

Married At First Sight Chapter 3491

Married At First Sight Chapter 3491 – The fake Carrie said, “I won’t leave. Go ahead and have them kick me out. I’ll howl in front of your flower shop all day and make you lose face. I don’t have any reputation to worry about, but you’re different. You’re the second young lady of the York family. Even if you don’t care about your reputation, don’t your in-laws? Even if they protect you, people will still point fingers at you and say you’re not worthy of the second young master of the York family. If it weren’t for you, I would have married him. You stole my happiness.”

Camryn laughed twice. “If you think that’s your happiness, go ahead and take it back. If you can’t, stop yelling at me. I was originally the eldest daughter of the Newman family. How did you treat me? Much of the Newman’s assets should have been mine, but your parents took them.

“You were the one dreaming about Callum. He didn’t even know what you looked like. He only remembers you because of me. It was because I married him that he even knew you existed. You and your mom have big appetites. How dare you covet Callum.”

When Camryn satirized others, she was merciless.

Carrie was originally impulsive, bad-tempered, and willful. Spoiled by her parents from a young age, she had no sense of consequence. However, after Serenity disciplined her for a period of time, her temper became more restrained in front of others. But in front of Camryn, she remained the arrogant Carrie.

Carrie almost jumped after being ridiculed by Camryn. She lunged at Camryn and raised her hand to slap her.

But a strong hand grabbed her wrist.

It was a bodyguard from the York family, standing by Camryn.

Carrie calmed down and saw that the person who grabbed her wrist was a stern man, about 1.8 meters tall, looking to be around 27 or 28 years old. His facial features were ordinary, but his eyes were sharp and cold.

His grip was strong, and she felt pain in her wrist.

Being stared down by him, Carrie felt uneasy but pretended to be calm. “Let me go!”

Where had this man been standing just now?

Fake Carrie hadn’t noticed. As soon as she raised her hand, the bodyguard flashed to Camryn’s side with amazing speed.

The bodyguard did not move, still tightly gripping Carrie's wrist and staring coldly at her.

"Blind Camryn, tell him to let me go! Right now!"

Seeing the bodyguard didn't listen to her, Carrie yelled at Camryn again.

Camryn stepped forward, looked at the back of her palm, then pulled her other hand over and examined it carefully.

"What are you doing?"

Carrie withdrew her other hand.

"Do you still want to hit me?"

Camryn pinched her chin. Carrie raised her hand to slap Camryn's hand away, but Camryn released her grip.

"If you still want to hit me, I'll have my bodyguard chop off both your hands and feed them to the dogs."

Carrie: "You dare?"

Camryn: "Try me."

Fake Carrie was filled with resentment and a bit of panic. She wondered why Camryn had just checked her hands and pinched her chin. Was she suspecting a human skin mask?

Fortunately, she wasn't wearing a mask. She looked very similar to the real Carrie, like a twin, but with some differences. Her skin wasn't as well-maintained as Carrie's.

Could Camryn be suspicious, checking for distinguishing features? Or was she looking for something specific about Carrie's hands?

Married At First Sight Chapter 3492 – The fake Carrie had been a stand-in for too short a time to notice any special features of the real Carrie's hands.

"Tell him to let me go. He's hurting me. I won't hit you," Carrie said, scared.

Camryn has such a powerful bodyguard. If she touches Camryn, she might lose her hands.

Camryn sat back at the cashier counter and signaled the bodyguard to release her.

The bodyguard let go but stood nearby, watching Carrie warily.

Carrie rubbed her wrist, which had turned red from the bodyguard's grip.

At that moment, two cars pulled up to the Spring Blossoms store. One was a luxury car, the other a bodyguard vehicle.

The person from the bodyguard car quickly walked to the luxury car and opened the door.

Camryn looked outside and saw Mrs. Labbe getting out of the luxury car.

She sneered inwardly; just as she had guessed, Mrs. Labbe appeared when Carrie did.

To make her believe Mrs. Labbe and Carrie were two separate people, they wanted to dispel her doubts. As long as she didn't suspect, Serenity wouldn't either.

Carrie was targeting Serenity.

She didn't know who was controlling Carrie, making this willful girl obedient.

When Carrie appeared as Mrs. Labbe, she was calm and even warm and generous towards her and Serenity, with no resentment.

Carrie hadn't been out for long, just a month or two, and she had been trained well. It was clear the manipulator was powerful.

Yes, Zachary hadn't found the manipulator yet. They were really skilled.

No matter how powerful they were, they'd be caught eventually.

Mrs. Labbe came in with two bodyguards.

Camryn noticed that Mrs. Labbe was always with these two bodyguards. Sometimes, there was no driver, and the bodyguards drove instead.

She hadn't visited Mrs. Labbe's residence.

Not sure if it was an illusion, Camryn suspected the bodyguards were monitoring Mrs. Labbe, not protecting her.

After all, this Mrs. Labbe wasn't the real one but Carrie.

She wondered what leverage was used to make Carrie so obedient.

Camryn was more interested in solving this mystery.

“Second Young Madam.” Mrs. Labbe greeted Camryn with a smile, glancing at the fake Carrie before returning her gaze to Camryn.

“What kind of wind blew you here, Mrs. Labbe?” Camryn stood up, smiling.
