

Chapter 3722

Harvey quietly left Flutwell's Peak soon after.

For him, Rhea and the others to come out at such a crucial time wasn't something so bad.

At the very least, he finally found some time to save Amber and the young talents.

The Life Elixir was a strange medicine, but it couldn't be considered poison.

The best way to save the three was for them to wake up naturally.

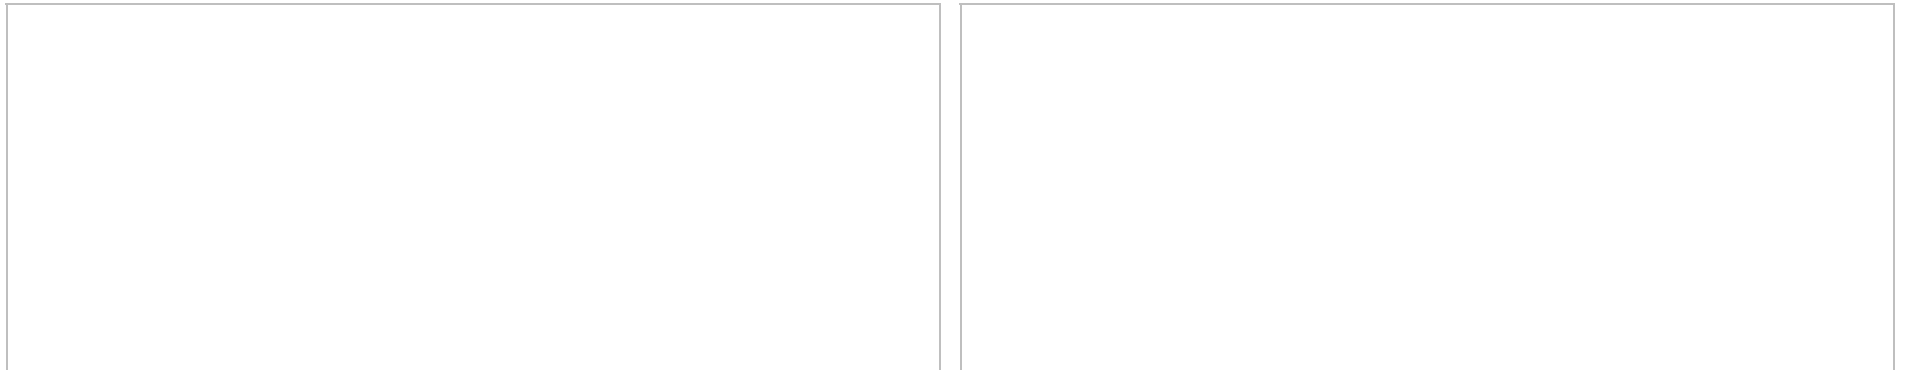

According to Harvey's deductions, even if the woman soaked her fingers in the Life Elixir for an entire day, the effects would be minimal.

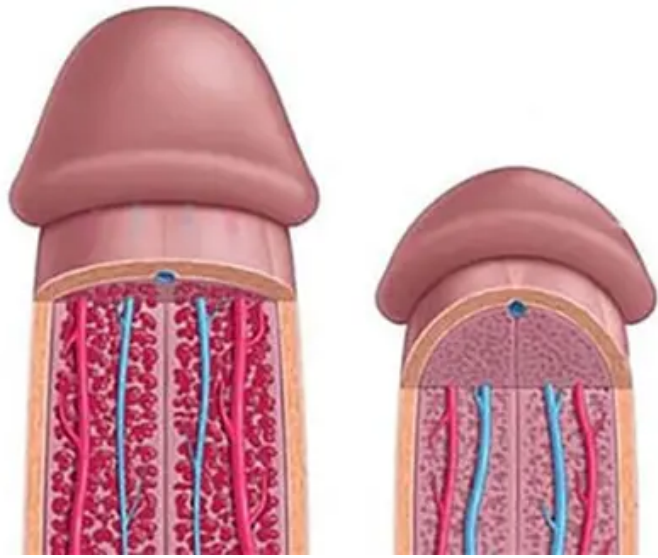

But since there was time now, Harvey would naturally try to wake up Amber and the others on his own.

