

Fled With CEO's Twin Babies Chapter 201 - 220

Chapter 201 Priceless Slaps

Levi and Diana still cared about their son. They hesitated and did not intend to step forward. "We won't be fooled by you!"

Although they kept shouting, neither of them left.

Donny felt a little relieved. He frowned and said to Charlotte, "Even if you don't want to pay for it, at least give me back two million dollars, or I..."

He thought for a while but couldn't think of anything to threaten her with so could only say shamelessly, "If you don't return the money back, I will sit at the door of your house and won't leave. At that time, I will let the media come to see you forcing your family that bring you up to die!"

Mandy really couldn't stand it anymore. She turned to look at Charlotte and said, "Are you sure you want to continue to endure them?"

Of course, Charlotte couldn't stand them but didn't want to do it herself. She just glanced at Levi and Diana not far away and said, "If you don't take action now, the deal will end here."

Donny smiled. "In their hearts, I'm much more valuable than you."

Before he could finish his words, he heard Levi ask, "Are you sure we can exchange slapping him for less compensation?"

Charlotte smiled and said, "I do want you to pay the money back, but can you still pay it back now? Since you can't pay it back, it's not a big deal to let me vent my anger."

Levi turned around and exchanged a fierce look with Diana.

Donny was still standing there, looking smug when he was suddenly slapped in the face. Although Levi's movements were gentle, the insult made him freeze in place.

"Do you think Miss Clinton is stupid? This is not called slapping but touching his face." Mandy rolled her eyes. If it weren't for seeing Charlotte trying to humiliate him, she would have done it for them in person.

A slap in the face for 500,000 dollars and the money was so easy to earn.

Thinking of the huge debt on his shoulders, Levi gritted his teeth. He knew that if he missed this opportunity, he would never have it again.

"I do it also for your good." Levi said in a low voice. Before Donny could react, Levi slapped him hard in the face.

The slap was crisp and loud, and Donny's face suddenly blushed.

Donny covered his face in disbelief. "Dad! Do you really want to listen to her? It's just 500,000 dollars!"

Before he could finish his words, another slap landed on his face.

Mandy sneered, "Now it's one million dollars."

The loud and clear slaps sounded at the door of the villa one after another, and Donny gradually became numb from his initial disbelief.

Looking at Charlotte standing not far away, his thoughts gradually returned to the morning when she was drugged and returned home.

At that time, she was probably more embarrassed than him. Not only was her clothes in disarray, but her expression was also like that of a walking corpse, numb and silent.

At that time, when she saw Diana, she rushed to her crazily and kept crying and questioning her. At that time, it was Levi who stopped Charlotte and even pushed her to the ground with more strength than now.

At that time, Donny couldn't bear that scene. He really wanted to help her but then heard Diana mention her family background in his ear.

Only then did he realize that their family had always been relying on her to live.

The huge sense of guilt did not make him regret it but made him want to continue using her.

Chapter 202 Thirty-Six Slaps

When Donny learned that his family owed Charlotte 300 million dollars, he didn't want to pay it back at all. Instead, he secretly blamed her for being so petty. After all, they had raised her safely, hadn't they?

Now Levi woke him up with one slap after another, and they owed Charlotte from the beginning. He deserved the slaps.

"Enough!" Diana finally couldn't stand it anymore. She grabbed Levi's hand and said, "If you continue to hit him, something will go wrong!"

At this moment, the cheeks of Donny were red and swollen, and there were even faint traces of blood seeping out. His expression was numb and cold as if the person who had been beaten was not him.

Only then did Levi come to his senses. Looking at the swollen Donny in front of him, he took two steps back in shock and looked at his hand.

Mandy didn't mind making a big deal out of it. "It's 18 million dollars in total. Do you want to continue?"

"No!" Diana glared at Charlotte with red eyes. "You are so vicious that one day you will be punished!"

"You're not worried about retribution, so I don't have to worry about it anymore." Charlotte smiled faintly and turned to enter the door.

Mandy also wanted to follow her in but seemed to think of something and suddenly stopped. She glanced at the people of the White Family and said, "Miss Clinton is kind and deals with you in such a gentle way. But next time you fall into my hands, I will definitely let you have a taste of what it feels like to live a life worse than death."

She was just a woman, but her words were full of killing intent, which made the four members of the White Family shiver subconsciously.

"Miss Clinton, they have left. Are you really going to give them 18 million dollars?" Looking at the back of people of the White Family, Mandy asked enviously, 500,000 dollars for a slap, she could at least earn two hundred million dollars.

Charlotte said sarcastically, “Don’t worry, they will give back the money back sooner or later.”

Mandy always thought that she should be like the vicious. supporting actress in the novel, but at this moment, she felt that Charlotte was more like a villain than she was.

No one in the White Family wanted to recall what had happened that day.

They were even confused. They had clearly made up their minds to find trouble for Charlotte, but why were they the ones suffering instead?

As for Donny, he had been gloomy since he got in the car. No matter how Levi and Diana tried to talk to him, he remained silent.

In the end, Levi was annoyed.

“It’s just a few slaps, isn’t it? If it weren’t for you, we wouldn’t have ended up like this.” Levi said angrily.

Donny suddenly raised his head and looked at Levi coldly. “Didn’t you support me when I decided to deal with Charlotte? Now is it all my own fault?”

Seeing that they were about to quarrel, Diana quickly stepped forward to persuade them. “What’s the point of talking about this now? The most important thing now is to think about how to solve the two million dollars that we owe Mr. Tony.”

Now that Tony was targeting them, not only did they not dare. to have any complaints, but they also had to find a way to please him. Otherwise, if he took action to deal with them, their family would really be over.

Looking at her parents’ sad faces, Yvonne, who had been silent, suddenly said, “Why don’t we edit a fake video and show it to Mr. Tony? What if he likes it?”

Both Levi and Donny were tempted by her idea.

Chapter 203 Cooperation

Charlotte didn't know that the White Family had gone further on the path of death. Not only did they make a fake video to make Tony think that they had succeeded in making trouble for her, but also successfully made Tony, who was still angry, stop pursuing the matter of two million dollars.

Charlotte had really won this round.

Because of all kinds of news about Tony, the board of directors of the Pope Group decided that Tony would be kicked out of the company to reduce the impact. No matter how unwilling Patrick was, he could only bring Trevor to be his next potential heir.

For this reason, Trevor also specially delivered several expensive cakes, saying that he wanted to share the joy with Charlotte.

Of course, they knew that this was just the beginning. Patrick attached great importance to Tony and would never let him leave the company's power center so easily.

If they wanted to kick Tony out of the power center completely, they had to trample him all the way into the mud.

Ben and Anna did not know the twists and turns, and they were very happy to see the cakes, Charlotte smiled and asked Mrs. River to give them the cakes.

One was happy while the other was sad. After Tony was driven hanging out in bars.

However, when he was still Mr. Pope, the people around him were willing to flatter him. Now that he had been driven out of the company, their attitudes toward him had changed.

One day, he had an argument with others while drinking in the bar. They quarreled with each other. If it weren't for the security men in the bar, they would have already started fighting.

After the confrontation, the other party left while cursing and Tony once again sat in his seat.

It was at this time that Wendy came to him.

Tony opened his drunken eyes and glanced at her. Then he looked away silently.

