When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2878 —

In an ordinary relationship with colleagues of the opposite s-e-x, it's impossible to suck each other's milk tea straw.

Were they dating?

Moreover, Lennox's program was behind the two of them, so there was no need to come to the TV station so early.

He came here specially to accompany Sloane.

After thinking about it, Hazel turned around and walked towards the TV station building.

Sloane and Lennox only had eyes for each other at this time, and they didn't see Hazel at all.

However, even if the two of them saw Hazel, they would not be afraid of anything.

In the selection of the popularity of trainee anchors, Sloane and Lennox's rankings were not bad.

As long as it was not the last one, there was a chance to stay in TV station in the future.

Half an hour later, Lennox and Sloane came to TV station.

The two of them entered the backstage, and when they saw Hazel was there, their faces showed surprise.

"Hazel, you came to work so early today? Earlier than me." Sloane's workplace was relatively close to Hazel's, and Hazel could clearly smell the perfume on Sloane's body.

As expected of a woman in love, she was much more refined than before.

"Come memorize the manuscript." Hazel said deliberately, "What if someone changes my manuscript again?"

The smile on Sloane's face remained unchanged, and she comforted: "You have to be more careful before going on the show. you will check the manuscript before going on the show next time."

Sloane's words were mocking her for not being careful.

At this point, there were seniors from the TV station in the background.

After hearing what they said, the senior interjected: "Hazel, this is the first time that your script has been changed in the years since I joined the TV station! If this happened before, it is estimated that the backstage has already installed monitoring I can't blame you for not being careful, but some people's hearts are too vicious. Don't be affected by such disgusting things, after all, your current popularity ranks first among trainee anchors!"

The senior words made Hazel refreshed immediately, and all the unhappiness was swept away.

Hazel: "Thank you senior for your comfort. I am not angry about that matter anymore. I will memorize the manuscript in the future."

"Well, don't you use Facebook? You are so popular on Facebook now, if you open a Facebook account, there will definitely be a lot of fans." The senior reminded her, "Now is the era of watching traffic, if you can take advantage of this opportunity, everything will be convenient in the future!"

Hazel: "Thank you for reminding me, my studies are pretty good now. Seriously, I don't want to spend too much energy on the Internet."

"You have a good attitude. If you develop steadily like this, you will surely succeed in the future." After the senior praised Hazel, he left work.

After the senior left, the atmosphere in the backstage immediately cooled down.

About a quarter of an hour later, there was a 'bang' in the office!

It was Sloane who slammed the table.

"What do you mean by what you said just now? What are you trying to do with your predecessors? Your manuscript has been changed? Which eye of yours saw that someone changed your manuscript? It couldn't be that you carelessly put the blank paper when you went in?!" The more Sloane thought about it, the more angry she became, and she decided not to bear it anymore.

After all, there was no surveillance in the backstage, and no one saw that it was her who changed the manuscript.

Then, she could confidently say that she didn't do it herself.

Moreover, Sloane felt that Hazel's character should be such that she couldn't win a quarrel.

Hazel turned her head and looked at Sloane: "Why are you yelling so loudly? Did I mention you in what I said to senior just now? Or did you do it? Otherwise, why would you think I'm weird? I'm obviously just scolding the person who changed my manuscript, but I didn't scold you."

Hazel didn't blush, and didn't yell at the top of her voice.

She sat in her workstation decently and calmly, looking at Sloane coldly.

Sloane was suddenly overwhelmed by Hazel's aura.

Hazel's reaction was completely different from Sloane's imagination.

She thought that Hazel would be frightened by herself, but seeing Hazel's appearance, she was not frightened at all.

It even felt like Hazel could fight back in the next second.

She didn't know how Hazel, a freshman, managed to have such a strong aura.

"Senior Lennox, am I right?" Hazel deliberately asked Lennox.

Lennox pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose in embarrassment, and then said: "The matter is over, everyone should be more careful in the future."

"You said that the matter is over!" Hazel smiled playfully at Lennox, "Senior, you look good today, are you in love?"

After a while, Lennox said: "Hazel, why did you say that suddenly? How about I buy you milk tea!"

"No need." Hazel lifted the milk tea cup on the table and showed them, "I bought it myself." After a pause, she added, "I just bought it tonight."

Hazel said that on purpose.

Sloane and Lennox looked at each other in blank dismay, knowing in their hearts that Hazel had bumped into their affairs.

