Chapter 1643

David's appearance also aroused everyone's curiosity.

The crowd of onlookers, the three law enforcers, and the dozens of people from Black Water all looked at David curiously.

They did not know where this young boy came from.

David paid no attention to the others and started treating the middle-aged women.

His Ancient Traditional Medicine had reached the level of perfection.

Therefore, this minor problem was nothing to him.

He patted the middle-aged woman's heart a few times to unblock the blood vessels in the heart.

The middle-aged woman then immediately spat out a mouthful of blood.

"Ah!"

The siblings were taken aback.

The brother could still control himself, but the younger sister screamed.

The other onlookers also sweated.

After vomiting blood, the middle-aged woman woke up.

She opened her eyes and looked around. When she saw the siblings staring at her nervously, she cried, "Magus, Mari!"

Magus and Mari whom the middle-aged woman called out were Magus and Marigold Allen, the children she and Mosi had given birth to.

"Mom! Are you okay? I'm so glad." Marigold hurried forward to help the middle-aged woman up.

Magus also stepped forward to help.

Together, the two managed to lift their mother from the ground.

By this time, David had already backed away.

Their mother was fine, but Magus and Marigold were still miserable.

The onlookers looked at David with fiery eyes.

The young man in front of them was a miracle doctor.

He only patted the woman twice and she was saved.

These people also had certain unmentionable diseases and discomforts.

Thus, they all wanted David to examine them.

The three law enforcers and people from Black Water looked at David with surprise in their eyes.

This man was so young, yet he had such superb medical skills.

One could offend anyone in Star Kingdom but not skilled doctors.

This was because one might need them at any time.

“You’re a miracle doctor! Excuse our rudeness,” the leader of the law enforcers said politely.

“My friend, you are too polite! I only know some medical skills, so I dare not call myself a miracle doctor,” David also replied politely.

The three law enforcers gave David a great impression after they had tried to help the weak.

He would not have the slightest arrogance and disrespect toward such people.

“Doctor, I have a secret disease that appeared many years ago. I have seen many doctors but it can’t be cured. Can you help me look at it?” A middle-aged man in the crowd yelled.

His words had created pandemonium.

“Doctor, I’ve also been feeling a bit unwell for the past few days. Please help me.”

“Doctor, I can’t eat or sleep well these days. Please help me find out what’s wrong with my body. I don’t want to die so early.”

David could hear countless voices pleading for him to examine them.

David was speechless for a while.

He glanced over.

Except for the middle-aged man who had a hidden medical condition, the rest only had trivial ailments that could be solved at any clinic.

okay! Everyone, stop creating trouble for the doctor. Just find a clinic to take a look at your little ailments. Do you need to trouble him for that?"

"Okay,

Once the law enforcer said that, the scene instantly became silent.

Chapter 1644

It seemed that the law enforcers had a very high status in the hearts of the masses.

David also added at this time, "Everyone, I just took a look at you all. Except for the man who just said that he has a hidden illness, everyone else is fine. Just find a clinic nearby and you'll be fine. The man just now, please come to see me in a bit and I'll help you."

"Wow! He really is a miracle doctor! He can tell all of our physical conditions just by looking at us. His medical skills are simply superb."

"Yeah! He is amazing! Where do you live, Doctor? I'll go to visit you in two days."

After a while, everyone's voices gradually disappeared.

Then, the leader of Black Water said, "My Lord, our boss agreed and said that we can give the Allen family seven days to prepare. If they still can't pay back the 10 million Star Dollars owed after seven days, we will ask them to move out of here."

"Thank you!" Said the law enforcer.

Then he turned to look at the Allen family.

"You heard it too. I can only help you to this point. You should find Mosi in these seven days to see where he spent the money. If there are any leftovers, see if you can get it all back and come up with the 10 million Star Dollars. Once this tavern is taken by Black Water, it will be very difficult for you to buy it back."

