

Chapter 5328

Hearing someone knock on the door, Noah subconsciously asked: “Who is it?”

As soon as the words fell, the door was pushed open, and several police officers came in, one of them looked at Noah and Harold, and asked: “You guys are Horiyah Qian’s family?”

Noah subconsciously said: “I am... I am her husband.”

Harold also said: “I am her son...”

The police officer nodded and said: “Okay, get up come with us, and cooperate with us in our investigation.”

“Cooperate with the video investigation?” Noah asked subconsciously: “Officer, is it Horiyah? Are you sure?”

“Video?” Harold blurted out and asked: “What video? We don’t know what the situation of the video is...”

The policeman asked with disbelief: “Your video was exposed on the Internet. Haven’t you watched it yet?”

“Expose us?” Noah asked nervously: “What’s going on? I can’t even understand what you’re talking about.”

The police officer said lightly: “It’s okay if we don’t know, we’re here we will let you know there, get up and follow us.”

Noah hurriedly said: “Officer, my son and I are both paralyzed, and we haven’t recovered yet, so we can’t get up at all.”

The policeman frowned and asked: "Acting is addictive, right? Don't think that I don't know that you are all fake. Don't you just act on purpose for those netizens on the Internet to see you,"

"So that they can place orders and buy things in your live broadcast room? In front of the police, you all dare to act in front of us, you are not like that."

Noah hurriedly said: "Officer, this is a big misunderstanding. Our father and I had an accident some time ago and have been paralyzed in bed for a long time. If you don't believe me, you can go to the hospital to check our files."

The police officer frowned, recalling that the two of them had been lying on the bed since they entered the door, almost motionless, and believed Noah's words a little bit.

So, he said, "If you really have mobility problems, then I'll ask two people to help you into the car. First, go to the police station to cooperate with us in an investigation. After the investigation is over, we will send you two back."

Noah asked nervously: "Officer, what is going on? You just said that someone exposed what we exposed? Did you expose my wife's live streaming?" "Yes." The police officer nodded, took out his mobile phone,

Opened the video, handed it to Noah, and said lightly: "Look for yourself, after all, you said it yourself, and there is no other person falsely accusing you or pouring dirty water on you."

Noah stared at the video, watching it play automatically, and Horiyah's first sentence in the video almost scared his soul away!

Although Harold, who was lying on the next bed, couldn't see the picture, he knew what was going on from the sound, and he was so scared that he got goosebumps all over his body.

The police officer took back the phone before the video was finished, and asked in a cold voice: “Now, do you know why you were asked to go back to cooperate with the investigation?”

Noah’s forehead was already covered with cold sweat, and he stammered, “But... But my wife can’t be considered a liar when she was broadcasting the live broadcast, because we are indeed paralyzed, and we really don’t have much money for medical treatment...”

The policeman asked him: “Your wife already drives a Mercedes-Benz big G, you tell me you don’t have money for medical treatment, do you think I’ll believe it?”

Noah quickly explained: “Officer, you misunderstood, I’m not talking about now... I’m talking about when she just started live streaming... At that time we were really poor and can’t get rid of the pot,”

“So she thought of earning some rewards through live broadcasting. Unexpectedly, more and more people followed her, so she started live streaming to sell goods, and the money she earned was from live broadcasting.”

The police officer asked in a cold voice: “Since you have earned so much money, why are you still selling misery? Your wife’s Mercedes-Benz G should be enough for the living expenses and medical expenses of both of you, right?”

“Kind netizens helped you to solve the problem, after your problem was solved, why didn’t you hurry up and let it go, why did you continue to consume the sympathy of netizens for your family? You already have money that you can’t spend, but you still talk about how miserable your family is in front of the camera, do you think this is right?”

Noah was speechless for a moment. He knew that this matter was outrageous, and his family didn't care about it. It was like a water drop chip. It was clear that 3,000 yuan was enough to cure the disease,

But he insisted on raising 3,000 yuan on the water drop chip, there must be something wrong with it. The police came to the door, which was also a situation he had imagined earlier.

In desperation, he and his son could only be carried out of the room with the assistance of several police officers.

The one who was taken out of the house with them was the old lady Willson who had just fallen asleep but was awakened by knocking on the door.

At this moment, the old lady didn't know what happened. Seeing that the police officers carried her son and grandson out, she hurriedly asked, "Noah, Harold, what's the matter with you two? What are the police arresting you for?"

The police officer quickly explained: "Grandma, please don't get me wrong. We are not going to arrest the three of you, but because the three of you are suspected of fraud, so we want the three of you to go to the police station to cooperate with us in our investigation."

Suddenly startled, she quickly waved her hands and said: "Officer, my daughter-in-law did all the deceitful things, I have never done it, you must not take my old bone into prison."

Old lady Willson, who has been in prison, has no nostalgia for that place but is full of fear.

She knew that what her daughter-in-law had done was disgraceful, and she might even be suspected of committing a crime, so she wanted to get rid of the relationship immediately, so as not to implicate herself.

However, the police officer said patiently: “Grandma, don’t panic too much. We just ask you to assist in the investigation.”

“If there is no problem, we will send you back.” The old lady Willson had no choice but to follow the police car.

Soon, several police cars left Tomsons’ and headed for the city bureau.

After arriving at the Municipal Bureau, the four members of Horiyah’s family were interrogated in isolation.

Due to their poor psychological endurance, the four of them confessed the whole story within a short period of time.

What the police officers didn’t expect was that Noah and Harold were actually paralyzed.

Originally, they thought that the paralysis of the two people should be fake, but now through the hospital’s case and the visual judgment of the two of them, they can confirm that the two are indeed paralyzed.

This time, it made the police a little tricky.

If the cases of these two people were forged, then the family must have been convicted of fraud, but the cases of these two people are true, which proves that Horiyah did not forge documents to deceive the public.

Therefore, the crime of fraud is really not enough.

However, there is a precedent for this kind of live broadcast of selling miserable stories, and administrative punishment is generally imposed, depending on the severity of the circumstances, and administrative detention for seven to fifteen days.

So the police quickly made a decision to detain Horiyah for 10 days, and at the same time permanently ban her account on the short video platform.

Although Noah, Harold, and Mrs. Willson are accomplices, it seems that the father and son are indeed paralyzed in bed. Mrs. Willson is also old and has to take care of a pair of two people, so she will be lenient to the three to avoid punishment.

Ten days of administrative detention is already a blessing in misfortune for Horiyah.

She thought to herself: "It doesn't matter if you are detained for ten days, as long as they don't confiscate my money..."

But she just thought so, taxation the person approached her immediately and said,

"Horiyah, after our verification, your bank card account exceeded 10 million during this period, but you haven't paid a penny in tax. What's going on?"