Otherwise, Hazel would not ask Lennox if he was in a relationship.

“There’s no rule in TV Station that I can’t fall in love in the office, right?” Sloane sat down in her seat and secretly replied.

Hazel: “How about I help you ask?”

Sloane: “Are you going to complain that I am in love with Lennox? Hehe, it’s so funny. Lennox and I are fellow villagers, don’t you know?”

“When did I say you were in love with Lennox?” Hazel retorted innocently, “Senior Sloane, you should memorize your manuscript quickly! Otherwise, what if you have an accident when you are unlucky on the show? “

Sloane cursed in a low voice, and then began to recite the manuscript.

Hazel took the manuscript and walked out.

At this point, the conference room was empty.

Hazel could go to the conference room to memorize manuscripts.

Time flies, and it’s the Spring Festival.

This year, the Foster family was extremely lively.

This was Hazel’s first New Year’s Eve at home after her return.

Elliot and Avery called Gwen’s family and Shea’s family over to celebrate the New Year together.

The two of them came over early in the morning.

However, everyone in the Foster family got up very early today.

They all cherished the present moment because the time of reunion was so precious.

“Hazel, I heard that you have to go to work tonight, so can’t you change your shift? New Year’s Eve tonight!” Gwen wanted Hazel to stay at home for the New Year’s Eve.

“I can’t transfer Hugh tonight. Everyone is going to celebrate the New Year.” Hazel said.

“Didn’t your show start at three o’clock in the morning? Go to the TV station after the New Year’s Eve! There must be time.” When Gwen said this, Avery immediately answered: “Why don’t you go to the TV station at night? Bring back the press release and memorize it, and go to TV station after the New Year? This will not delay our New Year's Eve together, nor will it delay your work."

Mom's words moved Hazel's heart.

"I'll ask Teacher Joly if it's okay."

After Hazel finished speaking, Elliot said forcefully, "I'll call him. As long as it doesn't affect work, there's nothing wrong with it."

Hazel had to be obedient.

It's breakfast time.

Everyone sat around and chatted freely.

"Let's talk about New Year's wishes!" Layla said, "Don't talk about the health of the family, but the wish that I want to realize the most in my heart."

Robert glanced at Layla and guessed: "Sister, couldn't your wish be to have a baby?"

Layla: "Your brother-in-law has such good genes, it would be a waste not to have a child!"

Robert: "..."

Layla explained unhurriedly: "The reason why a wish is called a wish is because it has not yet been fulfilled, so it is just a wish."

In fact, anyone who had become a parent could understand Layla's thoughts.

"Layla, your wish will definitely come true. When Eric gets better, you can have a baby. I know a female friend who had a heart transplant, and she gave birth to a healthy baby."
Gwen Consolation Layla.

But Layla's eyes suddenly brightened a little: "That's great! Hehe, it seems that my wish may come true!"

"Sister! Is this what your wish is?" Robert couldn't laugh or cry, "I just said casually Let's play!"

“Robert, I don’t want to scold you for celebrating the new year today.” Layla warned Robert with her eyes, “Tell me about your New Year’s resolution!”

Robert: “I don’t have any New Year’s resolution... After all, I’m still too early to get married and have children, and I’m good at my homework, and I can’t fail a class with my eyes closed.”

Layla teased him: “Aren’t you a grassroots salesman now? Don’t you want to be promoted?”

Robert “Sister, I will get promoted even if I don’t make a wish. My leader thinks highly of me. He said that there are not many young people who are as outstanding and willing to work as me.”

Layla didn’t want to listen to him anymore, and turned to look at Hayden: “Brother, what is your New Year’s wish?”

Robert: “Brother’s wish must be to find a wife! Do you even need to ask?”

Hayden: “...”

Layla: “Hahaha! Robert, what is your little sister’s wish?”

Layla thought that Robert’s mouth was a bit annoying, but it was true Pretty accurate.

Robert: “Sister, do you regard me as a fortune-teller? But if you want to hear, I can continue to guess. I think the little girl’s wish should be to improve her studies!”

Hazel immediately cheered: “Second brother, It’s quite accurate. I really hope that I can study better.”

Robert: “Thank you, little sister, for not breaking the stage. Your wish will definitely come true.”

“Lilly, what is your wish?” Hazel asked Lilly with a smile.

Robert: “It’s good that Lilly is healthy!”

“Robert, I didn’t let you guess.” Layla told him to shut up, “Lilly, tell me about your wish!”

