

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 942

“Hello, who’s calling?” A hoarse voice answered the phone.

“It’s James. I’m in the North now and I need you to do me a favor.” James stated his purpose plainly.

Mr. Walker let out a small noise of pleasant surprise.

“Hahaha, James! I’ve wanted to go drinking with you for a while now, but I haven’t been able to leave the Northern Borders. What’s up? What kind of favor are you looking for?”

“I’m in Harvin City right now and I need to find someone in an underground cavern in Mount Arclens.

“I called to ask whether I might be able to borrow some equipment from you,” James explained his intentions to Mr. Walker.

“You’re in Harvin City now? I’ll come meet up with you. You can tell me what exactly your need face-to-face.”

The Centurion guarded the Northern Borders, and Harvin City was located in the North. It was only a two-hour drive between the city and the military region.

“Sure.”

“Alright, I’ll see you later.”

“See you.”
