

Always Been Yours Chapter 721

Chapter 721 I'll Make You Regret It

Remus looked on as Nicholas left in anger.

At this time, Tessa didn't know anything about what was happening in the country.

As there were several consecutive performances to follow, she had become very busy, and her daily training schedule was packed. After several days of intense training, Tessa was quite exhausted, and she had no appetite for food.

One day, Mona accompanied Tessa to dine at the dining hall of the orchestra. However, Tessa put down her cutlery after taking two bites which prompted Mona to frown worriedly as she looked at Tessa's lunch, which was barely touched.

"Tess, you haven't eaten much, so eat more." She tried to persuade Tessa, thinking it was unhealthy to undereat. Yet Tessa really had no appetite, so she shook her head and said, "I can't eat it anymore; you can have mine if you want."

"But you haven't eaten well for several days, and your body will collapse if you go on like this."

"No, I will take good care of myself." Tessa wasn't lying. As there were so many shows next month, she had to be at her best. For this reason, in addition to taking care of her physical condition, she also trained late every night. All her efforts were clear for all to see.

During the break, everyone talked to Tessa.

"Tess, you work too hard. Every day after we leave, you still stay and continue to train."

"Yeah, yeah, it makes me feel embarrassed to leave every time."

Tessa smiled and said, “Then you stay and train with me.”

“Of course not; I have to go back to accompany my darling.”

Hearing this, many members shivered at the cheesiness of the statement. Then, everyone burst into laughter, and the topic turned to Kathleen.

“I heard from the other group that Kathleen’s condition is horrible now, and she’s not as good as Tess.”

“How so?”

“I heard that Kathleen has a problem with her state of mind.”

“As far as her arrogant and self-righteous temperament is concerned, it would be strange if there is no problem with her state of mind.”

Many members had complained about Kathleen’s bad temper and other issues about her.

On these topics, Tessa did not participate. Even so, Kathleen, who was standing outside the door, blamed these things on her.

Two days later, Scott’s arrival at the orchestra ignited Kathleen’s anger to the extreme.

“Although your fingering is good now, your joints will be sore after a long time. I suggest you change this habit.” Scott guided Tessa as usual in the practice room.

“I see. I’ll try out your method later,” Tessa said, slowly getting used to the new finger position taught by Scott.

Indeed, after this, her fingers felt less sore.

The two chatted from practice techniques to musicality, then chatted about the recently released sheet music while laughing.

Kathleen looked in from outside the door, her eyes filled with resentment, and her mood was even worse.

She gripped her hands against the wall so tightly that her knuckles turned white.

“Tessa, how dare you seduce Scott! I’ll make you regret it!”

At this moment, she hated Tessa to the extreme. She felt that since this woman appeared, many things around her had changed.

The man she liked and her mother, who used to love her, now thought that Tessa was better than her!

That night, Kathleen, who was in a rage, quietly approached the practice room where Tessa was. At this time, only the two of them were present as she listened to the sound of the piano from the practice room with chilling eyes.

“Tessa, you brought this all on yourself!”

She gritted her teeth and locked the door of the practice room, then quietly left. But before leaving, she did one more thing. She turned off the heating in the practice room, then turned on the air conditioner to set the temperature to the lowest!

After a while, Tessa finished practicing and was about to leave, only to find that the door was locked when she came to it.

Usually, this door isn’t locked, so why is it locked today?

Always Been Yours Chapter 722

Chapter 722 No Signal

Tessa was puzzled, but now was not the time for her to mull over that. She knocked on the door and shouted, “Is anyone there? Open the door for me; I’m locked inside.”

Although she shouted several times, no one paid any attention. At this time, Tessa couldn’t help but get anxious because she noticed that the temperature in the practice room was getting lower and lower. Apparently, someone had turned off the heating.

She jumped up and down several times from the cold and quickly took out her phone, intending to call someone to open the door but found that there was no signal.

“How could this be?”

She looked at her phone in astonishment, then walked around the room in disbelief, but the phone still had no signal.

“That’s weird. There is usually a signal here.”

Tessa looked at the phone in her hand and felt strange.

The truth was that when Kathleen left, a signal jammer was placed at the door.

...

In the president’s office of Sawyer Group, Nicholas glanced at the time on the computer and was ready to contact Tessa. After all, he was used to talking on the phone with Tessa before she rested for the day.

“Sorry, the number you dialed is out of service.”

Hearing the mechanical voice coming from the phone, Nicholas frowned slightly. Originally, he thought that the signal from Tessa was not good, so he planned to contact her later, but the phone rang at this time, and it was the housekeeper from Vienna.

