Chapter 720

The next day, Andrius got up early.

After taking a shower, he put on a suit and wore a mask. He looked dignified, handsome, and overbearing!

Since it was a farewell, he had to dress appropriately.

After everything was in order, he headed to the Grand Ocean Hotel.

Not one minute later, Dax arrived in a car.

He found Noir and said hurriedly, "The emperor issued 18 imperial decrees in a row. He's determined to summon the Wolf King back to the west. The decrees have already reached Sumeria! Where is Andrius now?"

Noir said very calmly, "He's on his way to the Grand Ocean Hotel."

Dax got his answer and immediately made arrangements.

The Grand Ocean Hotel was already packed with people and noise.

Thump!

Thump!

Clang!

A large stage had been set up at the hotel entrance overnight, and the most famous band in Sumeria was performing on it.

When they heard that the Wolf King would be attending today's event, they volunteered to play music here to congratulate Belarus on his birthday and bid farewell to the Wolf King.

The drumbeats were powerful and soul-stirring.

A pair of banners were hung at the entrance of the hotel.

“The might of the Lycantroops stretches for thousands of miles, bathing in blood to protect our borders.”

The theme of the day was clear in those two sentences.

The guests who attended the event were no ordinary people either. The underground parking lot was already filled by the prestigious families who had arrived early.

The Juxury cars that came later wound from the entrance of the hotel and stretched for at least a mile. The most luxurious cars were limited editions and were worth tens of millions. Even the least luxurious cars were worth at least a few million.

The Crestfalls were flourishing in Sumeria now. All the prestigious and wealthy individuals who received the invitation letter arrived as soon as possible with smiles on their faces. It was clear that it was an honor to be invited by the Crestfalls.

Furthermore, the emperor clarified on the official website that the Wolf King was still alive!

When the Crestfalls sent out the invitation letters, they also announced that the Wolf King would appear at today’s luncheon.

After some thought, the people noticed some clues.

The Wolf King always had close ties with the Crestfalls.

Therefore, no one dared to be careless at this critical moment. They all came to celebrate.

At that moment, Belarus, the star of the day, did not stay in the large hall on the first floor of the hotel. He stood at the hotel entrance along with Harry, Luna, and other young members of the family, looking into the distance with anticipation.

Belarus was waiting for Andrius. He believed that Andrius would definitely come on this day.

“Master Crestfall,
I come on behalf of my family to wish you a long and blessed life!”

“Master Crestfall, I, Sonia Timberland, represent the Timberlands and wish you a long and healthy life!”

“Grandpa Belarus, I, Halle Fullberry, represent the Fullberrys to wish you a happy birthday. May your life flourish more and become more glorious!”

“Master Crestfall, I, Lyra Artemis, represent Artemis Clinic to wish you fortune and health. May all your wishes be fulfilled!”

“Master Crestfall,
I, Noelle Freely, represent the Freelys to wish you joy and radiance. May you live a long life of happiness!”

Time slowly passed, and Sonia, Halle, Lyra, Noelle, and the others arrived.

Since today was a charity lunch, the donation segment was reserved for later. They were just offering their blessings at the moment.

Although there was a smile on Belarus' face, his heart did not feel truly joyful because Andrius had not shown up yet.

Luna's smile was also stiff, but it was because the Wolf King had not arrived yet.

Finally...
