

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1631 –

Chapter 1631

“David, you are so funny. Let’s not talk about how your newly established trading company will survive under this intense competition. Even if you have the strength, it has nothing to do with me. Treasure Trove is not mine anyway,” Alba said with a smile.

“How so? Aren’t you the third young mistress of Treasure Trove? Doesn’t Treasure Trove belong to the Fellowes family?” David asked suspiciously.

“I am the third young mistress of Treasure Trove, but I am not the heir of Treasure Trove. As a woman, I am not qualified to be the heir.”

“Isn’t this blatant discrimination? I thought that a major force like yours should prefer powerful people over weak people, or anyone who’s virtuous. Why are they still so patriarchal?”

“David, you are wrong! The bigger the power, the more important it is for blood inheritance. Women will have to get married in the future, so how can they be entrusted with important responsibilities?”

“Just don’t get married then. It’ll be the same if you find a live-in son-in-law!”

“That won’t work either! Women’s bloodlines are much weaker than men’s, while the bloodline of the children they give birth to will be even thinner. Moreover, it will only get weaker and weaker in the future. Only men can continue the family bloodline.”

“I don’t understand what’s on your mind. What age is it that you still care about this?” David shook his head and asked.

Men and women were equal on Earth. 1)

Unexpectedly, there were still such ancient customs being continued in this distant starry sky.

They were regressing.

“The family bloodline is the continuation of a family. This is an eternal truth throughout the ages. All family forces will attach great importance to it. However, it is normal for someone like you who inherits your skills from a master to not understand this. When you become stronger and have your own family, you will understand,” Alba explained.

She was not willing to accept this slander.

However, Alba did not feel that there was anything wrong with the ancient rule of blood inheritance.

She only hated herself for being a woman and not a man.

Alba thought she was no worse than the heirs of the Fellowes family.

Just because she was a daughter, she was not qualified to compete with them.

Not only was she ineligible to compete, but she could not even make decisions about her marriage.

For the benefit of the family, Alba could only sacrifice her happiness to marry other families to strengthen the Fellowes family.

This was the tragedy of being born into a big family.

“So, Miss Fellowes, will you also leave the Fellowes family and get married in the future?” David asked suddenly.

“Of course! This is my mission as a member of the Fellowes family!” Alba replied as it should.

There did not seem to be any dissatisfaction on her face.

As for whether she had it inside, only she knew

“Would it be a marriage connection between fam: Les>

“Why ask me when you already know?” Alba sighed

“Does a big family like the Fellowes family need to marry other families? David asked, feeling puzzled

He felt that when the strength of the family reached a certain level, there should be no need to sacrifice the happiness of the younger generation for a marital connection

“David, it seems that you have indeed just been released by your master and don't understand Star Kingdom's power structure at all.”

“That's true! Please clarify it for me.”

“If you compare wealth in Star Kingdom, the Fellowes family can definitely rank in the top three, but if you compare strength, the Fellowes family can't even make the top twenty. When your strength is not fit for your wealth and it's unbalanced, you need to find ways to solve it. Marriage is one such solution.”

When Alba explained it this way, David understood it completely.

The Fellowes family was not weak, but they were too wealthy and it caused their status to be completely out of balance.

The wealth of a family ranking in the top three must at least have strength ranking in the top five in order to barely maintain a balance.

Meanwhile, their strength was only in the top twenty, so it was indeed not enough.

This led to the Fellowes family having to find a way to make amends.

Finding a marriage with a force stronger than oneself was one of them.

The other way was nothing more than giving away part of their wealth to keep the family safe.

Every family had their own problems.

It seemed that a big family as strong as the Fellowes family was not doing well either.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1632 –

Chapter 1632

If they wanted to not have to fear anyone or any forces, they had to stand at the top of the pyramid and look down on everyone.

The reason why Alba said this to David, a young man she just met, was because she had some thoughts of her own.

According to David's series of behaviors, his master was likely to be a Sacred Saint hidden in the dark parts of Star Kingdom.

Now, the Fellowes family did not lack anything except a Sacred Saint as support.

