

Harvey York's Rise To Power Chapter 3861 - 3870

Chapter 3861

“You do have some talent, Harvey York....

“But so what?

“You're just trash in front of Young Master Bierstadt anyway!

“Right! He's strong enough to make CEO Toft kneel, but what's the point?

“He's lucky enough to show off once or twice!

“But in front of a genuinely prominent figure, all this means nothing!

“This is just incompetent rage of someone who'll never succeed!

“He'll know just how much of a gap he has with Young Master Bierstadt soon enough!”

Everyone was showing pitiful expressions as they stared at Harvey.

No matter how powerful Harvey actually was, his background was still inferior compared to Jace Lee and the others.

“Senior!”

“Young Master Bierstadt!”

“Mr. Bierstadt!”

A group of people immediately swarmed Trey Bierstadt. Jace showed an extremely miserable look when he was in front of the crowd.

“What happened here, Jace? Why'd you call me here to help?”

Trey calmly rolled up his sleeves, as if nothing mattered to him.

Jace coldly groaned.

“This outsider kept showing off here and hit me in the face!”

“Is that so?”

Trey squinted at Jace. Jace's face was utterly swollen with palm prints all over. He showed a horrible expression with a few gaping holes in his mouth.

Trey could not be bothered too much about his junior, but Jace knew to give him a hefty gift every year to fulfill his every need.

After seeing his junior in this sorry state...

Trey showed a horrible expression. This was utter disrespect toward him.

Bam!

After hearing Jace's complaint, Trey stepped forward before kicking Vance Toft to the ground.

"Filth!"

Before Vance could even explain himself, a few Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance disciples stepped out before kicking him around.

Nobody dared to look at the brutal sight.

In the first place, Vance was a servant of the organization. Naturally, he would not dare go against Trey.

He had no choice but to endure everything at this very moment.

Jace and the others showed burning passion when they saw Vance's predicament.

"Now that's a truly prominent figure right there! He does whatever he wants without giving anyone a chance!"

Harvey curiously watched the show without moving a single inch.

His expression remained indifferent even when he saw blood come out of Vance's mouth.

After all, that man had nothing to do with him.

Around a minute later, Trey waved his hand, gesturing the disciples to stop in case Vance died from the beating.

Then, he coldly glared at Harvey.

"You're the one who laid your hands on my junior?" asked Trey coldly.

"Yep."

Harvey cracked a faint smile.

"Impressive! You've got guts!"

Trey coldly chuckled after seeing Harvey act so high and mighty in front of him. A vengeful glare was clearly showing on his handsome face.

“You should know what will happen after doing that, right?”

“No. I don’t think I need to, either.

“I do know that people should admit to their own faults and be punished for it, though.

“Why don’t you ask your junior why I decided to slap him around?”

“Maybe you should figure out the entire truth first:”

The crowd scoffed as soon as they heard Harvey’s words.

‘This guy’s insane!’

“Why is he still trying to speak reason right now?!”

“Figure out the truth?”

“Why should I?”

“You weaklings really do care about such trivial things.

Trey Bierstadt crossed his arms while he strutted forward. Every single step he took was filled with zest.

“Strong ones like me don’t need to know of such things.

“After all, I only stand by the people I want to.

“Even if my junior ends up murdering people and burning down houses, he’d still be right in my eyes.

“Even if the law is by your side, you’d still have to pay the price for laying your hands on my junior.”

Jace Lee was in high spirits after getting Trey’s unwavering support.

“This b*stard said that even the leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance has no right to go against him, let alone you!”

“That’s right, Young Master Bierstadt! That ignorant b*stard did say that!” cried the other lackeys in unison.

“You’re looking down on the leader?! You’re mocking the organization?!”

Trey let out a cold scoff.

“Why are there so many so-called powerful people here recently?”

“Take a look at yourselves in the mirror!”

“How dare outsiders like you show off in Blackburn City?”

“You’re from Country H, aren’t you?”

“Come! Come! Tell us where you come from! Are you from the five hidden families? Or are you from the country’s top ten families?”