Lilly: “Under the premise, I hope that I can become better. I hope that I can repay my parents after graduation.”

When Lilly said these words, she was very devout and serious.

“Lilly, Mom and Dad don’t need you to reciprocate.” Wesley said moved.

“I know you don’t ask for anything in return, but this is my wish!” Lilly insisted on her wish.

Wesley nodded.

Maria: “I hope to be admitted to the University where my sister is studying, learn a major from my sister, and work with my sister after graduation.”

Everyone was very surprised.

“Maria, are you sure you want to study the same major as your sister in the future?” Avery heard of this for the first time.

Avery had always known that the two sisters were close, although they were not biological, they were no different from real sisters.

“I’ve made up my mind! My sister and I have already agreed that we will start a company and establish our own brand in the future.” Maria said this grand goal.

Elliot praised: “It’s good to have a clear idea. Maria, you should study hard. When the time comes, uncle will give you money to start a company.”

“Thank you uncle!” The two sisters thanked each other sweetly.

After several children expressed their wishes, everyone’s eyes finally fell on Leerain.

They saw Leerain buried in eating noodles, as if in two worlds with the others.

“Leerain! It’s time for you to talk about your New Year’s resolution.” Gwen helplessly patted her son on the shoulder.

Leerain’s personality has changed a bit since he entered junior high school.

Gwen felt that her son might have reached the rebellious stage of youth.

“Full marks in the final exam, make mom happy.” Leerain raised his head from the noodle bowl, and told his mother his wish.

Gwen’s education was not good enough, so she paid close attention to her son’s study.

Gwen was naturally very happy that her son could say that.

“It’s too difficult to get full marks in the exam, and mom doesn’t require you to get full marks.” Gwen was afraid of putting too much pressure on her son.

“Leerain, you just want to make your mother happy, not your father?” Ben was a little jealous.

Leerain responded calmly: “Mom is happy, so aren’t you happy too?”

Ben was speechless.

Gwen was completely happy now.

After breakfast, the girls got together and chatted about beauty, skin care, clothing, accessories and gossip.

Leerain followed Robert and asked Robert to play games with him.

“Have you noticed that the children are no longer clingy when they grow up?” Gwen felt a little sentimental.

Shea smiled and said, “Gwen, do you feel a little lonely? Didn’t you say you wanted to have a second child?”

Gwen said, “I had this idea, but I didn’t get pregnant. Afterwards, it became difficult to get pregnant.”

“Then let nature take its course. If you get pregnant, you will have it, and there is no pity if you don’t get pregnant.” Avery was afraid that Gwen would anger Ben because she couldn’t conceive a second child.”

“I’m just free, and people really can’t be too leisurely. But go to work, and I feel tired.” Gwen sighed, “Forget it, let’s talk about some happy things after New Year! I don’t plan to go home tonight. Let’s play cards to celebrate the new year!”

“Are you sure you want to stay up all night?” Avery asked.

Gwen: “That’s right! How are you going to sleep on such a happy day! You and brother, who will fight with me?”

Avery: “Me! Your brother is getting old, let him rest well.”

Not far away, Elliot heard the sound come.

Elliot: “I seem to hear you guys talking about me?”

Gwen laughed loudly: "Brother, are you a good ear? We don't speak too loudly!"

At this time, Ben also came over and said to Elliot: "Avery said that you are old, let you sleep well tonight. They plan to play poker all night."

Avery: "Gwen, your husband is even better. He heard every word we said."

Ben raised his hand and swore: "I didn't intend to eavesdrop. The main reason is that I heard you talking about the second child, so I knew you would definitely talk about me."

"I don't seem to blame you, do I?" Gwen asked him.

Ben nodded honestly: "No, wife."

"Then stop eavesdropping on us." Gwen waved at Ben, who immediately walked away.

"Ben listens to you so much now!" Avery couldn't help laughing.

Gwen's face was filled with a sweet smile: "The older he gets, the better his temper. My elder brother should be like this too? I feel like I haven't seen him angry for a long time."

Avery nodded: "Indeed. Before Hazel came back, he was seldom angry. When Hazel came back, he was even less angry. By the way, we plan to travel for a while after the next year."

"Very good! Anyway, the children are grown up, so you don't need to keep an eye on them every day. Huh? Isn't Layla going to have a wedding in the next year?"

"Yes. After Layla's wedding, we will go out." Avery had already told Elliot preliminarily booked the itinerary.