If they had someone like that, the Fellowes family would no longer need to be restrained by other forces and they could fully control all the wealth themselves.

They would use all of it to develop their power.

If this happened, it would not be long before the Fellowes family's strength skyrocketed again.

This was definitely a milestone for the Fellowes family.

If Alba could bring in a Sacred Saint backer for the Fellowes family, then her fate would also be rewritten.

She did not want her family to arrange her fate and force her to marry and have children.

It was just that it was too difficult to get out of this situation.

Alba had not found any opportunities for so many years when she finally saw a glimmer of hope upon meeting David.

Although this glimmer of hope was still slim.

It was better than nothing!

"Miss Fellowes, to be honest, are you willing to let your family arrange a marriage for you with a man you don't like, sacrificing your happiness just to keep the temporary stability of the Fellowes family?" David asked earnestly.

He saw something unusual in Alba's tone and expression.

This woman had a mind of her own, so a new plan formed in David's mind.

Marlee's vision would be too narrow if he let her manage the trading company.

She would surely plan carefully before she spent any money, so the effect would be limited.

If he pulled Alba in, it might be different.

As the third young mistress of Treasure Trove, she had no concept of money at all, so she would not hold herself back when spending.

The only problem was that he did not have much contact with this woman, and he did not know her very well.

Hence, he still needed to observe for a while.

"So what if I am not? As a woman of the Fellowes family, I can only quietly accept my fate," Alba replied with a somewhat low voice.

Her face was very calm, and David could not see any changes.

However, at this moment, Alba's heart was beating nervously and rapidly.

Her breathing also began to become a little short.

Alba knew that her turning point was likely to appear.

'Since David asked me that, does it prove that I have hope in relying on this Sacred Saint's disciple?

'Does it mean I have the hope of freeing myself of my family's arrangement once I do?

'Does it mean I don't need to marry that man anymore?'

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1633 –

Chapter 1633

Alba's deep voice made David's eyes light up.

'I have a chance!'

As long as Alba was not satisfied with the status quo and there was a gap in her relationship with her family, there was a high possibility for David to pull her over to help his big plan of spending money.

David believed that with Alba's help, the establishment of the trading company would definitely go much smoother.

Furthermore, he could perfectly hide his identity if he used her as a cover.

However, Alba was still only the third young mistress of Treasure Trove.

David wanted to spend a lot of money, amounting to tens of billions of Star Dollars.

Even if she was the third young mistress of Treasure Trove and had no concept of money, she would definitely be shocked.

It would be a little troublesome if she reported this to her family.

'How can I get this veiled woman in front of me to follow me wholeheartedly?'

David still needed to figure this out.

He did not think that his charm could make Alba fall in love with him just now.

This was a woman who had a lot of experience and had her own mind.

“Since you are so unwilling, why don’t you think of a way out? Marriage is a lifelong matter after all. If you make the wrong choice, there is no turning back.” David continued to stir up Alba’s sentiments.

“David, you have been living with your master for so long that you don’t understand the helplessness of family forces. It seems to be perfect on the surface, but it is not always the case. Let me ask you a question first.”

“Go ahead, Miss Fellowes.”

“If your master arranges a marriage for you, can you refuse? Or are you able to refuse?”

“Of course!” David replied without hesitation.

He did not even have a master, so how could such a thing happen?

He then added, “Besides, my master would not force me to do things I don’t want to do.”

“It seems that you have a very good relationship with your master, so let me ask you another question. If your master is injured and this marriage of yours can help him, will you still refuse?”

‘Um...’

David did not know how to answer this.

If he refused, he would seem impersonal and selfish.

His master was injured, and he was not willing to sacrifice anything for his master at all.

However, if he accepted it, wouldn’t it imply that Alba should also accept the marriage arrangement at home?

Without her help, his plan to spend money would be temporarily stranded again.

David thought for a while before saying, “If this is the case, I might explore my own solution first to see if I can help him. If it doesn’t work, I can only accept the situation.

Miss Fellowes, you can also follow this method. After all, the Fellowes family is not in desperation now, so you still have a chance to come out and take a gamble.”

