The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 727

Chapter 727

"The Wolf King can't be him!"

Luna kept shaking her head, muttering to herself.

Amidst the various reactions of the crowd, an official approached Andrius with a golden decree in hand and proclaimed, "The Emperor of Florence has issued a decree.

"Currently, ambitious wolves from the Western Nations have gathered an army of five million. They advance with impunity, ravaging our cities and killing our people.

"Within half a day, 16 cities have fallen. Our nation is in danger of collapse, and our people are on the brink of devastation.

"By order of the emperor, Andrius Moonshade is to resume his former position!

"For the sake of the country and the people, please reclaim command over the Lycantrops. Grasp the whip of the heavens, cleanse the realm, subdue the enemy, and restore order once again!"

Andrius accepted the decree with neither servility nor arrogance.

At the same time, Noir took out a cape and draped it over Andrius' shoulders. The cape was entirely black and woven with precious silk, with a wolf howling toward the sky embroidered with gold thread on the back. It had an imposing and divine aura.

It was the Wolf King's cape!

"Wolf King!"

"Wolf King!"

"Wolf King!"

The soldiers immediately shouted in unison, their voices resounding through the sky.

At that moment, the clouds parted, and the skies became clear.

Everyone understood what was happening.

Andrius Moonshade was indeed the Wolf King.

The Wolf King was Andrius Moonshade.

It was an undeniable and irrefutable fact.

Harry and the other members of the Crestfalls could not help but shake their heads with bitter smiles, filled with regret and self-mockery.

They mocked themselves for being blind and not recognizing the Wolf King.

They mocked themselves for their arrogance and having to eat their own words.

They mocked themselves for pining over the Wolf King, yet never realizing that he was right under their noses the entire time!

Among the people at the scene, Luna had the most intense reaction.

“Ha... Hahahaha... Andrius is the Wolf King...”

She looked at the back that was now the center of attention and suddenly burst into bitter laughter mixed with countless emotions—astonishment, surprise, regret, remorse, realization...

Chapt

There were too many to list.

Past events replayed in front of her like a movie.

When they first met, she had been arrogant and had told him that a country bumpkin like him was unworthy of her.

Andrius had only been slightly surprised and simply smiled.

In hindsight, the Wolf King carried the weight of countless glories, yet she, an insignificant lady from the Crestfalls, had rejected him. He must have been speechless.

Then, when they began their fake marital life, they avoided each other and at most put on a show for her grandfather.

Andrius played his part convincingly. He never crossed the line and created the illusion of a deeply affectionate couple in front of her grandfather.

Thinking about it now, as the Wolf King, he had shown her immense respect. However, she remained oblivious and took it for granted.

Then came the subsequent troubles and conspiracies.

There were Solomon Stormbrew's various schemes, the Hanshus, the Hendersons, the Crestfalls in the capital, Dean Mitchell, and then what happened in the capital...

Every time there was trouble, Andrius would step forward.

Even when the sky fell and she thought that she was at the end of her rope, Andrius would say calmly, "It's fine. I'll deal with it."

Just like he promised, they averted each crisis safely.

New Moon Corporation grew amidst those storms to the point where it had a foothold in Sumeria and could weather all difficulties.

In the end, during the Grand Medicinal Competition, Andrius saved her and gave her all the glory. Furthermore, it was the same time as when he was in dire straits and being framed for assaulting the princess of Bardan!

That was how she became the Luna Crestfall of today, and how the Crestfalls came to be how it was now.

On her grandfather's 70th birthday, he personally came and donated a hundred billion as a congratulatory gift.

What about her?

Time and time again, she misunderstood him, slandered him, looked down on him, and abandoned him!

“Haha... The Wolf King is Andrius... Andrius is the Wolf King...”

It was only at that moment that Luna realized how foolish she was.

Thinking back, if their positions were reversed and she was the Wolf King, she would have kicked Luna Crestfall away long ago.

However, Andrius tolerated, protected, helped, and supported her!

As Luna thought about her and Andrius' actions, she was filled with extreme regret and remorse.

With those thoughts, she stumbled and rushed toward Andrius. “Andrius...”