“Master Nicholas, the driver called me just now and said that he didn’t see Miss Tessa coming out. Also, I couldn’t get through to her when I contacted her.”

Nicholas’ face sank when he heard this, and he immediately sensed something was wrong. “I see. You ask the driver to continue to wait there. I’ll ask someone about the situation first.”

He hung up and dialed Hathaway’s number immediately.

Before, for Tessa’s sake, he deliberately saved Hathaway’s phone number.

Initially, he thought he would not use it, but he didn’t expect it to come in handy now.

“Hello, Hathaway speaking.”

Hathaway’s polite voice came over the phone.

Nicholas said brusquely, “I’m Tessa’s fiance, and now Tessa can’t be contacted. The driver I arranged did not see her come out. I suspect that my fiancée has met with an accident inside!”

At the other end, Hathaway was stunned for a moment, then reacted.

“Mr. Sawyer, don’t worry. I’ll go back to the orchestra now.”

After speaking, Hathaway hung up the phone, picked up her jacket, and went out. She rushed all the way there. After entering, she found the place pitch black, so she hurriedly turned on the light and started looking for Tessa.

“Tess, are you here?”

“Tess?”

In the practice room, Tessa heard someone calling her in a daze.

“I’m h-h-here.”

Her teeth chattered from the cold, and her voice was weak.

Even so, Hathaway heard it before she hurried to the practice room, only to find that the door was locked!

After swiftly opening the door, a chilling air blasted toward her, making her face change. She turned her head to see Tessa crouching on the ground, and then she hurried over. “Tess, are you alright?”

Tessa opened her lips, but she was too cold to speak.

At this time, her state was horrible; her whole body was freezing, her face was cold and pale, and her lips were blue.

Hathaway looked at Tessa’s situation, then quickly took off her coat and put it on the girl. After that, she gritted her teeth and helped Tessa to the office because the office heating was faster, and there were hot water bottles.

“Tess, are you feeling better?”

Hathaway looked at Tessa with concern.

Tessa held the hot water bottle and nodded lightly, but her face was still pale, and her whole body was still shaking.

Originally, Hathaway wanted to ask why Tessa was locked in the practice room, but seeing her in such a situation, she decided it was a question for later.

At this time, the driver got the news and hurried over from outside.

When he saw the pale Tessa, his complexion changed greatly. “Miss Tessa, you don’t look too well. I’ll take you to the hospital.”

Always Been Yours Chapter 723

Chapter 723 Mommy-To-Be

Hearing this, Tessa did not refuse because she was really not feeling well at the moment. Later, when they arrived at the hospital, Tessa developed a fever and felt like she was being roasted alive.

The driver did not dare to disregard her health and hurriedly got her to a doctor. When the doctor saw her condition, he immediately had her checked and prepared for treatment.

During this period, the driver couldn't help out much either, so he stood outside the examination room and called Nicholas to report the situation here.

“Master Nicholas, we found Miss Tessa.”

“Where did you find her?”

“In the practice room of her orchestra.”

The driver explained roughly what he had learned from Hathaway. “At that time, Miss Tessa was locked in the practice room, but I feel that it was more likely to be a malicious act because the other party not only locked her in but also turned off the heating and turned on the air-conditioning.”

On the other end, Nicholas' face was expectedly ugly after he heard the driver's words. “How is she now?” His voice was deep and husky, as usual.

“When I took Miss Tessa to the hospital just now, she developed a fever, and now the doctor is doing an examination on her.”

“I see. You keep an eye on her situation and report to me as soon as possible.”

“Very well.”

The driver nodded.

In the examination room, the doctor asked Tessa a few questions while taking her temperature. A few minutes later, he retracted the thermometer, glanced at it, and said, “You have a fever, but because you have been suffering in the cold for a long time, we need to do a blood test to see if there is any other issue.”

Tessa wasn’t a medical expert, so she left it to the professionals and accepted the arrangements. Soon, a nurse came to draw blood for her, and after that, Tessa’s already pale face seemed to have become even more colorless.

After ten minutes, the test results came out, and the doctor frowned at the examination sheet in his hand.

Seeing this, Tessa felt her heart jump to her throat. “Doctor, is something wrong?”

“No, but you are pregnant, so for the next treatment, we can’t give you medicine to reduce your fever.”

The doctor looked at Tessa with a smile. As the driver was standing some distance away, he did not hear this. After Tessa heard the doctor’s words, she was stunned. “Did you say I’m pregnant?”

The doctor nodded. “This is what the test results show.”