“For their sake, I can leave you alive after crippling you.”

“I’m from neither,” replied Harvey calmly.

“Neither?”

Trey chuckled.

“And yet you still dare show off here in Blackburn City? How ignorant can you get?”

“I thought Blackburn City was a lawful place, but judging from your attitude, you must be planning to do everything by force.”

“Lawful?”

Trey coldly chuckled.

“In this place, the strong dominate!”

“Without strength, your reason has no meaning!”

“Ask Vance this. Does he dare talk reason to me?”

Trey looked at Vance derisively, as if he was a dead dog lying on the ground.

Vance trembled. He would not dare open his mouth. All he could do was nod his head like an obedient servant.

“So, you’re saying that you’re coming at me no matter what?” queried Harvey.

“Grovel and admit to your faults, then let Jace punish you as he pleases. If he lets you go, then I’ll do the same!

Trey was showing a fierce look on his face.

“If you resist or run away, I’ll take out my wrath on every single one of the Country H citizens here!

“You people are rats clumped up together anyway! Surely we’ll kill off every single one of you!

Trey’s words were utterly ruthless.

Naturally, he represented absolute authority in Blackburn City.

Julian York showed a cold gaze after hearing those words.

The people who live in the underworld would not drag other people’s families down...

But Trey was the complete opposite. He wanted to take out people from an entire country.

Harvey squinted with a cold gaze.

‘As expected from Jace’s senior. He was definitely more heinous and unreasonable compared to Jace.’

“You’re scared now, kid?

Trey stepped forward with a smile when he saw Harvey remain still.

“You’re impressive, aren’t you?

“Why’d you stop talking?

“Kneel if you’re scared already!

“Crawl your way out here!”

Trey pointed toward the space between his legs with an arrogant expression.

Chapter 3863

A lot of people were showing playful smiles after seeing Trey Bierstadt’s actions.

Everyone thought that Harvey York would be terrified enough to crawl under Trey.

After all, no matter how strong Harvey was, he would not dare go against Trey.

He would have a death wish if he did just that!

Right when Harvey was about to slap Trey in the face, Julian York's phone suddenly started vibrating.

After listening to the call, Julian was completely shocked.

Then, he respectfully walked toward Harvey.

“Sir York, it's from Flutwell.

“It's from the Country H Martial Arts Alliance.

“With Leader Torres' recommendation, after a huge debate, the organization chose you to be the new representative!

“You'll be able to make decisions in the World Martial Arts Alliance on behalf of Country H.

“Simply put, your identity will be on par with Leader Torres in the future.

“If Leader Torres were to retire, you'll become the new leader.”

Julian could not help but tremble.

Obviously, he was clearly surprised by the news.

At the same time, he turned on his phone before seeing a text on the screen.

‘Country H Martial Arts Alliance?’

‘The representative of the organization?’

‘Make decisions in the World Martial Arts Alliance?’

Every single sentence was like a bombshell crackling in the air.

People still thought that Harvey was just bluffing at that moment.

After all, he only said such things when Trey was about to lash out. No matter how anyone looked, this seemed highly fabricated.

“Enough pretending!

“You're talking about the World Marital Arts Alliance?

“Do you even know what that means?

“You really think you can get out of this situation by putting up a show?

“How naive can you get?!”

Trey took a deep breath before he coldly chuckled.

He was also from the Martial Arts Alliance. He would have known if Harvey was the representative of Country H's Martial Arts Alliance.

Judging from any perspective, clearly Harvey was just bluffing.

Ring ring ring!

Harvey's phone also rang. This time, it was a video call.

Harvey took a glance before he casually picked up the call.

A person from South Sea showed up on the other side of the screen.

It was the representative of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance, Gordon Moreno himself.

Trey wanted to smack the phone out of Harvey's hand before he froze. The person on the screen seemed extremely familiar to him.

Gordon was showing a warm smile when he saw Harvey's face.

“Congratulations, Sir York!

“We know all about the Country H Martial Arts Alliance's involvement with your recommendation!