“Mr. Tony, don’t you feel ashamed that you can only numb yourself with alcohol in a bar?” Wendy glared at Tony in disappointment.

Tony sneered and said, “Mrs. Smith, are you in charge of everything? It’s none of your business.”

Wendy simply sat down beside Tony. “What if I have a way to help you deal with Charlotte?”

Tony stopped drinking and finally turned his head to look Wendy up and down. “What do you want?”

“I don’t want much.” Wendy narrowed her eyes dangerously. “I just want her to disappear from my sight this time.”

It sounded simple, but Tony didn’t dare to believe her easily.

Wendy didn’t expect that even though she had shown so much sincerity, Tony would still refuse her proposal.

“What do you want to do?” Wendy was angry and anxious and wanted to slap him in the face.

If it weren’t for the fact that she couldn’t find a suitable cooperation partner in such a short time, she would even want to complete this task alone.

Half an hour later, Wendy and Tony finally reached an agreement.

“I hope we have a pleasant cooperation.” Wendy forced a smile and stretched out her hand to Tony.

Tony grabbed her hand with bad intentions and stroked it.

Wendy was disgusted by his touch, suddenly withdrew her hand, and glared at him. “Don’t mix me with those women you’ve met before. If you dare to have any improper thoughts about me, I’ll kill you!”

After that, she swaggered away. Tony, who was sitting where he was, watched her leave with a wicked smile on his face.

Chapter 204 He was Going to Impersonate Moontide

Charlotte didn’t know that Wendy and Tony had already conspired to deal with her. At this time, she was having dinner with Gideon.

“Why are you in such a hurry to call me out today?” Charlotte received his call when she got off work today. Gideon had always been considerate, so such a thing seldom happened.

Gideon looked at Charlotte and said, “Our teacher, Mr. Rumba, doesn’t seem to be feeling well.”

“What?! Is it serious? I didn’t hear him mention it when I called him two days ago.”. Charlotte had always been grateful to her teacher. If he hadn’t taken the initiative to help her, she wouldn’t have come out of the past so quickly.

Seeing that she was so nervous, Gideon comforted her with a smile, “It doesn’t matter. Just some old problems. Even so, I’m still worried about him, so I decided to go back to Albania tomorrow to visit him.”

Hearing this, Charlotte frowned. She also wanted to go with him, but the project had just started a few days ago...

Gideon had already noticed that she was in a dilemma. He waved his hand and said, “He specifically asked me not to tell you about this. If you follow me back to Albania, I’m afraid I’ll suffer his blame.”

Charlotte also knew that he was comforting her, so she could only say with worry, “If there is anything serious, you must inform me, or if there is anything I can do, just tell me.”

Gideon patted her on the head grumpily. “What are you thinking about?”

Charlotte was not disgusted but startled by his sudden action. “I’m already the mother of two children. How can I still be a little girl?”

“Aren’t you just a little girl in my eyes?” Gideon asked with a gentle smile.

It had to be said that they had met more frequently recently, and their relationship had improved a lot.

Speaking of Mr. Rumba, Charlotte suddenly remembered another thing. “When you go back to Albania this time, I happen to need your help.”

“Is there any need to use the word ‘help’ in our relationship?” Gideon glared at her grumpily.

Charlotte had to apologize repeatedly.

“Tell me, what’s the matter?” Gideon knew that she had never liked to trouble others and would never ask for help unless it was something urgent.

Charlotte had to tell him that Joe wanted to see Moontide.

“In fact, not only him, but many people in the company also want to see Moontide and talk to her face to face.” Charlotte said helplessly, “But I don’t intend to announce this identity in a short time and don’t want to cause any trouble because of this.”

Yes, not many people knew that Charlotte had another identity. She was actually the internationally renowned young designer, Moontide.

This was also the reason why Charlotte refused to let Moontide meet Joe again and again. Fortunately, Moontide had never appeared in front of anyone, and others did not even know her gender. If Gideon was asked to impersonate her, it would not be too strange.

“Joe? Is he your ex-husband?” Gideon frowned and asked.

After getting a certain answer from Charlotte, he smiled. meaningfully and said, “Okay, I will do it for you.”

“But what reward are you going to give me?” Gideon looked at Charlotte mischievously.

Charlotte waved her hand and said, “As long as you ask, I will do it for you.”

Looking at her heroic look, Gideon couldn’t help laughing. “Aren’t you afraid that I’ll ask you to hand over the Horizon Group to me?”

“That’s great. Just give me the money when the time comes.” Gideon didn’t know whether to laugh or cry at her straightforward answer. “You dare to think about it? I’m not that stupid.”

The two looked at each other and laughed.

They didn’t notice that a resentful gaze was staring at them from outside the window.

“What’s wrong?”

Perry looked at her cautiously. Everyone knew that Wendy had been in a bad mood recently, so no one dared to provoke her.

Unexpectedly, Wendy suddenly took out her mobile phone and took a few photos of the interior of the restaurant. She smiled and said, “Nothing. I just saw something fun.”

At this time, the smile on her face was a little creepy. Perry did not dare to ask any more questions and could only smile back.

After Gideon went back and the people of the White Family no longer came out to make trouble, Charlotte felt that the air seemed to be much fresher.

On this day, Ben and Anna came back from kindergarten. Anna happily threw herself into her arms. “There is a new teacher in our kindergarten today! She is beautiful and gentle, and even Carl likes her very much!”

Carl was one of her classmates. Anna often complained at home that Carl always fought with other children.

Probably in the heart of Anna, a teacher who could make Carl like was really rare.

Charlotte smiled and touched Anna’s head, “Do you also like this teacher very much?”

Anna kept nodding. “I like her too because the way she speaks is so gentle.”

Charlotte found it very interesting. Sometimes children’s preferences were so simple.

“By the way, our school is going to organize a summer camp next month. Ben and I would like to go, right?” Anna said as she winked at Ben.

Ben put a straight face, pouted, and finally nodded.

Charlotte pretended not to see the wink of Anna, and just confirmed with Ben again, “Do you really want to go?”

Anna was so nervous that she stared at Ben with her big round eyes.

Ben nodded obediently. “I want to go.”

Hearing this, Anna heaved a long sigh of relief, then ran to Charlotte’s side, and acted like a spoiled child. “Mom, you will agree, right?”

Charlotte tapped her nose and said, “You can bully Ben just because he dotes on you. If he doesn’t care about you in the future, I’ll see what you can do.”

Anna quickly hugged Ben’s arm and said, “Ben likes me the most, he will never ignore me!”

After that, she glanced at Ben as if asking for confirmation. Seeing him nod, she was relieved.

Charlotte did not intend to intervene in the affairs between them.

“We’re going to the Smith Group to discuss the tender today, Miss Clinton.” After the morning meeting, Frank reminded.

Charlotte in a low voice.

Charlotte frowned slightly. Thinking of her unpleasant experience in the Smith Group last time, she simply refused. “Let Mr. Lake go directly and tell them that I have other arrangements.”

Frank was not surprised. After all, the scene when she went to the Smith Group last time was really unpleasant.

After he left the office, Charlotte’s eyes were deep. She did not intend to have too much contact with Joe in the future unless it was necessary.

Chapter 206 A Trouble Came Again

What she didn’t expect was that sometimes when she didn’t go to find trouble, trouble would take the initiative to find her.