Tessa was dumbfounded. How can that be?

Obviously, when she and Nicholas had sex, she always took safety precautions, so how did she suddenly...

She was shocked but also a little uncertain because this child was not in her life plan at all, and she didn’t know how to tell Nicholas about this. She was not mentally prepared at all...

Tessa sat blankly on the chair while the doctor didn't notice her complicated mood and said with a smile, "Congratulations, mommy-to-be."

"Thanks." Tessa returned to her senses and could only thank the doctor with a wry smile.

The doctor nodded and explained, "Fortunately, your condition is not serious, so you only need to go back and simply do external cooling. After all, it is not good to take medicine during pregnancy."

"I see. Thank you, Doctor." Tessa thanked him again and then left the examination room. When the driver saw her coming out, he immediately stepped forward to say, "Miss Tessa, are you alright?"

"I'm fine. I just caught a cold."

"That's good, as Master Nicholas is apprehensive. He asked you to call him back when you come out."

Seeing that Tessa didn't seem to be in trouble, the driver was relieved and then relayed Nicholas' words.

Tessa nodded and walked out of the hospital with the driver.

After getting in the car, she took out her phone and made a video call to Nicholas.

On the screen, Nicholas' handsome face was filled with worry that could not be concealed. "What did the doctor say?"

Listening to the man's caring words, Tessa finally calmed down.

She smiled sweetly and said, "I'm fine. I just caught a cold. The doctor said that I would be fine after some physical cooling."

Always Been Yours Chapter 724

Chapter 724 No Repentance at All

“Physical cooling? Why didn’t the doctor prescribe some medicine?”

Nicholas noticed the issue immediately and frowned in displeasure, thinking that the doctor was a little undependable.

Tessa’s eyes flickered. “The doctor said that my health is a little weak, so it’s not suitable for me to take too much medicine.”

Hearing this, Nicholas didn’t suspect anything anymore. He looked at the woman’s pale face in the video, then said distressingly, “Have a good rest when you go back. I have asked the Kylie to get the hot water ready for you at home.”

Tessa nodded. She looked at the man’s concerned expression, then hesitated.

“What’s wrong?” Nicholas noticed the abnormality and asked in confusion, “Do you have anything else to say?”

“Nothing.”

Tessa froze for a moment and then shook her head with a smile on the corner of her mouth.

Forget it. I’ll tell him when I’ve decided what to say about the child.

Nicholas didn’t know what was going on. He thought that Tessa was really fine, so he hung up the phone after giving some more advice.

When Tessa got home, the Kylie had already received the news and was at the door with the maid. When she saw Tessa coming back, she immediately ordered the maid to step forward to help Tessa, who did not refuse. She was really uncomfortable at the moment, and her head was woozy.

After a simple bath, she lay in bed but couldn't fall asleep.

Later, her condition became serious. Her head felt worse, and she had a dry mouth. Thus, she walked out of the room weakly, planning to go downstairs to pour a glass of water for herself.

At this time, the Kylie was still awake, so when she heard the movement and came over, she saw Tessa with a flushed face and was anxious.

"Miss Tessa, why is your face so red? Are you still having a fever?" Tessa nodded slightly.

"Then I'll get you some medication."

With that said, she was about to leave when Tessa hurriedly stopped her. "No need. I'll just sleep it off."

She was pregnant with a child now and couldn't take medicine indiscriminately, but the housekeeper didn't know this. Seeing Tessa's refusal to take medicine, she said anxiously, "Miss Tessa, you can't get better without taking medicine in this situation."

She wanted to persuade Tessa to take medicine, but no matter what she said, Tessa refused and said it was fine.

In the end, the Kylie had no choice but to call the maid to take care of Tessa.

On Hathaway's side, after knowing that Tessa was all right, she finally felt relieved. She thought of what happened tonight; if she hadn't discovered it early, who knew what would happen to Tessa in the end? Hence, she called the staff of the orchestra over in anger.

“What’s the matter with you? Why did you lock the door to the practice room and turn on the air conditioner?”

After being reprimanded, the staff felt extremely aggrieved. “Miss Hathaway, when I left, I saw that Miss Reinhart was still training inside. So, I didn’t lock the door at all, and I didn’t turn on the air conditioner.”

“Did you really not do that?”

Hathaway looked at the staff suspiciously.

The staff almost swore to God. “Miss Hathaway, it was really not me.”

Hathaway frowned, feeling a little odd. If the door was not locked by the staff, who else could it be?

Thinking about it, she went to the surveillance room and planned to check the surveillance cameras to have a look. Unexpectedly, she saw that her daughter was the one locking the door on the surveillance camera, and suddenly anger surged up in her.

