

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 917

James had been resting in a room on the second floor of Cynthia's villa.

Throughout the day, he came down to have something to eat.

After eating, he headed back to his room. He sat in a lotus position, meditating and cultivating his True Energy.

The night passed by silently.

The following day, James called the Blithe King and Jay for updates. Unfortunately, he could not find the person suspected to be his grandfather through either official or underground intelligence networks.

James got dressed and went downstairs.

Cynthia and Maxine had already woken up.

"James."

women greeted

and sat

asked, "How is it? Is there any news from the Blithe and said, "No. The person who took Tiara seems to have vanished and is untraceable. The Blithe King used every connection he could but he still can't track down the car. I'm baffled by how a vehicle could disappear into thin air when the whole city is full of surveillance

"Don't worry. We can't panic in such

He picked it up and looked at furrowed, and he said, "What's wrong? Did something from the phone. "James, is my

"No, why?"

her phone is turned off. We thought she was

"What?"

stood up abruptly and asked, "She didn't go home the whole

she's not with you, there's nothing

up the

Maxine asked, "What happened?"