She received an anonymous text message on her phone. It was a photo of her with Gideon having dinner in the restaurant the last time.

Perhaps because of the photographer’s angle, Gideon looked at her gently in the photo as if there was a deep affection in his eyes.

There was also a paragraph written on the text message, requesting to meet and talk to her.

Looking at herself and Gideon in the photo, Charlotte frowned slightly.

She had always disdained to deal with such groundless things, let alone explain them. However, this matter was related to Gideon, and she didn’t want to get him involved in any scandalous news.

When she came to the cafe, she was not surprised to see Wendy inside.

“It’s really you.” Charlotte stood at the table and was not in a hurry to sit down.

Sensing that everyone was looking at her, Wendy frowned and said, “Are you going to just stand there and talk to me?”

Only then did Charlotte sit down.

“Tell me, why did you try so hard to find me here?” Without waiting for Wendy to speak, she took the initiative to ask.

Wendy was no longer mysterious and she could even vaguely feel the eyes of others on her.

Wendy sneered. “You’re still so arrogant.”

Even though Charlotte knew that she was at a disadvantage, she was still as high-profile as ever.

Charlotte did not understand her meaning and was just reacting normally. Why was she being so arrogant?

“If there’s nothing else, Mrs. Smith, I’ll go first.” Charlotte really didn’t want to waste time on Wendy. As she spoke, she was ready to get up and leave.

“Since you already have someone you like, why did you seduce Joe again and again?” Wendy was about to cry. “If you can’t concentrate on loving him, don’t hurt him.”

Charlotte was stunned. She frowned and looked at Wendy. “Are you all right? Please go and see the doctor.”

She felt that she had gone crazy after coming here and didn’t know what was wrong with Wendy as her words were in chaos.

Then she was keenly aware of the camera not far away. The camera had been pointing in their direction. Obviously, their actions had been captured clearly.

Charlotte sneered, bent down slightly, and looked at Wendy. “Why haven’t you made any progress for so many years?”

“You will always rely on others and gain convenience for yourself through obtaining sympathy. Whether it’s Joe or anyone else, it’s always the same.” Charlotte looked at the camera not far away with a meaningful look. Suddenly, she picked up a cup of coffee and poured it over Wendy.

Wendy screamed, and her sharp scream resounded through the cafe.

Everyone looked at her. Charlotte wiped her hands slowly and said to Wendy condescendingly, “If you have any speculation or negative remarks about my friend, I will blame it on you...”

A wicked smile appeared on her beautiful face. “Do you remember the surveillance video of you wearing my clothes in the Smith Family? If the news these two days makes me unhappy... I have to release all of them.”

Wendy looked at her in shock. “Impossible! Joe said that he had deleted them...”

Charlotte shrugged and said, “I’ve said it a long time ago. It’s better to rely on yourself than others... At least this evidence has always been in my hands. I heard that you have returned to the entertainment industry recently?”

Wendy felt her heart skip a beat. It had not been easy for her to wait for public bad opinion towards her to pass, and she had begun to film again. If there were any more negative news...

Wendy gritted her teeth and dialed a number. “Take your cameras and get out!”

” Chapter 207 Gave Her Back Her Own Way

After seeing those people retreat, Wendy stood up angrily.

She had wanted to use these photos to make Charlotte show a mean side to clear her name, but Charlotte’s behavior was beyond her expectations. If she posted the videos, the netizens would only say that she was guilty, let alone clear her name.

Now that her efforts were in vain, Wendy didn’t want to pretend anymore. “If it weren’t for those two children, Joe wouldn’t have looked at you at all! Don’t forget how you slept alone when you were still his wife.”

Slap!

Charlotte slapped her without any scruples and found that since she returned to Zyphoria, she seemed to have always slapped people.

“There are people in the world that are proud of being a mistress, but it’s rare to see someone as proud as you.” Charlotte sneered. Seeing that Wendy was livid and wanted to fight back, Charlotte shook her mobile phone on the table. “I’ve recorded your words and deeds. What if I’m unhappy...?”

“How dare you?!” Wendy was furious. “If you dare to let it out...”

Charlotte looked at her expressionlessly. “Don’t provoke me agali, otherwise I will deal with you.”

After saying that, she ignored Wendy, took her bag, and turned to leave.

Back in the car, Mandy looked at Charlotte with admiration. “I found that you don’t need bodyguards at all. You can make that woman suffer by yourself.”

Charlotte smiled and did not speak. She did not hire bodyguards to guard against people like Wendy.

However, when Charlotte saw Mandy for the first time, she thought that she was a charming beauty. After getting along with her for a long time, Charlotte found that Mandy was really a chatterbox and a miser.

It had to be said that the people sent by Sharon were all so inconsistent between their appearances and interior.

“Did you really record a video of her on your mobile phone?” Mandy asked curiously.

Charlotte shook her head decisively. “I didn’t remember to take a video of her when it happened suddenly. I’m just sure that Wendy wouldn’t dare to check my mobile phone.”

However, Mandy just smiled and said, “Really? But I took the video.”

From the beginning, Mandy sat in the corner of the coffee shop when Wendy was not paying attention. During this period, she even recorded the whole process of how Wendy changed her face from pretending to be pitiful.

Charlotte was stunned.

Mandy showed the video to Charlotte. She had to admit that her photo skills were very good. Not only did she capture the hostile atmosphere between the two people, but even the expressions on their faces were fully revealed.

Charlotte didn't expect that she would really find Wendy's weakness just because she said it casually.

"Keep this video, it may be useful in the future." Charlotte sent a video to herself just in case.

When they got home, they found Yvonne standing at the door of the villa, shivering.

Charlotte subconsciously looked around and did not see anyone else from the White Family.

Yvonne came to her alone?

In Charlotte's heart, Yvonne was just a little girl who had been spoiled. Although she was arrogant and domineering, she had not done anything evil.

However, they didn't have much interaction and didn't have a good relationship.

Yvonne seemed to have been waiting here for a long time. When she saw Charlotte coming back, her eyes suddenly turned red.

She roared hysterically, "They want to marry me to the youngest son of the Uland Family now. Are you happy? Are you satisfied?

Chapter 208 Marrying a Fool

Before Charlotte could reply, Yvonne fell to the ground, crying, acting like the female role in romance dramas.

Charlotte glanced at her indifferently, turned around, and walked into the house.

Seeing that she was ignoring her, Yvonne became even angrier. "Why are you ignoring me?"

She walked quickly and rushed straight into the villa.

Mandy wanted to stop her, but Charlotte shook her head and said, “Let her in and see what’s going on.”

After rushing into the room, Yvonne sat down on the sofa unceremoniously and even asked Mr. River to serve her fruits.

Naturally, no one paid attention to her.

Yvonne looked around angrily and cried again. “It’s okay that Charlotte looks down on me, but why do you guys look down on me? You even don’t serve me any fruits!”

This time, the cry lasted for about half an hour. During this period, neither Charlotte nor Mr. River looked at her.

Yvonne didn’t have the power to cry. Her eyes were red and swollen and she shut up without saying a word.

Seeing that she finished crying, Charlotte sat down beside Yvonne and handed her a glass of hot water. “Tell me the reason why you come here.”

Looking at the calm Charlotte, Yvonne was in a trance for a moment.