“From today onward, you'll be in charge of deciding the matters involving the World Martial Arts Alliance!

“Your vote alone will override the Empire of the Sun that Never Sets and America Martial Arts Alliances along with the other two great Marital Arts Alliances.

“I'm impressed!

“To show the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance's respect....

“We've decided for you to become the governor of the organization! 2

“You'll oversee everything in the organization while being served by thousands of people under you!

“If you get in trouble, please call me! I'll do everything in my power to assist you!”

The South Sea Martial Arts Alliance was only showing formalities at the moment. The title of the governor had almost no effect on the organization in the first place...

But after seeing Gordon's respectful look on the other side of the screen, after thinking about the things that still needed to be done in Blackburn City, Harvey said calmly, "Since you're being so generous, I'll have to accept your kind offer."

Chapter 3864

'Gordon Moreno?

Representative Moreno?'"

Trey Bierstadt finally figured out who the person was.

Gordon was the representative of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance. Even the leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance would have to bow to him.

This was an extremely prominent figure...

And yet he was congratulating Harvey York for becoming the governor of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance.

'Served by thousands of people?!

Gordon's words made it clear that Harvey's identity within the Country H Martial Arts Alliance was completely true.

The representative of the Country H Martial Arts Alliance and the governor of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance. The person with the right to vote in the World Martial Arts Alliance...

At this very moment, Trey could feel himself hyperventilating.

His legs were starting to wobble. A sense of fear instantly replaced the arrogance on his face.

The experts behind him were starting to feel a little numb. They did not even have the courage to stand properly any longer.

The others did not know who those people were, but they knew full well as people from the organization.

Those people represented Harvey's absolute authority. This meant that Harvey was someone who was not to be trifled with.

After seeing Trey and the others becoming more and more afraid, Jace Lee could not help but scream, Don't be fooled, Trey!

“What representative?! What governor?!”

“This guy got hired to fool us all!”

“If he’s actually the representative, there’s no way you wouldn’t know him, right?!”

The others nodded in unison after hearing Jace’s reasoning.

The beautiful women came back to their senses before they disdainfully glared at Harvey.

‘How dare he find someone to put up a show with him? Is he trying to fool Trey here?’

“Do you think I’m just putting up a show?”

“I wonder if an actor like me is strong enough to beat you all down...”

Harvey calmly smiled before taking a step toward a disciple. Then, he swung the back of his palm forward without any hesitation.

Slap!

The disciple screamed in pain before taking a few steps back.

He was an expert martial artist. His gaze was filled with unbridled rage after being slapped in the face, but he would not dare fight back, nor did he move out of the way.

“Oh? Me being an actor does work, after all!”

Slap slap!

Harvey kept talking as he slapped two more disciples to the ground.

Bright red palm prints were clearly showing on their face. Blood was also seeping out of their mouths. Their arrogant and prideful expressions were completely replaced by utter gloom.

The remaining disciples instinctively stepped back before Harvey hooked his finger in front of them.

“Come here.”

Some of the disciples would not dare oppose him. They had no other choice but to lean toward Harvey, while showing utter resentment.

Slap!

Harvey used all his might to slap every single disciple to the ground.

The disciples were all lying on the ground while covering their faces. Their furious gazes were deliberately showing. They wanted to kill off Harvey so badly at that moment.

In their eyes, it would be easy for them to take Harvey out...

But he was the governor of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance!

They would not dare go against someone with such an immense status!

Jace and the others were completely shocked when they saw the sight.

They never thought that Harvey's identity was actually real!

Nobody from the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance would dare go against someone like that!

Slap!

After slapping the final disciple to the ground, Harvey calmly walked toward Trey while his eyes were frantically twitching.

Chapter 3865

Trey Bierstadt's mouth kept twitching.

"You're crossing the line, Harvey York..."

"Do you think I'm scared of you?"

"Even if you're the actual governor, I'll...."

Trey had no strength to put up a front any longer. He instantly slammed his knees to the ground that very moment.

