

Chapter 3736

Harvey York chuckled at Axel Garcia.

“Are you sure you want to do this?”

“If your top talents all die by my hand....”

“How are you going to explain this when you return to India?”

“You won’t just cut open your stomach like the people from the Island Nations, will you?”

“You...”

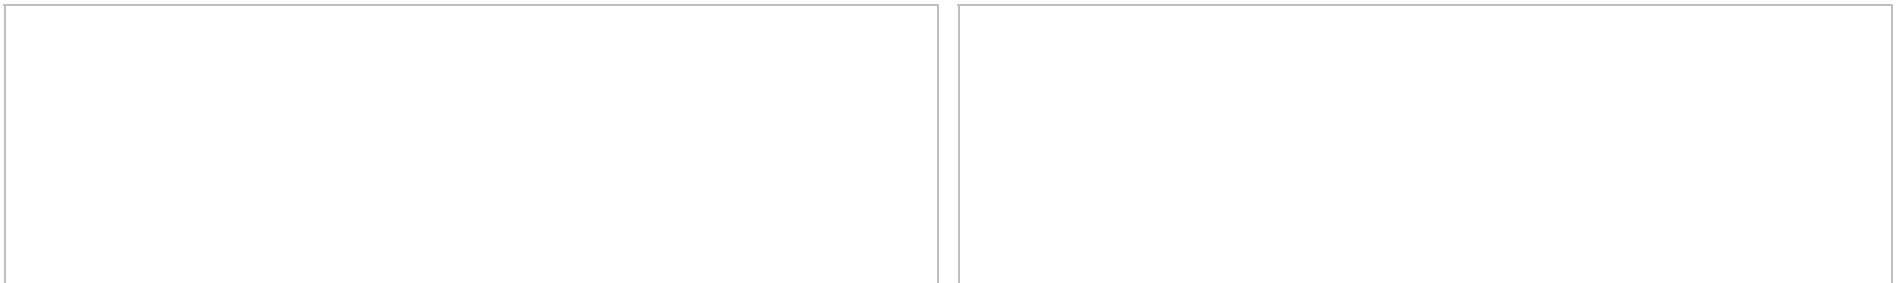

Axel was boiling with anger.

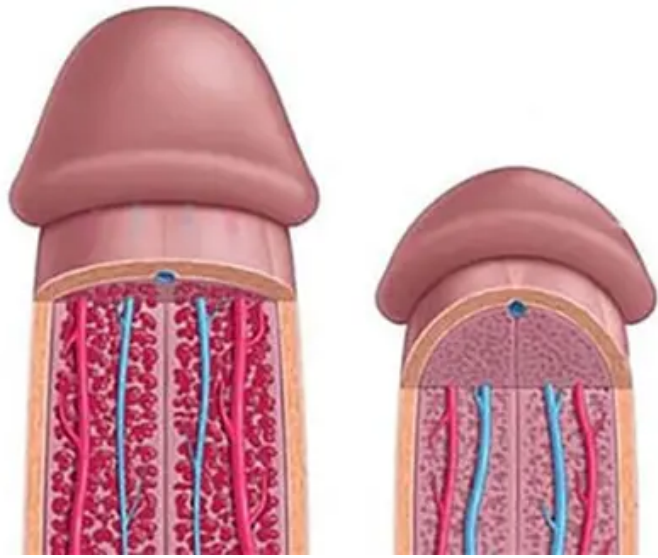

“You b*stard!” he exclaimed while gritting his teeth.

“Sharp tongue!”

“He’s a little too cocky, isn’t he?!”

“The so-called top talents from Country H have been completely crushed for the past couple of days! What right does he have to act like this?!”

“There was another cocky one just like him a few days ago!”

“He instantly got slapped aside too!”

“Don’t hold anything back, Ryland Burlowe!”

“Show him the true form of India’s martial arts!”

The Indian crowd was cheering without restraint, as if they had already won.

On the other hand, all of the people on Country H’s side were showing gloomy looks.

“Everyone’s been saying that Harvey sold out the country for glory and riches. He doesn’t seem that way at all!”

“Tch! What kind of person would have ‘traitor’ labeled on them anyway?”

“That guy’s probably on the same side as the Indians by now!”

“He’s only doing this to put up a show!”

“That said, it’s useless even if Harvey doesn’t join the enemy!”

“You’ve seen Ryland in action a few days ago!”

“He completely outmatched the so-called provincial champions!”

“Sigh! I didn’t think the country’s reputation would be destroyed like this...”

“Country H is done for. Harvey’s dead for sure...”

The crowd was utterly depressed. They were constantly shaking their heads while gossiping with each other.

Some even wanted to slap Harvey in the face. They could not stand him being this cocky and getting the confidence to fight in the ring.

Axel, Danny Burton, and the others showed playful smiles when they saw the sight.

They worked extremely hard to arrange the fight.

If Harvey were to lose, not only would he lose his reputation, but he would also be cursed throughout history by the people!

Only then would the Indians’ rage be quenched.

“Harvey will not win this!” exclaimed Axel while looking at the crowd with a smile.

The Indians had displayed their force for the past few days, making Axel believe Longmen’s so-called top talents were completely inferior. They were glaring at Harvey disdainfully after being reminded of that fact.

People have always been this way. They would forget the pain ever existed when the scars heal!

The Indians thought they were actually capable after winning a few matches with their schemes.

They had completely forgotten the fact that they were relentlessly beaten down during the first few fights.

While the Indians were smiling confidently, Bryce Kennedy and the others were showing stern looks.

The situation was extremely difficult for them. After losing for the past four consecutive days, Longmen's reputation had been completely tarnished.

Bryce and Rhea Osborne had been looking down on Harvey since the very beginning...

Even Fisher Bennett and Damian Steele's gazes were quite intense at this moment.

After all, the fight was too important!

Not only would their reputation be ruined if the match was lost, authority and riches from countless other people, along with various arrangements throughout the far east, would be crushed!

This was war!