“Thank you, my Lord. We will definitely find a way.”

The family of three bowed to the three law enforcers at the same time.

“Since you promised to give them seven days, you can’t disturb them during this period,” the law enforcer said to the people from Black Water.

“Don’t worry, my Lord! We, Black Water, are men of our word.”

“If there’s nothing else, I’ll leave first. Everyone else should disperse too.”

“Wait!”

Suddenly a voice called out.

Everyone followed the voice to see that it was Doctor David.

“What else do you need, Doctor?” the law enforcer asked.

“Everyone, you should be my witness. The Allen family owes Black Water 10 million Star Dollars, right? I’ll pay the money for them. You should stop making trouble for them in the future,” David said.

‘What?’

“The doctor wants to help the Allen family repay the 10 million?”

The onlookers were dumbfounded.

The people from Black Water and the three law enforcers were stunned.

The Allen siblings and their mother were even more confused.

10 million Star Dollars might be just a drop in the bucket for those big family forces, but for these civilians who were struggling at the bottom, it was a considerable amount of money.

None of the onlookers, including three law enforcers, or the leader of Black Water could come up with 10 million Star Dollars on the spot.

If other people at the scene said they wanted to pay back the money for the Allen family, they probably would not act like this and would just think this was a joke.

However, the odds were much higher when this doctor said it.

After all, being a doctor was recognized as one of the most lucrative professions in Star Kingdom.

Everyone would get hurt or get sick.

There would be a lot of money to be made in this field.

Especially when those rich and powerful people had physical problems.

Money would be a small matter as long as they could be cured.

With the doctor's superb medical skills, it would be very easy for him to earn 10 million Star Dollars.

In Star Kingdom, there were very few people who were doctors, as it was not easy for anyone to learn the necessary skills.

Each skill had its own background while the amount of talent required to learn each skill was also very high.

If Doctor David could possess such high medical skills at such a young age, he definitely came from a comprehensive medical background.

Chapter 1645

When everyone in the audience was stunned, David continued, "Give me Black Water's account. I'll transfer the money to you and you can stop disturbing them in the future. This is not easy for anyone."

10 million Star Dollars was not even a drop in the bucket for David.

Although according to the judgment of the system, doing this would not earn him any lavish points, the tens of millions of Star Dollars were nothing to him.

It did not matter, and David did not care either.

He was helping the Allen family because he was greatly inspired by them.

It made David think of a plan to quickly become a Sacred Saint.

This meeting was fated.

It would be fine if he never ran into them, but since he did, it would cost him nothing to help out and save a family.

“You... You really want to pay for them?” The leader of the Black Water group asked in disbelief.

“I’ve said it, so it’s definitely true,” David replied calmly.

“Why? This should be the first time you’ve ever meet the Allen family. You are not related at all, so why should you help them pay such a large sum of money?”

“Is 10 million a lot?”

“Isn’t 10 million a lot?”

“It’s fine! I think it’s quite a bargain to save a family with 10 million.”

The leader of Black Water dubiously gave the company account to David.

Soon, 10 million Star Dollars arrived in Black Water’s account.

No one doubted David anymore.

Countless pairs of shocked eyes stared at David.

Doctor actually took out 10 million Star Dollars to help the Allen family pay off all the debts they owed to Black Water.

How incomprehensible.

They just met by chance, and this doctor not only saved the mother of the Allen family, but he also helped them get through this catastrophe.

10 million Star Dollars was not a small amount, yet he cleared it just like that.

The Allen family was still in a daze at that moment.

Although the law enforcers got seven days for them, how would they raise 10 million?

They could not even get 1 million, let alone 10!

If they could not pay, Black Water would take away their tavern after 7 days and they would have to move out.

Without the Allen Tavern, the family would have no source of income.

They never expected things to take such a turn and see a glimmer of hope while in such despair.

The doctor they just met not only saved the mother of the siblings, he even took out 10 million to help them pay off their debts.