He knew that he was in big trouble. Not only would he suffer, but the entire Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance would also be dragged down.

Harvey's title seemed like nothing, but it was enough to suppress everyone here, even without him lifting a single finger.

Everyone felt extremely sluggish when they saw the sight before they instinctively slapped themselves in the face.

The high and mighty top talent of the organization came all the way here to stand up for Jace...

But then what happened?

He was already kneeling in front of a random tourist...

Was Trey worthless? Or was Harvey just too impressive to begin with?

Harvey walked toward Trey before he patted his face.

“Why are you kneeling already, Young Master Bierstadt?”

“I’d be embarrassed if I kept disrespecting you like this...

Trey’s eyes kept twitching.

“It’s an honor to have you slap me around, Governor York,” replied Trey with a trembly voice.

“Fine. You said so.”

Harvey swung his hand without remorse.

Slap!

“This one’s for you ruining the reputation of the Martial Arts Alliance.

Slap!

“This one’s for you altering the truth and doing whatever you please.

Slap!

“This one’s for you taking advantage of people at large..

While Harvey was still talking, he kept slapping Trey around to the point where he swayed uncontrollably.

Trey was also an expert but would not dare fight back against Harvey then.

Every single slap was a lot stronger than the last, causing Trey immense pain.

The crowd instantly froze after seeing the sight.

The top talent of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance kneeled and begged for someone else to slap him?’

Nobody would believe those words unless they saw the sight with their own eyes.

It was obvious who was the ruthless one at this very moment!

After seeing Trey in such a sorry state, the people who came to support Jace felt extremely numb while their eyes were frantically twitching.

They quietly distanced themselves from Jace to prevent them from getting involved.

Jace felt extremely resentful. He knew that he did not just embarrass himself this time.

All he wanted to do was trample on a tourist, but it turned out to be completely impossible.

“What do you think of the lesson?”

After a dozen slaps, Harvey calmly looked at Trey.

Trey was extremely bitter before he took a deep breath.

“I’m satisfied!” exclaimed Trey before he nodded.

No matter how resentful and enraged he was, he knew...

He was nothing in front of the governor of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance.

Trey could only wish for Harvey to be kind enough to let him off the hook. He could not even imagine taking his revenge at that moment.

“Are you really?”

Harvey squinted.

“Fine. Since you’re this understanding, I’ll give you a chance. Everyone here will break their own arm before they leave.

“I want both his arms though.”

Harvey pointed at Jace.

Chapter 3866

“You want both my arms?!”

After seeing Trey Bierstadt kneeling on the ground and hearing Harvey York’s demands, the fear in Jace Lee’s heart was replaced by fury.

“I don’t care what identity you have, but you should know I’m no small fry either!”

“I’m the third young master of the Lee family! We’re also allies with the Moreno family!”

“If you hurt me, you’ll get a lot of strong enemies waiting to take bites out of you!

“I’ll remember you forever!

“I can’t do anything to you for now, but that doesn’t mean it won’t happen later!

“If I can’t touch you this year, I’ll still have many years after that!

“You’ll be in deep trouble if you break my arms now!”

Jace desperately tried to warn Harvey while gritting his teeth. He wanted to show that Harvey’s title as the governor of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance was only effective against people of the same organization and not the family.

After exposing that fact, the outsider would not be able to endure the frenzied attacks in the South Sea

The Lee family was one of the great families of the South Sea!

“Jace!” exclaimed Trey instinctively.

“Shut up! You’re nothing but filth!

Trey was cut off instantly by Jace’s cruel words.

“I spent millions of dollars taking care of you so that you can stand up for me when I get in trouble.

“And then what happened?! All you did was kneel and get slapped in the face!

“What’s the point of me even taking care of you at this point?!

“Why do I have to act all respectful in front of you?!

“You’re not even worthy!”

Naturally, in Jace’s eyes, even if Trey was scared of Harvey’s identity, he should have fought back instead of letting Harvey slap him around like that.

This was just embarrassing!