And so, he got Rudolph and his team to empty the three talent's stomachs before providing them with IVs.

He then poked at various parts of their bodies to stimulate their vitality.

A whole day passed.

Harvey left the young talents, completely exhausted. Just then, Rachel, who was still in Flutwell's Peak, called him.

The call didn't matter; Harvey already knew what was going to happen.

Rhea and Bryce handpicked the fighters for the next three matches with the Indians.

Yet, they were still beaten to a pulp by Zoe, Danny, and Ryland.

Longmen had completely lost their reputation once again.

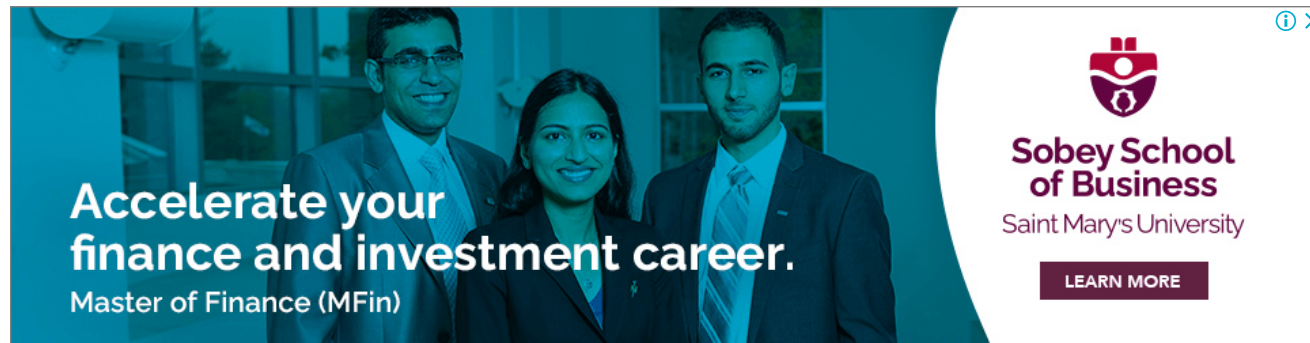

This comeback boosted the Indians' morale; they boasted about how they would take down Longmen and Country H once and for all.

Harvey hung up. Then, he looked at the comments online.

The internet was in an uproar.

Some believed that Longmen was playing the long game to secure their victory. Others thought that they were only trying to have the fighters gain experience in the fights.

Others speculated that the young talents had a conflict with Longmen; that they demanded a large number of benefits. Otherwise, they wouldn't fight for Longmen.

There were those who managed to figure out the truth, claiming that all of Longmen were fighting for their own interests and reaping their own benefits without regard for the chaotic situation at hand.

Ultimately, there were endless comments about the situation from many, many people.

That said, both Longmen and the Indians kept quiet on the matter.

It was as if they were all waiting for what would happen next.

Four days had passed in a blink of an eye.

Longmen had lost twelve matches in a row.

The provincial champions were all completely beaten up.

People Bryce and Rhea sent were all slapped around like dead dogs against India's three top talents.

Because of this, the netizens were ruthlessly insulting the fighters.

Bryce and the others felt immensely pressured.

It's said that even Longmen's temporary offices in Flutwell were all swarmed by angry mobs.

The people couldn't bear to see their country humiliated.

They demanded the young talents take action as soon as possible.

It got so bad, the police had to bring many officers to deal with the situation.

At this moment, someone online revealed that the young talents weren't able to fight because they were poisoned.

Footage of Harvey and Zoe's meeting was exposed to the public soon after.

Pictures of a hundred and fifty million dollars transferred to Harvey's bank account were revealed, along with the conditions of the Indians' offer to him.

Some even drew out a timeline to explain the entire situation.

And so, without any solid proof, Harvey was branded a traitor to his country.

Everyone believed that he was a despicable man who conspired with the Indians and sold out his people just for glory and riches.