Yvonne still remembered that after Charlotte was framed by her parents, she once hid in the bedroom alone and cried bitterly but had never shown a trace of weakness in front of them.

Perhaps from then on, she had already determined that her so-called family was unreliable.

“They want to marry me to the youngest son of the Uland Family.” Yvonne had a trace of despair in her red and swollen eyes. “But he... is a fool! If you hadn’t forced my parents to pay back the money, how could they have sold me to the Uland Family like this?”

After hearing this news from her parents, Yvonne felt that her world had collapsed.

She had fantasized countless times about what kind of person she would marry in the future. Perhaps he would be a son of an aristocratic family on par with the White Family, or he might be a very handsome lover, but he could never be someone like the youngest son of the Uland Family.

Thinking of this, she looked at Charlotte sadly. “Although they set you a trap at that time, Joe was one of the top elites in Atlanta, but I...”

“They succeeded because I saved the life of Sir Smith.” Charlotte interrupted her coldly. “Otherwise, how could the White Family force Joc to marry me?”

It could only be said that Sir Smith had long agreed to let her be the daughter-in-law of the Smith Family, which was why Levi and Diana could only agree.

If that weren’t the case, she might marry someone worse than a fool.

It was the first time for Yvonne to hear this. She looked at Charlotte with her mouth agape and didn’t know what to say for a moment.

“I’m neither happy nor satisfied with what happened to you because it has nothing to do with me.” Charlotte looked into her eyes. “I have never owed the White Family anything. On the contrary, everything you have enjoyed since you were a child was from my mother and me. What right do you have to blame me?”

Her clear eyes were like a mirror, allowing Yvonne to suddenly see her ugly face and make her scream and cover her face.

Chapter 209 Awakening

The reason why Yvonne questioned Charlotte so righteously was that she thought from the bottom of her heart that Charlotte was the one who harmed her family.

If it weren’t for Charlotte’s aggressiveness, Donny would still be a university professor envied by everyone, instead of the loser who lay in the room wailing all day long.

Her parents would still care about her, instead of showing their ugly faces and trying to sell her to someone else in a hurry.

Before coming here, Yvonne had even thought of countless scenes of scolding Charlotte. But now, after hearing what Charlotte said, Yvonne felt that she was wrong.

“In the end, both your parents and Donny are just bearing the consequences of their own mistakes.” Charlotte looked Yvonne up and down. “And you will be sacrificed sooner or later.”

As soon as she said that, Yvonne was stunned as if she had been struck by lightning.

That’s right, they could slap Donny dozens of times for money. How could they not sell her at a high price?

Yvonne stood up awkwardly, lowered her head, and said to Charlotte in a hurry, “I’m sorry.”

She ran away from the villa as fast as she could. Before she left, she bumped into Ben and Anna, who had just returned home from school.

After a quick glance at them, Yvonne lowered her head and ran away.

“What happened to her?” Anna curiously looked at the back of Yvonne who ran away and asked doubtfully.

Charlotte smiled and said, “She just realized her mistake and planned to go back to make up for it.”

Anna nodded. “A good child should correct her mistakes, just like me.”

As soon as she said that, the dull atmosphere in the living room suddenly relaxed. Mr. River and Mrs. River served the children's favorite snacks. "You should be tired after a day of school. Come and eat!"

Anna and Ben cheered and hurried forward.

Anna said happily while eating, "Carl almost fell off the swing today. Miss Gresia saved him!"

Miss Gresia was the teacher that the two children talked about every day these days. Even if Charlotte had not seen her in person, she had already heard a lot of deeds from the two children.

Charlotte gently touched their heads. The teacher of the kindergarten had been strictly reviewed. Those who could enter that kindergarten to be a kindergarten teacher could be said to be outstanding among the kindergarten teachers.

However, she was still very curious about who Miss Gresia was and why the two little troublemakers liked her so much.

After coaxing the two kids to sleep, Charlotte went to the study room.

In just three hours, Frank had investigated all the backgrounds of the Uland Family and sent them to her email.

After reading through all the information about the Uland Family at a glance, Charlotte finally understood why Yvonne broke down.

Because the Uland Family was even not one of the bottom aristocratic families.

After so many years of hard work and her marriage with Joe, the White Family had managed to squeeze into the bottom rung of the aristocratic families.

As for the Uland Family, they were upstarts and couldn't even touch the edge of this circle.

Their elders were lucky enough to buy a piece of land and a mountain in the suburbs of Atlanta. They had intended to start a business, but it had ended before it even began.

An elder of the Uland Family was in trouble.

At that time, the attention of their family was focused on that elder, so no one cared about the land and the mountain.

By the time they came to their senses, the piece of land and the mountain had been included in the demolition range. They had received a huge sum of money for no reason.

Chapter 210 Canceled the Marriage

All the members of the Uland Family were from humble backgrounds. They were like children who passed by downtown with gold in their arms. They didn't know how to deal with this sudden wealth at all, so they wanted to unite with aristocratic families by marriage.

The other families in the circle didn't care about the Uland Family at all, but the White Family needed money now.

After what Tony had done before, the business of the White Family could almost be described as declining. If they couldn't get a large sum of money, they would probably declare bankruptcy.

This was also the reason why Levi and Diana were so eager to marry Yvonne.

She turned off the information sent by Frank, and a sudden wave of anxiety surged into her heart.

Charlotte stared coldly at the screen in front of her. After thinking for a long time, she dialed Frank's phone. "Find a way to tell the recent situation and causes of the White Family to the Uland Family."

On the other end of the phone, Frank was stunned and immediately agreed.

Charlotte didn't want to save Yvonne. She didn't want the Uland family to get involved in this mess and see Levi and Diana rise again by selling their daughter.

Frank acted quickly. In less than two days, the Uland Family knew the inside story of why the White Family was willing to unite with them by marriage.

It was said that at that time, all the members of the Uland Family rushed to the place where the White Family lived. The whole family took turns to scold Levi and Diana.

Donny who was recuperating wanted to help his parents but was also injured during the push. No one knew when he would fully recover.

At the end of the farce, the Uland Family not only took back all the gifts they gave to the White Family but also publicized the scandals everywhere in their community, making the entire White Family a joke in the upper-class circle.

Of course, they would not be in this circle soon.

From beginning to end, Yvonne was very silent. Even if the Uland Family broke off the engagement, she did not show any smile.

One night, when she passed by her parents' room, she heard that they were scheming to marry her into which wealthy family to get the greatest benefits. Her heart completely sank.

After leaving a letter, Yvonne disappeared without a trace.

It was said that the White Family had been looking for her for a long time, and their sad and anxious looks made people mistakenly think that they had a deep affection for Yvonne. But only people of the White Family and Charlotte knew that they were just sad and anxious about the missing of the person who could in exchange for benefits.

One day after a long time, Charlotte received an apology and a thank-you-letter out of the blue. She just glanced at it and put it away.

She never looked at those letters again.

It had to be said that the news in the upper circle was updated very quickly. In just a week, the matter of the White Family was completely forgotten, replaced by the relationship between Joe. and Wendy.

Many people in the circle had seen how tolerant and doting Joe was towards Wendy. They had thought that Joe and Wendy would be closer to each other after their engagement, but upon closer inspection, they rarely appeared on the same occasion ever since their engagement.

Even if they appeared on the same occasion, Joe's attitude towards Wendy was only cold and indifferent, completely different from what Wendy said.