“David, your idea is too simple. Do you think I don’t want to? But the situation that my family is facing now cannot be solved by ordinary people. Even if I try my best, I can’t see even a shred of hope. If I want to get the Fellowes family out of this situation, I can’t do anything unless...”

“Unless what?” David blurted out.

He immediately regretted it after asking.

What did the Fellowes family’s difficulties have to do with him?

David just wanted Alba to help him make his trading company bigger and stronger, and spend more money.

As long as he spent the money, his strength would improve.

Even if the trading company was annexed in the future, it would not matter.

All he wanted was lavish points. 2

He did not want to get involved in this kind of struggle between big families.

After David asked that, Alba replied impatiently, “Unless a Sacred Saint is standing behind the Fellowes family to help the Fellowes family break out of their predicament. However, even if I detach myself from the family, where can I find a Sacred Saint? In the end, I will still have to go back to my family and obediently accept my fate.”

After saying this, she stared fixedly at David.

At this moment, David was smiling bitterly in his heart.

‘Alba is pretty amazing.

‘I was roped in without knowing it.’

By now, he could only bite the bullet and say, “Miss Fellowes, if you can use your connections and knowledge to help me grow the trading company, I can help you break your family’s trap and rescue you. What do you think?”

Sacred Saints were very strong, and they were at the top of the pyramid in Star Kingdom.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1634 –

Chapter 1634

They would be respected and adored by countless people in Star Kingdom.

However, David was not afraid because he had the system. Sooner or later, he would reach that stage.

If Alba could help him make his trading company bigger, he could quickly spend tens of billions of Star Dollars.

After he got enough lavish points to reach Sacred Saint, he could help the Fellowes family.

He wanted to rescue Celeste from the hands of the four reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect.

After this, he would go to the Simmons Continent to find Neki for revenge.

It would only be safe if he became a Sacred Saint.

It was not enough to be a True Saint.

As far as he knew, Celeste's teacher was a True Saint.

David wanted to make the trading company bigger, and he needed to spend money to get lavish points to improve his strength.

Meanwhile, Alba wanted to break the situation of the Fellowes family and change her destiny.

The needs of the two did not conflict. In the fact, they even complemented each other perfectly in helping David reach his end goal.

Alba had been staring at David the whole time.

She wanted to know whether David's master was a Sacred Saint, but she could only confirm it indirectly.

If David's master was not Sacred Saint, his facial expressions and eyes would inevitably undergo some subtle changes when she mentioned Sacred Saint, the strongest existence in Star Kingdom.

He might display a look of awe, fear, or terror.

It would be impossible for him to remain indifferent.

If David's master was a real Sacred Saint, emotions like fear, horror, and terror would not appear on his face since he had been living with a Sacred Saint for so long.

The final result excited Alba.

From David's expression and eyes, she saw nothing but indifference.

What did that mean?

It meant that David's master was really a Sacred Saint, which was in line with David's behavior.

Furthermore, what David said also confirmed this point.

If she could help him make the trading company bigger, he would help the Fellowes family escape their situation.

It was such a good deal.

It was like a free lunch.

How would Alba disagree?

No matter how much wealth one had, one would still be coveted by others if one did not have the corresponding strength to protect it.

As the Fellowes family's third young mistress, Alba was well aware of this truth.

In the eyes of those who did not understand this, the Fellowes family was indeed doing great.

They had immeasurable wealth and everything went their way.

However, the top-ranked forces in Star Kingdom all knew the truth.

The Fellowes family was walking on eggshells.

Not only did they spend half of their income on management every year, but they would also have to send some of their best women to get married from time to time.

This was to ensure the stability of the Fellowes family.

The best woman in this generation of the Fellowes family was undoubtedly Alba.

To be honest, she was already reserved.

Soon, she would get married and play the traditional role of a good wife.

Even though the man was also one of the tops among the young generation of Star Kingdom, Alba did not like this arrangement.

She had her own ideas.

Even if she wanted to get married, she had to marry someone she liked and not be in a forced marriage.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-