“How dare Kathleen?”

She glared angrily at her daughter in the video, thinking that Kathleen had gone too far this time.

After returning home, she went directly to Kathleen’s room and knocked on the door.

“Mommy, why are you knocking on my door in the middle of the night?”

Kathleen appeared behind the door in her nightgown, yawning.

Seeing her like this, Hathaway suddenly became furious. “How could you even sleep? Do you know that if I hadn’t gotten there in time, Tessa would have been frozen in the practice room tonight! ”

Hearing this, Kathleen felt her mind clear a little.

Looking at her mother’s angry look, she knew what she had done was discovered.

However, she had no repentance at all. “So what? She brought it onto herself. Moreover, she was just frozen. It’s not like she was frozen to death.”

Always Been Yours Chapter 725

Chapter 725 Nothing to Do With You

“Kathleen, how did you become like this?”

Hathaway couldn't believe that such vicious words had come out of her own daughter's mouth.

Kathleen couldn't help but feel resentment when she saw her mother looking at her with disbelief.

“How did I become like this? Shouldn't you be asking yourself?”

“Me? Is it because of me that you became what you are now?”

Hathaway found Kathleen irrational, but the young lady immediately sneered back, “Isn't it? I really want to ask whether you realize who your daughter is?”

She stepped forward and approached Hathaway, venting all the grievances accumulated in her during this period of time. “Sometimes I can't help but wonder whether the b*tch Tessa is actually your daughter, while I'm just adopted by you! Do you know what people in the orchestra say about me now? They even said that I am not as good as Tessa. Let me tell you! I hate her so much now that I wish she would just disappear. If she hadn't appeared, I would still be first-rate, and the person you love the most will also still be me, and Scott won't stay away from me because of her!”

After hearing these words, Hathaway was so angry that she slapped Kathleen and stared at Kathleen very sadly. “It seems that I didn't teach you well, so that's why you end up so vicious! In the orchestra, everyone performs based on their own abilities. As you are my daughter, I have already given you all kinds of preferential treatment. Yet, you never look within yourself to correct your own problems but blame others instead. Kathleen, you disappoint me!”

Kathleen covered her face with one hand, her eyes dark and terrifying. She raised her eyes to face her mother, then sneered unremorsefully, “You’re disappointed in me? It doesn’t matter, as you will be more disappointed later because I will definitely destroy Tessa!”

Not knowing what to reply, Hathaway looked at her daughter being on the verge of a breakdown.

When Kathleen broke Tessa’s piano, Hathaway had covered it up once, but this time, she obviously couldn’t help Kathleen again!

...

The next morning, Tessa asked for leave and did not go to the orchestra because her fever had not subsided yet. She had just finished breakfast when the housekeeper knocked on the door and said respectfully, “Miss Tessa, Miss Hathaway is here to see you.”

Tessa was a little surprised and asked the housekeeper to bring Hathaway in.

After a while, the housekeeper walked in with Hathaway. Tessa was quite happy to see Hathaway, so she greeted the latter and invited her to take a seat.

“Miss Hathaway, why are you here?”

“I’m worried about you, so I came to take a look.”

Hathaway looked at Tessa’s pale face, her eyes full of guilt.

Tessa didn’t notice it and smiled. “I’m fine. I was just a little cold last night. I’ll be fine in two days.”

Hearing this, Hathaway felt even more guilty.

She took a deep breath and looked at Tessa very seriously. “Actually, in addition to visiting you, I came here today to tell you that Kathleen was the one who locked you in the practice room yesterday. I came on her behalf to sincerely apologize to you.”

With that, she stood up and bowed to apologize to Tessa. At that, Tessa quickly got off the bed and supported her. In fact, Tessa had guessed it. Furthermore, she didn’t think it was Hathaway’s fault, so she couldn’t accept the apology.

“Miss Hathaway, it should be Kathleen who is to apologize to me. This has nothing to do with you.”

“That kid is too stubborn.”

Hathaway looked very sad when she said this.

Tessa also understood what it meant.

Considering Kathleen’s temperament, it was impossible for her to apologize.

Hathaway also knew this and felt even more guilty toward Tessa. She didn’t know what to say, so she blamed herself. “I didn’t educate Kathleen well. When I divorced her father, I always felt like I owed it to her. Hence, I was overly responsive to her needs, so she developed such a selfish character, and now I’ve caused her to hurt the people around her.”

Always Been Yours Chapter 726

Chapter 726 For Your Sake

Tessa listened, not knowing what to say. She pursed her lips and supported Hathaway to sit down again.

