected when he saw the smile on Marlee's face.

This woman was pretty nice!

She was just his cup of tea.

Needless to say, she was more stunning than most women and she belonged to the small percentage that sat on the top of the pyramid.

Moreover, she was also quite bold.

She was just a peak Infinity Ranker, but she traveled 180000 cosmic kilometers with a ship full of cargo.

The only downside was that her strength was too low.

She was only a peak Infinity Ranker and not even an Eternal. Her life would be too short.

Moreover, there was a big chance that she was already married and had children at this age.

However, this did not affect the middle-aged man's appreciation of Marlee

"Indeed, the journey is not important, what matters is the result. Yes, you have succeeded. Now that you're here, no one will dare to make things difficult for you," the middle-aged man also laughed and said.

“Thank you, Sir!”

“You’re welcome! It stands to reason that you need to pay a certain fee to use the wormhole here, but since you have traveled 180000 cosmic kilometers and it’s such a tedious journey, I will waive the fee for you. This is your number. When it’s your turn, you can use the wormhole to go directly to the Central Sacred Continent.”

After he finished speaking, the middle-aged man took out a token from his pocket and handed it to Marlee.

Marlee quickly took the token with both hands and looked at it. The number 782 was written on it.

In other words, her merchant ship was the 782nd ship in line.

She had to wait for the 781 ships in front of her before it was her merchant ship’s turn.

“Thank you, Sir” Marlee bowed and thanked the middle-aged man.

1 said you don’t have to be so polite. What’s your name?” The middle-aged man asked.

“Sir, my name is Marlee Jung.”

“I see, Miss Jung. I still need to take care of some business so I’ll be leaving first. If you need anything, you can come to me. My name is Remy Banks.”

Remy turned and left.

The two young people quickly followed behind him.

“Farewell, Master Remy!” Marlee said with a bow.

“Farewell, Master Remy! The others followed suit.

The three left in a small ship. They still needed to go to the next merchant ship to collect fees and issue numbers.

Marlee and others also returned to the control room

The merchant ship continued to move forward. After it docked beside other merchant ships, they left their defense on to prevent anyone from entering

They were waiting to enter the wormhole to go to the Central Sacred Continent.

In reality, a wormhole was a channel created by using the characteristics of space dimensions.

The higher the spatial dimension, the closer the distance between two points.

David could travel in four-dimensional space, which was naturally much faster than in three-dimensional space

However, the wormhole was a stable way of traveling through high-dimensional space for various vehicles.

The difference between the wormhole and the way David and the other Eternals traveled was that it was fixed

It was a straight passage between two points and there would be no accidents or deviations while in it. One could only enter at a certain point and exit at a certain point, and one could not get off halfway

On the other hand, Eternals and above could change their routes at will after they tore apart space to travel inside

That was the difference between the two

Many wormholes were not in four-dimensional space

For example, the wormhole that David and the others entered now was built directly in the six- dimensional space.

It must be much faster than David traveling in four-dimensional space.

However, it would take a lot of time and effort to create wormholes.

Except for large forces, no ordinary force could build them. Therefore, it was reasonable for them to charge some fees.

Chapter 1593

After Marlee directed the merchant ship to dock, she began to wait quietly

The number she received was 782.

She could only wait for the 781 ships in front to enter the wormhole before it was her turn.

It would be completely safe here as no one would dare to cause trouble here.

The people stationed here by the Central Sacred Continent were not weak.

Of the two men and one woman who just issued the queue number, the middle-aged man, Remy, was an

Eternal Realm Ruler Ranker, and the other two young people were partial Eternals.

Even those giant merchant ships had to wait in line for their turn when they arrived.

Everyone on the boat relaxed and finally had a good rest.

It had been nearly two years since they left Green Apollo, and they had not had a good rest.

They had spent almost every day in fear.

Now that they were here, the trip was considered a success.

When they arrived at the Central Sacred Continent, they could also get rich rewards once they sold the goods on the ship.

David stayed in the room the whole time.

As time went by, he gradually calmed down and was no longer as anxious as he was at the beginning.

This was because being anxious would not help anything and it would affect his judgment and lead to him making wrong decisions.

He did not want to die before he could rescue Celeste.

