

Hong Changqing was furious, and he gritted his teeth and scolded, "Don't you want to talk nonsense here! Old man! Lost before?! It was obviously the old man who won yesterday, but today the old man graciously refused to pursue it, and you still want to ask for the old man's things, you are so tired of working!" After finishing speaking, Hong Changqing's veins burst out, and he shouted angrily "Boy! This old man has tolerated you for a long time, and you know how to get out of the way. You and I will not interfere with each other, but if you continue to be aggressive, don't blame my ruthless subordinates!" Charlie snorted and said to the casual workers hired by Xyla: "It's none of your business here, you can go."

The group of women felt that the two men's swords were at war was scary, but when they heard this, they felt like they were pardoned, and ran out one by one.

After everyone ran away, Charlie said to Xyla, "Xyla, go and close the door, this old thing won't close the door today." "The bet is out, he can't go!"

Hong Changqing was completely furious, he punched Dr. Simmons's consultation table, smashing the solid wood consultation table to pieces, then pointed at Charlie and said angrily, "Boy, I think you really don't know how to write dead!"

He originally thought that if he showed his strength as a martial arts master, this kid would be so frightened that he would kneel on the ground and kowtow to send him out.

But he never expected that Charlie didn't care about his status as an eight-star martial artist. On the contrary, he sneered with disdain and said, "I know how to write death, and I also know how to spell death in English. If you don't make the bet today, I will find a buddy who specializes in human body calligraphy, and use a knife. The Chinese and English characters for "death" are all engraved on your wrinkled forehead!"

Hong Tianshi is completely mad at Charlie!

He has been in the world for many years, and he is admired everywhere he goes, but he never thought that when he came to Aurous Hill, he would meet a young man who didn't know the heights of the sky and the earth. The knife carved words on his forehead!

He clenched his fists, stared at Charlie, and asked coldly, "Boy, you have seen my strength, do you really think I dare not kill you? I will give you a chance to live now, kneel on the ground and kowtow ten times, and then delete all the videos, and I will spare your life, otherwise, your head will end up like that table!"

Charlie sneered, "Old man, it's not that I look down on you, but with your ability, you still want to beat my head like that, it's just a fart!"

Hong Tianshi completely lost his mind this time, he gritted his teeth, stared at Charlie with bloodshot eyes, and shouted coldly, "Boy, you are f*cking looking for death!"

After all, he swung his fist suddenly, and the strength of the eight-star warrior was raised to the extreme by him. This fist roared with a full wind and hit Charlie's face!