After all that had happened, she actually hated Kathleen in her heart.

Even so, she didn't have the heart to blame Hathaway for everything that had happened. After all, Hathaway and Kathleen were different, and when she and Kathleen had a conflict, Hathaway also helped her. Thinking of this, she could understand Hathaway when she looked at how sad the latter was.

"I trust you, so I won't pursue this matter. For your sake, I won't pursue Kathleen either."

Hearing this, Hathaway was very grateful. "Tess, thank you."

"Miss Hathaway, you don't need to thank me. I will forget about it this time for your sake, but I hope there is no next time."

Tessa looked at Hathaway seriously and made her stance very clear.

Hathaway wasn't angry either. "Don't worry. I'll make sure Kathleen behaves when I get back, and I'll never let something like this happen again."

She promised Tessa repeatedly, and in the end, she couldn't help but sigh.

"Sometimes, I really hope that Kathleen can be half as sensible as you. I would be very happy then."

Tessa smiled but didn't answer.

Afterward, the two talked for a while, then Hathaway left to handle the band matters.

After the housekeeper sent Hathaway away, she couldn't help contacting Nicholas after thinking of the conversation she had just heard outside the room.

"Master Nicholas, I just heard the conversation between Miss Tessa and her teacher. I learned that Miss Tessa was deliberately locked in the practice room by Kathleen last night," Kylie told Nicholas everything he had heard.

On the other end, when Nicholas knew that all this was Kathleen's scheme, he felt extremely displeased.

After he hung up the phone, he immediately made a video call to Tessa.

"Is your health better?"

"I'm much better. Why are you still working so late?"

In the end, Tessa looked at Nicholas with some disapproval. "You promised me to take good care of yourself."

"Originally, I was going to rest, but I just received a call from Kylie. I learned that you were locked in the practice room by Kathleen yesterday out of spite, so I'm calling to ask what you think about this matter."

Listening to the man's explanation, Tessa knew that he cared about her, so she didn't mind the housekeeper tattling on Nicholas. Then, she told Nicholas her thoughts.

"Miss Hathaway has already apologized to me on behalf of Kathleen. For her sake, I won't pursue Kathleen this time, but there will be no next time. I've made this point clear to Miss Hathaway."

Nicholas frowned slightly, somewhat disapproving.

After all, he couldn't bear Tessa suffering any grievances, and Kathleen acted so boldly too. However, since Tessa had made up her mind, he couldn't say anything else.

“Since this is the case, then you take good care of yourself in the future. Beware of Kathleen in the future. Don't let me hear that something has happened to you again, or I will be very worried.”

“I know. I'll take good care of myself.” Tessa looked at Nicholas with a sweet smile.

Nicholas instructed again, “Then you have a good rest at home these two days and remember to take your medicine on time.”

Tessa nodded again, then suddenly thought about the child. Looking at Nicholas' handsome face, she hesitated again. She hadn't decided whether she wanted to keep this child or not, and she also wondered whether Nicholas would want the child or not.

Besides, Nicholas' family had not yet accepted her, and she herself had not been able to show any good results. For a moment, Tessa was in a very complicated mood and didn't know how to speak.

In the end, she still didn't say anything and only urged Nicholas to rest.

Nicholas didn't notice it either; he hung up the phone and went to rest.

In the evening, Tessa had not recovered at all because she didn't take any medication.

She sat weakly on the bed, feeling anxious in her heart.

Always Been Yours Chapter 727

Chapter 727 There's No Need

At this time, Kylie, the housekeeper, suddenly came to the door and knocked on it. "Miss Tessa, Miss Mona is here to see you."

Tessa was a little surprised and asked Kylie to bring Mona up. After a while, Mona followed Kylie into the room. Coming in, she saw Tessa's weak appearance and asked out of concern, "Tess, why is your face so pale? Have you taken medicine?"

"Miss Tessa has been refusing to take medicine since she came back last night. Miss Mona, please help me persuade her," Kylie stood by and pleaded.

Mona frowned and looked at Tessa with disapproval. "You are so ill; how can you not take medicine?"

"I..."

As soon as Tessa opened her mouth, she swallowed the rest of the words that came to her mouth.

She wanted to share the news of her pregnancy with Nicholas first. Thinking about it, she made up a random excuse. "My stomach has not been feeling well for the past two days. I will have nausea after taking medicine, so I don't want to take it."

After listening to Tessa's words, Mona sighed. She felt that Tessa was in terrible shape.