Jace’s reputation in Blackburn City would be completely ruined!

“I did go against your friend and you this time, Harvey..

“But you slapped me and that filth, Trey, around too!

“We’ll just bury the hatchet right here then!

“I’ll even pay a hundred and fifty thousand dollars as a mental loss fee!

Jace then took a deep breath before he glared at Harvey.

“We’ll go our separate ways!

“How does that sound?”.

Naturally, Jace believed that he was already paying enough respect for lowering himself this much while also compensating with money.

He believed that people like Harvey should have just obliged.

After all, it would be bad if Harvey decided to go against a local powerhouse like him.

Harvey calmly smiled.

“You’re telling me just to let it go?

“Is that what you’re saying?”

“Yeah!

Jace tilted his head to the side.

“I already apologized! What else do you want?!

“Don’t you dare cross the line, Harvey! This’ll benefit no one!

“You’ll have a hard time in the South Sea if you’re still coming at me!”

“Are you threatening me?

“If that’s the case, then I’ll also have the rest of your limbs.

“Start the countdown, Julian York.”

Julian let out a cold chuckle.

“Ten, nine, eight...” exclaimed Julian coldly.

“You b*stard!

Jace screamed with a grimace twisted by rage and fear.

“You won’t f*cking cripple me!

“You f*cking won’t!”

Chapter 3867

Slap!

Even before Harvey York could say anything. Trey Bierstadt instantly jumped off the ground before he sent Jace Lee flying with a single slap.

“B*stard!”

Jace covered his face when he stumbled off the ground.

“You hit me, Trey?!”

“Do you want to die?!”

Crack!

Trey completely ignored him before furiously snapping his arm.

Even if Jace had a death wish, Trey did not want that.

As the top talent of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance, he knew just how immense Harvey’s title was.

That was why he did what he thought was the right choice.

“Aaagh!”

Screams of pain could be heard. Before Jace was even done struggling, Trey took action once again.

Sounds of bones cracking echoed everywhere before Jace was completely crippled. He could not stop trembling on the ground at this moment.

He wanted to lash out; he wanted to question everyone here; he wanted to go crazy, but the pain was stopping him from doing anything. 1

All he could do was squeal like a dying pig on the ground.

The rich playboys and wealthy ladies felt completely sluggish.

They were filled with fear and respect while they gasped in disbelief.

Nobody thought the high and mighty Jace would end up this way because of the people he called himself.

Simply put, Jace planned to trample on Harvey...

But other than ending up in a sorry state, nothing else happened.

Bam!

After breaking Jace's limbs, Trey wasted no time kneeling on the ground.

"This is all my fault, Governor York. Jace is also at fault for this. I already snapped his limbs as you asked

"Are you happy with everything so far?"

"I think I remember saying I want everyone's arm as well.

"But since you're this understanding, I'll take everyone's left arm."

Trey's eyes frantically twitched before he replied quickly, "Thank you for your blessing, Governor York!"

He stood up again before he broke the disciples' arms who were standing around him.

Screams of pain and bones cracking were mixed in the air. Everyone around was trembling uncontrollably after seeing the sight.

Crack!

Then, Trey finally snapped his arm. His face immediately lost all color before he silently walked toward Harvey.

Harvey could not help but be impressed by Trey's fortitude.

Not only was he ruthless toward other people, but he also did not hold back when it came to himself. He could be considered a valuable asset.

Jace and the others slowly returned to their senses when their pain subsided. The rage they were feeling was gradually being held back.

Trey kneeled on the ground again.

"Is this good enough, Governor York?"

"You're pretty impressive.

Harvey lifted Trey before reconnecting his broken bones with admiration on his face.

"You're a cocky man, but at least you know what's best for you.

"Not bad."

Trey's eyes frantically twitched before seizing the opportunity.

“I hope to go further with your guidance, Governor York.”

Harvey showed him a faint smile.

“Enough. I’ll call you when I need you.

“Take the others and leave for now.

“I don’t want anyone to know about what happened here.

“Do you understand me?”