So many people began to speculate if there was something wrong between Joe and Wendy.

Charlotte didn't care about it at all. Anyway, no one dared to say their things in front of her, and she didn't want to have anything to do with those two people at all.

Chapter 211 Joe's Interrogation

"I think Tony has been doing something weird recently. You have to be careful."

Trevor called Charlotte almost every two days for some time. In his words, he must get her support and tell her everything whether big or small about the Pope family.

Charlotte thought that Tony would restrain himself after what had happened recently but didn't expect that he wouldn't give 1.

"I'll be careful." After hanging up the phone, she told Gorya and Erik to be more vigilant about the people and things around the children.

Gorya and Erik were already very attentive, and they became even more cautious when they heard her instructions.

Soon, it was the day of the summer camp for Ben and Anna.

Charlotte had packed up their luggage early and put in a lot of snacks made by Mrs. River.

She looked down at the small bracelets on their wrists,

Although the bracelet didn't look very eye-catching, there was a miniature positioning system in it, which could lock their position in the shortest time and send out a distress signal.

This was made by Erik and Ben, and Anna liked it very much.

"If there is any problem that the teachers can't solve, remember to call for help to the bracelet. Gorya and Erik will come to help you." Charlotte said worriedly.

Ben and Anna nodded obediently. Anna even stepped forward and hugged Charlotte.

"Mom, be good. We will be back soon after going out for a while. You have to take care of yourself at home!"

Looking at the little adult-like Anna, She did not know whether to laugh or cry, could only smile, and said, "I know. You guys have to be fine."

Early the next morning, before Charlotte went out, she ran into Joe, who came to see the children.

"Where are they?"

Joe glanced behind Charlotte and did not find Ben and Anna.

Charlotte said calmly, "Ben and Anna went to the summer camp. They won't be back for a week."

After that, she was ready to turn around and leave.

Unexpectedly, Joe suddenly grabbed her wrist. "Are you avoiding me?"

Charlotte turned around in disbelief. "Why did you say this?"

“You didn’t show up the last time your group came to the Smith Group and when I went to the Horizon Group.” Joe’s dark eyes looked straight into her eyes. “You were avoiding me.”

Charlotte was so angry that she laughed.

She shook off his hand and crossed her arms in front of her chest. “You’re overthinking, Mr. Smith. I’m not your employee. Normally, you can’t find me. As for avoiding you...”

She looked at him from head to toe and then pursed her lips. “There’s really no need.”

Joe’s frown deepened. He did not like the way Charlotte talked to him now and did not know when she had become like this.

“I...”

As soon as Joe started speaking, Charlotte interrupted him with a cold look. “I’m sorry. I don’t know if you’re always interested in women other than your current wife, but we’ve been divorced for five years. Unless it’s a business matter, I don’t want to have too much contact with you, and I don’t want others to misunderstand that I am a mistress, which is my most hated role.”

She glanced at him coldly. “I hope you can show some mercy, Mr. Smith.”

The atmosphere between the two of them was like the cold wind of the Arctic flew out, immediately freezing him completely.

Joe’s eyes were filled with rage. “You!”

The rising frustration and anger suddenly subsided when he saw her clear eyes. Joe rubbed the space between his eyebrows.

“Wendy and I are not what you think...”

Chapter 212 Let's Go to the Bar to Relax

Charlotte had thought that she would never be angered by Joe again, but after hearing his words, she couldn't help but laugh. “It's not what I think?!”

“You say it's not what I think. Do you mean that during the period of our marriage, you took her out to show off, making everyone laugh at me and think that she is your real lover?”

“Or do you mean that you'll always be by her side whenever I need you?”

“Or is it that we are divorced now, and you are engaged to her, and she has become your fiancée?”

“From the beginning to the end, I don't think I have any misunderstanding about your relationship.” Charlotte sneered. “Although I don't know why you suddenly want to say this to me, I hope I will never hear it again.”

Suppressing her anger, Charlotte turned around and left. She didn't want to say another word to him.

Back in the car, Mandy looked at her with concern. “Are you okay?”

Charlotte shook her head wearily

Mandy thought that she was sad and then comforted her. “There are so many other men in the world. Although your ex-husband is handsome and rich, he is a scum! Scum is a man's biggest failure."

Charlotte smiled and said, "You're right, that's his biggest failure."

After being comforted by Mandy, Charlotte's originally unhappy mood immediately improved a lot.

"Why don't we go to a bar to see men tonight?" Mandy suggested.

Charlotte looked puzzled.

Late at night that day, Mandy took Charlotte to an underground bar.

Listening to the noisy music inside, Charlotte was very helpless. "Are you taking me here to see men?"

Without any interest being the bars, she turned around to leave.

But how could Mandy let her go? Mandy turned around and grabbed Charlotte. "Don't you know that?"

What?

Mandy looked at her, who had a puzzled look. Mandy laughed and said, "As the saying goes, once you come, why not have a happy night?"

Charlotte smiled helplessly and said, "Okay, Let's go."

The bar was dimly lit. Two beauties, Mandy and Charlotte, came in and immediately attracted a lot of attention.

Charlotte habitually walked toward the private room but was pulled by Mandy. “The private room is closed, how can we see the grand occasion inside? Come with me.”

Mandy pulled Charlotte to sit down in the booth next to her and ordered a few glasses of cocktail casually.

The music sounded on the dance floor. Mandy forcibly pulled Charlotte into the dance floor and began to dance to the music.

At first, Charlotte was still a little restrained and could not dance freely.

But when she found that everyone was dancing on their own, she didn’t feel restrained anymore and let herself dance freely.

In the private room upstairs, Jack was drinking wine leisurely when he heard his friends exclaim, “Look! There is a beauty!”

“Humph! Your favor... F*ck, she’s really a beauty!”

The continuous exclamations attracted Jack’s attention. He looked down in boredom and the wine glass in his hand fell to the ground.

Why was Charlotte here?!

Chapter 213 The Children Were Missing

In the eyes of Jack, Joe had always been an emotionless workaholic. Even Wendy, who was widely spread to be Joe’s lover in the outside world, had not received too much favor from him.

To put it more accurately, Joe seemed to have an inexplicable. sense of responsibility towards her. However, since Wendy wanted his love, he had no choice but to care for her.

Of course, this feeling changed after Charlotte went missing for a period of time. He only felt that Joe had become colder after that.

After Charlotte became the chairman of the Horizon Group and returned, Joe's mood began to change significantly. Although this change was mostly due to anger, his changes in mood were very rare in Jack's eyes.

Even though he was sitting in a private room on the second floor, Jack could clearly feel that Charlotte was surrounded by men who were eyeing her covetously.

He frowned. If he didn't tell Joe the message, would he lose his job tomorrow?

After hesitating for a moment, Jack decided to get up and go downstairs to have a look first.

Seeing his action, his friend quickly cheered, "I didn't expect that Jack, who has always been only interested in work, would also take action when meets a beauty!"

Jack glared at them grumpily. What did these people know? He did it for his Job!

He quickly walked downstairs and entered the dance floor but did not see Charlotte anywhere.

"Who are you looking for?" A beautiful woman with long hair and red lips approached him with a chuckle.

Jack was stunned. He vaguely remembered that this beauty seemed to have been dancing just now beside Miss Clinton and hurriedly asked, "Did you see the Miss who was dancing with you just now?"