Thinking of this, she thought Tessa was alone in Vienna and had no relatives by her side, so she offered and said, "I'll stay with you tonight, so I can take care of you if your condition worsens at night."

“Okay, sorry to trouble you.”

Tessa didn't reject Mona's kindness and was very moved.

...

The next day, at Dynasty Gardens, Gregory and Tessa talked on the phone. When Gregory knew that she was sick, he was worried.

“Miss Tessa, you must take your medicine obediently so that you will recover,” the little boy held the phone and told Tessa earnestly.

Tessa nodded with a smile. “I know.”

The two spoke for a while, then Gregory urged Tessa to rest. After hanging up the phone, the little boy was still worried about her.

“Daddy, I'm so worried about Miss Tessa. Let's go see Miss Tessa, okay?”

Looking at his son's expectant gaze, Nicholas was also concerned about Tessa and wanted to agree. However, he really couldn't walk away from work. “Not yet. Wait for me to finish my work in two days.”

Hearing this, Gregory was very disappointed.

As for what happened, Wanda didn't know. She had decided to stay and start her own business. Of course, the biggest purpose was to charm Nicholas.

After her grandfather left, she started looking for a building for her new company.

When Nicholas heard about this, he took the initiative to arrange for a secretary to help Wanda, hoping that Wanda would not come to him too often. This secretary was Bailey Jules, who had taken Wanda around the company before.

Bailey's work efficiency was very high, and soon he helped Wanda find a good company building. But because of the floorplan layout, Wanda didn't like it very much, so Bailey took the initiative to contact the renovation company at once. Soon, the building entered the renovation stage. Wanda thought that it was thanks to Nicholas' help that these matters could be resolved smoothly, so she went to Sawyer Group on purpose one day.

In the president's office, Edward knocked on the door and went in to report, "President, Miss Muller is here."

"What is she here for?"

Even though Nicholas said so, he still asked Edward to bring her up.

After a while, Wanda followed Edward into the office in her stilettos. She looked at the handsome man sitting at the desk, her red lips curling into a beautiful arc.

"Hello, Nicholas."

Nicholas nodded slightly and asked politely but distantly, "Why are you here today?"

"My company has entered the renovation stage. I thought that if it weren't for your help, the progress would not be so fast, so I want to invite you to a meal to express my thanks."

Wanda smiled sweetly and looked at Nicholas.

However, Nicholas was uninterested and simply said, "There's no need. It wasn't much effort."

Seeing the man's indifferent and withdrawn look, Wanda felt her eyes flash with disappointment.

She could actually sense that the man was deliberately keeping a distance from her. Hence, she decided not to push it too much.

Always Been Yours Chapter 728

Chapter 728 Make Yourself at Home

After all, Wanda knew that some things couldn't be rushed. "If that's the case, we'll have a meal next time when you're free."

Nicholas nodded. "Is there anything else?"

Knowing that he was hoping for her to leave, Wanda wisely took the initiative to see herself out. After walking out of the Sawyer Group, she looked back at the office where Nicholas was, feeling a little unhappy. However, she didn't give up. In the afternoon, she bought a gift and went to Sawyer Residence to visit Remus.

When Remus learned that Wanda was there to visit, he came out of the study and went downstairs happily.

"Why did you come here today, Wanda?"

"Old Master Sawyer."

Seeing that Remus had come down, Wanda quickly got up from the couch and greeted him politely.

Seeing such a dignified and polite girl, Remus felt even happier about the girl that he already liked.

"Why are you so uptight? Take a seat and make yourself at home."

He greeted Wanda with a kind smile and sat down, then asked with concern, "Have you found a building for your company?"

He actually knew what Wanda was doing these days.

“Yes. It’s being renovated now.”

Wanda gave a general overview of the company’s situation.

Remus nodded again and again. “If you need anything, just go to Nicholas for help.”

“Well, Nicholas has already helped me a lot.”

Wanda did not deliberately reveal that Nicholas ignored her.

On the contrary, she said a lot of good things about Nicholas in front of Remus. “If it weren’t for Nicholas’ help this time, I might not be able to make decisions about the company so quickly. When I have time, I have to thank Nicholas too. I’ve troubled you all too much recently.”

“Well, your grandfather entrusted you to us, so it’s only right for Nicholas and the others to take care of you.”

Even though Remus said so, he liked Wanda more and more and felt that this girl was very sensible.

Halfway through, while Wanda was going to the bathroom, Remus asked Ian to inform Nicholas to come to Sawyer Residence for dinner at night.

When Wanda came back, she happened to hear Ian calling Nicholas.