“Of course!”

Trey nodded like a chicken pecking rice.

“Tell the Lee family they can take revenge on me if they want as long as they can handle the consequences...”

Harvey patted Trey’s face before strutting away.

Chapter 3868

After dealing with Jace Lee and the others, Harvey York called Irene Johnson before coming to the Blackburn City Hospital.

Blackburn City Hospital is a private hospital. It was not as big, but the furnishes were so luxurious to the point where every single person would know about the hospital.

That said, the hospital’s medical skills were mediocre. The hospital’s reputation in the city was quite subpar.

The hospital would usually rely on cheating money from tourists’ pockets, so they would naturally make a huge profit.

The tourists would not have anybody to turn to because of this. They would have no choice but to let itslide.

Harvey only understood this while he was on the way here.

Since Irene was not a local, she could not be blamed for the situation.

Soon after, Harvey and Julian York arrived at the hospital’s hallway.

“Sir York.”

Irene respectfully greeted Harvey.

“How’s it going?”

Harvey nodded.

“She’s in the emergency room, but...”

Irene hesitated.

Harvey frowned. After looking through the door gaps, he could see around six people lying on the sick beds. At least three of the patients seemed like they were physically injured and were lightly calling for help...

But not a single medical staff could be seen inside.

“When I sent Ms. Moreno here, the staff said that they were going to see some celebrity..

“I heard that the person scraped a finger while filming for a show and that all the staff went over to take a look!

“They said they’ll be back soon. They asked me to pay a deposit of fourteen thousand dollars first.

“I gave them the money half an hour ago, but they’re still not here yet...”

Irene was starting to panic.

Harvey frowned. He knew the hospital was no good, but he did not expect it to be this bad.

Right when he was about to call for help, Irene instantly cut him off.

“Sir York, let me handle this.

Irene went to the main hall for a few minutes before coming back.

“They said that they’ll be back soon, Sir York.”

The medical staff did not come after ten minutes. Before Harvey could say anything, Irene went away again.

She did the exact same thing thrice. A medical staff finally walked over after that.

A nametag with “Rayne Bell” was labeled on her chest.

“What’s with the yapping?

“Are you here to collect a debt or something?

Rayne walked toward the emergency room while she spoke with an annoyed look.

“Don’t you see that we’re asking for autographs?”

“Don’t you know that the South Sea’s goddess is here?”

“How dare you disturb our time with the goddess? Do you want to die or something?”

A few beautiful nurses were disdainfully glaring at Irene, thinking she was just a busybody ruining their business.

Irene’s face instantly darkened.

There are so many people in the emergency room. Every single person in there needs help!

“And yet you’re asking for autographs?!”

“Where are your morals?!”

“Morals?”

A nurse let out a chuckle.

“Let me tell you something! There are patients here every single day, but we’re not going to get the goddess here all the damn time!”

“We’re still going to ask for more too!”

“If you don’t like it, get out of here already!”

Chapter 3869

Rayne Bell coldly chuckled.

“I’m warning you, though. We won’t pay you the money back once the transaction’s done.

“You can take the patient with you, but we’re not returning the deposit!”

“Now leave!”

“Stop being an eyesore!”

Irene Johnson’s expression was as cold as ice after hearing those words.

“You’re crossing the line!”

“You’re not saving the patient, nor are you paying the money back?!”

“I’ll sue you!”

“You’ll sue?!”

Rayne painted her eyebrows before pointing at the numbers on the wall.

“Every single administration and police station phone number is here!

“Call anyone you want!

“If you can even scare me, I’ll grovel right in front of your faces!

“You think a few outsiders can just show off in a place like this?!”

“Let’s see if anyone actually picks up your call!”

Rayne was showing a scornful look.

She was already used to cheating money out of the tourists’ pockets.

Even if there were tourists who called for help, the hospital would always end up being protected.

“You’re being unreasonable!”

Irene was panicking. It was her first time seeing someone this troublesome.

Harvey walked up and tapped Irene’s shoulder before he calmly said, “You’re from Longmen, Irene. How do you not understand such a simple thing like this?”