The beauty raised the corner of her mouth and smiled. "Are you talking about that Miss? I saw her going that way."

The beauty pointed out the direction. Jack was about to leave after thanking her but was stopped by her. “You may not be able to find the way and I can take you there.”

Jack nodded without thinking too much.

The beauty led him to a deserted place and soon arrived at the back door of the bar.

Jack frowned and asked, “Are you sure you saw her coming here just now?”

“Of course... no.” Mandy’s sweet voice sounded. Before Jack could react, she knocked him out.

She casually threw Jack at the back door and smiled. sarcastically. “I have noticed that you are a bad guy. You are unlucky to fall into my hands.”

After that, she simply turned around and left.

After leaving, she happened to meet Charlotte, who had just come out of the bathroom.

“Let’s go.”

Charlotte inexplicably felt that Mandy’s mood seemed to be much better than when they came. She asked curiously, “Did something good happen?”

Mandy smiled faintly. “I was lucky enough to catch a bad guy.”

In the next two days, Joe did not appear again. Before Charlotte could breathe a sigh of relief, she received an anxious call from the kindergarten leader. “Hello, Miss Clinton, Ben and Anna... are missing!”

“What did you say?!” Charlotte immediately stood up. She frowned and walked out.

“What’s going on?”

The leader of the kindergarten, Mrs. Fox, told the matter quickly.

The location of their summer camp was by the sea. There should have been a beach volleyball competition in the afternoon, but after all the children were ready, the leading teacher found that Ben and Anna were missing.

They searched everywhere and also contacted relevant personnel from the hotel to search together but could not find their trace.

Chapter 214 The Person Behind the Scene

Charlotte felt as if she had been struck by lightning. She stood still and took a deep breath, forcing herself to calm down. “Is there anything unusual except for the disappearance of the children?”

Mrs. Fox was stunned and said casually, “There seems to be nothing wrong... No, a teacher seems to be in a hurry to find them and hasn’t come back yet.”

Charlotte narrowed her eyes and asked, “Who is the teacher you mentioned?”

“It’s Miss Gresia. The children like her very much...” As she spoke, Mrs. Fox also realized that something was wrong. She said in surprise, “Could it be...”

“Call the police first and ask someone to check the whereabouts of the teacher. I’ll be there soon,” Charlotte said in a cold tone.

Perhaps because her aura was too scary, Mrs. Fox agreed obsequiously and quickly hung up the phone.

Seeing that there was something wrong with Charlotte's expression, Mandy hurried up to her and asked, "What happened?"

"The children are missing." Charlotte subconsciously held Mandy's hand, and countless possibilities flashed through her mind uncontrollably.

Mandy frowned and said, "That's impossible! If even Gorya and Erik can't protect the two children, there must be aliens that want to hurt them."

Only then did Charlotte remember that Gorya and Erik had been secretly protecting the children, so she quickly called them.

It was Erik who answered the phone. Before Charlotte could speak, he said directly, "We've found the children. You don't have to worry."

Charlotte only felt her whole body weak and she collapsed in Mandy's arms.

After resting for a short moment, she recovered some strength, then frowned, and asked. "What exactly is going on?"

Erik explained to her, "It was Miss Gresia, the new teacher, who wants to hurt the children. When everyone was participating in the beach competition, she quietly drugged Ben and Anna, hid them in a reef cave, and then went back to meet everyone."

"As soon as something happened to them, we noticed it and quietly took them away. When Miss Gresia came to check again, we also caught her."

With just a few words, Charlotte felt like she had just survived a disaster.

If it weren't for Gorya and Erik following her children at all times, they probably wouldn't have been found so quickly and might have suffered even more.

Erik continued, "The reason why we didn't send the child back was that we wanted to bring out the person behind Miss Gresia.

You..."

"I see." Charlotte nodded expressionlessly. "I'll pretend that I don't know anything and will take people to find them now."

Erik replied, "Don't worry, the children are now in another hotel. They are fine."

After hanging up the phone, Charlotte pursed her lips and dialed a number that she had once been familiar with.

"Charlotte?"

Joe's deep voice came from the other end. Charlotte secretly clenched her fists. "Ben and Anna are missing."

"What did you say?" The sound of a chair moving came from the other end of the line. Joe seemed to have walked out of the meeting and asked, "Aren't they going to the summer camp?"

"I don't know the details, but there is a new teacher who disappeared with the children," Charlotte quickly said.

Joe said, "Stay where you are. I'll go with you."

Chapter 215 He Was Aware of Her Thoughts

Joe arrived soon. As soon as Charlotte video-called the children and confirmed that they were safe, his car arrived.

Charlotte hung up the video call without a trace. Frank stepped forward and opened the door for her.

Joe was sitting in the back seat with a gloomy face. He looked up at her and said, “Get in the car.”

When Frank was about to get in the car, Mandy, who was behind him, rushed forward and sat in the passenger seat first. She smiled at him and said, “Let me go.”

Frank knew that she was Charlotte’s bodyguard and did not dare to underestimate her martial arts. “Okay.”

Before leaving, Charlotte told Frank, “Ask the rest of the security department to be ready to pick up the children at any time.”

Since they pretended to look for the children, they had to act like they were really looking for someone.

“It’s you!”

As soon as Mandy got in the car, a scream came from the driver’s seat.

She turned her head and saw that it was the “pervert man” who she knocked out at the back door of the bar last time. “Why are you here?”

She glanced at Jack, then looked at Joe, and immediately understood. “So that day at the bar, you didn’t want to accost Miss Clinton, but to confirm her whereabouts and then complain?”

“Bar?” Joe frowned and looked at Jack, who trembled all over. Although what Mandy said seemed to be right, her words seemed to be a lot strange.

Mandy ignored Joe and nodded firmly. “In that case, it’s not wrong to hit you.”

After that, she fastened the seat belt without any guilt and then glanced at Jack. “Why don’t you drive?”

After being knocked out by Mandy last time, Jack was woken up until the bar was closed. The next day, he had a high fever and had not recovered yet.

He secretly glared at Mandy and did not say anything. It was more important to find the children now.

“I’ve already gotten someone to apply for a flight to Civerpool. What’s going on?” Joe’s gaze fell on Charlotte’s face and he frowned slightly.

Charlotte briefly told him about the disappearance of the two children but did not tell him the fact that the children had been rescued.

Joe pursed his lips and suddenly asked, “I lave you already known the whereabouts of the children?”

Charlotte’s heart skipped a beat. “Why did you say that?”

Joe looked at her deeply and said, “If the children are really missing, you will never call me about it.”

Perhaps it was just an intuition, but Joe knew very well that with their unhappy situation before, Charlotte would never remember to call him at such a tense moment, let alone waste time waiting for him.

Charlotte didn't expect that after putting in so much effort, she would be exposed by Joe before the show even began.

"Your men have found the two children, right? Now you're putting on a show for everyone to see?" Joe's two questions hit the bullet, and Charlotte was suddenly speechless.

It would be a great loss for the police community as Joe didn't become a policeman.

Since he had seen through her, Charlotte did not intend to hide. it anymore. "Someone did intend to kidnap the two children, but she was caught by the people I arranged. Now we suspect that there is a mastermind behind the scenes, so we asked you to put on a show."