Did it mean that they did not need to move out anymore?

Great joy filled their hearts.

They were also looking at David with gratitude.

“Doctor, you not only have superb medical skills, but you also have such noble morals. You generously donated money to save people in distress. You’re such a role model for our generation, and I admire you so much,” the leader of the law enforcers lamented.

He admired David’s approach a lot.

As the law enforcer of the Central Sacred Continent, he knew this place like the back of his hand.

It was no exaggeration to say that more than half of the entire Star Kingdom’s wealth was concentrated here.

Chapter 1646

There were a lot of people on the Central Sacred Continent who could casually take out 10 million Star Dollars, but these people belonged to a certain major force. They were powerful and authoritative, so they would not care about the life and death of ordinary people at all.

Since David was willing to spend 10 million Star Dollars to help an unrelated family, he surely had impeccable character.

Moreover, he was even a skilled doctor, so he was even more impressive.

“Doctor, you are so noble and upright. We all admire you so much,” the onlookers also shouted.

Some of the young women looked at David with more adoration than admiration.

David was like the prince of their dreams.

If he could casually take out 10 million Star Dollars to help strangers without batting an eye, there surely was a major force behind him.

In addition, he was tall and handsome, and he was even a respectable doctor.

Anyone who could get close to him would surely go from rags to riches.

Despite this, everyone was self-aware.

A man like David was destined not to belong to them.

“Thank you, Doctor!”

“Thank you, Doctor!”

The Allen family quickly knelt on the ground to thank David, but David stopped him with a force.

“It’s just a bit of effort from my part! Don’t take it to heart. Live a good life in the future, 10 million is nothing to me.”

“Doctor, you not only saved my life, but you also helped us pay off the debts and prevented our family from sleeping on the streets. I really don’t know how to repay such kindness. Please let me know your name and I will definitely pray for you every day for the rest of my life,” the middle-aged woman said gratefully.

“I, Magus Allen, will never forget your kindness in this lifetime.”

“I, Marigold Allen, will never forget it too!”

The siblings followed suit.

“I’ll be happy if your family gets to live your life well. I just happened to pass by and exerted some slight effort. You really don’t need to take it to heart.”

may

“It be nothing for you, but for our family, this is an act of great kindness. Please come to the tavern for a while and have some wine we made. It will definitely leave you with a rich aftertaste,” Magus invited.

“No! I still have something to do, so I’m leaving first, but before I leave, I have to remind you that since Mosi has mortgaged the tavern to Black Water, this tavern no longer belongs to him. You and your sister spent 10 million to buy it back, so you better change the name of the tavern’s owner. Otherwise, if he mortgages it again next time, you will not be so lucky.”

David was ready to leave after speaking.

He had done what should be done.

There was no need for him to stay here to be gawked at.

Magus thought about what David had said.

It did make a lot of sense.

‘Since my father could mortgage the tavern, what’s stopping him from doing it again?’

‘I should not give him another chance.’

‘However, I need the assistance of Black Water and the law enforcers to change the name.’

‘I can’t change it just because I want to.’

The law enforcer also said at this time, “The doctor is right! You siblings should come with me later and change the name of the tavern’s owner!”

“Thank you, my Lord!” Magus said happily.

As long as Magus’ was the tavern’s owner, his father would have no right to mortgage the tavern.

“You should also follow me with the contract!” The law enforcer looked at the leader of Black Water again.

“Yes, my Lord!”

He could only agree while the law enforcers were keeping an eye on him.

After David took a few steps, a figure suddenly stood in front of him, preventing him from moving forward.

This person was none other than the Allen family’s younger sister, Marigold.

At this time, she blocked David’s way and said with a blush, “Sir, the wine made by my brother is really delicious. Please go in for a drink for my sake. Our family can’t repay your kindness so we can only repay you with our wine. if you don’t say yes, we will never be at ease.”
