

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 921

James nodded.

Sovereign Antique Shop's owner must have known some of the enemy's secrets. The enemy knew that James would have come to see him. Thus, they killed off the man in advance.

James took out his phone and called the police. Then, he began to investigate the crime scene.

The door and windows were in good condition, but the windows were left open. James concluded that the murderer had jumped out of the window.

Soon, the police arrived at the scene and began a forensic investigation. Knowing that he would not be gaining any clues from the place, James did not linger anymore and chose to leave.

He remained silent throughout their journey.

'Could it be that Grandpa is really alive and was the mastermind behind everything?'

James was immersed in his thoughts while driving. He was confused and felt helpless.

had been many years since understood James' current are fine. You can't let your emotions get a hold of you. You must become stronger and improve yourself in the shortest time took a simply could not calm down

now.

returned

knew nothing useful was gained from this trip just by looking at

he plopped into disturb him.

aside and whispered, "How was it, Maxine? Did you guys

"No, we were one step slower. Our main lead had that, Cynthia refrained from stayed silent the found an opportunity to inform Tobias of everything that had happened in Cansington. While she was sent to protect James, she also had another mission, which was keep some secrets, and she stayed faithful to her word. However, she did not hide anything regarding Tiara, Quincy, Thea's disappearance, or the man