Charlotte's anxious expression suddenly disappeared and she put on a calm face.

"Are the children safe?" Joe did not intend to pursue the matter of Charlotte deliberately deceiving him but asked.

Chapter 216 A Call from Tony

Joe was silent for a moment. "Since we're going to put on an act, we have to create a sensation."

Charlotte looked at him in confusion.

After Joe made a few phone calls, several helicopters flew out of the Smith Group. All the security guards of the Smith Group were ready to find the children.

Even if others didn't know what had happened, they could guess that it was not a small matter after making such a big scene.

In order to prevent Sir Smith from worrying, Joe specially called to tell him the whole thing. Sir Smith flew into a rage on the other end of the phone. "How dare someone hurt Ben and Anna! Do they really think the Smith Family is easy to deal with?!"

In order not to make the two children feel uncomfortable, Sir Smith had refrained from visiting them and didn't expect that someone would be so bold as to hurt them.

"Don't be afraid of making trouble." Sir Smith said coldly, "Even if you have to overturn Atlanta, you have to catch those who are not afraid of death."

In the face of other people's questions, Sir Smith sent them away with the excuse that he had nothing to tell them, which made more speculations.

Joe and Charlotte didn't care about what they did at all. At this time, they were standing in front of Mrs. Fox with serious faces.

It took Mrs. Fox more than half a day to barely prepare herself to face Charlotte. Unexpectedly, there came another big shot!

When she saw Charlotte and Joe appear at the same time, cold sweat dripped down from her forehead.

"How's your search going?" Joe only asked coldly, and Mrs. Fox subconsciously straightened her back. "Mr. Smith, we've searched the area near the island but haven't found any trace of the children."

Charlotte asked deliberately, "Where is the missing teacher?"

"I... I haven't found her yet." Mrs. Fox's voice became lower.

The seaside was not big, so it could be reasonable for children to be lost. But there was something wrong with the teacher's disappearance.

What's more, they had already searched the nearby area but still couldn't find any trace of the children.

Charlotte asked, "Every kindergarten teacher should go through a strict background check. How did this problematic teacher pass the test?"

Mrs. Fox felt very wronged. "We really did a detailed background investigation. There's nothing wrong with her!"

In fact, Charlotte also believed this, because Erik had also made a thorough background check on Miss Gresia during this period of time. Except for the early death of her parents, there was nothing special about her.

It was because of this that it seemed even stranger.

At this moment, Charlotte's phone suddenly rang. It was Tony calling.

She hesitated for a moment before answering the phone.

Tony gloated, "I heard that you and Joe's company have been in trouble recently. Did something happen?"

"If there's nothing else, I'll hang up." Charlotte said coldly.

"Don't!" Tony laughed. "Don't you want to find the two children? They're crying and want their mom!"

Charlotte's momentum suddenly sank. "It's you?"

Chapter 217 Tony's Request

Sensing that something was wrong with Charlotte, Joe gave her a look to ask what was going on. Charlotte made a gesture to Mrs. Fox not far away, and the other party sensibly left.

After she left, Charlotte turned on the speaker. Tony said arrogantly and obscenely, "So what if it's me? Don't you think you're a good mother? Your children are in danger now. Can't you save them?"

He burst into laughter, then gritted his teeth, and said, "Charlotte, It serves you right."

She was not irritated by him. Instead, she asked calmly, "What do you want?"

"Beg me," Tony said coldly. "Aren't you very arrogant? I'll let you have a taste of what it feels like to beg me."

"Please." Charlotte said without any hesitation. She said it so fast that Tony didn't feel a sense of accomplishment at all. Instead, he felt insulted.

Tony was furious. "So this is your attitude. Don't you want them anymore?!"

Charlotte sneered and said, "Will you give them back if I say so? Don't do these fancy things. Just tell me your purpose."

Tony seemed to have thought of something, smiled obscenely, and said, "You want me to let go of the children? No problem. I want you to sleep with me for one night."

"Tony Pope!" Before Charlotte could speak, Joe, who was next to her, said first, "You're courting death!"

Joe's mood had almost reached the freezing point. Boundless. anger burned in his chest. The cold and hot emotion made him so furious that he wanted to tear Tony into pieces.

Tony was also taken aback. He didn't expect Joe to be there as well but quickly regained his composure. "What's wrong? Mr. Smith, I remember that those two little brats are your children. You're quite lucky with women. But so what if you're awesome? You still have to send your ex-wife to my bed obediently, don't you?"

Joe gripped his phone tightly and suddenly dialed a number. Out of the blue, he instructed the person inside, "Cutting all business deals with the Pope Group."

Tony also heard that. He didn't expect that Joe would still have the guts to provoke him when the children were in his hands. "Joe! If you dare to touch the Pope Group, I'll chop off their hands and feet and throw them into the sea to feed the fish!"

Joe looked at the phone coldly and said, "Do it if you can."

"Charlotte, do you want to make a deal or not?" Perhaps Tony was worried that Joe would really attack and acquire the Pope Group, so he stopped arguing with him and turned to ask Charlotte.

Charlotte was noncommittal but asked another question, "Tony, you shouldn't be able to do such a thing on your own. Who is helping you behind the scenes?"

Tony laughed and said, "So? Do you want to trick me? Why do you have to go through so much trouble? As long as you become my woman, I will tell you everything and I can even help you set up a trap to catch that person. What do you think?"

"I'm afraid you have the guts to think about it but don't have the life to do it." Charlotte's voice also became extremely cold. If Tony was in front of her now, she might do something irreversible.

Tony seemed to know that things would not be so easy. He suddenly played a recording on the other end of the phone. It was the miserable cries of two children.

Charlotte knew that it was not the voices of Ben and Anna, but it seemed similar to theirs at first hearing. She pretended to be angry and asked, "What do you want? If you want money, just tell me."

"I've made it very clear that I want you." Tony said wickedly.

Chapter 218 Charlotte Agreed His Request

Countless thoughts flashed through Charlotte's mind. Under Joe's strong opposition, she said, "I'll decide the location."

"Impossible." Tony seemed to have noticed Charlotte's weakness and said firmly, "I'll arrange the time and place. You just need to do as I say. If I find out that you called the police or used other means, I'll make your two children live a life worse than death."

Not only did his threat not scare Charlotte, but it also made her very angry.

The angrier she was, the calmer she became. "If you can't show your sincerity, why don't we make another deal?"

"Tomorrow afternoon, Room 2602 of the Blue Bay Hotel." Tony said in a hurry and hung up the phone.

Mandy on the side looked at Charlotte, "He hung up the phone at the right time, and the signal will be tracked down if he calls you a second longer."

Hearing Mandy's words, Charlotte became more sure that there was someone else behind Tony.

Joe looked at Charlotte disapprovingly. "Are you really going to there tomorrow?"

Charlotte nodded without hesitation. She had long understood the saying that nothing ventured, nothing gained. Not to mention that she was confident enough to deal with Tony.

"No." Joe refused firmly. "Since we already know that the person behind this is Tony, we can take our time to question him about other things."

However, Charlotte shook her head. "The later we find out the truth, the more threatened Ben and Anna will be. I don't want someone to be spying on them secretly, but I always turn a blind eye to it."

“Then there’s no need to put yourself in danger.” Joe still disagreed and simply said, “We can find someone who has a similar figure to you...”