“Huh?”

Irene froze. She did not understand what Harvey meant

“Some people need to be slapped around before they understand...”

Then, Harvey took a step forward before he swung his palm forward.

“Aaagh!”

Rayne screamed in pain when she was sent flying.

Harvey did not use much force in his slap, but it was enough for Rayne to fly all the way to the back. Her big white coat was in a mess with a bright red palm print on her face.

She froze before she looked at Harvey with disbelief.

Naturally, it was her very first time being in the situation after acting all high and mighty in front of everyone.

“He hit me! He hit me!” screamed Rayne soon after.

“Call security!”

A few beautiful nurses quickly lifted Rayne before raising their eyebrows at Harvey.

“You’re dead! You’re finished for sure!”

The Blackburn City Hospital had been doing whatever they pleased without fear. They had never seen any of the patients’ families lashing out for the longest time.

The people who caused trouble were either deported instantly or blacklisted. Other than paying the fines, they would probably have to be locked behind bars for a few months.

That was why nobody dared to cause trouble even after getting their money cheated out of their pockets.

It was the hospital’s very first time dealing with Harvey’s incident.

“No wonder the country’s economy has been stuck for the longest time even after the tourism industry’s been constantly developing.

“Who would even come again after being tricked by you people?”

Harvey glanced at the people before kicking the door of the emergency room open. He did not feel safe letting Ellen Moreno stay here at all.

Irene and Julian York looked at each other before following behind him.

Chapter 3870

Ellen Moreno was still inebriated in the emergency room.

Her face was as white as snow. She should have had her stomach emptied and her injury treated already, but the medical staff left her in the room without doing anything to her.

Harvey York frowned before pressing on Ellen’s stomach. Then, he lifted her and told Julian York to grab a trashcan. Ellen seemed a lot relieved when she puked out most of the alcohol.

After Irene applied some medicine in the emergency room to deal with Ellen’s injuries, she was later put in a wheelchair.

Soon after, Harvey and the others were preparing to leave.

Frantic footsteps could suddenly be heard, along with relentless screaming.

There were security guards trying to get inside the emergency room.

Harvey calmly gave a look before Julian took a step forward.

The door was instantly kicked wide open.

Eight towering security guards were sent flying before they slammed into Rayne Bell. It was an utterly horrible sight

Almost at the same time, a group of people with fierce looks were strutting in the middle of the corridor.

A mature-looking woman was seen leading the group.

She had a stunning figure and an irresistible charm, along with a high and mighty glare.

A few beautiful nurses instinctively trembled when they saw the woman.

The woman was in charge of the Blackburn City Hospital, Nellie Padlow.

Nellie frowned with a dignified look on her face.

“Who’s causing trouble in my hospital?! Are you people blind or something?!” exclaimed Nellie coldly.

“Director Padlow! These outsiders called us immoral and started beating us up and kicking the emergency room door!

“We were just about to go inside, yet they still decided to take the patient away!

“They’re causing such a big ruckus here!”

Rayne stumbled off the ground and pointed at Harvey after seeing Nellie show up.

Nellie’s cold gaze turned toward Harvey and the others. She let out a cold chuckle after sensing their out- of-place attitude.

“Get every single security here right now!” she coldly exclaimed.

Naturally, if the people causing trouble here were not rich or powerful, Nellie truly believed she could take them all down.

It did not matter where the people came from or how much power they had.

In a place like Blackburn City, everyone would have to kneel before her.

Nellie disdainfully glared at Harvey and the others.

“I don’t care if you’re going to insult our tech, efficiency, or the furniture around the damn place!

“But calling us immoral?! What kind of joke is this?!”

“The staff here are all outstanding students trained in the Island Nations!

“Don’t you know the name of the hospital already?!”

“We represent the highest level of morals here! That’s the only reason we have the name here!

“Who gave you the audacity to slander us like this?! Who gave you the right?!”

“Do you know what’ll happen if you keep running your damn mouth like this?!””