“Master Nicholas, Old Master Sawyer asked you to come to Sawyer Residence for dinner tonight.”

Although she didn’t know what Nicholas answered, after hearing what Ian said, she knew that Nicholas had agreed.

Afterward, she pretended not to know anything and went back to the living room to chat with Remus.

That night, Nicholas arrived at Sawyer Residence. As soon as he entered the living room, he saw Wanda sitting on the couch. Frowning slightly, he asked, “Why are you here?”

Wanda looked at the grim man who walked in from the outside, her eyes glinting with pleasure.

“I heard that Old Master Sawyer likes to drink tea, so I brought some over as a gift. I have to go to the company to supervise work later, but I didn’t expect to see you here.”

Nicholas nodded casually. In fact, he already knew in his heart that his grandfather’s intention to call him over was not just for dinner. However, he didn’t care because no matter what Remus wanted to do, it would only be a waste of time. He would not and could not compromise on this.

During the meal, looking at Nicholas, who hardly ever talked to Wanda, Remus was a little annoyed.

With a stern face, he said to Nicholas, “Now Wanda is starting her own business in the country by herself, and she has no relatives to help her out. You should try to help her as much as possible.”

Nicholas didn’t speak as he was very aware of what Remus was playing at.

Remus didn’t care but continued to advise, “When Wanda’s company launches successfully, you should help more with the business, and don’t let malicious people bully Wanda.”

Hearing Remus’ words, Wanda looked at Nicholas with anticipation.

Unfortunately, the man looked cold and didn’t seem to care to express his intention.

In order not to offend him, Wanda took the initiative to reject Remus’ proposal.

“Old Master Sawyer, there’s no need. I would like to try things out myself first when starting a business. How can I rely on others for everything?”

Seeing Wanda showing her hard-working and adaptable side, Remus felt even more satisfied.

Always Been Yours Chapter 729

Chapter 729 Vomiting

Remus felt that only such a career-driven girl could help Nicholas in his career and be a good assistant.

A musician like Tessa? Remus felt that apart from appreciation, she was useless, and she couldn't share the burden with Nicholas.

However, Tessa didn't know about any of this. After two days of recuperating at home, her health finally improved. On the third day, she returned to the orchestra, intending to continue training.

When the members of the orchestra saw her, they gathered around with concern.

"Tess, are you feeling better?"

"I don't think you look well. Don't be stubborn. Your health is the most important thing."

"Yeah, don't worry about training."

Everyone was worried about Tessa's health. In fact, they all heard of what Kathleen did, and they felt very sympathetic toward what happened to Tessa.

Seeing everyone's worried expressions, Tessa felt warm in her heart.

"I'm fine. Thank you for your concern."

After talking to everyone, she went to the practice room with the violin case on her back. At this time, Kathleen also came in from outside.

Looking at the band members gathered together, she immediately frowned in displeasure. “What are you doing around here? Do you have nothing to do? Have you completely memorized the scores?”

The band members looked at Kathleen, who suddenly appeared and became angry, and their gazes darkened.

“Let’s go and practice.”

They didn’t even say hello to Kathleen and left.

Kathleen didn’t care either and entered the practice room on her own. Later, she also learned the news of Tessa’s return from the members of the orchestra, and her eyes were dark.

For the next two days, the band seemed to resume their hustle and bustle as before.

Only Kathleen realized that something was different.

In the past two days, she found that many members of the orchestra looked at her differently. They appeared disgusted with her and defensive against her. In fact, it was not surprising that other members had such changes.

Compared with Kathleen, who was arrogant and unreasonable, they preferred Tessa, who was talented and had a good personality. Thinking of Tessa’s successive bad encounters, they also worried that if they offended Kathleen one day, they would also be the victims of those schemes.

However, Tessa didn’t pay much attention to any of it. After resuming training, she intended to focus on her performance next month. As for the child in her belly, she wanted to wait until next month’s performance when Nicholas visited before revealing the news.

Nevertheless, the future was full of surprises. Soon, Tessa began to have side effects from the pregnancy. In the beginning, she could endure it. But as time passed, her side effects became a little more serious.

One day, she and Mona were eating in the cafeteria, but just after drinking a bit of soup, her stomach was churning.

“Blech!” She covered her mouth and hurriedly rushed to the trash can.

Mona followed behind worriedly and asked, “Tess, are you alright?”

“I’m fine.” Tessa shook her head weakly.

However, Mona didn’t believe it. “You’ve been like this for a few days; how could you be fine?”

At this time, other members also noticed Tessa’s strangeness and came over.

“Tess, why did you throw up again? Why don’t you go to the hospital for a checkup?”