It would be easy to spend money in places like the Central Sacred Continent as long as one could find the way

He was now very interested in the large auction that Marlee mentioned.

He hoped that when he arrived at the Central Sacred Continent, he could run into a firm holding such an auction.

David was thinking that he should raise his strength to peak Sovereign Rank first, and then make further plans.

Ruler Rank was too weak.

The others would completely look down on him.

Just like those auctions held by trading companies. If one did not have strength or background, they would not even send them an invitation.

Only once he got to peak Sovereign Rank would he have the power to protect himself and have the right to speak

As for getting to Saint Realm, it would require too many lavish points.

Therefore, he decided to first reach peak Sovereign Rank, and then slowly find a solution to continue improving

David glanced at his system panel

[Host David Lidell

(Balance: 10000000000000000 (Star Dollars)

Body: Ruler level 1 (You may upgrade one level using 10 lavish points)

(Mind Infinity level 10 (You may upgrade using 100 lavish points)

Combat: Eternal Realm Beginner Ruler Rank

[Combat Skills: Void Punch (Perfection), Air Crushing Slap (Perfection), Evil-Splitting Sword Technique (Perfection)

Skills Ancient Traditional Medicine (Perfection)

[Lavish Points: 0]

This data remained unchanged for a long time ever since he broke through to Eternal Realm Ruler Rank in the Milky Way

The Central Sacred Continent was where David would show his capabilities next. Eighty percent of the trading volume of the entire Star Kingdom took place there.

Even if David spent tens of billions of Star Dollars, it would not cause any waves. However, he still needed to be careful.

The Central Sacred Continent was the Saints Association's territory after all.

It was estimated that there would be a lot of Saints over there.

If he was too flashy, he would definitely lure them out, which would be troublesome.

He still did not have the strength to speak in front of the Saints, but he also believed that before long. Saints would be nothing to him.

Chapter 1594

Nek and the reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect, just you wait!

I will settle accounts with you one by one.”

David thought silently in his heart.

The merchant ship waited here for a whole day.

The little girl Peggy had already woken up.

As soon as she woke up, the little girl asked David to tell her a story.

She did not know that she had gotten through a life-and-death experience while in her sleep.

When Marlee and the others were about to enter the wormhole, the merchant ship welcomed a quest

It was Remy, the Eternal who gave them the number yesterday.

Marlee was also puzzled about the purpose of his visit

She was sure that she had never had any interaction with this man before.

However, the other party not only waived her fee for using the wormhole but now also came to her.

Even though she was doubtful, Marlee still received the other party respectfully.

Remy was not only an Eternal, but he was also a staff member sent here by the Central Sacred Continent.

In Marlee's opinion, he was a big shot.

If she offended him, she would not be able to do anything if he said there was a problem with the merchant ship and forbade them from entering the wormhole.

Such was Remy's authority.

I wonder why you're here, Master Remy. I didn't make any preparations. Please forgive me, Master Remy, Marlee said respectfully to Remy who was sitting opposite her

"Miss Jung, you're too kind. I was just strolling around and saw your merchant ship. I came up on a whim. I hope I didn't disturb you," Remy also said politely.

Remy had taken a fancy to Marlee when he saw her yesterday.

Except for being weak, all of her other aspects were excellent.

It was rare for Remy to find a woman he fancied.

Thus, today he came here to look into Marlee's background.

Remy was ready to pursue Marlee if she was not married or had kids.

With his identity and Eternal's strength, wouldn't it be easy for him to win over a woman from a small place?

"Master Remy, what are you talking about? it's an honor for you to come visit my place. I am beyond thrilled, so how could you be a bother?" Marlee said hastily.

Although she did not know why Remy came here, she knew she could not neglect him.

"Miss Jung, I really admire you. It's 180000 cosmic kilometers to travel from Green Apollo to here. Even partial Eternals wouldn't dare to make this journey," Remy praised.

"Master Remy, you speak too highly of me. I had no choice. If there was a choice, who would be willing to risk their lives to make such a journey? It's just that my family has been suppressed by the surrounding forces and has been unable to make ends meet for a long time. If I didn't make this gamble, we'd be doomed," Marlee said with a bitter smile.

I see! That's right! If you don't have a choice, who would be willing to gamble with their life? But I admire you for getting here safely as a woman," Remy agreed.

