

Hong Changqing smiled and asked charlie cheekily "Master Wade... I don't know in the future, will my subordinates have the opportunity to practice the content behind "Taizhen Hunyuan Dao"?"

charlie raised his eyebrows and smiled. The purpose of handing over your mind is to see how your cultivation mind is. If it is not good enough, I will give you a better one; if it is not complete, I will give you a more complete one. I have always been selfish, so now that I have ended up like this, you, you should reflect on yourself these two days."

Hong Changqing was also extremely ashamed and regretful, and said repeatedly, "Master Wade, don't worry, if I, Hong Changqing, dare to If I have any second thoughts about you, I will die without a place to bury me!"

Eastern Europe at this moment.

Three container trucks are speeding on the highway in Antalya, a port city in Turkey.

The containers loaded by these three trucks carried three disassembled former Soviet-made AK360 close-in anti-aircraft guns and their supporting ammunition.

Since the disintegration of the Soviet Union, Turkey, Ukraine, and Georgia have gradually become leaders in the black arms market in Eastern Europe.

After the disintegration of the Soviet Union and the drastic changes in Eastern Europe, almost all the countries surrounding the Mediterranean Sea have become black markets for arms trading, and these three countries are especially remarkable.

Hundreds of millions of various Soviet-made weapons and equipment are sold all over the world from these countries, and the magic here is not only the huge transaction volume, but also, as long as you have money, you can buy them here Except for strategic nuclear missiles and fifth-generation aircraft, almost all weapons and equipment.

Not to mention the close-in defense guns produced in the former Soviet Union, as long as the money is enough, even the raw materials for nuclear weapons can be saved in these places.

Among them, Turkey has a world-renowned nuclear black market. After the nuclear submarine reactors dismantled by the former Soviet Union were dismantled, most of their core fuel rods flowed into the black market here.

With enough money, it is not difficult to buy a dozen kilograms of enriched uranium from here, and go home and save a big bomb for yourself.

Therefore, three close-in defense guns can only be regarded as an ordinary transaction in this kind of place.

Several arms dealers from Eastern Europe escorted the three container trucks to the port of Antalya, where a container ship was about to be fully loaded.

After the three trucks entered the port, they were immediately assigned to the berth of the container ship.

The three Americans had been waiting by the berth for a long time. When they saw the three cars get off, they immediately went forward to meet with the person in charge of escorting the cars.