“Go and seek medical advice. It’s not normal to vomit like this.”

“Yeah, why don’t I take you to the hospital?”

Listening to everyone’s concern for her, Tessa felt their warmth. “I’m really fine. It’s an old chronic issue. I’ll be fine in a few days.”

She thanked the kind-hearted members of the group, but she was actually very clear about her own situation and knew that this was a normal situation and that she did not need to go to the hospital.

However, just after she finished speaking, she couldn’t help retching again, and her face turned pale as she vomited.

That night, Nicholas also saw from the video that Tessa's face was ashen, and he was distraught to see her condition.

“Why is your complexion so bad?”

“I'm fine. It's just that I'm a little sick and have no appetite.” Tessa's eyes flickered.

Nicholas frowned and asked, “Have you seen a doctor since you feel unwell?”

Always Been Yours Chapter 730

Chapter 730 Her Indecision

“No...”. “Why don’t you see a doctor?”

“I don’t want to.”

After Tessa finished speaking, she didn’t dare to look directly at Nicholas because she had a guilty conscience. Nicholas didn’t notice that, as all his attention was devoted to the fact that she was not feeling well.

“Then have you sought out medicine?”

Hearing the man’s relentless questioning, Tessa couldn’t resist, so she gritted her teeth and said, “I can’t take medicine.”

“Why can’t you take medicine?”

Nicholas’ dark eyes were locked tightly on Tessa, his brows furrowed hard. Tessa bit her lower lip lightly, not knowing how to answer. Looking at the girl who had been silent for a long time, Nicholas couldn’t help but ask again, “What’s the matter?”

“Anyway... I just can’t take medicine!”

With this, Tessa hung up in fear though she didn’t know what she was afraid of. After all, she knew very well that even if Nicholas knew about the child, he would agree. However, she was conflicted.

She had achieved nothing in life, so could she really give birth to a child? Also, she didn’t know what to make of the entire situation. Thinking of this, Tessa hated her indecision more and more. It was also because of these that she couldn’t face Nicholas.

However, Nicholas didn't know this. Instead, he looked at his phone, his expression darkening.

Knowing that this was something Tessa had never done before, he was very worried that something had happened to her.

Thinking of this, he immediately called the housekeeper, Kylie, over there in Vienna. "Go upstairs to check on Tessa's situation but don't mention me to her."

Although Kylie felt confused, she complied. After all, she was about to go up and ask Tessa if she wanted some supper. Soon, she came to the bedroom and knocked on the door. "Miss Tessa."

"Come in." Tessa's soft voice came from the door.

Nicholas was very distressed on the other end of the phone. Then the housekeeper pushed the door and went in. Seeing her, Tessa restrained her emotions and asked, "What's the matter?"

"I saw that you didn't eat much during dinner, so I wanted to ask if you would like a late-night snack?"

"No, I'm not hungry."

"Okay, if you're hungry in the middle of the night, call me anytime."

Tessa nodded and motioned for Kylie to leave. After she went out and closed the door, she picked up the phone again and put it to his ear, saying, "Master Nicholas, she seems to be fine."

Nicholas grunted, but the worry in his heart did not diminish.

"I want to know about Tessa's recent health condition. Is there anything wrong?"

“Miss Tessa has been in poor health recently.” Kylie did not dare to keep it a secret and answered truthfully.

Nicholas’ face sank, and he said sternly, “Since Tessa is not well, why didn’t you report to me?”

“It’s Miss Tessa who forbids me to tell you.” She looked a little aggrieved.

When Nicholas heard that he stopped admonishing and continued to ask, “Is there anything else strange about Tessa?”

“Yes, during these days, Miss Tessa has no appetite for anything, and sometimes she vomits. I advised her to see a doctor, but she refused to go or take any medicine. I don’t know what happened to her.”

After listening to the housekeeper’s words, Nicholas was anxious, and he too, felt that Tessa had something to hide from him, so he was in a horrible mood.

At this moment, Edward knocked on the door and walked in. “President, Miss Muller is here to look for you again.”

“I’m busy!” Nicholas’ tone was irritated, and then he ordered, “Go and book a ticket to Vienna for me immediately.”

Edward was a little surprised. Why did the president suddenly want to go to Vienna? Moreover, his face is so ugly! Could it be that the president and Miss Tessa quarreled?

He let his imagination ran wild, but he did not dare to resist Nicholas and quickly asked, “Is Gregory going?”

“Just me. Go!”

With that, Nicholas had exhausted his patience, and his eyes were as sharp as blades shooting at Edward.