"I was just lucky."

Marlee thought, if I hadn't met David halfway and kept him around, I would have been caught by the space pirates and living a life worse than death.

'David is Peggy's and my savior.'

“Luck is also a manifestation of strength

The two happily chatted about various topics.

Remy wanted to know if Marlee was married, but it was hard to ask directly, so he could only make indirect remarks.

He started with her family situation.

Marlee also had a purpose to this conversation. She wanted to know more about the Central Sacred Continent

After all, this was her first time here.

Remy was sent here by the Central Sacred Continent, so he must know it well.

After the two chatted for a while with their own goals in mind, Remy vaguely learned about some of the members of Marlee’s family, but he did not hear that she had a husband, making him a little happy.

Marlee also got a lot of basic information about the Central Sacred Continent from Remy

It could be said that both parties got what they wanted.

I’m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1595

Chapter 1595

Just as Remy was about to further express his thoughts.

Creak!

The door was pushed open and a small figure waddled in “Mom, you’re here! Who is this guy?” The little girl looked at Remy and asked suspiciously.

Of course, the person who came in was Marlee’s daughter, Peggy

She came out of David’s room. When she went back to her room and did not find Marlee, she came here.

“Peggy! How could you be so rude? Greet Master Remy now,” Marlee scolded.

“Oh! Hello, Master Remy!” Peggy greeted with a bow.

Even though she was young, Peggy had lived in this kind of environment since she was a child, so she knew how to read the room.

Since her mother was so nervous, she had to be afraid of offending this man.

Hence, Peggy had to change her attitude as well.

Peggy called Marlee Mom as soon as she entered the door, and it stunned Remy for a while.

He had been asking indirectly about Marlee's family situation.

"She didn't say anything about a husband, so why does she have a daughter?"

"Is she just a goddaughter?"

"Probably!"

"It's okay, little girl. You can just call me by my name," Remy suppressed the doubt in his heart and said.

"No! Mom said I have to call you Master Remy, so I can only call you Master Remy, otherwise, she will be angry," the little girl pouted.

Remy was about to speak when Marlee said before him, "Okay, Peggy, you should go out first! Master Remy and I have something to talk about, so don't come in again."

"Okay! Mom, you can continue to chat with Master Remy, I'll leave first."

After the little girl finished speaking, she turned and left the room.

Creak!

She closed the door again.

The room fell into silence.

Remy was about to say something, but he swallowed his words.

"Now, first of all, I need to figure out who that little girl who just came in was.

"Is she Marlee's biological daughter?"

"It's fine if she adopted the little girl.

If she's her biological daughter, then I must change my purpose of coming here."

Remy was an Eternal and he held an important position as well.

Therefore, he could not take a woman with a child. Even making her a concubine was a no-no.

He would be laughed at by outsiders.

Prestige was very important for someone like him.

“Miss Jung, who is that little girl? She’s so cute,” Remy asked calmly.

“That’s my daughter,” Marlee replied without thinking.

At the same time, she was a little puzzled.

Peggy called me Mom and he’s still asking who she is.

‘Is he dumb?’

Of course, she dared not say it.

“Is she your biological daughter?”

“Certainly!”

“What about your husband? Did he not come along?”

“He died before Peggy was born, so I’ve been raising Peggy this entire time.”

“I see! Miss Jung, you really are a hero among women. I really admire you for doing such a dangerous job while raising your daughter alone,” Remy praised.

However, Remy felt dissatisfied inside.

“What a pity!”

‘It’s not easy for me to meet a woman I admire so much, and she’s also from a small place.’

‘As long as I say the word, the other party would definitely follow me without hesitation.’

‘Unexpectedly, her husband died and she has a child.’

Remy would not want such a woman.

If he took her, she would only bring countless negative effects to him.

"I'm not a hero. I was just forced to do this. I hope you won't make fun of me, Master Remy," Marlee sighed.

"Why would I? It's late now and I still have work to do when I go back, so I won't bother you anymore, Miss Jung I wish you a smooth journey in the future. This shipment can be sold at a good price and will solve your family's problems. Hence, you don't have to risk your life making more trips like this in the future."

"Thank you, Master Remy. I hope your kind words will come true"