“It’s too late. Besides, do you really think Tony is so stupid that he can’t even tell people apart?” Charlotte interrupted him impatiently. She still had a lot of things to prepare and didn’t want to talk nonsense with him here.

Joe stopped her. “I’ll go with you.”

Charlotte rejected him without hesitation. “You’re too conspicuous. Tony will definitely recognize you.”

For the first time, Joe felt that having an outstanding appearance wasn’t a good thing.

“Why don’t I go with Miss Swift?” Jack pointed to Mandy next to him. “Tony has always been arrogant and looked down on us secretaries. He won’t notice us.”

“Sure.” Joe agreed without waiting for Charlotte to speak.

Charlotte didn’t want to argue with him anymore, nodded casually, and said, “Okay.”

Early the next morning, Charlotte carefully checked the ring that Ben had made for her and wrapped a sharp dagger around her thigh just in case.

Joe’s eyebrows twitched when he saw her fiddling with the dagger.

He was now very curious about what had happened to the Clinton Family in the past five years that had turned Charlotte, a young lady from a rich family, into what she was now.

Jack and Mandy pretended to be a couple early in the morning. and went to the hotel to get a room. Sure enough, they did not attract Tony’s attention.

After everything was ready, Joe personally drove Charlotte to the hotel.

He was silent for a long time before he said, “Remember the dagger you brought. I can solve anything that you cause.”

Charlotte wasn't touched when she heard Joe's words.

She strolled into the hotel and went straight upstairs.

When she arrived at Room 2602, the "couple" next to her happened to enter the door. Charlotte just glanced at them lightly and then knocked on the door with a slightly restrained expression.

Tony seemed to have been waiting at the door for a long time and quickly opened the door.

"Oh, you're here." Tony scanned Charlotte from head to toe and then looked behind her. After making sure that there was no one following her, the smile on his face became even wider. "Joe only cares about his children. Women..."

His explicit gaze made Charlotte clench her fists tightly, desperately hinting that he was still useful, so she barely resisted the urge to hit him.

Following Tony into the room, Charlotte's eyes darkened.

She had still underestimated his shamelessness.

There were three cameras in the room facing the bed..

"It took me a lot of effort to get you. I should at least leave some mementos, right?" Tony said slyly.

As long as he had the sex video with Charlotte, was he afraid that he could not control her in the future?

Charlotte's expression became colder. "Are you dreaming? Turn off the camera."

Tony laughed and stepped forward to hug her but was slapped hard in the face by Charlotte.

"Charlotte!" Tony roared, "Do you still think you are the high and mighty chairman of the Horizon Group? Hurry up and strip! And then lie down!"

Charlotte stood still.

Tony was getting impatient. He stepped forward and was about to take off her clothes.

Unexpectedly, Charlotte suddenly pulled out the dagger, and the sharp dark light made him stunned on the spot.

“What do you want to do?” Tony didn’t expect Charlotte to bring a weapon. He immediately distanced himself from her and looked at her warily.

Charlotte didn’t expect Tony to be so cowardly. She shook the dagger in her hand and said, “Are you afraid that I’ll stab you to death?”

Her mocking expression deeply hurt Tony. It reminded him of the scene where he was mocked by the board of directors and was even expelled from the company because of Charlotte. He suddenly became angry and said, “It seems that you don’t intend to save your child.”

Charlotte’s face changed. She said in a low voice, “I just want you to tell me who helps you.”

“Why should I tell you?” Seeing that her tone had softened a little, Tony curled his lips. “After you sleep with me, I will naturally tell you.”

Charlotte refused to accept his condition. “That’s the promise that you let the children go. What if you don’t tell me after I fulfill it?”

The two of them were in a deadlock.

Seeing that Tony was hesitating and unwilling to say anything, Charlotte added fuel to the fire. “Now there are only you and me in the room, and my children are still in your hands. What are you afraid of?”

Tony thought her words were senses. Her two children were in his hands. Charlotte won’t dare to do anything to him.

Thinking of this, he restrained his expression slightly. “It doesn’t matter if I tell you.”

He seemed to have thought of something funny and said sarcastically, “You would entangled with Joe for the rest of your life. Do you know who helped me this time? It’s your ex-husband’s fiancée, Wendy.”

Charlotte glanced at the camera that was on. She pretended to be unconvinced and said, “How could it be Wendy? Do you have any evidence?”

Chapter 220 Taught Tony a Lesson

Tony suddenly became alert. “I’ve told you what you should know. As for the rest...”

He glanced at Charlotte with an evil look. “As long as you listen to me, I can help you deal with Wendy, not to mention the evidence.”

Charlotte smiled charmingly. “What you said makes sense...”

She approached Tony slowly, but he looked at the dagger in her hand and said, “Throw that thing away! Otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude to your children!”

Charlotte didn’t intend to rely on this dagger, so she casually threw it to the ground.

Tony laughed. “That’s right! As long as you listen to me, who does Joe think he is? I’ll make him kneel at your feet and be your slave!”

Charlotte smiled even more happily. “Then I’ll wait for that day.”

The moment he touched her, Charlotte quickly pressed the ring against his neck. The powerful electric current that burst out in an instant made Tony numb all over and he immediately fell to the ground.

Hearing the sound of a heavy object falling to the ground,

Mandy and Jack, who had been waiting next door for a long time, immediately broke in. When they saw Tony, who was lying on the ground and had pain, they couldn't help twitching the corners of their mouths.

No wonder Charlotte dared to come to see him alone. Seeing the current situation, even if there were ten more Tony, they would not be a match for Charlotte.

Charlotte glanced at Tony indifferently.

“Since he likes to record so much, let him record enough.” She stepped forward and took away the memory card of one of the cameras, and her eyes fell on Jack.

Jack was speechless.

“This isn't good, is it?” He didn't want to do that.

Mandy on the side sneered, “If you can't do it, let me do it.”

She was about to strip Tony of his clothes when Jack stopped her. “All right, all right! I'll do it! You guys go out and wait for me.”

Mandy smiled slyly and pulled Charlotte out of the door.

About half an hour later, Jack came out with a livid face and handed Charlotte a memory card.

“All right, call the police,” Charlotte said without hesitation.

Jack looked at her with his mouth agape. “Call the police?”

“Kidnapping children, threatening us, and deliberately hurting people, which part doesn’t need to call the police?” Before Charlotte could speak, Mandy rushed to answer.

She glanced at the dagger on the ground and quickly walked in to place it in Tony’s hands, who was not well dressed.

“Oh, there’s also an additional crime of armed murder.”

Her indifferent tone made Jack stunned.

He watched helplessly as Mandy called the police and slandered Tony for wanting to do something bad to her.

Then she glanced at Charlotte and said, “You’d better avoid suspicion first. Leave the rest to us.”

Jack wanted to leave with Charlotte, but Mandy stopped him. “Don’t forget, we are now a couple who have come to the hotel to have a happy time. I will be afraid if you leave now.”

But she didn’t look like she needed any help at all.

Jack silently hid this criticism in his heart and stood behind her obediently.

Tony had already destroyed the surveillance camera in the hotel corridor, which made things easier for them.

After leaving the hotel, Charlotte thought for a moment and dialed the reporter’s number. “I heard that Tony from the Pope family seems to have been arrested by the police. Do you want to come and see?”
